No need to walk or risk getting stuck

THAT

It's still a little cool to be thinking about the "12th of July" but people who plan these annual events have to look ahead a bit and that's how the subject happens to be in the news today . . . Lindsay will be the scene of the 1962 "12th" but anyone planning on attending should try and get into town on the "7th" . . . That's the date on which the Orange Walk is being held this year. Peterborough County lodges as well as those from the five area counties and some from Toronto are reported to be planning on making Lindsay their mecca for the celebration. It is not known whether the Toronto lodges will be coming via special train or not . . . Last August the Royal Black Knights from York County made up a special train for Lindsay and kicked-off the day's activities with a self-contained parade up William St. to Kent.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Copp of Lindsay will probably run through a few bars of "The Anniversary Waltz" before today fades into history—It's their 34th wedding anniversary. Mel recalls that it was a winter of great snows the year he was married and cars couldn't make it to Fenelon Falls . . . . . A couple of weeks after their wedding he and his bride rented a horse and cutter from the late Ozzie Dagenais livery and paid a visit to their hometown to the tune of "Jingle Bells".

Old newspaper never fail to fascinate those who like to review the events of another day. The Lindsay Public Library has two copies of old Lindsay newspapers on display in the case just to the right as you enter the building. They are volumes one and two of "The Daily Post", October 2nd and 3rd., 1877. In the paper's second issue, it was announced that henceforth two daily editions would be published—the regular morning edition and an afternoon edition which would carry "late telegraph news". Since railroading, or the disappearance of it in this district, is so much in the news at the moment, it was interesting to note the number of railroads advertising for trade in those early days. If for example, travellers wished to go to Fenelon Falls from Lindsay in October 1877, they had a choice of four trains out of town every day and the same number to choose from for the return trip . . . Talk about service! But those are just some of the absorbing items recorded in the papers . . . And while they are kept under glass, it is still possible to spend a fascinating half-hour looking over the news of the day and some of Eastern Lake Ontario Region, Lindsay Area: Snow today near the Lake. Sunny inland. Mainly clear tonight and Thursday. Continuing cold. Winds light. Low tonight and high Thursday at Trenton 5 and 20, Peterborough 10 below and 15 above. Summary for Thursday . . . sunny and cold.

Weather outlook

Barber shop entered here; lock foils Omemee try

A new wave of breakins appear to be shaping up in this district. During the night a breakin at Lindsay and an attempted breakin at Omemee followed closely on the heels of a breakin and theft at the LCI here a few days ago. The LCI theft and the school breakin at Port Hope were linked with the thefts of tools from a CPR shed at Whitby.

When a Lindsay barber shop was broken into during the night it wasn't a new experience. O'Neill and Patterson's barber shop was robbed of about $130 in cash and merchandise when thieves crowbarred their way into the premises . . . It was the second time the shop had been invaded, the last time being about five years ago.

GAINED ENTRY

Entry to the store was gained by prying the front door. According to investigating officer, Constable Cliff Dawson of the Lindsay Police Department, the thief or thieves tried twice before successfully gaining entrance.

He said they must have used a solid bar and jammed it into the door below the lock the first time. The second attempt was just above the lock. The bar broke through the wood in the door and then leverage was gained by prying against the door frame.

Lindsay man injured, $1,350 damage in crash

A Lindsay man suffered injuries when the car he was driving collided with another vehicle on Highway 121 near Kinmount on Tuesday. David Watling of 11 Maple Crescent, Lindsay received cuts to the inside of his upper lip when his car was in collision with another vehicle cutting across the highway. He required some stitches to close the gash.

Driver of the second car was Gerald Matthews, 24, of Kinmount. He received bruises and lacerations to his left eye. Passengers in the Matthews' vehicle were Ronald Shepstone, 16, of Kinmount and Barry McMullen, 19, also of Kinmount. Shepstone received two lacerations to his forehead requiring 12 stitches. McMullen was X-rayed but released. All were treated by Dr. F E A. Griffiths at the Minden Red Cross Hospital in Minden.

The Minden Ontario Provincial Police Detachment investigated the accident. They said it occurred on Highway 121, south of th Gelert turn about

Zeller's new manager

Zeller's Lindsay branch has a new manager. Shown here is Mr. Jack Fisher who came to Lindsay last week from Islington to take over the management of the store from Mr. Don Wood who left to open a new unit in Niagara Falls. Seven years with the company, Mr. Fisher started out in St. John New Brunswick. A native of Truro, Nova Scotia, he is married and has two children, Michael and Susan. The outdoor life, hunting, fishing, etc., appeals to Mr. Fisher and he says he hopes to find plenty of activity along these lines in this Kawartha vacationland.

EDITORIAL....

....BUT MANY WILL NOT SOME WILL DISAGREE

Ever since the Liberals announced some months ago that they would, if elected, increase the old age pension from $55 per month per person to $75, the issue has become a pre-election talking point. The other day the Progressive Conservatives took the initiative in a bid for support among the old age pensioners by upping the allowance to $65 per month, commencing the first of February. Subsequently, the Liberals said they would, if they won the next federal election, immediately increase the pension to $75.

This week, Senator Thomas Crerar made some observations on the subject which bear repeating. He observations on the subject which bear repeating. He said "some way should be found to avoid putting the pensioner on the auction block every time there is an election." But that was not the most significant statement he made.

"I am not opposed to old age pensions for those who need them," he said yesterday. "If it is the pensioner's only means of support, then $65, or even $75, is not enough."

"I am opposed to paying pensions to those who do not need them," he said. "The millionaire and the pauper over 70 can, and do, get them equally today."

He said he is "wholly in favor" of a voluntary contributory scheme — advocted by the Liberal party.

Some will disagree with Senator Crerar's remarks but there are many who will not. Forcing pensions on people who really do not need them is like throwing money down the drain and prohibits paying an adequate pension to those who are really in dire straits.

Remember way back when

February 7, 1912

To say that interest in the Lindsay Winter Carnival is growing is expressing it mildly. When things begin to shape up for the final days of preparation no doubt things will be at a point of really keen interest. The committees that have the various branches of the work are working hard. It will be three days of good fun for both citizens and people from out-of-town. Three days of real live doings enlivened by splendid music and the pleasure of giving your friends a good time will help make everything hum. More special attractions are promised from various sources and already over $70.00 has been added to the published prize list. Besides this, a prominent citizen has informed one of the committee, that he will donate one or two special prizes for some particular event. Send in your entries to the secretary Mr. Felix Forbert, Lindsay.

FEBRUARY 7, 1937

W. B. Redfern, of James, Proctor, and Redfern, consulting engineering firm, which has been employed to draw up plans and specifications for a proposed $25,000 addition to the Lindsay water supply system gave his report at a special meeting of the water board recently.

Curling

While A. E. Bunker and his Kitchener rink won the Ontario Tankard by defeating Dr. J. A. Wright's London quartet, Percy Skitch of Lindsay skipped his rink to the finals of the Governor-Generals Trophy and defeated C. E. Fleming of Fergus 10 to five to capture the event. The personnel of the rink is O. Culbert, C. Moase, H. C. Forsythe and P. H. Switch.

Reports and Remarks...

TWO GOOD REASONS

A reader wants to know why men's coats have the buttons down the right side and the women's buttons down the left.

Back in the days when men carried swords, the weapons were always on the left side. When service officers carry ceremonial swords today, they are on the left. Bayonets are also on the left.

So the swordsman could draw his weapon with the least delay the coat was buttoned so he could put his hand under the flap and reach the sword hilt in a minimum of time.

And when women rode horse side-saddle, the stirrups were on the left side. She sat at that angle and her coat was buttoned to keep out the wind. It did not get under the flap of the coat.

There is usually a good reason for all these things, even though that reason may go back into history.
— The Dutton Advance.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, M.D., F.A.C.P.

MANAGEMENT OF HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What is meant by the modern treatment of high blood pressure? How does it differ from the "old" treatment? Y.

COMMENT: Nothing is absolutely new. Neither is it true that everything old should be discarded. The management of high blood pressure is no exception. Not too many years ago the basis of treatment used to be prescribe a new way of life, less work, less tension and moderation in all things. In addition we prescribed some phenobarbital to quiet the patient, put him on a low sodium diet and hoped for the best. If the pressure kept rising in spite of good medical management, we turned the patient over to the surgeon for sympathectomy operation.

But during the past 10 years or so medicine has produced some new wonder drugs in the management of hypertension. True, we still advocate a moderate, unruffled type of existence — if possible — but the newer drugs have practically done away with the need for sympathectomy.

Terrifically high pressure can often be brought down to a respectable level. Even in cases which we call malignant hypertension — where there are serious changes in the eyes, heart and kidneys — these complications have been modified by giving the new drugs.

Now, if you suffer from high blood pressure, I'd like you to consider this as a warning: never take these medicines on your own.

You must constantly be under a doctor's supervision so that you won't overdose or underdose yourself. Keep remembering this. Otherwise you're liable to run into severe complications.

It's only fair that I give you the names of these medicines which help to control the menace of high blood pressure.

In moderately severe cases your doctor will get good results by prescribing only the thiazide drugs. These, plus diet, plus a new, sensible way of life are all that are necessary to keep the pressure within normal bounds.

But all cases are not so simple. He may have to use the Rauwolfia drugs in addition. And if these two don't work, he may have to give you drugs we call ganglion-blocking agents and hydralazine. Lately there are even some newer ones that seem to be of potential service, called sympathetic-inhibiting drugs.

Put them all together and we have a formidable array of medical ammunition to keep high blood pressure at bay. Of course, some of the enemy will continue to filter through — but its nice to know that the doctor isn't as helpless as he was years ago in fighting high blood pressure.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Our little daughter will be two years old in another month and still seems to need her pacifier when she sleeps. The pacifier was recommended by our pediatrician when she was five months old, much against the wishes of my in-laws and relatives. I have tried unsuccessfully to put her to sleep without it. She screams until I give it to her.

I would like to do away with the pacifier before July, as we are expecting a second child, and I'm afraid our first born will want one if it even sees. Should I allow her to use it until she stops by herself or should I take it away? Mrs. L.

COMMENT: Allow her to use it. Pediticians often wish they could prescribe pacifiers for the in-laws and relatives, too.

Timely Tips

Will Pay Off

Make a point to be around at farrowing time, reminds Garnet Norrish, Ontario Agricultural College swine researcher. Extra time spent during this critical period will pay off in bigger litters and healthier pigs. Clip needle teeth and paint navels with tincture of iodine. If the sow can't nurse all the pigs, remove some to another sow that farrowed the previous two days.

Latest Information

Don't forget to pick up your copy of the new Ontario Department of Agriculture publication, "1962 Field Crop Recommendations for Ontario", advises Stan Young, crops specialist at Ontario Agricultural College. This booklet lists all the latest crop information and will be available at your county Agricultural Representative's office.

Worthwhile Ideas

Have you checked the terminals on your battery lately? If they are badly corroded, you might be interested in these clean-up ideas from Hal Wright, Ontario Department of Agricultural extension specialist. Wash the top of the battery and connections with baking soda solution, and rinse with water. Remove the terminals and clean them inside and out with a soft rag. Don't scrape or sandpaper them, because acid could fly into your eyes. Finally, clean battery posts, re-install terminals and coat all exposed surfaces with light grease.

Exercise

Now's the time to watch for signs of pregnancy disease in ewes. Give ewes a half hour of exercise a day, suggests Dr. Howard Neely, Ontario Veterinary College. Feel all the good alfalfa hay they will eat, and at least ½ pound of grain per day.

Rummage Sale

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Lindsay Kinsmen Band held a successful Rummage Sale at the Canadian Legion Hall recently.

The event was convened by Mrs. Byron Rogers ably assisted by Mrs. Oliver Wylie. The net proceeds were over $100.

Sales were brisk all afternoon and the quality of items was excellent.

The ladies are especially grateful to citizens who made donations. They were most appreciated and added greatly to the sale.

The Lindsay Kinsmen Band, itself, is at present working hard toward the Winter Concert to be held later this month.

POTATOES, PLEASE

Of all vegetables, Canadian potatoes should be included in our meals every day.

Bake them for oven meals. Boil them with their skins on, for a change. Or serve them in hot salads or stews. For nippy days serve them scalloped for supper. Try them in soup or potato rosettes.

Cooked potatoes may be made into balls and rolled in cracker crumbs. Just before serving them in the oven to brown.

Occasionally serve potatoes with a white sauce made of tangy Canadian Cheddar cheese, suggests the Food Department of Macdonald Institute, Guelph.

Scalloped Potatoes De Luxe

Thinly slice 6 medium potatoes. Prepare one cup of onion, sliced thinly. Place potatoes and onion in alternate layers in a greased 1½-quart casserole. Sprinkle each onion layer with a little salt, pepper, and flour, and dot with butter. Repeat, until ½ inch from the top of the casserole. Cover with a can of condensed mush room soup mixed with ¾ cup of milk. Bake in a preheated 350°F. oven for one hour, or until done.

Serve with colorful vegetables and a roast of beef or pork.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?
By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I make my own furniture polish?

A. Add two tablespoons of olive oil and one of vinegar to a quart of warm water. Keep this solution warm while using. It will wash off dust and leave a light oil treatment on the wood. Rub dry with a clean soft cloth.

Q. Is there anything I can do when the bristles on my carpet sweeper have begun to wear short and won't pick up the dirt?

A. Try winding adhesive tape around the rollers, adhesive side down, facing the floor. This lets the brush down, and the sweeper usually works better than ever.

Q. How can I prevent the bark surface on rustic furniture from peeling off?

A. By giving it a coat or two of spar varnish.

HOUSEHOLD SCRAPBOOK
By Roberta Lee

Leather-upholstered furniture should be dry-dusted with an untreated cloth and cleaned, as required, with saddle soap or with a thick suds made of mild, pure soap. Use as little water as possible. If using saddle soap, follow the directions on the container. Wipe off soap traces with a clean, damp cloth, and when thoroughly dry, polish briskly with a soft, dry cloth.

Clifford - Smith Nuptials

On the afternoon of February 3, 1962, in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Bethany, Rev. Reginald Rose solemnized the marriage of Leora Louise Smith, Reg.N., only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Smith, R.R. 1, Cavan, and Byron Robert Clifford, son of Mr. Harry Clifford and the late Mrs. Clifford of Tiverton, N.S.
Mrs. Reginald Rose was the soloist, with Robert Sisson as organist.

The bride was lovely in her floor length gown of white brocade. The bodice was styled on princess lines with lily point sleeves, and a very full skirt which swept back in a flowing chapel train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a headpiece of crystal and pearls and she carried a cascade of white carnations and white roses.

The maid-of-honor was Miss Mary Syer of Guelph and the bridesmaid was Miss Faye Braithwaite, Toronto (cousin of the bride). They were gowned alike in dresses of willow green peau de soie. Their dresses were pleated and accented at the waistline with large bows. Their hats were of the same material with matching veils and they carried nosegays of white mums and yellow roses.

The two little flower girls, Katherine Braithwaite, Toronto, cousin of the bride and Cathy Trimble of Aurora, niece of the groom, wore lemon yellow nylon frocks with white lace bordering the neckline and hem, with matching floral headpieces. They carried nosegays of tangerine carnations and yellow roses.

Douglas Trimble, Aurora, was the groomsman for his brother-in-law.

Glenn Smith, Cavan, brother of the bride was the usher.

The reception for about 50 guests who were present from Toronto, Pontypool, Millbrook, Peterborough, Halifax, N.S., Bethany, Cavan, London, Bowmanville and Guelph, was held in St. Paul's Parish Hall. The bride's mother received their guests wearing a gown of moss green and black flowered jersey, with black hat and accessories and grey persian lamb jacket. Her corsage was of yellow Talisman roses. Assisting her to receive was Mrs Douglas Trimble, Aurora, sister of the groom, and she was wearing beige wool jersey with green hat and chocolate brown accessories, with matching beige coat with mink collar. Her corsage was of yellow Sweetheart roses.

For their wedding trip the bride donned a smart Dior blue jersey dress with matching satin cummerbund, black hat and accessories, black coat with mink collar and was wearing a corsage of white roses and carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford will live in Toronto.

Let down badly on medallions, C of C says

Lindsay's Chamber of Commerce says it was badly let down on its Victoria County Centennial Medallion project last year.

C of C Manager Harry MacDonald told Lindsay's Council this week the chamber had practically been guaranteed a sizeable purchase of these things by a Victoria County organization but it hadn't materialized. He added that he still had hopes of recouping part of the loss sustained on the venture.

The medallions cost $873 but receipts from this sale amounted to only $496.

Omemee

Sympathy is extended to the Pogue family in their bereavement.

Friends of Mr. Preston Latchford will regret to learn that he is under the doctor's care.

A busload of local folk attended the magnificent Ice Follies at Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto and returned some time before daylight tired but well pleased with the event.

Lumbermen overpower Ontarios

Sparked by Ron Jewell's four goal effort, the Bagshaw Lumbermen over-powered the Port Hope Ontarios 9-2 before a handfull of shivering spectators at the Kiwanis Arena last night.

The Lumbermen led all the way last night, and had a four to nothing lead well into the second period before a long centre-ice slider escaped the careful attention of the Lindsay-net custodian, Steve Morrissey to spoil his solid bid for a shutout.

Ron Jewell opened the scoring early in the first period when he stole the puck from the defenders and by dogged persistance forced it into the enemy cage. Almost fifteen minutes, and five penalties later Jewell again lit the lamp again unassisted, and the period ended with the Lumbermen leading 2-0 with Spratt for Lindsay, Wakely and Fenton for the Port Hope, doing time.

Ron Jewell set up the third Lindsay goal which was banged in by Dave Wannamaker at 9:47 of the second period. Don Kelly added the fourth with great finess when Spratt sprung him loose at the Lindsay blue-line and Don took off for the Port Hope goal unmolested. With Merle Reeds off for tripping at 16.08, Bill Wakely finally scored for Port Hope when his slider from the centre ice sneaked into the corner of the Lindsay cage without a word of warning to goalie Morrissey. Jewell however got that one back in short order, banging Paul Rodd's pass-out into the twine fourteen seconds later.

Merle Reeds and Dave Wainman combined to add to the Lindsay score thirty seconds after the third period started. Harris McKeen scored the visitors second and what proved to be their final goal at 7:40 of the final period with a fan out drive they glanced off Morrissey's grab. Jewell's fourth goal came at 12:03 of the third period assisted by Rodd and Kelly while big Paul Strassburger wound up the scoring with two goals at 13:23 and 17:15. All told referee Ned Vitarelli handed the Lumbermen thirteen penalties and the visitors eleven, two of the later being ten minute misconducts.

JUST PASSING BY

Mr. Patterson said he was just passing by this morning when he saw a lady standing inside the shop. "We don't open on Wednesday, and the lady standing in the door aroused my suspicion."

It was stated that the lady had been standing in the store since 8:30 a.m. and the door had been open. Mr. Patterson said he was going by about 9:00 a.m. "I phoned the police immediately.

HEARD NOTHING

In talking with Mrs. Dave Teatro, who lives above the store, she told "The Post" she heard nothing. She said there was no noise in the store during the evening.

"I sat at home watching television and writing letters. I went out to mail the letters about 10:30 and when I came back, the night officer was just checking the doors," she said.

Mrs. Teatro said she didn't hear anything after that, and went to bed about 11.30 p.m. Her dog didn't bark, and usually he hears any noise. They must have been very quiet."

Police are continuing their investigation.

OMEMEE ATTEMPT

An attempted breakin occurred in Omemee sometime during the night. Chief Whetham thinks there may be a connection between it and the one in Lindsay.

He said the Shell Service Station, located on King Street, had the glass in the office door broken, the top lock opened, but that was as far as it went.

It was learned that the station had several thefts and breakins last year, and the management put an extra lock on the door, near the bottom. It is also suspected that the persons doing the job, may have been frightened away by passing cars. It was learned that about four cars, carrying men on the night shifts, come through the town about 3:30 a.m. The chief said this may be a key to the failure of the attempt.

However, investigations are being carried out. There has been no definite time established for the attempt.

Collide on hill, $275 total damage

A rear-end collision occurred on Highway 7 south of Omemee Tuesday evening, involving two cars. No injuries were sustained in the mishap, but damage was estimated to be about $275 total.

Constable Don Reeds of the Lindsay OPP Detachment investigated. He said the accident occurred about 6:45 p.m. Tuesday, on a hill two miles west of the CNR railway crossing on Highway 7. The drivers involved were Esmond Storey of R. R. 1, Omemee, and Keith Percy Neale of Oshawa.

The officer said the Storey vehicle was proceeding south and started to make a right-hand turn into a laneway. The Neale car followed behind came up and ran into the rear end.

The officer said the highway was clear and it was a straight stretch of road.

Corporal Welsh joins staff, assumed duties on Monday

A new Ontario Provincial Police officer has come to Lindsay to assume the position formerly held by the late Corporal Ken L. Dennis. He is Corporal Cec. C. Welsh, who joins the staff from Renfrew.

Corporal Welsh said he was glad to be coming to Lindsay and hoped his stay would be a happy one.

Mr. Welch joined the force 16 years ago following a hitch in the army for four years. He served overseas during the Second World War in England, France, and Germany.

He joined the force in 1946, taking a nine weeks training course at the Ontario Provincial Police School in Toronto. Upon completion he joined the No. 3 District headquarters staff in Hamilton. Later in 1946, he was transferred to the Brantford Detachment.

Corporal Welsh was promoted to corporal in 1954 and in early 1955 was transferred to Prescott in District 10 to assume the head of the local police. He explained that at that time, Prescott had no local police force, and the Ontario boys had to patrol the town.

In the fall of 1958, he went to Renfrew where he served until his transfer here on Monday. He said it was a hard work. "I was in Renfrew on Sunday, completed my duties there, and started work here on Monday."

The officer is married and has two children. He said they were still in Renfrew. "It is a difficult time of year to move a family. I don't know whether to leave my wife, Jeanette, and my two sons, Darryl, 15 and Dennis, 10 in Renfrew until after completion of school or not."

The appointment was made sometime last month by the general headquarters office in Toronto.

Achievement Day held by Lindsay Kiwanians

Achievement day was held by the Kiwanis Club on Tuesday with Past President Jos. Holtom presiding. Kiwanian Les Porter submitted a report under the caption of "Observations and opinions" in which he reviewed activities and achievements in the year 1961.

Mention was made of the Kiwanis Grain Club, entertainment of 4-H boys and presentation of cash awards. The annual Kiwanis Music Festival brought together over 1000 boys and girls, as well as music teachers and parents. Girl Guides were assisted by payment of the Club telephone for one year. Fourteen boys were sponsored at a Salvation Army summer camp and the annual subscription of $100 was made to the Santa Claus Stocking Fund. Following the annual Kiwanis amateur show, a commitment of $1000 was made to the Ross Memorial Hospital. Assistance was given to the Belleville institute for the deaf and a contribution made to the blind. A large donation was made to the Kavalier Drum Corps. The first of an annual Christmas party was tendered members of the Retarted Children's organization. Special church services were sponsored at Thurstonia Park and in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and "the Support of Churches committee" issued a large number of church calendars to the hotels, motels and lodges in the district.

Other items concerning activities of the club were referred to and Kiwanian Nelles Pendburn submitted an interesting treasurer's report.

President Ed. Sanderson spoke regarding club commitments for the ensuing year and other matters. He stated that the club is off to a good start in the current year.

New method of approving town bills

A new method has been decised for presenting accounts payable to various council committees. This was disclosed at the regular meeting of council Monday night.

At the present time, each charman has a list of payable accounts and usually doesn't know what they are until the night of the meeting. Mayor Holtom suggested that the chairman of the committees go over the accounts with their respective heads of the departments and understand what the expenditures are for. "The entire list of all committee accounts will be placed on one large sheet, for all the members of council to see. Any questions can be asked and the chairman should be able to answer them."

Walling was proceeding north on the highway, a long straight-stretch, when the Matthews' vehicle, proceeding south, made a left-hand turn into the path of Walling's car. Police reported the highway was clear at the time.

Damage to the vehicles has been estimated at $1,200 to the 1961 Walling vehicle and about $150 to the 1950 Matthews' car. The investigating officer said both could be write-offs.

As the family entered the meeting, Miss Susan Downing, assisted by Mrs. G. Downing, presented Mrs. Norton with a corsage. The leader of the meeting-Rev. B. Eaton, of the Lindsay,-called upon Rev. F. Brown represented the Port Perry church. Rev. Eaton spoke on behalf of the Norland and the Lindsay churches. After the singing of a hymn, Mr. Corbett of Whitby, brought greetings from his church and the Scripture. He called upon a trio from Whitby who brought a message in song, "The Last Mile of the Way".

The various departments of the church, represented by their leaders, brought words of welcome to the pastor. Mr. Ross Teel, on behalf of the church, presented Pastor Norton with a wrist watch and Mrs. Norton with a Bible. Pastor and Mrs. Norton expressed their appreciation of the kindness shown. Pastor Vaughan brought greetings from his churches and called upon the Cannington Girls' Choir to present a musical number, "Oh Jesus I Have Promised". In the absence of Rev. G. Bell, of Fenelon Falls, Rev. Bell gave the greeting of their church, and Pastor John Vaughan of Sunderland and Cannington, to open the meeting of a few hymns. Rev. E.C. Corbett of Whitby, brought greetings from his church and the Scripture. He called upon a trio from Whitby who brought a message in song, "The Last Mile of the Way". Armitage, of Little Britain, led in prayer. More musical numbers were provided by the girls choir from Cannington while lunch was served.

Glenarm

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Webster were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Webster, in Penelon Falls and also at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Black of Cannington.

A number of the young people enjoyed a very fine evening at a Rehoggan party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hoyle and family and later a social time at the Hoyle home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mc Nabb. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mc Nabb and Edward, of Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thornbury and Beverley were entertained as guests at the home of Mrs. McNabb's brother and wife Mr. and Mas Bryce Kelly.

Word has been received of the passing of Mrs. Orville Ashton (the former Velma Christian) of Detroit, Michigan. The late Mrs. Ashton and her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Christian lived in the Islay Community where the Clark family now reside before making her home in Lindsay.

Mr. Cecil Brown, of Bowmanville, was a visitor at the home of cousins Mr. and Mrs. Mac Moynes while Mrs. Brown visited her father Mr. Perrin in Cameron. Friends are pleased to hear that Cecil is greatly improved after figuring in a car accident early in the fall.

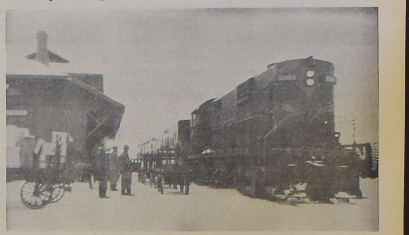

Mr. and Mrs. Art Mostard and family, of Pleasant Valley, were visitors at the home of friends Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hengeveld and family.

A number from the community attended the Public Speaking competition held at Cambray in which pupils representing eight schools participated. Among those from near by schools were Karen Brentnell, from Long Point, John Nesbitt, of Glenarm, and Allan Webster, of Islay. Although not the top contestants they were congratulated on their presentations of their various topics.

Mrs. Percy Sargent and son Jack, of Hornpayne, father Mr. John Dick of Parry Sound have returned to their homes after spending several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hoyle after attending the Netzloff - Darling nuptials in Lansing, Michigan in company with Mrs. Hoyle and daughter Miss Anne.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hargrave entertained for a fowl dinner. Cousins Mr. and Mrs. Wm Hoyle and family - Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hargrave and Bill Valentyne, of Norland, were present.

Last passenger train. . .

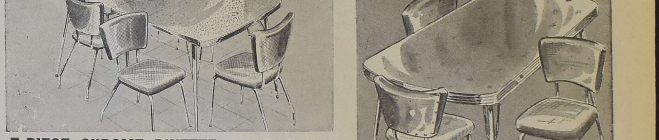

The last westbound passenger train to pass through Lindsay is seen above as it pulls into the CNR depot on one of the winter's coldest mornings. There was little evidence of interest around the station except among the handful of railroaders who could recall the days when the passenger traffic on the line was so brisk that 'train time' brought scores of people to the station several times daily

DO IT NOW!

EVERYONE CAN HELP

Think about it . . . your neighbor may be experiencing the results of a lay-off period. Make an inventory of jobs that you know can be undertaken today . . . talk about the matter with your friends . . . a few jobs for a few men now can combine to make a big job for many men.

PROCLAMATION

By virtue of the authority vested in me, I earnestly request the wholehearted co-operation of the citizens in the "LETS DO IT NOW" campaign of the National Employment Service, in order to eliminate as much as possible, the seasonal employment problem.

There are many jobs such as remodelling, rebuilding, repair work etc., that can be done more economically now and you will not experience the inconveniences of delays in having the work completed at this time of the year.

Do your part now in alleviating seasonal unemployment by having that job done now and you will help not only your fellow citizens, but the Town as a whole in achieving a balanced economy.

Raising Money

Residents of Illinois' Will County are raising money to bring a Belgian man and wife to the bedside of their ex-exchange student daughter injured in an auto accident. Eighteen-year-old Marijke Van Den Knouwland was injured Saturday morning. Doctors in Joliet, had to amputate her leg. More than one-thousand dollars was raised over the weekend to bring her parents to the United States. Most of the money came in nickels and dimes from schoolmates.

The little red schoolhouse is about to get wheels. The president of a trailer coach company says the Chicago school system has ordered 150 mobile auxiliary classrooms to relieve overcrowded school conditions. Newton Giekel told a Los Angeles meeting of the Trailer Coach Association his firm eventually hopes to build mobile school libraries, lunch rooms and laboratories. He says the units can be attached to the school most urgently in need of additional classrooms . . . and moved to other schools as conditions change.

The oldest known Algerian rain says he wants to marry again. Said Doudahi is 110 years old. He has outlived his wife who married him when she was 12 years old—and all but one of their 12 children. He says he wants to remarry. But in his words—"this time, my wife will have to be at least 50."

The Mother Superior of a convent in Middleton, England says some of her nursing sisters have taken to a new method of travel. She says four of the sisters at the Little Sisters of the Assumption Convent are making their rounds on motorcycles.

Beauty Tip

To choose a new hair style, use a favorite trick of little girls—lots of sudsy champoo. The lather holds hair in place while you experiment.

Cooking ideas, household hints

EASY ANSWER

Tuna spaghetti cake is an easy answer when you're planning meatless meals. To make six servings . . . combine these ingredients; eight ounces of spaghetti, cooked and drained . . . one large can of undiluted evaporated milk, two cups of grated process Swiss cheese . . . two cans of tuna, drained . . . one-fourth cup of chopped pimiento-stuffed olive . . . one teaspoon of paprika . . . one-fourth teaspoon of pepper and salt to taste. Mix lightly. Turn into a buttered two-quart casserole. Bake 30 minutes in pre-heated 350-degree oven.

TWO-IN-ONE

This two-in-one vegetable course serves four to six persons. It's spinach noodle toss. Cook eight ounces of medium egg noodles according to package directions. Drain. Combine with one 12-ounce package of frozen spinach, cooked and drained . . . one-and-one-half teaspoons of lemon juice . . . one-eighth teaspoon of nutmeg . . . one cup of sour cream . . . and salt and pepper to taste. Toss lightly. Bring to serving temperature over low heat . . . stirring constantly. Do not boil, or the cream will curdle.

VERSATILE

Lamb leftovers are versatile. Heat diced, cooked lamb in a sauce of one can of condensed soup and one-third cup of milk. Season with curry powder, salt and pepper to taste, and serve over rice. Offer side dishes of chopped peanuts, toasted flaked coconut, chopped pimiento-stuffed olives. You also can add diced cooked lamb to vegetable soups, or . . . for appetizers . . . spread melba toast rounds with mustard and top with thin slices of cooked lamb, salt, pepper, and canned pimientoes, diced and drained.

NOURISHING DISH

Cheese-nut macaroni salad makes a nourishing lunch dish. To serve four to six persons . . . cook two cups of elbow macaroni according to package directions. Drain, rinse with cold water and drain again. Combine with one cup grated cheddar cheese, one-half cup of chopped walnuts, two tablespoons of capers and one-third cup of French Dressing. Toss lightly. Chill. Serve on lettuce.

WAFFLES

Some ideas for waffles. For Mincemeat waffles . . . combine two cups of pancake mix . . . one-and-half cups of milk, two eggs . . . and one-fourth cup of melted shortening in a medium-sized bowl with a rotary beater until batter is fairly smooth. Fold in one cup of prepared mincemeat. Bake in waffle iron until steaming stops and serve with melted butter and confectioner's sugar. For orange or cranberry-flavoured waffles or hotcakes . . . substitute half evaporated milk and half fruit juice for the milk called for in the recipe.

EXTRA FLAVOR

Give lamb steaks extra flavor. Broil them to taste . . . then garnish with chopped chives blended into butter. For color . . . top the steaks with pimiento strips.

FASHION NOTE

The cape shape contributes to the spring suit story. In many fashion collections shown so far . . . designers have used capelets, fly-away backs and capelet sleeves. The flowing lines of the cape are one more aspect of the growing trend toward softness and femininity in fashion.

Mrs. Warrin Thomas hostess to Glen WI

The February meeting of the Glen WI was held at the home of Mrs. Warren Thomas with 14 members present.

The meeting was opened and the business conducted in the usual manner.

The roll call was answered by an exchange of Valentines.

A letter was read from Mrs. Lymburner president of F.W.I.O.

A request was made for each member to donate ten cents toward the restoration and upkeep of the "Adelaide Hoodless Homestead."

An invitation was received to attend the Summary Day program of the course, "143 lbs of meat" to be held in the Government building in Lindsay, sponsored by the Ont. Dept. of Agriculture Home Economics Service. This was accepted and attended by one leader and four other members. The leader and her helper from the group demonstrated TV dinners and gave a delicius recipe for "apple tart" The short skits, demonstrations etc by the other institutes attending were much spreciated.

The program of the meeting was taken by Mrs. Howard Hoar and Mrs. Douglas Gilchrist.

Mrs. Orville Hill read a poem, "Possession". Mrs. Gilchrist read a skit suggested for a 65th anniversary of the WI. The skit was the story of a WI meeting which took place in 1909 with 11 members present.

Mrs. Hoar gave a reading about Queen Elizabeth and her children, who are not pampered but raised as much like other children as possible.

A contest concluded the program and the meeting closed by repeating the Institute grace.

A tasty lunch was served by the hostess and the committee in charge and a social time spent.

We, the residents of Victoria County are indeed fortunate to have in our midst, many relics of days gone by, carefully handed down from one generation to the next.

Farm implements, antique furniture, handmade tools and many other fascinating items which have been painstakingly collected over the years by the Victoria County Historical Society.

At present, a museum to house these rare exhibits has been partially completed and the society has plans to erect another building for old farm implements, as well as transport a 120-year-old log cabin to the museum site, then furnish it completely with furniture of the same period.

It goes without saying, what the Educational Value of this noble enterprize will be to ourselves and our children, not to mention the attraction for tourists to the area. However, the help of all our citizens is needed to realize this worthy cause.

How many can you remember?

How many people can remember the men who were "working" on the railroad" at Lindsay when this picture was taken? It is one of a collection owned by C. H. (Charley) Heels of Lindsay who, by the way, is included in the photo, second from the right. Taken in 1915, Mr. Heels recalls that in those days cedar ties were used but not to advantage—the water got into them and they didn't stand up. Seen above, left to right are: Bert Johnston, Conductor; Howard Lamb, Baggageman; Adam Scott, Yardmaster; J. G. McMillan, Trainmaster; E. J. Kingsley, Chief Train Dispatcher; Charlie Piercy, Train Dispatcher; Jas. Doran, Ticket Clerk; David C. Trew, Librarian; M. S. Mowat, Operator; Joe Trotter, Calboy; Chas. Heels, Clerk; Bert. Canadian Icebreakers Crack Winter's Grip in Gulf of St. Lawrence

Two Inches of Steel Slice Through Ten Feet of Ice

As brittle February days slowly lengthen, ships of Canada's icebreaker fleet flex their muscles and head for thickening icefields athwart Gulf of St. Lawrence shipping lanes. Here, at the entrance to the world's most important inland waterway, the icebreakers — battering, crushing, slicing — attack solid ice barriers thrown up by nature, keep floes moving at congested points, rally to aid vessels beset by winter's grip. Icebreaking operations, stepped up to meet increased winter traffic in Gulf areas, now have resources of nine heavy and eight light icebreakers — giving Canada one of the world's three most powerful icebreaking fleets. Supporting the fleet in its formidable task is the "Ice Central" office, Halifax, and the ice information officer, Sydney. Data on ice conditions, gained from aerial surveys, ship observers, lighthouse keepers, are made into special ice charts by the Halifax office and radioed to vessels battling through icefields covering thousands of square miles of frozen sea. Newest icebreaker is the John A. Macdonald, with two-inch-thick bow plates, a bulk of more than 6,000 tons and a driving force of 15,000 horsepower. Other big, tough icebreakers are d'Iberville and Labrador — Canadian-built ships that smash their way into the far reaches of the high arctic during the summer northern season. Well-found and equipped, with upwards of a hundred men aboard each ship, these vessels are the backbone of Canadian patrols and supply runs into high latitudes. On these voyages the ships spend days at a time ramming the ice, swaying up and over solid arctic floes, lurching along self-made leads in 10-foot-thick icefields stretching as far as the eye can see or radar probe — a punishing test for Canada's strongest ships and the expert ice navigators who sail them.

Icebreaker Labrador makes clover-leaf patterns among giant ice floes during manoeuvres to free ice-trapped freighter in winter waters of Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Mooring lines of icebreaker in Halifax harbour are icicle-festooned as ship awaits call to action in icefields.

Cutaway, armoured bow rides up and over heavy floes, lets full weight of vessel crack thick slabs which rear up protesting and grinding as ship batters through.

TRAPS 480 MEN

An explosion and fire trapped about 480 men in a 1200 foot deep coal mine near Saarbrucken, Germany, today. Mine officials say at least 30 miners are dead. Rescue officials say another 249 men have been rescued—some of them are seriously injured. Rescue crews are attempting to blast their way through to the 201 miners still trapped in the pit. Authorities fear the toll will mount when the rescuers press further into the mine. The U.S. Army rushed plasma from a nearby hospital base to the mine. Local officials recruited the entire air raid organization to aid in rescue operations. There has been no explanation as to the cause of the explosion which started the fire. Mine officials say the dead and injured all apparently were in another section of the two and one-half mile long mine from where the trapped men are. Off duty miners and the families of those in the pit had to be restrained as they waited fearfully outside.

TARGET FOR BOMB

The Paris home of the French Minister of Culture was the target for a terrorist bomb today. Cabinet minister and famed writer, Andre Malraux, was not at home at the time, but a young girl and an elderly woman were said to have been injured in the explosion. Malraux was attending a conference called by President De Gaulle to discuss ways to end the Algerian war and how to wipe out the O.A.S.

FINDS LITTLE SUPPORT

Cuba has found little support among the Afro-Asian Bloc for a resolution calling on the U.S. to end its alleged interference in the domestic affairs of the Castro government. The U.N. General Assembly's main political committee meets again today to resume its debate on the Cuban charges of U.S. "aggression." Most of the Afro-Asian nations believe the U.S.-Cuban dispute is strictly a Western Hemisphere affair.

FINAL VOTES TALLIED

The final votes are being tallied today to determine whether Trans-Atlantic Airlines will cut fares for people flying the Atlantic route in groups of 25 or more on regularly scheduled planes. The issue has been the subject of a mail vote conducted by the International Air Transport Association among some 40 airlines. Under the association's regulations, any reduction in fares is subject to unanimous agreement among the airlines concerned and their respective governments.

EXPECTED TO CLOSE

More schools are expected to close today in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, as a result of the outbreak of influenza. Twenty of Sault Ste. Marie's primary schools have already been shut down. Authorities say more than one-third of the city's 42,000 residents have come down with the germ.

DROPS 15 FEET

The level of the swollen Fraser River dropped at least 15 feet this morning at Quesnel, British Columbia. 162 persons were evacuated from their flood-threatened homes in Quesnel last night. The rise had been caused by a massive ice-jam.

THIRD AND FINAL READING

Health and Welfare Minister Waldo Monteith says third and final reading will be given today to the government's legislation to increase old age pensions from $55 to $65 a month. Second reading—approval in principle—was given the bill last night. Monteith says the "increased cheques will be in the hands of recipients by the end of February."

EARLIEST DATE

U.S. space scientists now say one week from today —St. Valentine's Day—will be the earliest possible date Astronaut John Glenn can be put into orbit. They had earlier said next Tuesday would be the earliest launch date. Informed sources at Cape Canaveral say the launch date was moved back one more day to allow scientists another day to maks sure everything is just right.

SHOT DOWN

A New China News Agency report monitored in London said a U.S. bomber was shot down recently over Laos. The report said six persons, including two Americans, were killed when the plane was brought down by what was termed "Laotian patriotic forces." The New China agency gave leftist Pathet Lao forces as its sources.

The wind-up of a highly successful five-week course in skiing will take place on Saturday following the pupils final lesson.

The Ski School, under the supervision of Arena Manager Harry V. Johnson, and sponsored by the Lindsay Recreation Commission, had 24 pupils enroll for the course.

The party this weekend will be held at the home of Mrs. Speck, owner and operator of the 910 Motel who has supported the effort throughout.

Mr. Johnson said the course was enjoyed by all the pupils, who gathered at the Recreation Centre at 9:00 a.m. every Saturday to embark upon a bus at 9:30 a.m. and travelled to Omemee Ski Tow. He said the Ski Instructor, Herb Bergman of Peterborough, taught the 24 students how to ski properly, including stance, turns, stops, climbing hills, using the ski tow and many other ins and outs of the sport.

The course was made possible through the generosity of the Omemee Ski Tow and the instructors who taught the children at no cost to them.

The last lesson is scheduled for this week, but Mr. Johnson said that if weather permitted, skiing outings would be carried on through February and possibly into March.

ACTION RESUMES

Action resumes in the National Hockey League tonight with Boston at Toronto and Detroit at New York. The league has been idle for the past two nights.

A. H. L. SLATE

The American Hockey League slate finds Cleveland at Hershey, Springfield at Pittsburgh and Buffalo at Providence. Quebec scored two goals in the final period to beat Providence 4-2 last night.

SIGNS NINTH CONTRACT

Yankee Beater Frank Lary has signed his ninth contract with the Detroit Tigers. Lary, who won 23 games last season, owns a 27-10 record over New York. He signed for a substantial pay boost. Harvey Haddix, the little lefty, came to terms with the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Philadelphia Phils say they will retire Robin Roberts' uniform number "36". Roberts, now with the Yankee, won 234 games for the Phils.

FIRST TIME

Three leading three-year-olds meet for the first time this year in the Bahamas Stakes at Hialeah today. Unbeaten Ridan seeks his ninth consecutive victory and is the slight choice against "Crimson Satan" and "Sir Gaylord." "Royal Attack" tops a field of top three-year-olds in the San Vincente Handicap at Santa Anita. Stakes winners "Rabble Dancer," "Private World" and "Indian Blood" are in the 10-horse field.

MAKES DEBUT

Wimbledon champion Rod Laver of Australia makes his debut in the National Indoor Tennis championships at New York City tonight. Laver is the top-seeded foreigner in the 32-man singles field. Californian Whitney Reed is top-seeded among Americans. The tourney runs through Sunday.

COACH RETURNS

A former coach has returned to guide the football fortunes at Colgate University. Harold Lahar the head coach from 1952 to 1956, will assume those duties again for the Red Raiders. Lahar, who resigned as Houston coach last season, will succeed Aliva Kelley.

NOTCHES SECOND WIN

Onetime welterweight kind Tony De Marco notched his second comeback win at Boston last night. De Marco scored a unanimous 10-round decision over Hungarian Stefan Redl.

WASN'T HIS DAY

It just wasn't Sam Snead's day. He had loaned his inboard motor boat to non-playing golfer Judy Kimball at Palm Beach, Florida, yesterday. But Miss Kimball appeared in a hearty 'tug' of the motor company already for a 12-foot birdie putt on the 15th green. Snead yelled to Miss Kimball to get the boat out of there. When she gunned the motor the boat went aground in an oyster bed and Snead moaned. He hopes he has better luck today. Sam takes a one-stroke lead into the final two rounds against 14 top lady golfers. A year ago, Snead lost.

Jordan rink wins Leads and Seconds

A rink skipped by Mrs. Gladys Jordan came out on top in the annual ladies Leads and Seconds Bonspiel held at the Lindsay Curling Club. Runner-up in the event was Mrs. Margaret Gorrill's foursome. Consolation winner was Mrs. A. Porter's rink who edged out Mrs. Ada Forsythe's entry. Prizes in the popular competition will be awarded later in the season.

At the close of play a delicious lunch was served by the special lunch committee comprised of Mesdames. M. Mitchell, J. Edwards and Mrs. M. Sutton.

Despite poor ice conditions the games were keenly contested and well played.

The results first — H. Hunter, E. Graham, E. Beggs and G. Jordan (skip); runners-up — J. Robinson, B. Jones, J. Gillespie and M. Gorrill (skip); consolation — M. McQuarrie, Helen Sinclair, M. Walker and A. Porter (skip); runners-up — M. Karpenko, A. Watson, H. McLeish and A. Forsythe (skip).

about curling and curlers

Seven rinks are expected to take part in the British Consul preliminaries at the Peel Street rink today.

Valentine 'Spiel

Mrs. Gladys Laidley will head a rink from the Lindsay Ladies Club in the annual Valentine bonspiel at the Peterboro Golf and Country Club boospiel Wednesday.

Receive Bids

Lindsay Kiwanians have received invitations to attend Kiwanis Inter-club spiels at Oshawa, on February 14th; Uxbridge on March 10th and Peterboro on April 2nd.

Will Attend

As vice-president of the Ontario Ladies' Curling Association, Mrs. Laidley, of Lindsay, will be in official attendance at the provincial playdowns being held in Toronto next week. The Ontario winners from this event will move on to take part in the Dominion Diamond D. championships to be held in Regina.

Some Tips On Being A Good Curler

To be a good curler a player must not possess a fine degree of ability but should also be possessed with plenty of confidence. Ernie Richardson, veteran expert from the Canadian West says: "Curling is 50 percent skill and 50 percent mental attitude or confidence. Before you start your delivery, be confident you can make the shot. Have confidence in your skip's judgement . . . In fact have confidence in each member of your rink. Nothing can hurt a rink's chances more than to have one member lacking confidence in the other. A skip who is afraid to call a shot because he hasn't confidence in his players, will never be a winning skip."

Lindsay Midgets launch attack in championship crown Friday

On Friday evening of this week, (February 9th) the Lindsay Midget Hockey team, under the sponsorship of Branch 67 of the Royal Canadian Legion, launch their assault on the Provincial championship. The opposition facing the locals in the first round being the team that eliminated them last season, this corner does not believe in history repeating itself.

The team, under the guiding hands of Coaches Lou Hennessey and Gus Bodnar, has shown a steady and remarkable improvement, as evidenced by their showing in exhibition games played. Of 14 games played to date, the locals have won eight, tied five and lost one.

As a warm-up to the coming play-offs, the team will engage the Trenton Flyers in an exhibition game at the local ice palace tonight, game time 6 o'clock.

On Friday night, the team travels to Port Perry to engage the team from Ajax in the first game of a home-and-home series, goals to count. The return game is slated for Lindsay next Tuesday night, at 6 o'clock.

The management says it feels the team has an excellent chance of taking all the marbles this year, and earnestly solicits your support. In all, so extends thanks to those staunch supporters who so generously donated their time and cars to transport the team during its exhibition tour.

Linda Lowell saw action in the net again with Sharon McNabb, Liz Wilson and Joyce Wakelin out on the defense. Up on the forward line were Bonnie Dudics, Carol Wilson, Gail Shier, Nancy Dunn and Linda Goad.

The girls will be in action again this week in an effort to preserve their seven straight victory record.

Good attendance at church meeting

Glenarm (PNS) — A splendid attendance despite the very cold evening coupled with reports worthy of mention combined to lend encouragement to the minister and congregation at their annual meeting held at Knox Presbyterian Church, Glenarm, revealing the interest taken in the church affairs by the members.

The minister, Rev. Mac Donald, acted as chariman and opened the meeting with the Scripture reading, followed by prayer.

On motion of J.D. MacMillan and Mac Murchison, Grantin McKay was elected to act as secretary and read the minutes of the 1960 meeting followed by the Session Report submitted by Gordon Jamieson — 3 communions were held during the year, 5 Baptismals, several marriages and with sadness the report of two Senior Elders namely the late J. D. MacMillan and Angus McKay also a couple of members of the church, the late Mrs. Ernie Best and Mrs. W.G. Smith, all faithful to their church as long as health permitted.

The Church Treasurer's Report was submitted by Mrs. J. D. MacMillan an itemized report as to the finances and gratifying to know that they were in a good condition as they are considering several families have moved from the community. These reports were approved by Mr. Joe E. Nesbitt and Mr. Clifford Hargrave while Ivan MacMillan gave a short verbal report on behalf of the managers with thanks in regard to painting and work accomplished during the year.

On behalf of Mrs. Gordon Jamieson and she herself, Mrs. Dan Riley, gave the Auditors Report. Mrs. Victor Webster reported for the Ladies Aid — A Banquet catered to — a couple of weddings and smaller items in which money was derived from during 1961 also money spent during the year and a balance to start 1962. Agoin Mrs. Riley kindly reported for the W.M.S. and these reports were approved by Mrs. Clifford Hargrave and Mrs. McInnis.

Donald MacMillan gave a report for the Sabbath School in the absence of Gordon Nicholson and mentioned the Sabbath School had been held 46 Sabbaths — two boys received perfect attendance, six received Bibles, Special Services had been held, the picnic at Birch Point and the Sabbath Schoo Supper at the end of the term approved by Wm. Hoyle.

Mrs. James R. Nesbitt was unable to be present so the report of the Children of the Church was submitted by Mrs. James R. Nesbitt. They had held 12 meetings, A Fish Pond at the church and a bazaar of articles, mostly all made by this little group and a "Lilac Tea" which they made $19.00. They collected money on Hallowe'en which they sent over $20.00 for UNICEF. This was approved by Mr. Grantin McKay.

In the absence of Howard Nesbitt, Joe E. Nesbitt gave the choir report and had received money from the recitals of Mrs. Rod Boston and Keith Hargrave. James R. Nesbitt approved this report.

As the term of three of the managers had expired on motion of J.D. MacMillan and Mac Murchison they were asked to consider another three year term, namely Ivan MacMillan, James R. Nesbitt and Wm. Hoyle, with one more manager added, Mr. Dan Riley on motion of Clifford Hargrave and James Nesbitt.

It was moved by Mrs. Clifford Hargrave and Donald MacMillan that Mr. and Mrs. J.D. MacMillan continue as treasurers and the Budget Allocations be accepted on motion of Joe E. Nesbitt and Gordon Jamieson. Mrs. Riley and and Mrs. Jamieson were asked to kindly continue as auditors on motion of Wm. Hoyle and Wm. Brown.

A number of items of business were discussed and Grantin McKay was elected to the Trustee Board where his father had presided for a number of years until his death.

Rev. MacDonald expressed his thanks for the work done and the co-operation during the year. The ladies of the different societies for their services, the teachers of the Sabboth School and everyone connected with the church.

He closed the meeting with Prayer not forgetting those who had laboured and had now passed to higher service.

The officers of the church are Minister-Rev. Grant MacDonald, Members of the Session-Messrs. Gordon Jamieson, Joe E. Nesbitt, Mac Murchison, A.C. MacMillan, J. D. MacMillan; Managers-Ivan MacMillan, Grantin McKay, Wm. Hoyle, Will Nesbitt, Orland Brown, Cliff Douglas, Cliff Hargrave, James R. Nesbitt and Dan Riley; Treasurers-Mr. and Mrs. J. D. MacMillan; Secretary-Grantin McKay; Organist-Sandra Hargrave and Joanne Nesbitt; Superintendent of Sabbath School-James R. Nesbitt; Teachers-Mrs. Clifford Douglas, Mrs. Victor Whster, Mrs. Dan Riley, Messrs. Joe E. $384,000 SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM APPROVED

Ask OWRC build, operate system

Remote lagoon system gets council's unanimous endorsation

A $384,000 remote lagoon type sewage disposal system has been approved by Lindsay's Council. Approval came with the adoption of two resolutions presented by Reeve Lloyd Found.

Resolution number one approved, called for the Town of Lindsay to proceed with the expansion and construction of a remote lagoon sewage disposal system as recommended by Oliver Lloyd and Associates Ltd., consulting engineers at an estimated cost of $384,000.

Resolution two asks the Ontario Water Resources Commission to proceed as the town's agents in the construction and maintenance of the system endorsed by council.

At the time of presentation of these resolutions, Reeve Found said that they may not meet the approval of members of the council, but that if anything was to be done on the matter, it had to be discussed.

The first resolution was read by the Reeve. Councillor Hutton, who seconded it, stated that the town was just getting by with the present system. "This new system is a must", he asserted.

"For seven years now, we have been fighting that problem, spending in the neighbourhood of $15,000 a year to repair the present system. We can't keep it operating the way it is," Councillor Hutton stated.

TWO SYSTEMS

Councillor Hall DeGroat said that he had looked into the situation and discovered that there were two systems of lagoon disposal. "What I would like to know is which system Lindsay has planned to use. It is not stated in the resolution, and I can't find it in the report.

Mr. DeGroat said the two types were aerobic and anaerobic lagoons. He stated that one system is about 40% to 50% cheaper to operate.

The report which Mr. DeGroat cited, was on the system which Saskatoon was installing and it stated that there was a great difference in operational costs.

Mayor Holtom said that the system to be built would be a combination of both mentioned by Mr. DeGroat.

Reeve Found interjected and said that nothing would get done if the council did not accept or reject the first resolution.

Councillor Robert Payne said he had a question put to him and wondered if anyone could answer it. "The person who asked it of me, and I couldn't answer it, said he wondered how much nigher the lagoon was than the river and if there was any danger of flooding?"

The answer came back that the lagoons would be of saucer shape with substantial encircling banks known as berms.

The resolution was passed by the members of the council, by Councillor Hutton made a short statement to the press saying that the council was not happy with having to appropriate this kind of money when the Canadian National Railways requesting the removal of the bell on the signal lights at the crossing on Lindsay Street south.

This request will be made by the council following a complaint by a home-owner in the area speaking to council last night. George Hodgson came before the council at their regular meeting Monday night to ask council if it could do something about the bell which is attached to the signal crossing lights on Lindsay Street south.

"For instance", he stated, "when I went home to dinner the other day, the bell was ringing at 11:00 a.m. when I arrived, and it was still ringing when I went back-that was an hour later. I decided to have a look. I found a railway car had been left on the switch which operated the bell. Now this happens during the middle of the night as well", Mr. Hodgson asserted.

Mr. Hodgson said people living in houses right near the crossing apparently aren't affected the same way as the people who live down the street a little bit. "It seems that the noise of the bell is funnelled down our way more. I don't mind the trains, but the bell in the middle of the night!"

Mr. Hodgson told council that in Peterborough they won't allow bells or even the trains to whistle inside the city limits.

It was moved by Councillor Bob Payne that a letter be sent to the CNR requesting removal of the bell.

C of C may get out of exhibition space rental, manager tells Town Council

The Lindsay Chamber of Commerce is seriously considering severing its space rental arrangement with the Lindsay Central Exhibition. This was disclosed by the C of C manager Harry MacDonald at a meeting of the Lindsay Council, Monday night.

The Chamber of Commerce presented its budget to the council and several questions were asked by members of the council about the figures which were presented. Interest was focussed on the small difference between the expenditure of the chamber to the exhibition and the amount received.

The figures show a net expenditure of $1,943 and an revenue of $2,050. Councillor Robert Payne asked what the expenditures were and why they were so high.

Mr. MacDonald stated that the Chamber of Commerce rent the building known as the Merchant's Pavilion for the two weeks of the fair and sublets it to business people for exhibit space. "The trouble is that we have to do any repair work that is necessary before the building can be open to the public. The fair board use that building during the other 50 weeks of the year, and this deteriorates the building. We have to make good the repairs at our own expense."

Mr. MacDonald continued by saying that the revenue from the building was low because the chamber was forced into the position of lowering the rental charge on the booths from $60 to $50. "This," he explained, "was because at the time we rented the building, all other fair buildings were $60 per foot frontage for booths. When the fair board built the new building under the grandstand, they were forced to lower the price to $50 because the first year it was open, they had a lot of empty space. We were forced into lowering our price to try and keep our heads above water," he commented.

It was disclosed that this is the last year for the contract between the Chamber of Commerce and the Lindsay Central Exhibition. Mr. MacDonald said he hoped the chamber would sit down with the Fair board and discuss the problem in the very near future.

"We are hoping that a fair contract can be negotiated, but that remains to be seen."

It was asserted that the chamber is not in the business to make money, but to try and take some of the burden of getting displays for the fair off the fair board. "However, we can't operate when we haven't been getting a fair shake. The fair board must realize that we are losing over $400 a year by handling that business."

Recommended snowplow but council said "no"

"I definitely know that the engineer recommended that a snowplow be bought by the town for plowing the sidewalks." This statement was made by Councillor Joseph Hutton following a claim by the mayor that the council had said 'no' when the engineer recommended horses be put on the town payroll.

The mayor said that the engineer had recommended several times that horses be put on the payroll for the purpose of pulling sidewalk snowplows. "Council said 'no'."

Councillor Hutton said he disagreed and made his statement.

The entire issue arose following the reading of a letter from a citizen, directed to Reeve Lloyd Found, asking when the sidewalks were going to be plowed so that children could walk on them to and from school.

Reeve Found said that he was expecting the letter and that he suggested that the town make preparations to have the sidewalks snowplowed in the town. "We have been doing something which we have no authorization to do," Mr. Found stated.

"There is no approval or budget for snowplowing the sidewalks since council turned it down last year. So far, we've been doing it with the front-end loader. It hasn't worked too badly, but a new machine for this purpose is needed," Mr. Found concluded.

The mayor said that the engineer was to have made a report on such a machine, but that it was long overdue.

SEWER PETITION UNDER STUDY BY ENGINEER

A petition was received by Lindsay's Council last night requesting that a sewer be constructed on William Street north from the old town line to Eglington Street.

This petition was signed by 100% of the householders in that area and was recognized by the Lindsay Council. Action has been taken.

Mayor Joseph Holtom said the matter should be referred to the Town Engineer, J. L. Timberlake, for further study and estimate on cost and a report given to Council. He also said that the necessary by-law for the construction would need to be drafted.

Billiard table fees protested

A study of licenses and fees now being made by Town Clerk Bud Bates may result in some changes in them.

Mayor Joseph Holtom noted that this was in the wind when Town Council heard a letter from George McCombe asking some relief in the fees levied on billiard tables.

Mr. McCombe said in his letter he thought the fees were too high and Mayor Holtom indicated he was inclined to agree that they were. He suggested that the matter be held in abeyance until the clerk had completed his study.

Former councillor at Fenelon Falls dies Sunday

The late Alfred E. Tiers, who died at his home in Fenelon Falls on Sunday, was for several years a successful farmer in Verulam Township before moving to the village. He served for several years as a member of the village council and was warden of Victoria County in 1917. For a number of years the late Mr. Teirs was operator and owner of a service station and he was also a member of Spry Lodge A.F. and A.M.

Would build village in, around town

An organization with headquarters in Toronto would like to see a 'village' built in or around Lindsay.

A letter from "The Committee for Victoria County Village" received this week states, in part:

"It is purposed that a committee be formed to build a village in or around the town of Lindsay, of one, two or more homes decorated in 18th century. These homes would be furnished in that period and we believe that this would be a good tourist attraction.

"If anyone would be interested in this, would they please write to: The Committee For Victoria County Village, 88 Bude Street, Toronto, Ontario.

EXCELLENT RINK

Scarboro Golf and Country Club has a very fine curling rink according to four local curlers who took part in a one day bonspiel last weekend. George Williamson, Les Porter, Jack Beal and Lindy Mackey (Skip), failed to bring back any prizes but they report the 'spiel was a big success with the veteran Andy Grant of Unionville the top prize winner.

Speeders Beware!! radar back in use

The radar system for trapping speeders in Lindsay is back in use. This information was given to members of the Lindsay council at their February meeting.

Police Committee Chairman Bob Payne told fellow councillors the radar had been returned and was working 100%.

"There is only one trouble," he told council, "our only vehicle which will carry this equipment is the cruiser and sometimes it is tied up on other business." "Yesterday, for instance, the cruiser was busy until four o'clock and we didn't get much time to use the radar system."

Mr. Payne suggested that some other arrangements be made to carry this equipment so that it could be in operation all the time. "Until that time, there isn't much use we can make of the equipment."

Will have no part in raffles, C of C manager tells Council

Lindsay's Chamber of Commerce isn't going to have any part of raffles in 1962.

C of C Manager Harry MacDonald told members of Lindsay's Council Monday night "We will have no part in ticket selling on boats, etc., this year. I feel it is not the Chamber's place to be involved in such things — it is a different thing with service clubs who perhaps have no other means of raising money."

Mr. MacDonald said he was heartened by the response he was getting to the 1962 membership drive. "A year ago", he said, 'we had 67 paid up members at this time. As of Monday this year we have 98." The manager indicated he was hopeful of obtaining far more memberships.

Several members of council including Mayor Holtom and Councillor Hutton complimented Mr. MacDonald on the excellence of his report.

Lindsay asks County to assume control of White Bridge

Victoria County Council has been asked by the Lindsay Council to assume control and jurisdiction of the White Bridge over the Scugog River on Lindsay Street south.

This was brought forward by Reeve Lloyd Found in a resolution at the council meeting Monday night. In placing the resolution before the council, Mr. Found pointed out that before annexation, the bridge was under the control of the Department of Highways. "However, right now it is under our control," he stated.

He told council that county council would take over the control of the bridge if it was so requested. He explained that the bridge in question had a span of more than 20 feet and that the county has a provision for maintaining any bridge with a span of 20 feet or over.

Mr. Found said the county would accept control of this bridge, all it needed was a formal request from this council. The resolution was passed.

LOW COST HOUSING . . .

Talk about low rental housing in Lindsay — the need for it or otherwise—continues to go on. Perhaps we should say it continues to drag on.

The matter of acquiring low rental housing in Lindsay has been under consideration for many months, applications have been called for at least twice and various sites have been studied, one being more or less approved for a 10-unit project.

A few days ago, "The Post" learned that response to the latest appeal for applications has been poor. However, if memory serves correct, this is in direct contrast to the response which greeted the first call for applicants. The first appeal went out long before even a tentative site was chosen and then, for some reason, the bottom seemed to fall out of the project . . . Very little was heard about it until finally the proposed East Ward site was reported to have been virtually accepted. In the wake of this the new request for applicants to register went out and response has been reported to have been very disappointing. Could it be that here the would-be tenants have got tired of waiting for action and, after responding well to the first appeal, which seemed to be fruit-less, concluded it was a waste of time to make a second bid? Or, try and this is possible, has the situation more or less resolved by reason of the fact that several housing developments have been started since, some already being completed?

It would appear as though there is a definite need here for some truly low rental housing — housing would fill the needs of the average working man at a price he can really afford to pay. The prospects of achieving this along the lines now being pursued do not look bright. As we have said before, low rental housing on an individual house and lot basis seems like a remote prospect when today's land and building prices, not to mention taxes, are taken into consideration.

A COMMENDABLE REPORT

Those who listened to the report on Lindsay's sewage disposal problem Monday night could hardly fail to have been impressed with its clarity and detail. It was obvious that Mr. Lloyd, head of the consultant engineering firm of Oliver Lloyd and Associates Ltd., was thoroughly familiar with the local situation and the various proposals he was submitting to remedy the present problem. There was no hint of pressure to 'sell' any one of the several alternative methods of sewage disposal — The presentation set forth in understandable language with the economic factor interpreted at the local level, told what each proposed remedial installation would immediately achieve and what its future potential would be.

However, since the project does represent a major expenditure over a period of up to 30 years, we believe a little less urgency on council's part should be displayed in deciding on a course of action. (There was some talk that a resolution be submitted at next Monday night's meeting.) After all, Lindsay had fought the 'pig in a poke' and still has a bill of around $244,000 to meet in connection with it. It is recognized that there is a time limit on the available federal grant towards a new or revamped sewage disposal system and the town will want to take advantage of any possible saving. At the same time there are one or two important decisions which have to be reached and which deserve careful consideration. These include such things as the type of system to be adopted, what approval will be required (Ontario Water Resources Commission) or town; method of financing, etc.

In connection with financing, we recall some time ago, when the Lindsay Water Commission was given the signature for its new filtration plant, Chairman Maurice Collins pointed out that the accepted method of retiring a debenture debt in Lindsay was not the most economical. He showed a that time, where a sizeable chunk of money could be saved by another method. Council should explore such things as this. Then, to, there is the all-important matter of how the money to meet the debentures will be raised. As was pointed out at the meeting, this can be done by (a) a straight tax increase, applied by the on a frontage basis; (c) by an extra charge to the water consumer or (d) a combination of any or all of these methods.

These, we believe, are some of the things which should be decided and made perfectly clear to the people of Lindsay before proceeding.

ROSEDALE BUSINESS PEOPLE RIGHTFULLY CONCERNED . . .

In recent days readers have heard two sides of the Rosedale bridge story . . . One from the Ontario Highways Dept. which has been given the green light the present structure and the other from a businessman who has been established at Rosedale for several years. The latter was rightly concerned about any threat to his business and that of others in the area. No one likes to build up a trade and then see it jeopardized through no fault of their own.

A very disturbing factor in the situation at Rosedale is the allegation of the businessman—Hugo Beall—that an early petition, channelled through local authorities to the provincial level, has gone unrecognized. Surely the petitioners are entitled to a proper hearing in this matter. After all they may have been able to suggest an alternative plan for removing the traffic bottleneck created by the present bridge without adversely affecting anyone.

While considerable attention is being given to providing clearance for boats using the Trent Canal System at this point, the question of traffic tie-ups has not been boats at all—It has been the fact that the present bridge is a one-lane affair and traffic at one approach must wait until that at the other has cleared. No doubt highways designers have considered the needs of the situation from all sides in the light of modern traffic demands but must everything be 'super' . . . . must the natural scenic routes through our tourist region yield to expressways, underpasses and bypasses? Why shouldn't places like Rosedale preserve their natural beauty, even at the expense of slowing down traffic a bit?

Reports and Remarks...

WINTER DRIVING

Lack of winter driving experience is a major factor in the sudden upswing in accident rates during the winter months according to the All Canadian Insurance Federation.

The difference between winter and summer driving are similar to those between ice skating and roller skating. The basic skill is the same — it is the technique that is different. The Federation, which represents more than 220 Canadian fire, casulty and automobile insurance companies, offers these tips from expert drivers for the overcoming of treacherous winter conditions.

(1) To avoid skidding—avoid sudden changes in acceleration or deceleration. When stopping or slowing down on a slippery surface, "pump" the brakes rather than lam them on. This is accomplished by intermittently pressing the brake pedal down quickly until the brakes just begin to hold and then quickly releasing the pedal. Repeated pumping will slow or stop the car safely and surely with a minimum of skidding.

(2) When skidding does occur—steer in the direction in which the rear end is skidding. As the car begins to straighten out, straighten the front wheels also. Do not over-steer. Turning the steering wheel too far whips the rear end in a skid in the opposite direction. Above all, keep the clutch engaged or the selector lever in the "drive" range. Moderate acceleration may also help the driver in regaining control.

SOME JOURNALISTIC STANDARDS MAY BE WRONG

In this issue we resume reports on the survey of Washington state's 117 weekly newspapers as carried out by the School of Communications of the University of Washington.

This series has exploded at least one dearly held abstract conception of the journalistic process in every article.

Now the survey result would seem to suggest that the desire for acurate, objective reporting of facts "without fear or favor" is talked about substantially more than it is actually used in everyday practice.

We hesitate to pass judgment on the situation.

We have always condemned the practice of slanting or suppressing news in the interests of community harmony and to avoid harming individuals. On the other hand it could be justifiably pointed out that slanting for such generous motives can easily be the first stage toward slanting for less admirable ones.

Why not take another look at the situation there, hearing the petition of those who fear they stand to lose much of what they have built up over the years by reason of a radical change in business trends. We won't add anything to the cost of what is ultimately decided on.

LET COMMON SENSE PREVAIL

About a week ago, a Lindsay real estate agent let it be publicly known that he had received an order from the town's zoning administrator telling him he mustn't do business from his home any longer. In the meantime it has come to light that the agent has been advised to ignore the notice because minor modifications in the zoning bylaw, especially as it applies to 'old' Lindsay, are in the making.

Actually, there are many types of business which, if carried on from the home, are not obnoxious to anyone. Lindsay has several of them and in most cases they are being operated by self-employed individuals . . . They aren't asking for anything except the right to earn their living without interfering with the right of others and without being interfered with.

Common sense has to be used in considering these situations and it isn't always either expedient or advisable to enforce the law to the letter. We hope sensible modifications of the zoning byaw will be effected in the near future.

ALL THE TOWN HAS TO DO NOW IS TO PAY FOR IT . . .

The die is cast for the construction of an entirely new sewage disposal system for Lindsay and the eventual disbandonment of the present plant. In addition, the town is going right out of the sewage disposal business — The whole new project will be entirely under the supervision of the Ontario Water Resources Commission (the government) even to its operation when completed . . . All the town has to do is pay for it.

Lindsay's Council passed two resolutions at its first February meeting, one to proceed with the construction of a $384,000 lagoon sewage treatment system and the other turning over the undertaking to the OWRC, a provincial government organization which will do everything in connection with it, including the selection of the site, except finance it.

It is estimated that if the financing of the new plant were charged entirely to the property owner, it would affect the present rate by between two and three mills annually for 30 years unless, of course, a shorter debenture issue is decided upon. In that case the annual cost would be somewhat higher.

There are, of course, other methods of paying for the new system and one suggestion is that the cost, or part of it, be added to water users. A frontage charge could also be worked out. This is something which will have to be determined shortly.

When the new system was approved, we couldn't help but reflect on the fact that those people in southeast Lindsay, who are still not served by sewers, will shortly be helping to pay for their second sewage disposal system. It was also somewhat surprising to note that not once during the discussion of sewage disposal systems was any mention made of extending sewer service to the area referred to. This may, of course, come up later, but if provision is not made for taking care of that section of Lindsay in this new system, some justifiable protests may be heard. Shouldn't the Ontario Water Resources Commission be considering such a 'total' sewage disposal system for the town and not another set-up which will still leave part of it out in the cold?

Certainly the difference between the functions of a big impersonal daily newspaper and those of the completely immersed weekly newspaper has been recognized for years.

At the same time, the ideals of daily journalism have been largely accepted as the ideals for a weekly newspaper as well. Perhaps the whole concept of journalism in the various individual applications of the profession should be re-examined.

Perhaps when an editor or publisher wins an award for a hard-hitting no-holds-barred editorial in national competition he is receiving an award for not fulfilling his function. Perhaps that strong, trenchant editorial has done irreparable damage in his community. Certainly that a weekly's function is to foment unrest, creat animosities, and harm individuals in the community he purports to serve.

It's worth thinking about.

SIX STEPS TO BETTER LISTENING

1. Learn to concentrate. It's an important factor in listening. Practice such games as "Take 2 plus 3, minus 5, plus 7, minus 9—what's the answer"? Similar exercises are used in listening training courses.

2. Run a TV test. With a friend or relative listen to a radio or television talk. See how many of the ideas presented you can recall.

3. Test your mind flourdering "Well, he sort of talked about . . . and then he said . . . and then . . . " you may have missed the main point. With the other listened try to agree on a pretty specific statement of the main thought.

3. Cut out distraction. Resolve to put aside the newspaper and stop half-listening to a radio or TV program when someone is trying to talk to you.

4. Postpone judgment. When someone brings up a controversial subject don't automatically go "deaf." Check your all-too-natural tendency to stop listening while thinking up devastating remarks to deliver in the next silence.

Instead, plan a question based on his remarks. the kind that will cut the opposition down to size but one that will make sure you are getting what is being said.

5. Repeat instructions. Practice repeating instructions and directions correctly. Unless you can do so, you obviously will not be able to carry them out properly.

6. Help others listen. I suspect we encourage bad listening habits in our children by repeating our demands several times before getting obedience. In sofar as possible, we should give them a command once, and after that impose some penalty so they will learn to listen the first time.

And we might set them a good example by listening to them the first time.

Good listening isn't easy. Effective listening—hearing—understanding and remembering—takes a great deal of energy. It is difficult to listen properly and do anything else at the same time. But it pays off.

By recognizing and correcting any listening faults that may be handicapping you, you may discover that it is possible to listen your way to closer friendships, better relations with your family, larger pay cheques and general success in life.

DECISION - MAKING

Some people never make any real decisions during their lives. They just drift along like a stream running downhill, following the path of least resistance—never quite taking the wheel and directing their own course, never quite the pilot of the ship.

Of course, it isn't always very easy to follow the course of your choice. Circumstances are often against you—a strong wind, a swelling sea, a lashing rain. Sometimes, it may even be best to sit tight until the storm blows over.

But once the calm has returned, you must make up your mind as to what course you will follow and you must take steps to direct your ship in that direction. Otherwise, you may drift along for years, never really getting anywhere.

Where are you heading? How and when do you plan to get there? All these questions demand that you make decisions. The wisest man in the world could never tell you how to go about making each decision a wise one. What is right and good for one person is not necessarily so for another and more people would do well to remember this.

However, there is one aspect of decision-making which we would like to examine and that is the "why" of it. Why do you decide to act or think in a certain way?

You may have very good reasons for your decision but on the other hand, a great many decisions are based on fear. People are afraid to be different; afraid to change; afraid to violate the accepted practice. These fears influence a great many of our decisions. Often we act or think in a certain way not because we believe in it, but because we are afraid to act or think in any other way.

It takes courage and initiative to be different or to change things that are. Generally, you must follow your stand. Following the crowd demands no initiative or courage. Members of the crowd conform—they do not do things because they like or believe in them necessarily but because they have accepted thing to do.

Are your Junior Farmer banquets always the same? Why are they always the same? What about your farming operations? Are you banging on to the old methods and manners simply because you lack initiative and courage to change? Remember just because something has always been done in a certain way or because people have always thought in a certain way, it does not mean that that way is right. It is very easy to educate people and very hard to re-educate them.

The lazy man follows the crowd because to change or to be different demands effort, either mental or physical. He simply cannot be bothered thinking about things—cannot be bothered weighing facts and observations. His decisions are the decisions of the crowd. He finds it much easier to follow a path that has already been broken. He would rather be led than lead. This way he will never be held fully responsible for any abominable mistakes or admirable victories.

He will remain forever one of the masses — capable of nothing terrible or nothing great. We do not owe the credit for the progress of mankind to these people.

—Junior Farmer.

Outdoor advertising thermometers seem to have gone the way of the cigar Indian in downtown Lindsay. There was a time not so long ago, when in the summer every store entrance boasted an advertising thermometer. Now they're scarce as hen's teeth. Although the accuracy of many of these thermometers was sometimes questionable, (they were frequently subjected to abuses such as holding a match under them), they nevertheless were points of interest and by comparing two or three in the course of walking a block, one could arrive at a pretty fair average temperature.

WINTER GARDEN CARE

To prevent damage to your trees and shrubs this winter, there are several precautions that you can take. Here are some suggested by horticulturists of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

After a fall of snow, many of the evergreens in the garden are bent down under the weight of snow that has accumulated on the branches. Don't leave it there to freeze. Take a brush and gently shake the branches. This will prevent them from becoming permanently misshapen and also helps to avoid damage from high winds.

Don't forget the hedge while you are at this job. Snow will build up on the flat top of a hedge and should be removed.

Snow should be removed gently. Needles and twigs are often partially frozen and brittle.

Damage from ice storms is hard to prevent. But you can take a few precautions with more susceptible trees such as the Silver Birch or Willow, if they are not too tall. Give them some support either in the form of a good stake, or attach three wires to the tree at 120 degrees angle from each other. This will give support from three sides. Be sure to wrap something around the wires where they come in contact with the tree. Failure to do this will damage the bark.

HOW CAN I ?

By Anne Ashley

Q. What's the secret in mixing good plaster for a patching job?

A. Be sure to add the plaster to the water (not the water to the plaster). Don't ask me why. All I know is you'll have trouble getting a good mix if you try pouring the water into the plaster powder.

Q. How can I silence some persistent squeaks in some of our floorboards?

A. You can put the quietus on these squeaks by dusting some talcum powder or cornstarch on some glue into the offending cracks. This usually works like magic. Shellac the floor when dry.

Q. How can I wash dishes that have been used for fish, so that no fishy odor remains on them?

A. By using a tablespoonful of amonia in the water.

Warm Comforter

When you have two or three worn-out blankets on your hands, cut off the bindings, stitch the blankets together — that is, on top of each other — and cover them with printed cotton. All of which produces a nice, warm comforter with a useful life expectancy of several years.

ANY TIME IS APPLE TIME

Of all the fruits probably the apple is the most versatile. It may be served fresh or canned, hot or cold.

Serve apples baked or as spicy applesauce. Serve with minized apple juice for cocktail, as an apple salad for lunch, or an apple dessert for dinner. Tuck an apple in the school lunch.

Use cooking purposes choose a tart, firm variety, recommends the Food Department of Macdonald Institute, Guelph. Try this recipe using Canadian apples.

Candied Sweet Potato and Apple Casserole:

2 pounds peeled cooked sweet potatoes; 2 cups thinly sliced, pared apples; ¾ cup brown sugar; ¼ cup butter, melted; 1 teaspoon grated orange rind; ¼ cup walnuts. Cut potatoes into 1/4 inch slices. Arrange a layer of potatoes and apples in a greased baking dish (8" x 8") Sprinkle with brown sugar. Repeat layers.

Auto Upholstery

A splendid cleanser for the upholstery and inside coverings of your car can be mixed from equal portions and detergent mixing this up into a suds and using just the suds with a clean cloth or brush. Then rub over the cleaned portion with a cloth wrung out of clear water.

The Stamp Pad

Stamp-pad ink can be made by grinding up about an inch of lead from an indelible pencil and mixing it with a teaspoonful of glycerin and a teaspoonful of water; let it settle for eight to ten hours, and it's ready for use.

Extra Lining

Your youngster's play coat can be relined for greater warmth with an old sweater; just mend it well, strip the buttons off, add sew it inside the coat.

A LITTLE EASIER

These tips on ironing should make the chore a little easier. A home appliance maker suggests you adjust the ironing board so you don't have to lift your elbow. Limit an ironing session to two and one half hours — use the upper rack. Light ones are best. For flat work . . . use an iron with a large sole plate. For ruffles and sleeves . . . a small one with a pointed tip. And finally . . . listen to music while you're ironing. It cuts boredom, irritation and fatigue.

ENTIRE SPECTRUM

Prints on resort fashions range from over the entire color spectrum. They appear in free forms reminiscent of a matisse painting. And they appear in neat, provincial, designs. You'll see a lot of traditional stripes, plaids, and checks . . . and designs of natural and abstract shapes magnified to bigger-than-life size. They're used on cottons as varied as satin, silk, knit, broadcloth, homespun, and baptiste.

WEIGH DOWN

1962 Valentines will soon weigh down the mailmen. Some of the new cards are a foot high. Some of them make noise when they're pinched. Some contain candy and shouldn't be crushed. And pity the mailman who's allergic to perfume. He may have to carry one of the scented ones. To appreciate the role of the modern-day Cupid in blue . . . think back to the 15th century. Those were rugged Valentine days. Bashful swains sent their proxies to a girl's doorstep and ran away. Ancient Romans held lotteries in which young maids and bachelors drew Valentines by drawing lots. And this 18th century custom might frighten present-day romeos. In those days . . . Valentines were considered a proposal of marriage.

SATISFIED INVESTORS

The people who bought 18th century sculpture . . . American Chippendale furniture . . . or painting by Marc Chagall in 1961 are among the most satisfied investors this year. These collector's items had a much greater appreciation in value last year than blue chip stocks, diamonds, and precious metals. And they can be expected to become even more valuable in 1962. Surveys of the investment field shows current-ly popular categories of fine arts and fine antique furnishings have risen from 50 to 175 per cent last year. And the art market as a whole registered an estimated average increase in values of 20 to 30 per cent. Diamonds rose only two to five per cent in value. Silver was the only precious metal that became more precious—14 and one half percent more precious.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

To eliminate hunting for small articles after they've been through the wash . . . put them in a mesh laundry bag that allows free movement of suds.

$40,000 FIRE HITS PONTYPOOL

Butcher shop-grocery, burn, unoccupied hotel lost too

Freak happenings precede fire

A thousand pounds of meat was prematurely cooked last Thursday in Pontypool when fire swept through a combination grocery-butcher store and a hotel. Both buildings belonged to Harry Vanwieringen who lived above the butcher shop. In the space out were his wife, Frances and their three children, John, Ronnie and Brenda. All escaped without injury.

Both buildings were burned to the ground by the ravaging flames. It is reported that over $10,000 worth of food and meats were lost in the fire. Clothing and furniture in "he of Vanwieringen apartment were also destroyed. No figure has been definitely set, but a Bowmanville OPP office: said it would probably run in the neighbourhood of $40,000. The hotel was unoccupied at the time of the fire.

NO DEFINITE CAUSE

Although the cause is not definitely known, there is a report that about 10 o'clock outside the village snapped and fell across telephone wires, causing a short in all telephone services connected to that line.

MYSTERIOUS INCIDENTS

Many mysterious incidents took place in and around the village. Some of the people reported that their phones went dead about 15 minutes to eight this morning. Others say the telephone crackled and even hissed.

Flash fires were the results in some homes. Neil Curtis, who lives about a mile-and-a-half south of Pontypool, said there was a snap and when he went to look, the plaster on the wall were burned. Across the road at the residence of George Van Dam, the phone blew up and ignited the curtains.

One of the volunteer firemen in the village said telephone poles in the village were smouldering and even on fire. "There were even flames surging along the wires", he related.

ALL SAFE

The Vanwieringen family was evacuated safely but all their belongings were destroyed. The smoke from the building was spotted by a store owner across the street who said he ran to get his small fire extinguisher. "However, by the time I got into the building, the upstairs was a mass of flame. My son started down the street for the first truck", he said.

The Orono Fire Brigade came to the scene, but efforts to save the building were useless. Several trucks of water were rushed in, but they were used for protecting the neighbouring dwellings.

CALL FOR HELP

A call for help was issued by the Pontypool volunteers, and it was answered by the Orono Department. Men from all around the district came to help in the firefighting action.

Collin Richardson, owner of the garage next door, moved all his equipment out of the building. Laverne Curtis had the paint blistered on the side of his house. Firemen concentrated their efforts on these buildings.

CLEAN UP

By 11:00 a.m., Ontario Hydro crewmen were on the job gathering up wires which were scattered across the ground and streets. Windows in some buildings were cracked when the wires snapped. Hydro employees working in the area of the fire, declined to speculate on what might have caused them to snap.

OIL STORAGE TANK

By noon, the fire had almost died out, but one fear remained. An oil storage tank which was housed in the basement of the hotel, was still in danger of blowing. No one seemed to know whether or not fuel was in the tank.

NO SERVICES

The entire town is without telephone service and the majority of the village has no telephone connections. The village has two telephone services, one from Orono and one from Bethany.

Certain lines on both services are out-of-order. Repair crews are hard at work trying to make connections so the people will have their phones and hydro back in working order.

Little Britain

Several of the farmers from this community took advantage of the chartered bus trip to the Exhibition Park in Toronto and were in attendance at the Canada Farm and Industrial Equipment Trade Show.

Miss Margaret Prouse of Gall teachers staff, visited her mother, Mrs. G. P. Prouse and other friends.

Friends of Mrs. John Rodgers regret to hear that she had the misfortune to fall in her home and in consequence badly broke her right arm. All wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Frank Brown of Pickering spent a day in the village as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garry Glenney.

Quite a number of members of the Little Britain W. I. met at the home of Mrs. Rex Brown where they held their regular monthly meeting.

Several from here attended the annual meeting of Marposa Agricultural Society which was held at the Public School in Oakwood and of which Mr. Robert Parkin is the president.

The villagers learned with much regret of the passing of Clifton J. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Hall, which occurred at St. Michael's Hospital in Toronto. Several from here attended the funeral service of the deceased which was held at the Stoddart Funeral Home in Lindsay with interment being made at Zion (Mariposa) Cemetery.

All the Junior members of the community and also quite a number of the older generation are deriving considerable enjoyment at the local Memorial Arena which is again under the capable management of William McTaggart. The ice is in excellent shape for skating conditions and several double header hockey games have already been played which have been well attended.

Omemee

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Melville Jones in the recent loss of her brother.

Congratulations to Miss Temple Morcombe who has passed her examinations as a laboratory technician at St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterboro.

Miss Hilda Clarke is visiting relatives in Coldwater.

New leather-lined shoes kind to the feet

Once there was an old lady who lived in a shoe -- and the only reason she could was that it was lined in soft, smooth leather.

This Spring you'll be able to live -- and walk -- in fashion and comfort too, thanks to the lightweight, wrinkle-free leather linings in the new daytime, evening and casual shoes. Pumps, flats, ties and even mules seen at the recent shoe showings at Shoe Fashion Service of Leather Industries were finished in kind-to-the-skin kid and sheep leathers in a spectrum of Spring hues.

No longer restricted to neutral shades like grey or bone, leather linings are matched to the tone of the outer shoe leather or contrasted with vivid effect. For example, a bright red leather lining enhances the look and the feel of a black tapered black patent leather pump. A sky blue lining completes the smart tailored appearance of a spectator in combinations of royal, navy and light blue. Gold toned linings will be popular in late day, formal and "at home" shoes.

Leather linings offer a bonus in health as well as fashion. Foot doctors recommend shoes lined in leather because leather "breathes" in fresh air and expels moisture with every step you take, keeping your feet dry and healthy. Linings of leather resist wear and tear on your feet, protecting them from angry red welts, calluses and blisters.

And the final "plus" of leather-lined shoes are that they're kind to your budget. Smooth linings safeguard sheerest hose at toe, heel and ankle "wear points". Linings run up from shoes whose inner seams are lined in leather.

STOP!... killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, M.D., F.A.C.P.

DIAGNOSIS OF GLAUCOMA

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am a 42-year-old businessman who always prided myself on taking good care of myself. I've always gone in for a yearly physical examination.

At my last check-up, about a year ago, my doctor said I was all right, but suggested that I go in to see an eye specialist to rule out glaucoma. Although I had no symptoms, he wanted me to do it as a precautionary measure.

Well, I put it off because I thought it was unnecessary. Eventually I went in for the eye examination because I was having headaches. I suppose you've guessed the answer: an eye test showed that I have glaucoma. Fortunately, with drops and other treatment, my vision will be saved. But suppose I had gone on for months disregarding the headaches and the earlier advice of my family doctor? I might be half blind by now. I hope you print this to help other readers.— Mr. M.

COMMENT: You're a lucky man. But it isn't really luck; it's good sense. If you hadn't followed through, you might be walking the tight rope over an abyss called total blindness.

It is true that glaucoma stands right behind cataracts as a cause of blindness in the United States. In persons past 40, there are about 1,250,000 cases of glaucoma. The sad part of it is that only about one half of these people are aware that they have it.

Everyone past 40 should have a tonometer test to determine the eye pressure. It is simple and painless. No physical examination is complete without it. And don't wait for headaches, blurring of vision (especially side vision) and eye fatigue to bring you to the eye doctor. It may be too late.

FLUORIDATION

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I have heard so many pros and cons about the value and dangers of fluoridation that I'm confused. How do you feel about it?— Mr. V.

COMMENT: I am happy to say that during the past year or two flouridation of water to protect against dental decay is being accepted by more and more communities. Let me put it short and to the point: it has great value and no danger. With a few exceptions dentists and dentists are in favor. Why be influenced by the nayes of unprofessional persons who are less qualified to judge?

For Mrs. E.: Your doctor is not being silly in recommending that your 7-year-old son have X rays to rule out peptic ulcer of the stomach. Any child who has recurring attacks of stomach discomfort that don't seem to fit into any diagnostic picture should have the benefit of X rays. More and more we are seeing children between 5 and 12 who have such ulcers.

For Mrs. Y.: It seems to be the opinion of dermatologists that premature aging of the skin can be caused by taking excessive doses of sunlight. It may be fashionable to have a deep tan, but don't take the sun without concern. Like everything else good (a steak for instance) sunbathing can be overdone.

For Mr. J.: I agree that acne is a distressing problem and that the bad case exerts awful psychological pressures upon the youngster. I also agree that chocolate had better be left out of the diet. But I don't agree that all sugars should be deleted. The fact is that dietary restrictions are of questionable value in treating acne.

Gloves put glamour on your fingertips

Do you yearn to wear a bikini? This Spring you can have one at your fingertips.

The newest style in Spring leather gloves is called the "Bikini". It's a shortie that barely -- but beautifully -- reaches the wrist. The "Bikini" is one of a range of generally shorter gloves in kid, lamb and pigskin designed to match the longer dress, coat and suit sleeves.

A pre-season view of Spring gloves, provided by the Leather Industries, also pointed up that the once dominant eight-button glove will share top honours with the four and six-button mid-arm length.

Classic styling will dominate in glace and suede leather gloves. Except for dress gloves -- where cut-outs, simple embroidery and tiny jeweling will spell elegance -- leather gloves will be for the most part simple pull-ons.

Neutral leather hues will take precedence over bold colors -- with the beige-to-brown tonal range most important. White leather will, as always, be "right" with everything except the most rugged of country clothes. However, top designers in this country and abroad are using mustards, violets and even brilliant oranges to provide a tart accent to an understated Spring outfit.

Casual and country fashions call for pigskin gloves -- chiefly in shortie lengths. Striking in texture, pigskin leather is available in a wide range of neutral colors including natural which can be worn with plaids, checks and tweeds. When driving a car, you'll find that pigskin leather gloves give you a sure grip on the wheel and keep your hands clean and soft.

Since the new Spring fashions will call for the addition of several pairs of leather gloves to your wardrobe, heres is some advice from Leather Industries' fashion staff on what goes with what this year:

The sleeveless silhouette needs either a very short glove or an elbow length -- in kidskin, glace leather or doeskin.

For sleeves crimped above the wrist, choose a longer length -- anywhere up to a 12 button glove in soft doeskin or kid.

Suites and tailored ensembles take wrist length gloves in smooth, suede or textured pigskin leather. However, a two or four button length is equally correct.

If the occasion is really formal, your choice should always be the most elegant of gloves -- the 2-button leather glove in white or neutral.

One final tip: you measure the "button" length of a leather glove as follows: the number of inches from the bottom of the thumb inseam to the cuff of the elbow.

Learned To Dress

A leading British fashion editor says after 10 years on the throne Queen Elizabeth has learned to dress. Daily Express Fashion Editor Jill Butterfield says 10 years ago, Elizabeth was - - in these words - - "ridiculously matronly and like a little girl playing at mother." But she learned fast under what the fashion editor calls "the analytical, every-detail scrutiny every-one in the world gives to her better-off neighbor." By 1958 Elizabeth was elected fifth best-dressed woman in the world. By 1959 . . . International fashion experts had made her a founder member of the Fashion Hall of Fame. Miss Butterfield describes the Queen today as "model girl" slim with the tiniest waist and the prettiest shoulders in London.

Miss Dorothy Young reports on World Council of Churches

Just recently returned from New Delhi, India, where The World Council of Churches was in session for 17 days, Miss Young shared some of her experiences there with United Church Women at their Presbyterial held in Queen Street Church.

She described New Delhi as a modern city with the kind of buildings that belong to the East, built around a court-yard, the kind of contrast that is found in India with the way of poverty that is theirs. People were moved to compassion by the very need that is found there. However, she said "It will not be long before India will take its place among the nations stronger than it has ever been".

Who were there? Clergyman and laymen from all the areas of the world, representatives of the press, and the staff of the World Council of Churches.

She said, "We heard about social changes that were taking place and about the clashing of forces - and we had them right there in sessions, there was talk of meetings of nations who are just coming to the fore. There was talk about the explosion of the population; about unplanned people and we wondered what was in the minds of the people from Hong Kong where there are thousands of thousands of refugees pouring in. The church there has worked with government agencies to meet the needs of these people and by so doing has taken on a new vitality. She talked with women from Japan. Less than 1% are Christians in Japan. Yet these women are asking, 'What are you doing in Canada to meet the needs of the people?'

"We heard much," Miss Young went on to say, "about the threat of nuclear war, and what were the priorities concerning it.

"You have about 23 new churches having been received, bringing the number up to 198 from different parts of the world. There were Russian churches, Russian Orthodox bringing 169 million people into the fellowship. There were churches from Africa and young new churches applying for membership. They were right across the bounds of political division. They believe that as Christians we have enough in common that we may go forward together.

"There was the integration of the International Missionary Council and the World Council of Churches. We no longer have a W.M.S. and this merging was just what went on at the Assembly. Many of the problems were being dealt with in both cases. The pamphlet we used last year, 'Jesus Christ and the Life of the World' will give some idea of what it was all about. This theme was developed in the Bible study group. Pastor Niemoller kept before us the thought that somehow we are being called to reflect the Light of Jesus Christ is the church adequate for this? Are we prepared to let Him govern our way? It is His life, not our own, that we are being called to reflect. The world has a right to expect from the church that they live in solidarity, help the needy, struggling for a responsible society, replacing racial discrimination by co-operation, resisting the vicious circle of nuclear war. We must witness to the dark places of the world to service and unity. This is our common calling. That is why the church must learn to use the small groups where we sit alongside people and learn their background and their problems. Love and Faith and reaction to the Holy Spirit are the things. Service without spiritual motivation is useless were it comes to dealing with people. The objective of unity can be made visible when all are brought into one fellowship preaching the gospel. Breaking bread, joining in a common prayer. The emphasis was in coming together in a common worship, rather than forming one great church."

Richest cats are giving tax collector fits

Chicago, Feb. 2 - - (UPI) - - Five of the richest cats in Illinois are giving the tax collector fits.

Margaret Theresa Montgomery left a 25-thousand dollar trust fund for "Big Boy", "Brother Cat", "Blue Eyes", "Mommy Kitty", and "Flat Nose." It pays 12-hundred and 50 dollars a year. That's a lot of catnip.

They will said if that was not enough money for them to live in their accustomed style, they could dip into the principal. That's where the problem that has the Illinois Inheritance Tax Collector up a tree.

How do you tax cats?

Annual taxes on trust funds are set by a mortality table which estimates how long the beneficiaries are likely to live.

Do you tax a cat for one life or the legendary nine? And how long is a cat likely to live in one life, anyway?

The tax collectors took their problem to a veterinarian.

The veterinarian said the average life span of a cat in Chicago is about 10 years. Only thing is, four of these cats are already 12.

"How do you tax a cat who should have died two years ago?" asked the tax collector.

County studies welfare costs, may bring under county control

A survey is underway in Victoria County in an effort to establish the costs of welfare services in each municipality. This was confirmed by County Clerk Frank Weldon today.

Mr. Weldon said Victoria County Council's finance committee has met with a representative of the Department of Welfare to discuss the methods and possibilities of bringing the welfare services in the municipalities under county control.

According to Mr. Weldon, a resolution to this effect was passed by the council last November. He said the finance committee is now ready to study the situation thoroughly.

S. N. Asbury, Executive Officer of the General Welfare Assistance Branch of the Department of Public Welfare gave a short outline to the committee members Thursday. However, he didn't quote any figures and said it would be impossible at this time to make any statements as to whether it would be beneficial for the county to take over the welfare services.

At the present time, none of the counties in Ontario have a county welfare unit.

The clerk said that a welfare unit would be established in the county only if the county council passed a by-law to that effect.

Mr. Weldon said that the county council of Victoria, are studying the situation.

There are 17 municipalities in Victoria. Mr. Ashbury will be conducting the survey from Toronto, but will only have a report for a month or more. His job will be to establish how much each community spends a year on welfare work.

Mr. Weldon said that putting welfare services under county control became possible in 1959 under the Welfare Act. "It is a step which must be thoroughly dealt with and a reasonable amount of time will be needed to make a full and accurate report," he stated.

Demonstration plot experiments planned by Crop Improvement Assoc.

Several demonstration plot experiments are being lined up for the coming season by the Victoria Crop and Soil Improvement Association. Plans for the experiments were formulated at a directors meeting in Lindsay.

The association intends to try the island seeding method of establishing birdsfoot on rough pastures. By this method the farmer plows two or three small areas of his permanent pasture, fertilizes and seeds with eight pounds of birdsfoot and four pounds of timothy seed.

This is designed to establish the birdsfoot over an unplowable pasture by spreading seeds with the droppings.

GRASS SOD

They also intend to carry on a demonstration of strengthening grass sod with high nitrogen fertilizer. Grass pastures, where there is still a good stand of grass, can be made more productive by broadcasting this fertilizer.

Variety demonstrations, continue to be the most fertile method of introducing new varieties, will also be tried.

The plots may vary from a drill width to one acre and should be examined for disease resistance, maturity, strength of straw and yield.

Two methods of weed control in corn will be carried on. In the first adjacent one-quarter plots will be set out. Costs, weed count corn yields and maturity will all be noted.

The other will be pre-emergence weed control with atrazine or other chemicals.

County agricultural representative, LeRoy Boyd said that the board had hoped to proceed with the drafting of a bylaw to govern the giving of grants to aid farmers wishing to build water ponds.

The association's request to county council for a grant to aid in this work has been referred to the March session of council. No authority to proceed with the bylaw has been given. Mr. Brown noted that if the request is granted, a committee which will be governed by the bylaw, will be set up to distribute these proposed grants.

"These will not just be holes in the ground but will have to be large and built to certain strict specifications. These must have some small source other than just run-off water."

Mr. Brown also noted that these ponds will also be a useful fire preventive measure.

Veteran Lindsay curler honored at Fenelon Falls

Fenelon Falls Curling Club sponsored a 24-rink bonspiel Wednesday by using two sheets of artificial ice in the curling rink and four sheets of ice in the skating rink where the players performed on natural ice.

The institution of a mixed bonspiel on a large scale attracted many rinks from outside points, including two from Lindsay skipped by Lou Walker and Al Wetmore. The event was won by Oscar Thurston of Bobcaygeon and Ted Shea also of Bobcaygeon won the second prize. Lindsay rinks won and lost in close and exciting games.

A feature in connection with the presentation of prizes was the recognition by the Fenelon Club of the veteran curler George Moore of Lindsay. He started curling 50 years ago as a Lead with a Bobcaygeon rink playing in a bonspiel at Fenelon Falls and at that time his rink was on a winning list presented with a Kodak camera. He has been curling consistently ever since, and the 81-year-old sportsman is today an active member of the Lindsay club. He skipped a game in the Fenelon Falls competition.

On Wednesday Herb Townley of the Fenelon Club called on the popular veteran and he was again the recipient of a surprise package and a cherished prize.

Lou Walker, vice president of the Lindsay Club, took part in the presentation ceremony and made a few remarks.

End 'tip-toeing' around, industrial chairman urges

The chairman of Lindsay's newly-formed industrial commission doesn't want any 'tip-toeing around' when it comes to going after industry this year.

J. W. Ridpath, named commission chairman at its first meeting said he was convinced there had been too much 'tip-toeing' around in the past and that he wanted to see an all-out effort to acquire more industry.

Questioned on the point of available leads, Mr. Ridpath told the meeting nothing of a solid nature was carried over from last year's efforts. However, he said this morning that things were changing quickly and the commission was already in process of making contacts.

Contact Man

Realtor Vernon O'Connor urged the hiring of a contact man as one of the first moves toward going after new industry. He said he felt this was absolutely essential and criticized lack of action in this direction by last year's commission.

Budget First

Mayor Joseph C. Holtom cautioned against getting the 'cart before the horse' — He suggested the hiring of a contact man should wait until the commission's budget is set. Under the terms of the Ontario Municipal Act relating to industrial commissions, authority is available to use up to three mill of taxation for industrial development purposes. The mayor also urged that personal ambitions be subordinated in the pursuit of new industry . . . "We are here to develop Lindsay and we shouldn't worry who gets the credit, so long as it benefits the community", he declared.

In Stages

Chairman Ridpath recommended developing the industrial promotion effort in stages with every member of the group making himself responsible for one segment of the program in order to conserve valuable time.

Tentative Program

The following tentative program was adopted in principle:

- Establishment of good relationship with existing industries;
- Arrangement of suitable facilities for lease-back requirements for industries considering locating here;
- Completion of an industrial supplement;
- Cataloguing of existing industrial survey of the town,
- Conducting of an industrial survey of the town;
- Establishment of a realistic budget, and
- Establishment of a policy of promoting and acquiring industry once a contact has been made either through town council, the commission, or the Lake Ontario Development Association.

LODA MEETING

Chairman Bill Ridpath told members that he has arranged for a meeting with LODA secretary-manager Don Kingdon so that the services of the association can be explained to members.

NOTICED . . . along the way

THAT

Nothing keeps sidewalk conversations to a minimum like a blast of polar air. . . . What a pity when a little 'hot air' might just have the desired moderating effect.

Still thinking in terms of weather, Wednesday night was the coldest of the season! They say so, or so they say. And that brings up the subject of thermometers . . .

Nearly everyone who has an outdoor thermometer takes at least a peak at it after a really chilling night and then they start comparing notes. And that's when the fun begins.

It's a strange fact, but one will rarely come across two people who get the same results from their thermometers . . . They just don't seem to arrive at the same reading.

This, of course, may be influenced to some degree by those who are prone to exaggerate. These characters slip outside after a bitterly cold night, take an accurate reading of the thermometer and then realizing no one has observed them, add a degree or two just to make the impact of their announcement on how cold it was, more pronounced.

Observing the effect of their little exageration on the family circle, they decide to stick with the story when they get to the job and this is the beginning of a lot of arguments. It probably was the beginning of having official temperature readings on the part of the Dominion Meterological Office in various towns and cities across Canada.

Lindsay used to have a weather data recording station with a federally-spnsdored observer but lately it hasn't been heard of. A mighty handy arrangement it was too. It served to settle a lot of arguments about how cold it was, how much snow or rain fell, and so forth. When it was in operation, everyone took their own temperature reading, made a mental note of it and then looked for the official reading in the paper that night. This prevented a lot of hard feelings among neighbours who sometimes got quite put out if one questioned the accuracy of another's thermometer.

The coming of the official recording station did a lot to enlighten people on the proper way to arrive at an accurate temperature reading. Actually, a rather special sort of house had to be constructed so that the thermometer wouldn't be subjected to anything but air circulation - no sunlight, no direct wind, rain, snow or whatnot-you that might prevent getting a true air temperature reading. Most people abandoned the idea of making such a scientific study of the prevailing temperatures and were quite happy to abide by the 'official' reading when they realized what was involved.

Now that the 'official' readings are apparently no longer available here, the whole merry-go-round has started again. This Thursday morning, for example a lady phoned to see how cold it was because she could hardly believe a 32-degree below reading she had been told about was right. As it turned out the nearest thing to an official reading which could be obtained locally was an unofficial 21 below during the night, about 17 below around 8 a.m. and a cool nine below at noon. Ten-to-one these fairly accurate unofficial readings will take a beating when notes are compared upon reading about them.

Maybe one of the things people in Lindsay should press for in the way of campaign promises in the next federal election is the restoration of an official weather recording station with readings available for daily publication. Talk to your local member about this first chance you get.

Skips To Victory

Jimmy Mackey skipped a Lindsay rink to victory at a 12-rink bonspiel held at Dunsford, Wednesday and returned home with the Percy Skitch trophy.

It is interesting to note that the Skitch cup was first placed in competition 27 years ago and has not been played for since the year 1955 and the winner at that time was Lindy Mackey. The prized silver mug will have another shield placed on the ebony base and it will bear the names of: John Ross, Bill Walker, Don Lytle and Jim Mackey, skip. The Mackey rink defeated two Lindsay rinks skipped by Ken Reeds and Charlie Millage and also the Robertson rink of Dunsford.

Turnip field care about the same as potatoes

Turnip costs are about four times those for spring grain due largely to high machinery use in land preparation and high labor use in summer work and harvesting. But cash outlay may not be high. So reports Dr. H. L. Patterson, Head of the Farm Economics and Statistics Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, after a recent study on turnip production costs in Ontario.

The study included 193 fields of turnips grown in the main shipping areas of Ontario. He found that labor requirements are about the same as for potatoes, and about 10 times that of cereal crops.

"The average profit margin of 29% over measurable costs is sufficient to justify the crop as a main farm enterprise in areas of suitable soil, climate, and marketing facilities," reports Dr. Patterson.

He feels that as long as the crop can be handled with the regular farm labor and equipment, the gross returns per acre are sufficient to make the crop a satisfactory secondary enterprise even on small acreages.

"Profitable production is based on marketing a substantial part of the crop, and salvaging the remainder as livestock feed. Few growers were able to keep their costs below the feeding value of 18 cents per bushel.

He noticed in the study that net returns from turnip growing improved as: acreage per farm increased; sales per acre increased; labor requirements decreased; and crop value per dollar invested improved. While strength in each of these factors tended to improve earnings, weaknesses in any one was serious.

Time For Painting

The screens don't have to be put up for months. The lakes and trout streams are frozen solid. Garden and tennis court are buried under snow. So this is the time for indoor painting. New paints are quick-drying . . . relatively odorless . . . and don't require open windows. The experts say use cool and light colors in small and average rooms . . . and warm, full-strength colors to give intimacy to large rooms. Generally . . . ceilings are painted first . . . then walls . . . and finally, woodwork.

By Accident

It isn't likely that burned cake or gritty fudge will turn out to be a new rocket propellent. But if you take a quick look at history . . . you'll find accidents and near accidents resulted in great inventions. The first ice cream cone . . . for example . . . was invented in 1904 at the St. Louis World's Fair. The ice cream vendor ran out of plates. The sugar waffle man in the next booth rolled some thin waffles into holders.

Accidental Inventions

The potato chip was another accidental invention. So was dynamite. So was the durable enamel and paint used on automobiles. That happened when someone accidentally left a paint formulation in the sun for three days. The resultant thin syrup was void of the anticipated jelly. It was a new lacquer that gave thickness with fewer coats. So don't toss out that ruined batch of jelly. Take it to a chemist.

Hollow Hearts

Thanks to an electronic Sherlock Holmes . . . your potatoes don't have hollow hearts. And apples don't have watercore. Farmers now can tell when a crop is blighted without cutting open the vegetable or fruit. They use a gadget that measure light as it passes through the potato or apple. Another experimental machine now counts the natural radioactivity in poultry, beef, lamb and pork. This helps agriculture scientists to forecast tenderness and to determine . . . proportionate amounts of fat and lean.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

Rinse nylons in a tablespoon of liquid starch and a quart of warm water. It keeps them soft and run-resistant without making them stiff and shiny.

These production factors appeared to be advantageous:

- turnips following cereal crops in a rotation
- proper land preparation accomplished by less than 13 times over
- summer work accomplished in less than 4 times over
- small applications of manure and liberal usage of fertilizer
- growing turnips on well-drained soils of medium texture with little moisture deficiency.

Lady, beware!

Fibbing about your age could bring fraud rap

Ottawa, Feb. 1, (UPI) — The Government of Commons heard today that ladies who don't tell the truth about their age may be liable to "Fraud" charges.

The annual report of the auditor general of Canada, tabled in the Commons, includes criticism of the government's leniency in overlooking the traditional prerogative of the ladies' inaccuracy about their age.

The report said this has enabled one woman to hold her government job from age 65 to 72 and earn some 35-thousand dollars in salaries and an extra 11-hundred and 20 dollars a year in pensions which under the regulations she was not entitled to.

The report said the woman understated her age by 13 years when she joined the government service in 1945.

When asked for proof of her age in 1958 in connection with a pension plan she claimed parish records had been destroyed by fire. When this was not accepted she produced a birth certificate showing she should have retired in September 1955.

According to the auditor general, the lady, who remains nameless, didn't retire until December 1960 with a pension, calculated to her actual retirement level of 1955, of 683 dollars a year.

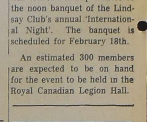

Action by the Federal Cabinet later allowed her to continue working until she is 72, at which time she will be eligible for a pension of one-thousand-

Lindsay club will hear about its 'adopted' club

A former president of the Lindsay Business and Professional Women's Club will soon give club members a first-hand report on its 'adopted' Macclesfield club. Recently returned from a visit to the club in England, Mrs. Edith Stewart will tell of her experiences at the noon banquet of the Lindsay Club's annual 'International Night'. The banquet is scheduled for February 16th.

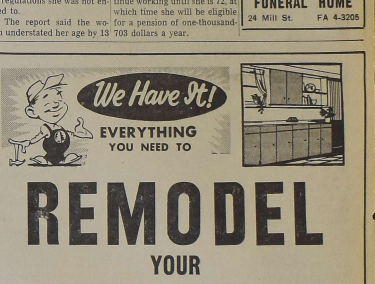

An estimated 300 members are expected to be on hand for the event to be held in the Royal Canadian Legion Hall.

Three explosions rock Millbrook plant

Holes blasted in walls, three workmen injured; dust build-up blamed

Three men were injured and a section of a Millbrook factory is out of production Friday following a series of explosions which occurred between three and four p.m. Thursday. Fire Chief Lloyd Byam told "The Post" this morning he under stood none of the workmen were seriously hurt but that it might be several days before the damaged part of the plant could be repaired. Millbrook is southeast of Lindsay.

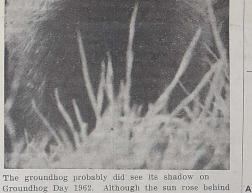

Injured were a volunteer fireman Russell Reid, who suffered burns to the face and neck, and company employees Leo Fallis and Clayton Thexton, both cut by flying glass and stone.

Chief Byam said the exact cause of the explosions is unknown, but it is believed aluminum dust was ignited by a spark. The firm--Millbrook Industries--makes ornamental aluminum wear.

The first blast, which occurred shortly after 3 o'clock, blew a gaping 10-by-4-foot hole in the side of the building. One of three successive explosions blew out another section of the wall, leaving a 3-by-5-foot hole.

Chief Byam said the company has been in business about 10 years producing aluminum goods, and this is the first time anything of this nature has occurred. He said the factory was inspected only three weeks ago. Damage to a section of the plant had been described as extensive, although no official estimate has yet been announced. Investigation is continuing.

It probably did. . .

The groundhog probably did see its shadow on Groundhog Day 1962. Although the sun rose behind clouds, they disappeared and brilliant sunshine flooded this district before the morning was over. Legend has it that if the groundhog sees its shadow on February 2nd, six more weeks of winter lie ahead.

Noticed along the way

THAT

A former Lindsay newspaperman had no trouble keeping warm on his Smiths Falls beat Thursday morning. Jim O'Neill, for some time on the news staff of "The Post" and now with the press in that Eastern Ontario town, was in on the ground floor of a $200,000 fire which gutted a three-storey building housing the town's radio station, six stores and several apartments.

Newspapers receive some unusual things in the mail and a curiosity-arousing 'note' came this way on Thurday . . . A slightly used one peso Mexican banknote, issue of 1959. The note was contained in an envelope addressed to "The NEWS Editor, The Post, Lindsay, Ontario," with the instructions: "If undelivered return to CANADA DRY LIMITED at point of mailing". The point of mailing was Toronto. And that's all there was in the envelope which was sealed and the required five-cent postage stamp affixed. It's things like this which cause curious newsmen to grow old before their time. They just can't help wondering what it's all about.

This kind of thing just doesn't happen every day and it's for this reason that it arouses so much speculation . . . What's the fuss? . . . What's behind this? . . . Could it be exchanged for a few bottles of Canada Dry and the whole thing forgotten about? . . . Ha, maybe that's the root of the peso problem . . . perhaps it was sent along in the hope the product would get a free plug. You just can't be up to these public relations boys nowadays . . . They no longer come right out in the open and go to work on a newspaperman—Much of it is undercover stuff, carefully planned so the unsuspecting will grab the bait and be in the trap before he knows it. What more tempting bait than a banknote, even one that is slightly soiled?

Number registered for jobs 118 below the 1961 figure

The number of persons registered for unemployment insurance in Victoria County for the month of January 1962 shows a decline of 18 over the same period in 1961.

These figures were released Thursday afternoon by C. C. McFarquhar of the National Employment Office in Lindsay. He said that in the month of January 1962, there were 627 males and 286 females registered for unemployment. "This compares favourably with the January 1961 total of 716 males and 313 females", he commented.

The total shows 913 persons unemployed this year as compared to 1,031 in 1961.

Mr. McFarquhar said that much of this decline is due to the campaigning of newspapers and the Winter Works Program. "I think this has helped greatly to bring about the large decline in the ranks of the unemployed", he said.

The comparison with December 1961 shows a steady number of female unemployed 286, while males increased from 498 in December 1961 to 627 for January 1962.

"15 years of service"

Pictured above is R. H. Forester, Sanitone engineer for Emery Industries Incorporated of London and Ivan Rodd, left owner of Lindsay Cleaners and Dyers. The occasion is the presentation of a Distinguished Service Award to the firm for 15 years of Sanitone service. The plaque reads, "For 15 years of outstanding service to your community in establishing the highest standards of dry-cleaning excellence, combining craftsmanship, knowledge of new techniques to a degree which warrants the appreciation of the entire industry." Mr. Rodd has recently taken over the business and has been with the firm for 16 years. He said that the Lindsay Cleaners and Dyers would continue on with the same sanitone service which it has offered for the past 15 years.

First major renovation since erection in 1900

Church congregation approve plans; project to cost estimated $37,000

The Sunday School of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will undergo the first major renovation since the building was erected in 1900. This was officially announced at this congregational meeting this week.

Plans have been under extensive study for the past few months, but nothing definite was arrived at until all the committees of the church had submitted their suggested ideas for the renovation.

At the congregational dinner and business meeting, the final plans were presented for approval and accepted. The project, the first for the Sunday School, will cost an estimated $37,000.

The plans have been drafted by Yamazaki and Ridpath and the construction will be done by Morrow Construction Ltd. Head of the building committee and finance was Dr. R. C. Wansbrough.

The new plans make provision for a second floor in the Sunday School area, where, at the present time there is a basement floor. This, according to the plans, will be removed, a ceiling put in and a second floor built. This second floor will house six classrooms, a small assembly area, a library and adequate washroom facilities.

The main floor which is the general assembly area now with some classrooms under the present balcony, will remain a general assembly area, which has been increased in size to about 32 feet by 52 feet.

The entrances to this section of the church building will remain the same. The kitchen will be made larger for the convenience of all the organizations which meet at the church.

The official plans show that a new church office will be constructed with a basement underneath to store all the church records.

The present basement will be entirely redone. This is reported to be a major part of the renovation. There will be a new floor, ceiling, and the removal of the pillars which at the present time hamper any activities which are held there.

The new basement, according to the plans, will house six classrooms; a fair sized assembly area, retiring rooms for the Cubs, Scouts and C.G.I.T. who hold their meetings there. Cloak rooms will be installed and three exits will be constructed.

The primary Sunday School, which have classrooms on the east end of the church, will move to the second floor of the reconstructed Sunday School and their rooms will be converted into a ladies parlour.

The Sunday School building was built in 1900 and the church was constructed in 1887. The present congregation is about 600 persons.

Renovation work on the building is expected to start immediately.

Three-day probe, fatal fire cause still not known

Following a three-day investigation which ended Thursday, a representative of the Fire Marshal's Office has found no cause for a fire which claimed the lives of three Bancroft persons on Monday.

The fire which swept through the two-storey frame home of Ian Kelly, claimed the lives of his wife and two children, Sheila and Leanne. The fire was spotted by neighbours about 5.00 p.m.

The Bancroft Volunteer Fire Department was called out by Ontario Provincial Police about 7:30 p.m. to cool the blaze down. No attempt was made earlier because there is no agreement between the Bancroft Fire Brigade and Dungannon Township.

The body of Mrs. Kelly was recovered around 11:00 p.m. Monday and the two children, Shiela, age two, and Leanne, age one, were recovered about 6:00 p.m. Tuesday. Mr. Kelly was working in Bicroft at the time of the fire.

It is not known if a further investigation will be conducted but an inquest is expected.

Samuel J. Mackey

Mr. and Mrs. O. Taylor speak to WI on trip to England and Scotland

Most people dream of returning to the scenes of their childhood, but not many realize their dreams. However, Mrs. Osborne Taylor had that rewarding experience last fall, when she returned, with her husband, to her native England.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were two of a group who went on a C.P.R. guided tour, calling at different farms in England and Scotland, Edinburgh, London and other cities.

The party were the first ones to be taken on a tour of Balmoral grounds, and were greeted by the Earl of Caithness. They also attended service at Crathie Church at Balmoral, where the Royal Family worship, when in residence at Balmoral Castle.

The boat trip over on the Empress of England, and return on the Empress of Canada, and a trip around Loch Lomond, were highlights much enjoyed by the party. However, the greatest thrill of the trip for Mrs. Taylor, was when she visited her old home, and friends of her family. She also visited the old church and school that she attended as a child.

There were 21 members and 15 visitors in attendance, and everyone enjoyed the programme, and social time, in the Red School.

Walter Gamble shows pictures of Western Canada

Fenelon Falls (PNS) —Misses Annie and Alice Nie were hostesses for the January meeting of the Fenelon Falls WI. In spite of one of the winters biggest snow storms quite a few ladies braved the element to enjoy a most interesting meeting at which Mr. Walter Gamble showed coloured pictures of his trip to Western Canada and Vancouver. Introduced by Mrs. J. Halligan, Convener of Agriculture and Canadian Industries, Mr. Gamble's pictures and excellent commentary transported his listeners far from wind and snow to far away places of lakes, praries and mountains.

Mrs. Halligan and Mrs. Palmer thanked Mr. Gamble for sharing his trip so wonderfully with those in Fenelon Falls who were not as privileged as he and Mrs. Gamble.

Miss V. McIntosh gave a talk on the motto "One tree will make a million matches and one match can destroy a million trees. She gave a brief history of the making of matches, spoke of the value and beauty of pure forest and closed with a poem "The Incredible Tree".

Several matters of business were dealt with and plans were made to hold a special evening at the February meeting. The Institute Grace was sung before the lunch committee served refreshments and a social visit was enjoyed when the president, Mrs. Palmer, thanked the Misses Nie for their hospitality.

On the other hand it mightn't be anything like that at all . . . Perhaps it was just some charitable soul back from a trip to Mexico with a peso or two left over and, at a loss to know what to do with them, decided to distribute them among a couple of news editors, the idea being they would pass them along to reporters catching a Mexican assignment.

It's too bad they couldn't have sent along a few extra so the news editor could have assigned himself to a nice mid-winter Mexican holiday . . . They say it's quite nice in places down there at this season.

And that brings up another thought . . . Maybe the Mexican Tourist Bureau is in cahoots with someone up in Canada and the whole thing is a gimmick to advertise Mexico.

It's a fright how they work on news editors, isn't it? A fellow on that sort of a job has to be mighty careful or the paper wouldn't m- a dime on advertising.

Dear Editor:

Some self-styled tax experts and economists make me sick. I wonder if Dief's magic basket as of loaves and fishes isn't responsible for the flurry in economic opportunism.

Dropping the 7½% excise tax on cars cost the federal treasury $65,000,000. What good purpose prompted this move, at a time when Ottawa raised the tax from 30% to 40%? I think the tax should have been doubled on luxury cars and accessories, which are imported. The benefit to the public was short-lived as has already gone out the back door.

Not so long ago the Canadian dollar was worth 7½% more, therefore imported cars and components now cost that much more. Canadian materials are going up too because devaluation acts like a tariff - - only the premium doesn't go to the government. It goes rather to subsidy to our exporters and to foreigners investing in Canadian enterprises.

In addition to the 2½% producers' wage increase received by labour, its tax-free fringe benefits saw pensions doubled, and pay boosted further by the company paying the employees' half of group and hospital insurance. On top of this, the auto workers are protected against inflation by cost-of-living bonus.

Government incentives are for the birds.

Yours truly,
John Gilbert

Says pedestrian not getting break when it comes to snow removal

Lindsay, Feb. 2, 1962.
The Editor,
The People Write,
The Lindsay Post.
Dear Sir:

One of the favorite topics or conversations during coffee breaks in Lindsay this week has been snow removal (the lack of it) from Lindsay's sidewalks. The subject has produced a certain amount of speculation. Should the citizens clean their own walks or should the town take care of this chore for them? And so forth.

I can recall when the Board of Works contracted with owners of horses to snow plow the streets. These owners were given to owners of horses in the East, North and South Wards and the cleaning of streets was left to the good judgment of the operators. Today it is doubtful if an owner of a team of horses can be found in town. The result is that the clearing of snow-covered walks becomes a problem for the Board of Works.

Owners of motor cars are well looked after and Lindsay streets are generally kept in good shape. Pedestrians do not appear to be treated with the same care and attention.

This week many walks were filled with snow and citizens were forced to use the roads. The walking has been quite dangerous. Citizens who have plans slipped so close that Mr. or Mrs. Citizen or some school child had to step into banks of snow rather than risk being knocked down.

One coffee sipper had another beef. He was loud in his denunciation of the man who, after he had piled the shoves piles of snow against the curbs at intersections. Once again pedestrians came out on the short end as they had to step over these mounds onto the road and many a citizen has slipped and fallen at intersections.

The thought was that the Board of Works has a problem but the suggestion has been advanced that this department should employ more men during the winter months to serve pedestrians as well as motorists. It has further been suggested that Town Council, instead of making a contemplated expenditure of $5,700 for an obsolete hunk of scrap iron (a steam locomotive) might invest the money in clearing sidewalks in Winter months.

A Pedestrian.

STOP!... killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, M.D., F.A.C.P.

ALLERGY IS A GREAT MIMIC

Are you suffering from unexplained headaches that come and go without traceable cause? Perhaps they've been thought to be due to sension or have been called migraine headaches. However, no treatment seems to help.

Or, have you been having indigestion lately that comes on for a few days and disappears only to return within a week or two? All X rays and other diagnostic tests for stomach functions have been negative. Nothing seems to help either in prevention or cure?

Or, have you been suffering from pesky colds that hang on? You can't understand where and why you get them when everyone else around you if free from the darn things.

As I have suggested here a number of times, always consider the possibility of allergy when you can't put your finger on the diagnosis. More and more doctors are beginning to suspect allergy when they deal with stubborn conditions which don't respond to ordinary care. For example, consider these letters:

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I've suffered from headaches for years. Nobody ever helps me. Then I went to a doctor who, like a detective, traced my headaches to chocolate. Since I cut out my chocolate cakes, my chocolate ice-cream sodas and cocoa, I haven't had a headache in six months.— Mr. K.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I thought I had an ulcer for years because of painful indigestion that would come quite often. Nothing helped until a new doctor discovered that I was allergic to chicken. Since then my stomach has been behaving fine. Mrs. W.

And so it goes. I have seen so much of this myself. Always consider the possibility of allergy when diagnosis, treatment and results dont jibe.

DMSO or BMR?

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I would like to know which is the more accurate, the basal metabolism test or the protein-bound iodine for thyroid trouble. My doctor suggested that I take the BMR but I've heard that the metabolism test is not accurate. Mrs. F.

COMMENT: The doctor can often make the diagnosis of under or over-active thyroid without any test. This is especially true in advanced hypothyroidism; and in patients with myxoedema, in whom the thyroid is stumbling along inefficiently.

But there are many borderline cases in which the laboratory examinations you mention are indispensible. First, you should know that accurate basal metabolism. Always consider the possibility of allergy when diagnosis, treatment and results dont jibe.

If a basal metabolism test is taken accurately you will not need a PBI.

The same is true for the latter test. Your doctor will tell you what medicines to stay away from so they will not interfere with the results. Then, so, there is always the technician in the laboratory to consider. If improperly trained or careless, the report you get will not be a true one.

It is my feeling that if there is any question at all, the patient should be willing to have both the BMR and PBI to check on each other. I think it's worth it when you consider how important it is to know just how the thyroid is behaving.

BEAVERTON REJECTS FLUORIDATION OF WATER

Opposition forces decisive victors

Beaverton voters have turned thumbs down on a proposal to fluoridate the village water supply.

Village Clerk Fred McMillan said there would be at least 500 votes cast including spoiled ballots.

The question asked voters in the February plebiscite was: "Are you in favor of the fluoridation of the water supply of this municipality?"

It is the first time the issue has been put to a vote in this district. Total eligible voters in the district is 700.

Trend of the voting was indicated in the first poll heard from — 168 opposed, 25 in favor.

THAT

The end of the world — or something close to it — was to have happened to come sometime Monday. At least that was the word from those who rely on stargazing for information of this sort and pass along their findings to the rest of the world.

Prophets of doom have always been with the world — or nearly so. And the end of the world has been a favorite prediction among the seers for hundreds of years. So far they have been wrong.

People around here used to get quite worked up about these things in former years. Some sold up their property (where they thought they were going with their cash, no one knew), others were very fervent in their prayers when they reflected on the fact that their nad deeds outweighed their good; and others made quite elaborate preparations for the big moment. All lost a certain amount of faith in the prophet when the end failed to come as scheduled.

Coming right down to cases, Prof. Watson Kirkconnell, in his Victoria County Centennial History, written 40 years before the county officially celebrated its 100th birthday, devoted considerable attention to this subject. In his introductory outline and then under the heading of "Religious Life in Pioneer Times", he notes that, quote: "Then, even as today, there were many ill-balanced intellects eager to espouse fantastic doctrines. In 1842, a New Englander named Miller began to teach that the world would come to an end on February 15, 1843. The belief spread like wildfire among the weak-minded of the United States and Canada. Farmers burnt their rail fences as firewood, confident that their usefulness would soon be past. A convert near Port Perry gave away a 100-acre farm and all its equipment. Sarah Terwilligar of Oshawa made herself wings of silk and jumped off the front porch, expecting to be caught up to heaven. But the choicest anecdote comes from Port Hoover, Concession A, Mariposa, on the north shore of Lake Scugog. Here a man named Hoover brooded over the Millerite gospel until he gradually fancied himself superhuman and above natural laws. He therefore announced in the autumn of 1842, that he would walk on the water from Port Hoover across Lake Scugog to Caesarea, a distance of about five miles. On the day appointed, hundreds of Mariposa pioneers gathered at the Port Hoover wharf to watch the spiritual athlete. He seemed to have a sudden weakening of faith, for he fastened a wooden box on each foot, but as even this failed to hold him up, he waded out and hid behind one of the piles of the wharf. The urgent demands of the crowd finally brought him back to shore where, amid the shouts of small boys, he made his explanation: 'My friends, a cloud has risen before my eyes and I cannot see. I cannot walk upon the water today while this cloud is before my eyes. Soon it will be announced when the cloud has been removed and then I will do it.' But his spectators never assembled again."

Mayor seeks legislation to change town plan

Mayor Joseph C. Holtom said Friday that he had sent a request to the Department of Municipal Affairs asking for some legislation for changing the official town plan.

Mayor Holtom said that at the present time, there is at such legislation and the town is stuck with the plan laid out in 1958.

His worship revealed that during a recent visit, R. E. Roberts of the Community Planning Branch of the Department of Municipal Affairs, branded Lindsay's plan "too rigid, too inflexible and obsolete.' He told a joint meeting of the Lindsay Council and the Lindsay Area Planning Board that this plan would have to be changed, not just revised, but an entirely new one drafted. He stated, however, that no legislation is in effect at the present time to allow any town to change its official town plan.

Mayor Holtom stated that this plan cannot be changed. "The way it is now, the plan is there and we can't change it", he stated. The mayor went on to say that if as area is zoned residential, it cannot be changed. "I have urged both the planning board and the council to do some serious thinking before accepting the proposed plan for the newly-annexed area".

The mayor said that a lot of land in the annexed area is zoned agricultural, and an official plan was laid down, then if the council were to stick to that plan, in four or five years, it would still be agricultural and no one could build a house on it.

Lindsay Council is in the process at the present time of amending the bylaw concerned with zoning.

County's RMH representatives not fully informed—Clerk

County Clerk Frank L. Weldon has charged that some members of the Ross Memorial Hospital's Board of Governors are not getting full information on hospital affairs.

He told members of Victoria County's finance committee last week that some county councillors have said they felt they were on the board as observers and not active county representatives.

Mr. Weldon said most general criticism voiced by many people is that the hospital is not too badly administered, but board of governors is "poor".

"Too much of the work is done by committees and the board members are not given adequate information."

Mr. Weldon said that by and large there were some good brains on the board. He said however, that "there was something wrong somewhere".

He added that he was still of the opinion the board was not telling the county everything.

"I still maintain the board has been far from honest with the county. They have not told us the full story".

The clerk said that this was obvious when in the space of four days three or four different stories were heard regarding a request for a $75,000 "grant or guarantee".

He recalled that when members of the board approached county council at the January session, a request for the money was made.

SUM CHANGED

Two days later, this sum dropped down to $50,000. Later it was reduced by another $25,000, and last Friday the finance committee was told that all the hospital requires is a guarantee for a sum of money (Mr. Weldon did not specify what amount).

Dalton Reeve John Childs said the hike in general ward rates to $24 a day still puzzled him.

"Surely the economy of the country has not changed that much in a year", he said.

Not believed seriously hurt, Minden man dies of injuries

Injuries not at first believed to have been serious have resulted in the death of a Minden man.

Thomas Hamilton, 50, of Minden, died in Toronto General Hospital Wednesday morning. His death came a week after a tree branch struck him on the head while he was working in a lumber camp between Bancroft and Minden.

Mr. Hamilton was described as not in serious condition by Bancroft Red Cross Outpost Hospital officials until he was transferred Tuesday to Peterborough Civic Hospital. It was decided in Peterborough that he needed emergency surgery in Toronto. He died 12 hours after the operation.

Mayor receives Holy Bible from appreciative Israeli

Mayor Joseph C. Holtom received a special gift from a man in Israel this week. It is a Holy Bible, written in Hebrew with the English translation.

The Bible was sent to the mayor by Meir Markusfeld of 62 Sharonit Nordau, Tel-Aviv, Israel. The accompanying letter expresses the man's grateful appreciation to the town.

The letter is addressed to "The Honorable President of Lindsay, Ontario", and reads: "Your Honor, I am Meir Markusfeld, the brother-in-law of Mr. Kalman and Mr. Zeylik Brewda, who are citizens of Lindsay, would kindly ask you to thank all the personnel and doctors of Lindsay's Hospital who were kind enough to take wonderful care of my wife, Hasia Markusfeld, during her operation which took place on 22nd January 1961.

"I also have the pleasure of sending you the Holy Bible, and wish you a happy and prosperous New-Year".

The letter is dated, "Tel Aviv 23rd. November 1961."

Mayor Holtom said he greatly appreciated the letter and the gift of the Bible.

Blackstock Fair makes bid for more junior interest

At their annual meeting held in Blackstock the Cartwright Agricultural Society Black Stock Fair) bid for the support of the juniors by appointing five young people to work with the board on matters of interest to junior exhibitors. Named as junior directors were Miss Donna McLaughlin, Vestleton, Mrs Janice Byers, Burketon, Mr. David Ballingal Blackstock, Mr. Donald Bradburn, Burketon, and Mr. James Byers, also of Burketon. These young people have exhibited at the fair in both junior and open classes for several years.

The financial report presented by the treasurer showed the society in sound shape. Prizes amounting to $1,945.85 were paid on all classes of exhibits at the fair which was closed with a balance of $145.04 on hand.

Members expressed support of the 4H program and offered to sponsor the swine club and the calf club again this year. A committee was appointed to see if there were other clubs in need of a sponsor and to offer to take another club at the fair.

In the election of officers, Mr. Ralph Larmer was re-elected president. Mr. Harvey Graham was elected 1st vice-president and Walter Wright 2nd vice-president. Mr. Percy Mc Cann, Blackstock, accepted the position of secretary-treasurer.

First month's tax prepayment reported above four in '61

The annual prepayment of taxes have netted over $135,000 for the month of January. This amount was released by Mayor Joseph C. Holtom on Friday. He said the one-month total was well above the entire four-month period in 1961 which totaled $70,000.

The mayor said he would estimate that the total collection by the end of the four-month period would be in the neighborhood of $175,000. "Much of this is due to the advanced advertising we did and to the letters which we sent out to all ratepayers", the mayor stated.

Early in the year, the council passed a by-law authorizing a higher cash discount than had previously been offered. Those who paid their taxes in January received a 2½% cash discount which is estimated to be about 5% per annum. Mayor Holtom said that any ratepayer wishing to pay taxes this month will receive a 2% cash discount which will amount to 4.5% per annum.

"By paying their taxes early the ratepayers of Lindsay are helping themselves as well as helping the town avoid any large borrowing at the first of the year", the mayor concluded.

Coboconk residents celebrate 25 years of marriage

Mr. and Mrs. John Rocchio, proprietors of the Pattie House, Coboconk, were pleasantly surprised on the evening of January 20th when some 45 friends and relatives called to honor them on their 25th wedding anniversary. The actual anniversary was the 23rd but was celebrated on the 20th when more friends could attend.

The biggest surprise perhaps was when their son, Dennie, who is attending school at North Bay, was on hand, too. Mrs. James Bush of Toronto, made the beautiful anniversary cake.

The eldest son, Ron, gave a toast to the couple, and Mrs Helen Lush, a sister of Mrs. Rocchio, and maid-of-honor at the wedding 25 years ago, gave a very delightful speech.

Mrs. Rocchio's brother, Joe Bonise, who now lives in Montreal, and was best man at the wedding was unable to attend. Mr. Bush asked the blessing at the table and read a telegram of congratulations from the Vatican. Mr. and Mrs. Rocchio (formerly Rose Bonise) were married in Edson, Alberta, 25 years ago, January 23rd, 1937). They have been in Coboconk since January 22, 1952, ten years.

Many lovely gifts were presented to Mr. and Mrs. John Rocchio. These included a money tree loaded with silver dollars, a bouquet of roses and a silver tea service.

Former Lindsay resident writes the obituary of passenger service

A former Lindsay resident has recorded the last moments of railway passenger service between Toronto and Belleville via Lindsay. William J. Michaud has forwarded his account of the last trip, part of which has appeared in the Belleville Intelligencer. Of special interest here is the addition of the names of those from Lindsay making the trip.

Under the auspices of the Canadian National Railways Pensioners Association, Belleville Club, some 60 greying veterans of railway service, many accompanied by their wives, journeyed to Toronto on Tuesday on the railway's crack afternoon train.

The primary purpose of the holiday trip was to return to Belleville, via Lindsay and Peterborough on the last scheduled run of the sole remaining passenger train serving the communities along this long loop of the Trent River, motor cars, and hard-surfaced highways have made obsolete the operation of branch line passenger trains.

After the above a short line commuter service from Toronto is all that remains of the once flourishing and profitable passenger business on the CNR's Lindsay - Peterborough loop.

Through the kindly courtesy of the railway authorities, special coach was made available for their comfort and placed so they might entrain at Belleville well in advance of departure. The journey to Toronto was enlivened by music and song and the swapping of yarns of the old days. The short stay at the Union Station in Toronto was marked by reunions with old comrades joining the pilgrimage at that point. Many of these were veterans of the Lindsay terminal, who had come to Toronto to join their Belleville friends on this last trip to a scheduled passenger train.

Again the railway played host in a well appreciated manner. For those veterans the authorities has provided the best in ways of smooth-riding coach has again been assigned for their special comfort and immediately next on the train, one of the railways five dinette cars which had been released for other important service. A sumptuous dinner at moderate cost was served en route by a courteous and kindly staff and tremendously enjoyed.

The 156 miles homeward bound via Lindsay and Peterborough was again enlivened by the music of violin and harmonica and songs of yesteryears hastily rendered. Brief stops were made at Lindsay and Peterborough where goodbyes were said to detraining friends and with the arrival at Belleville at 11:30 p.m. the veterans dispersed with many expressions of grateful appreciation to those responsible for a very successful busman's holiday. Especially appreciated by the veterans was the railway's kind coutesy in providing for their comfort the finest service available.

Mr. Lionel Train, retired chief dispatcher with 50 years of service recently concluded performed the necessary liaison between the Canadian National and the Pensioners Association, and Mr. Joseph Hunter, president of the association, assisted in preliminary arrangements.

Among Those Present

Among those attending the demise of our sole remaining passenger train to Toronto and Peterborough were veterans of the railway who started, and in some cases completed, their many years of service in Lindsay. One of these, Mr. Wm. Garvey, now living in Campbellford, commenced his service in Lindsay in the early 1900s. Well on in his eighties Mr. Garvey had the advantage of all the veterans in the way of years. But age is not a deterrent to the youthful body and mind of "Pat" and his gracious spouse. They were enthusiastic in their greetings of friends of bygone years and thoroughly enjoyed the reunions.

Others from Lindsay

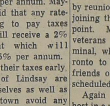

Others from Lindsay who have not forgotten the aura of railroading, though husbands are now deceased, were: Mrs. W. Craigmile, Mrs. Dan Coulson, Mrs. Harry Gregg, Mrs. Dan Ferguson, and Mrs. William Abbott.

Present also in good form were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leveilly, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heels, Mr. and Mrs. David McKee, Mr. Lionel Train, Mr. William Michaud, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. MacKay, Mr. Casey Helney, Mr. Sam Cherry, Mr. and Mrs. Leo. Skipworth, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hodgson, and others to whom this writer offers his profound apologies for being unable to decipher his own notes

Sunday School Teachers attend YWA potluck supper

A potluck supper was enjoyed by member of St. Paul's Younger Woman's Auxiliary at the January meeting. Also present at the supper were the Sunday School teachers.

The regular meeting was opened with the Bible reading by Lois Smith. The first chapter of Ezekiel was read in connection with a book of study, "Jesus Christ, The Light of the World". A short study period new organization. Approximately 75 memberships were paid to the treasurer, Mrs. Fred Owens, and the names listed by the Recording Secretary, Mrs. R. C. Myers. Each unit then had a panel discussion on the thought provoking question "Where Are We?" All the ladies present enjoyed a little fellowship together and felt that a wonderful beginning had been made.

then followed, with members being divided into groups.

A letter was read by Corresponding Secretary, Joan Humphries, from the Prayer Partner, the Rev Slater, thanking the members for the Christmas parcel. Members were asked to save used postage stamps, which are to be sold to help people who are needy.

The Younger Woman's Auxiliary has purchased more new dishes for the kitchen and now feel that the kitchen is well supplied. The treasurer's report was read and a bank balance of $151.00 was noted.

There will be a workshop at the February meeting in connection with WA work in the parish. The guest speaker at this time will be the Rev. Edward Fuller.

Benediction was then read by President Kay Mackey and the meeting adjourned.

KIRK'S BEST FRIEND—Every little boy loves a fire fighter. To Kirk Clouthier, one of the thousands of victims of muscular dystrophy, men like firefighter Harry Wilson are very special friends. Results of the 1961 March for Muscular Dystrophy were announced at the annual meeting of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of Canada which heard that firefighters had helped raise a record $350,000.00. The money will finance MDAC's research programme aimed at finding a cure. Photo: Ruth Godon

White Cane Week

No mysterious sixth sense

"Blind persons have no mysterious sixth sense", stated Mrs. J. T. Patterson, President of The Canadian Council of the Blind. She was explaining some of the misunderstandings frequently associated with blindness in a special White Cane Week (February 4-10) message released today. The Week is an annual education period never associated with fund raising, sponsored by CCB and The Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

"Instead of a sixth sense, blind people develop their remaining senses. They listen harder, concentrate keenly and use their ingenuity to make up for sight", she said.

Mrs. Patterson told of one blind mother whose small son did not like to tie his shoe laces. The boy could never understand how his mother knew when the laces were undone, — she could hear the metallic tags on the floor every time the younger moved.

"Blind people do not always recognize your friendly 'hello'," Mrs. Patterson said. She explained that many sighted people are disappointed when the blind person does not recognize their voice. "Give your name in your first sentence and save the blind person the nervous strain that comes from groping in his mind for an identifying note'

Mrs. Patterson exploded another old myth. "Not all blind people are totally blind. Some of the blind persons see a little," she said. They may see through a mist or with an extremely small area of vision in one part of the eye. "It is not useful vision. The partially sighted, as they are called, go about well and some can read a little. If they have good vision is needed for employment, their sight is not sufficient. They are sometimes worse off than we who are totally blind" Mrs. Patterson said.

"Think What the White Cane Means"' It means more than a can. To the blind it is a symbol of freedom and the symbol of a freer life. To the sighted it is a reminder that the blind have no special powers. They will be glad of a guiding hand at street crossings, and a nod men's conversation. Even if they are partially-sighted there will be many a light spot when they will be glad to borrow your good vision.

Zeller's staff make presentation to departing store manager

The staff of Zeller's Lindsay branch, said farewell to Mr. W. M. Wood, at a dinner party held in the Ladies Lounge. After a delightful turkey dinner, prepared by the Better Education Committee and members of the staff, assistant Manager Paul Rose, read an address and Mrs. Iva Henry, on behalf of the staff, presented Mr. Wood with a lovely copper ash tray.

Mr. Wood in his usual jovial manner, made a brief reply and thanked the staff for the lovely gift.

Although Mr. Wood has only been manager of the Lindsay store since February, 1961, he has made many friends and will be greatly missed by the staff, who congratulated him on his promotion to the Zeller's organization.

Unfortunately, Mrs. Wood was not able to attend the party. She is still under treatment at the Ross Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Wood left on Sunday for Niagara Falls, where he has been appointed manager of a new store opening there March 32nd.

Mrs. M. J. Hill WMS speaker

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — Mrs. M-J. Hill of Toronto, Superintendent of the "Jewels for Jesus Mission" was the guest speaker at the January meeting of the W.M.S. of Fenelon Falls Baptist Church, which was at the home of Mrs. Martin Devitt. A large number of members and four visitors were present.

Mrs. R. Webber presided for the meeting and extended a gracious welcome to Mrs. Hill, members and visitors. The meeting was opened with a short period of devotion when several hymns were sung. Mrs. J. Kennedy read a portion of Scripture from St. Mark's Gospel and Mrs. C. Martin led in prayer.

Mrs. M. Devitt and Mrs. J. Dewell, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. G. Webster brought a message in song "By and By".

Introduced by Mrs. Webber, Mrs. Hill gave a most interesting talk on the Mission using St. John, chapter two, as the basis for her message which she entitled "My"——"My Voice" "My Hands" "My Life", "My Father". Mrs. Hill has a charming personality, which radiated through her message in which she related many personal incidents and experiences of daily life in the Missions.

The Mission, which was founded by Mrs. Hill and her late husband, as a Faith Mission on a very small scale, now has two homes, Midland St. in Toronto and Indian Grove at Markham, also a Summer Camp. At the present time there are 18 children in the care of the Mission. She also spoke of unwed mothers and adoption, which is an important phase of the work of the Mission.

Following routine business Mrs. Devitt read letters of thanks from Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. J. Powles for gifts of money at Christmas, also "thank-you" notes from sick and shutins who had been remembered with Christmas baxes. Interesting letters from the following missionaries were read:

Gus Yaki elected president Victoria County Naturalists

Beautiful colour slides on bird life shown by club's vice president

The January meeting of the Victoria County Naturalists Club, held in the Library room of the Lindsay Collegiate Institute saw Gus Yaki elected 1962 president and the supporting executive installed.

The retiring President, W. C. C. McFarquhar, welcomed about 50 or more interested people. A summary of the 1961 meetings and activities was given by Mr. McFarquhar. This helped members recall the many worthwhile and enjoyable things they had learned. Treasurer, Mrs. M. Goodwin, gave the financial report Everyone was reminded of the February meeting to be held in the same room, at which time the speaker will be Dr. Donald R. Gunn, on the Baffin Islands.

Due to the unavoidable absence of Mr. C. H. Brett, head of the nominating committee, Mr. McFarquhar read the proposed list of officers as follows: President - Gus Yaki: Past President - C. C. McFarquhar; Vice - President - L. A. Thurston Secretary - Treasurer - Miss M. Goodwin; Records Secretary - C. H. Brett. There being no further nominations, it was moved by Mr. J. Doherty and seconded by Mr. K. Griffin, that the officers be elected as read.

Incoming President Gus Yaki was called on to say a few words He expressed the hope that the club would carry on successfully in this new year.

Mr. L. A. Thurston, F.P.S.A. was introduced as the speaker for the evening by Mr. McFarquhar. Mr. Thurston gave a short introductory talk on the history and aims of the club and invited everyone present to become a member. He was especially pleased to see so many young people in attendance. Then followed a series of informal slides showing scenes from some of the hikes. After a short intermission, the main feature of the evening was presented - "Intimate Views of Birds". About 90 beautiful coloured slides of almost as many birds were shown. There were birds that live on the coast near the ocean as well as those that live near lakes and rivers. There were many familiar birds such as the robin and many not as well known such as the gannet, the cormorant and the puffin. Pictures was a tape recording, cleverly arranged by Mr. Thurston so that each description was timed to fit with each picture. This also included background music and numerous bird calls.

Appreciation on behalf of the Club was expressed by Mr. Gus Yaki who also mentioned Mr. Thurston's forthcoming tour and called on Mrs. Thurston present for a hearty applause as a good luck sendoff.

An interesting highlight of this most enjoyable meeting was the exhibition of three live Evening Grosbeaks, two male and one female. These had been captured and brought by Mr. McFarquhar.

15 attend WMS meeting

Cannington (PNS) — The first W.M.S. meeting of Knox Church in 1962 was held in the home of Mrs. John Streetfeldt with an attendance of fifteen. As a guidance and inspiration for 1962. Mrs. Summerfeldt read number 501 from the hymnal.

After the hymn. "Send Thou of Lord to Every Place", Mrs. Geo. Nicholson led in prayer. The scripture lesson was also read by Mrs. Fennell, Mrs. Beattie and Mrs. John Ross.

Mrs. George Willis read the slate of officers for 1962 as Mrs. K. J. Rooney installed the new executive by reading from the new English Bible, followed by prayer. Mrs. Hilda Francis, the new president accepted the office with a few appropriate remarks.

A letter was read, written by Rev. and Mrs. Gellatly in Calabar, Nigeria, to the Sunday School and was full of interesting information. The nominating committee asked this Society to nominate a press secretary and a literature secretary for the 1962 Presbyterial executive. Miss Wilson read the 1962 allocation. This year the Christmas gifts and supplies are to be sent to Kenora. The date of the Easter Thankoffering was set.

Mrs. Summerfeldt took the first part of the new study book on British Guiana and by the use of a map and pictures of the missionaries there, gave a very interesting account of the country, the people and the work being carried on in British Guiana.

Mrs. Francis welcomed Mrs. Rooney and thanked her for installing the officers.

Following a hymn, the meeting closed.

Mrs. Summerfeldt invited the ladies to remain for a cup of tea. Rev. Mr. Rooney joined the ladies for the social half hour was very much enjoyed and gave Mr. and Mrs. Rooney a chance to get better acquainted with some of the congregation.

Cause established in $40,000 fire at Pontypool

The cause of a $40.000 fire in Pontypool last Thursday morning has been definitely established. At the time of the fire it was thought to have been hydro wires snapping and falling on telephone lines

Friday it was found that the high tension transmission wires which travel overhead just south of Pontypool were the cause. One of these wires fell and the current shorted the phone lines causing the short.

The most serious damage was when this shorting caused a fire at the grocery-butcher shop and hotel of Harry Van Wieringen. Both buildings were completely destroyed along with 1,000 pounds of fresh meat and about $10.000 worth of food. The Van Wieringen apartment upstairs above the store was also destroyed.

The exact cause for the wire snapping is still being investigated by the Ontario Hydro Company.

Several from here attend funeral

A number of Lindsay friends and relatives motored to London to attend the funeral for the late William (Bill) Hartley. The deceased was a resident of Lindsay for many years and is remembered by several citizens as a former employee of Dundas and Flavelle Limited and later with Silverwood's Dairies.

Previous to his retirement from active business, the late William Hartley was employed as an egg grading inspector, a position he held for 40 years. He is survived by his wife, the former Ethel Beauphrey of Lindsay and one married daughter. One brother James and two sisters, Mabel and Florence, reside in Toronto.

Twice Gruen winner, still drops in as spectator

Gordon Devitt, well known Bobcaygeon businessman and for many years an active curler, is a frequent visitor to the Lindsay curling rink. In fact in past years he has been a popular prize winner, sometimes in the top slipping and at times with other 'Caygeon skips. He and his fine curling wife, Mae Devitt, were associated with the late Bert Everson in three Gruen watch bonspiels known as the Big Lindsay Mixed. They won the big event two years in a row and were runners-up the third year. In all they curled 17 games in the event.

Although Gordon has not been curling for three seasons he calls at the Peel Street rock garden to watch others take their fling at this grand old game.

Three Bancroft men asphyxiated

Three men from the Bancroft area died from asphyxiation Sunday as they sat in the cab of their parked truck. The truck was stuck in a snowbank on a back road, about 11 miles south of Bancroft.

Dead are 45-year-old Edward John Parke and 39-year-old John Clifford Thomas Gassney, both of Detlor, and 46-year-old Charles Edward Martin of L'Amable.

They are believed to have been overcome by carbon monoxide fumes as they rested and waited to be towed away in the rear of the truck. Police said the three men were driving on a back road to a lumber camp in the district when the accident occurred.

There will be no inquest into the deaths of the three men.

A London newspaper (Evening Standard) columnist apparently got a laugh when a friend returning from the United States told him of a sign in a Chicago paint store.

The sign (according to the columnist) read: "Husbands choosing colors must have note from wives."

CAKE BREAK

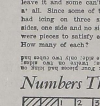

MRS. BROWN baked a perfectly square gingerbread and then proceeded to cover it with chocolate icing. She iced it on five sides—that is to say, all but the bottom—and then cut it into 27 equal-sized pieces.

Some of the Browns like chocolate icing a lot; some like it slightly less, some can take it or leave it and some can't stand it at all. Since some of the pieces had icing on three sides, two sides, one side and no sides, there were pieces to satisfy everybody. How many of each?

ANSWER: Eight pieces with three sides iced; twelve pieces with two sides iced; six pieces with one side iced; one piece with no sides iced.

Puzzling Wager

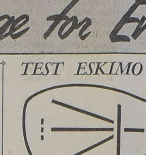

"I'LL bet you $10," a man said to the boastful athlete, "that I can wheel something in a wheelbarrow down to that gate and you can't wheel back."

The local muscle champ looked him over. He thought of bags of cement, bricks, and old iron and concluded that whatever the stranger could wheel, he could do better. "Bet taken," he said.

The other man smiled, walked over to the brawny athlete and said just two words that caused his opponent to lose. What words?

ANSWER: The words were: "Go on."

TEST ESKIMO SNOW GOGGLES

TO SAFEGUARD against snow blindness, Eskimos who live in snowy lands fashion bone sun shields that cover the eyes like goggles. Thin slits in the shields help reduce glare, but do not impede the sight.

For an idea of how things look through an Eskimo's goggles, cut out the diagram above and paste same to thin cardboard. Then "carve" indicated slits with a sharp knife or razor blade (watch fingers!). Staple an elastic band to each eyepiece (note dotted lines at sides), and snip goggles' ends.

Mother Says, Brother Does; Day Is Done

IT'S BAD enough to have to go to bed," grumbles Brother, "without having to pick up all those toys. What's more, Sister played with them, too, and why did she have to help?" Ee has it in may. Brother is dutifully carrying out Mother's instructions and putting his things where they belong. To see where he putting them, draw straight lines from dot 1 to dot 2 to dot 3, and so on, until you have touched at all of the dots. When two numbers are beside one dot, use that dot twice.

Ship Comes In, To Grandma's Surprise

NO one was more surprised than Grandma on the day her ship came in — nor more pleased. For years, Grandma's been trying to prepare a painting-work quilt with a ship's design.

Grandma's intricate quilt came when she hit upon the arrangement of swatches at right. At first she could not believe her eyes. For a few seconds, the outlines seemed to fade, then Grandma saw it again and marked the integral patches with a piece of chalk. These are marked with an X. If you'll made a free-segment with a pencil or piece of crayon, you'll be able to see the ship, too.

JOYCEVILLE ESCAPEES IN AREA BEFORE CAPTURE

DITCHED ONE CAR NEAR NORLAND, MADE OFF WITH COBY VEHICLE AFTER BREAKING INTO COTTAGES

Three prisoners who escaped from Joyceville prison near Kingston last Monday are back in custody again. The trio Thomas Thompson, Fred Segriff and Paul Meuller, all in their twenties, were captured following a chase near Cooksville on Saturday evening.

The three prisoners were in the Coboconk area on Saturday and gave Ontario Provincial Police Constable Jean Des-Laurier a busy weekend.

The officer said the three ditched the car, which they had stolen in Kingston, near Norland sometime Saturday morning. During the afternoon, a report came in that at least two cottages on Indian Lake had been broken in to. Upon investigation, Constable Des-Laurier found that some rifles, ammunition and clothing had been taken.

The trio came into Coboconk on Saturday night and took a car, which was the one they were driving at the time of their arrest.

The chase near Cooksville resulted after the trio had been spotted by a Toronto detective, William Snarr, who arrested Segriff on a holdup charge last year.

Toronto Township police captured the trio following a wild, 95-mile-an-hour chase through 10 red lights, and at times over lawns, hedges and fences of private homes. The police fired several shots at the car during the chase. It ended when police rammed the car and cornered the trio in a side-street.

The stolen rifles, ammunition and clothing were recovered.

Ice fishing in the Beaverton area of Lake Simcoe is in full swing and Sunday saw hundreds of people flock to the district to take part in the sport. Unlike the old days when people set out for a day's ice fishing and had to either walk or risk taking their car and getting stuck on the way to their hut, a modern snowmobile in this service is in effect at Beaverton. It caters to the fisherman's every need — It will haul out his hut, take the party to one already set up, supply bait and many of those other services required. It's a fascinating sight to look over Lake Simcoe from this vantage point and view the hundreds of fishing huts set up on the vast expanse of ice.

The first car was driven by June Hallett of Little Britain and the second vehicle was driven by Leo Dillman, also of Little Britain.

Damage to one vehicle was estimated at $200 and the other was listed as fairly extensive.

There were no injuries in either accident.

Constable Reeds said the car which was struck was parked well off the travelled portion of the highway. The owner, Donald Bedford, of RR1 Cameron, was visiting his parents at Taylor's Corners.

The hit and run vehicle was proceeding east on Highway 7 when it sideswiped the Bedford vehicle.

Take Cambray for example . . .

The Winter of 1961-62 up to the present time has been exceptionally good for hockey and curling especially in rural districts. Communities having natural ice rinks have had representation in various hockey leagues. Take Cambray as one example, the Fenelon Township Memorial rink has been going steadily and the district supports four hockey teams, Squirts, Bantams, Midgets and an older group. The latter group has been whacking in competitions with teams from Fenelon Falls, Little Britain, Sunderland, Bobcaygeon, and Cannington, while the older group has been whacking away in the bush league.

When the rink is not used for hockey three nights a week it is used for skating and carnivals.

Cambray was always a place noted for good baseball and hockey.

Minden Winter Carnival has overflow entry list

Re-Schedule some for month end

The three-day Minden Winter Carnival which took place over the weekend, was a great success according to Mrs. Margaret McKay, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

This was the second annual carnival in that part of the Haliburton Highlands. So many persons entered that many of the events have been re-scheduled for the last weekend in February. Hard over are the tobogganing and snow shoe races and some of the skiing events.

The town was bustling with activity from Friday night onwards. The Queen of the Carnival was picked Friday night and was chauffered around the town in a dog sled, drawn by four pure-breed huskies. The Queen was Pat Weiss. Her runners-up were Betty Lou Alton and Penny Ray.

Also Friday night, the kiddies went for a sleighride around the area in cutters and sleds, drawn by ponies and horses. The big attraction of the evening was the moccasin dance on the ice at the Community Centre.

SATURDAY EVENTS

The official opening ceremonies were held at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday with the Honourable Leslie M. Frost officiating.

The first event of the day was the youngsters' Jam Can Curling, in which 39 children took part. The winners were: 1–Larry McKnight; 2–Craig Morrsion; 3–Mile Easton.

100 ATTEND

Over 100 persons attended the slalom and cross country races on Sunday. It was also estimated that 62 persons used the new ski tow at Carnarvon. The senior champion was Jim Shorter of Toronto and the junior champ was Paul Pawson, also of Toronto.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

* Many little sidelights were noticed at the Carnival. For instance, the number of persons who travelled great distances for the annual event. It was noticed that two cars from New York State, and that one family had come from Auburn, just for the carnival.

* Another item of interest were the two large snowmen on the corner in front of the Bank of Commerce. These were made by the Kinsmen and Rotary Clubs. Spotlights were put on to illuminate them at night. However, no one in the area, seems to know who made the little one which stands between the two big ones.

* Bob Harvey Jr. wrote some carnival songs which were sung at various times during the weekend. Ernest Bruce is seen around the town dressed in his yellow plaid suit and playing the bagpipes.

* Enthusiasm for the ever was high, and all the town people took an active interest in the event. Many of the out-of-town visitors expressed their approval of the carnival.

Four people are hospitalized following head-on collision; both vehicles total wrecks

Four persons were rushed to to Ross Memorial Hospital Sunday following a two-car head-on collision on Highway 7 just north of Sunderland.

Hospitalized were Glen kay, 31, of Sunderland, driver of one vehicle, and his wife, Audrey, 29, also of Sunderland. Driver of the second car was Herbert Sherman, 38, of RR2 Sunderland and his passenger, Kenneth Pearson, 29, of Haliburton.

The accident occurred about 1:30 p.m. on Sunday about eight-tenths of a mile north of Sunderland. Brechin OPP Constable Harry Campbell investigated the accident. He said the Sherman car was proceeding south and the Kay vehicle was heading north.

Sherman had pulled out and passed a car and had returned to the southbound lane when he lost control of his vehicle. The officer said that Sherman apparently lost control of his car, swerved into the northbound lane and hit the Kay vehicle head-on.

Officials at the hospital said that all four persons are doing fairly well today. Mrs. Audrey Kay suffered head and possible chest injuries from the impact of the two vehicles and is reported to be in fairly good condition. Her husband, Glen, had head injuries and is in good condition.

The driver of the second car, Herbert Sherman has a compound fracture of the right leg, and his condition is fairly good. His passenger, Kenneth Pearson has chest injuries and is suffering from shock. His condition is only fair.

Heels quartet finishes on top

Excitement ran high at the Peel Street rink when Skips Gladys Heels and Pearl Ford met in the final game to decide the winner of the Ladies' Club second schedule. Following ten ends the Heels quartet emerged the winner. A five-end early in the game for the Heels rink proved to be the upsetting point for the Ford foursome.

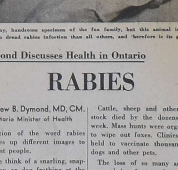

The rinks: I. Gannon, Helen Sinclair, Ethel Rodman and Gladys Heels. Skip; Edith Wood, E. Beggs, Doreen Broom and Pearl Ford, Skip.

Cameron

Deep sympathy is extended Mrs. Orville Francis on the death of her brother Thomas Hamilton who was killed by a falling limb of a tree while operating a tractor in a lumber camp near Minden.

Mr. Orville Moore has returned home after surgery from the Ross Memorial Hospital, friends will be pleased to see him around again. Mr. Murray Kennedy, Lindsay took over his trucking business in his absence.

This community was saddened to hear of the sudden passing of the late Howard Wimbrem, his wife was the former Mabel Cummings, of Cameron.

Dymond Discusses Health in Ontario

RABIES

Matthew B. Dymond, MD, CM,
Ontario Minister of Health

Mention of the word rabies conjures up different images to different people.

Others picture a hopeless child lying in bed while a doctor injects a vaccine in hopes of checking the fatal disease.

In both cases the thoughts are unpleasant. As a matter of fact, almost everything connected with this awful disease is unpleasant.

Rabies, sometimes referred to as hydrophobia in man, is a fatal infectious disease which may affect any warm blooded animal, including man. It's a world-wide disease which has been recognized for many hundreds of years.

In Ontario rabies seems to come in waves. In 1958 Grey and Bruce Counties were fighting the worst epidemic of rabies in Canada's history.

Cattle, sheep and other livestock died by the dozens each week. Mass hunts were organized to wipe out foxes. Clinics were held to vaccinate thousands of dogs and other pets.

The loss of so many animals was sad, but fortunately not one human died. Surprisingly since Confederation, only 5 people have died from rabies in Canada.

For this fine record the people of Ontario have a 19th century Frenchman to thank—Louis Pasteur. On July 7th, 1885, this famous scientist, whose discoveries led to the pasteurization of milk, injected a vaccine he developed into a young boy who had rabies.

The boy lived. Within 15 months 2,490 people received the vaccine.

Your Ontario Department of Health has been supplying this vaccine (with minor changes) free of charge to the medical profession for the prevention of rabies in this province.

New Sheriff Receives Keys

Incoming Victoria County Sheriff Everett Scott (left) receives the keys that go with the office from retiring Sheriff Jasper Forman. It was a case of old warriors coming together, but not in combat, when Major Scott greeted Captain Forman on Monday morning as the former officially assumed office. Captain Forman, DCM (Bar), M.M., is probably one of the most highly decorated soldiers from Victoria County in two wars. He has held the office of sheriff for 27½ years and has been connected with county affairs for about one-third of its 100 years of life. Previous to becoming sheriff Captain Forman served for five years as reeve of Fenelon Township and it was while he was still reeve that he received the appointment. The office of sheriff carries with it several sub-titles—in other words the sheriff is a man of many parts, the veteran office holder explains. Besides acting as sheriff, he is clerk of Victoria County Court, registrar of the Surrogate Court of Victoria and Haliburton and local registrar of the Supreme Court of Ontario. Outlining some of the duties the holder of these offices is called upon to perform, the retiring sheriff said he was in charge of the court room whenever court is held; called upon to serve summonses of all kinds; collect money from judgment debtors; issue certificates of execution (the sheriff must have a record of judgments against property owners); file thousands of conditional sale contracts and numerous chattel mortgages each year; draft juries for county and supreme courts; and hang a man if no hangmen is available. Captain Forman says he is happy to reflect that there never was a hanging in Victoria County during his term of office. But he did have a bit of an anxious time during a murder trial some years ago when the hangman then in service suddenly died . . . "I got a pretty good idea how it feels when the prospect of having to hang a man," he recalled, adding, "however, it was all right because the man was not convicted of murder. A conviction was registered on a lesser charge and the man went to penitentiary." The retiring sheriff will remain on staff in an advisory capacity for an undetermined period.

"Agriculture" theme of WI meeting

Blackstock (PNS) — "Agriculture" was theme for the W.I. meeting held in the community Hall under the leadership of Mrs. Dalton Dorrell. The roll call "imitation of a farm animal or pay a fine" was humorously answered. The motto was "Nature gives to every time and season, some beauty of its own".

After minutes and correspondence, the business period consisted of a reading of a list of articles for the W.I. exhibit for Cartwright fair as prepared by Nestleton W. I. A discussion was held on a donation of funds to prepare a home economist to go to new countries to teach. Each member to ask for a donation, the balance to be taken from the treasury.

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. McArthur reported on the short course they had taken on "143 lb. of Meat", and plans were made for a class on that subject in the Community Hall.

There was a discussion on the Farm Broadcast which the members had listened to. The broadcast was voted fair. The matter of education of farm youths who do not stay on the farm was discussed and the group felt that more trade and technical schools were needed. Some felt that children should be encouraged to choose a "way of life" early in their education and work toward that goal.

Current events was prepared by Mrs. Frank Staniland and read by Mrs. Frank Hoskin. The "Queen" lunch was served by the group in charge.

M. W. Robson, registrar, Doris Reid, deputy

Victoria County's new registrar and deputy - registrar have been officially appointed . . . They are Registrar Mesom Wooldridge (Monty) Robson of Fenelon Falls and Deputy - registrar Doris I. R. Reid of Lindsay.

In making the announcement this morning, The Hon. Leslie M. Frost, said the two county officials would take office on March 1st. next.

Mr. Frost said Mr. Robson was a well known young Fenelon Falls businessman with a wide knowledge of the county and its people. "Mr. Robson should be able to give effective service," Mr. Frost declared.

The former Ontario premier, now a member of the Privy Council, said he was sure Doris Reid would be a valuable deputy. She has apprenticed in the work for several years under retiring registrar, Dan McQuarrie.

Referring to Mr. McQuarrie, Mr. Frost said he had been in the position about 30 years and had been due for retirement some time ago. His "excellent service" had been extended pending finding a suitable successor, the provincial member for Victoria and Haliburton declared.

Lawyer, Planning Bd. chairman, one of eighty to participate in tour of European countries

Local lawyer, Jamie A. McQuarrie, Q. C., will be one of 80 Ontario persons taking a guided tour of Europe next fall. It was learned today that Mr. McQuarrie was chosen as one member to take part in the tour.

Talking with Mr. McQuarrie, "The Post" learned that the tour is being conducted by the Department of Municipal Affairs in connection with the Institute of Local Government at Queen's University in Kingston. He said the tour of Europe would be to study the effect of planning and other administrative procedures in cities on the continent.

The tour is expected to cover England, Denmark, Norway, West Germany and possibly France. Mr. McQuarrie said it would take about three

Fire department seeks addition of tanker

The Lindsay Fire Department is hoping to add another truck to its fleet. However, this would not be another fire truck. This one is to be a water tanker.

The reason for wanting the tanker was explained by Fire Chief Arnold Watson. "We have trouble getting enough water to fires out-of-town. It is a necessity for us to have our own water tanker, so there would be no delay in getting water to these fires."

Fire committee chairman Ernie MacCalder told council Monday that a truck had been priced, but that final approval of the committee would be needed first, and then it would be placed before council for its approval.

The type of truck which the fire department has in mind will carry about 1,200 gallons of water. It would be a gasoline truck which carries more gallons than a normal water truck. We plan to take the extra equipment (pumping unit) off and fill the truck by gravitational feed," the fire chief stated. "This would mean that we could put 1,200 gallons of water into the truck in a matter of a couple of minutes using two feeding lines."

The matter must be discussed by the fire committee and prices must be given before any action on purchasing a truck of this nature can be taken.

EDITORIAL....

SHOULD HE NOT BE HEARD?

There is something disturbing about the dismissal of the caretaker of Lindsay's municipal dump. It stems, perhaps, from the fact that here is a man who has been on the job for several years under many different chairmen, none of whom have seen fit to either bring the matter of his conduct before council or press for his dismissal. People are bound to wonder why he has suddenly become so undesirable.

In the past there have been occasions when someone in the town's employ has done something to incur the displeasure of his employers. Almost without exception, they have been 'called on the carpet' and dealt with. Some were fired, some were penalized, but allowed to retain their job, and others were simply given an unmistakeable warning. All had an opportunity to be heard.

Shouldn't Mr. Byng, as caretaker of the municipal dump and a town employee, be heard by the council before he is dismissed? He seems like an intelligent man and, seeing as how he is no longer a young man able to seek employment in this competitive job-hunting age, it might be a kindness to bend over backwards a little to iron the problem out.

In Full Swing

The great Winter Carnival is now in full swing and promises to be a grand success. The first day has opened with ideal weather conditions and should bring out a big crowd. The street programme for Wednesday should be even more interesting, for on all occasions of this kind there seems to be a growth with the movement as it advances. Rent and adjoining streets have taken on a real holiday appearance and the stores are looking well after the matter of decorations. No visitor or citizen should miss seeing the "Made in Lindsay" display in the market building.

FEBRUARY 14, 1937

The second of a series of a group of "Do You Want To Be Actors?" Contests was held at the Academy last night before a record crowd. This week the audience were allowed their own choice of actors and when the first playlet was announced as taken from the film "Go West Young Man" Miss Grace Craigheid was unanimously chosen as the glamorous Mae West. Mr. Don McKee selected to act the part of the green young inventor who falls prey to Miss West's wiles.

Carnival

The Lindsay Boys' Band Association is sponsoring a monster skating carnival at the arena next week and they have arranged a very entertaining program for the occasion. Skaters will be pleased to hear of this event as carnivals are always popular in Lindsay.

Reports and Remarks...

CAUTION IN SCHOOL-CHILD PICK-UP AND DELIVERY URGED

The well-meaning parent who drives his youngsters to and from school each day can be a serious safety hazard, said Trevor A. White—General Manager of the Ontario Motor League, warning against double-parking and other dangerous practices in school areas at opening and closing time.

The OML official emphasized that there is a heavy concentration of "child traffic" in school areas in the morning and mid-afternoon, and parents waiting in cars or letting off children add to the safety problems.

"Dangerous practices" listed by the OML are:

Loading or unloading children on the opposite side of the street from the school. This practice invites the child to open the door on the street side and run across, or dart from around the car.

Double parking. This creates a hazard for other children who must cross the street and sets a bad example in its disregard for the law.

Stopping on the sidewalk. This is unfair to the youngsters crossing the street and to the school safety Guards who deserve your full cooperation.

Pulling in front of a school bus. In a last minute dash to get their child on the bus, some parents pull up and block the bus. Such a practice endangers not only the life of their youngster, but those on the bus.

The OML recommended the followings rules for parents driving their children to and from school:

Drive children only if absolutely necessary. Going to and from school on their own can teach children self-reliance.

Wherever possible, pool rides with neighbors to reduce the number of cars going to and from the school area.

Have your child sit well back in the car seat preferably using a seat belt.

Lock all car doors. Children can be taught to do this for themselves.

Know and have respect for all traffic laws and school regulations.

Observance of the law contributes to your child's safety and training.

"$35 doesn't buy much..."

The Editor,
Lindsay Daily Post.
Dear Sir:

May I be permitted to comment on your recent report re the Lindsay Water Commission. Was this Commission recently elected or it is a holdover from the 1920's? In this town where the cheapest houses fit for human habitant rent for $70, "we should hire someone who can assume responsibility",–for $35 a week?

Do we want an old-age pensioner or a part-time burglar.

As long as we persist in horse-and-buggy thinking we will remain a no-horse town. A weekly salary should be based on a month's rent–not the degree of desperation of the unemployed. In 1962, $35. doesn't buy much "responsibility"–or anything else.

Sincerely,
J. Williams
Eglinton St., Lindsay.

Sidewalk and "Bailey Bridge" being constructed at Norland

Work has begun on the construction of sidewalks on the two bridges which span the Gull River just east of Norland. They are located on Highway 503 which runs through to Kinmount.

The sidewalks are being built at the request of citizens and summer inhabitants who find walking hazardous when both structures are single lane thoroughfares.

According to Assistant District Engineer H. F. Quinn of the Department of Highways in Huntsville, the construction is entailing a little more than anticipated. "The east bridge will have to be removed. It is not built too solid and will not accomodate a sidewalk.

Mr. Gilbert said that a "Bailey Bridge" or temporary construction will be erected in its place until a time when a permanent structure is warranted. The other bridge is quite satisfactory," he stated.

The island between the two bridges is being filled to maintain a sidewalk. Mr. Gilbert said the bridges are about 500 feet apart and the approaches for the sidewalks will have to be changed slightly from the direction of the road.

According to reports from the Norland area, the bridges were built in 1905 and were the third bridge construction to span the Gull River in the vicinity of Norland.

LOSS OF HAIR

Loss of hair seems to be a common problem. I receive many letters from people of varying ages who are concerned.

Increasingly, women seem to have this trouble. Many are under 40 and the thinning and actual hair loss begins behind the hairline and on the dome of the head. If much hair is lost, producing actual area of baldness, many women become quite anxious and emotionally upset.

To reassure you, it is this usual experience for hair loss to stop eventually. You won't get bald like men do. What, ever the reason, it is best to go to a dermatologist to find & treat it if possible.

We know that some women lose hair after giving birth. Usually, the hair grows back within 3-6 months. Others may have hair loss after an illness with high fever. Still others lose their hair when they enter their menopause.

The doctor will go on the investigative trail. Home permanents are sometimes the cause. In others, heredity is the source of the trouble. Hair that is too dry or too oily if a factor. The doctor can prescribe for these conditions. Brush-type hair rollers and too vigorous brushing may be factors. Too much traction on the hair should not be used–as in the ponytype style.

The most important part of treatment relates to the care of the general health. A sufficient sleep and eat well. Rather than worry and wonder see your doctor and let him find the cause and institute treatment.

PREMENSTRUAL TENSION

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: My daughter is 34 years old, married, has two lovely children and a wonderful husband. About two days before her expected period she gets so nervous she doesn't realize what she does or says. She makes life miserable for her family. Doctor, will you suggest what she do to overcome those repressing days? -- Worried mother.

ANSWER: First things first. Her doctor had better make the diagnosis.

From way back here it sounds like premenstrual tension. Thousands of families remain needlessly unhappy because a mother (through no fault of her own) goes "off the handle" every month.

Her doctor will prescribe medicine, to be taken each month for a week before her period. This will help get rid of excess fluid which collects in the tissues at this time and causes the irritability.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am at the present time recuperating from a complete hysterectomy. I had a large fibroid tumour. I am now feeling very well. I am 44. A neighbour tells me I'm sure to begin feeling uncomfortable pretty soon with nervousness, hot flashes and all the rest. Is this true, Mrs. H.

COMMENT: Many neighbors are scaremongers. They delight in putting fears into people. I can't guarantee that you won't have some flashes or nervousness; but, I can tell you that many who have had this operation, have little or no reaction whatever. Why borrow trouble?. If you should have discomforting flashes, your doctor can prescribe hormone tablets which will make you comfortable.

For Mr. G.: It's better not to smoke if you have had coronary thrombosis. I agree that your doctor would be kinder if he blew cigarette smoke the other way, and not into your face, when he gave you the "no smoking" order.

CHOICE TURNIP

Did you know that a standard serving of Ontario-grown turnip supplies a high amount of Vitamin C or ascrobic acid, especially when eaten raw? Such is the case, says the Food Department of Macdonald Institute, Guelph. This vitamin promotes the growth of body cells, aiding in the healing of wounds and protecting the body a gainst illness. Turnips, then, are valuable and relatively inexpensive sources of this health-promoting vita-min.

For best flavor and color cook turnips quickly in a large amount of boiling water, uncovered. More nutrients will be saved if only a small amount of boiling water is used, but in this case it is necessary to watch closely to prevent scorching. Using boiling water reduces the cooking time and so helps preserve the valuable nutrients. Do not overcook. Season the turnip with salt, pepper and butter and serve hot. Use the vegetable water or stock in stews or in gravy.

For variety a medium-sized turnip and 3 or 4 potatoes may be cut into 1-inch cubes and cooked together until tender. Season to taste and whip into a light turnip-potato fluff. Sprinkle with paprika for added color. Serve with a juicy roast of beef.

Diced turnips and slender carrot sticks look attractive when combined, too. Try them with pork chops.

"Fish Bowl" opens here next week

James and Robena Hope, formerly of Toronto and Beaverton, will open the 'Fish Bowl', restaurant in Lindsay next week. The new restaurant proprietors selected Lindsay as a good centre for year-round business and have located on William Street South the place of business formerly operated by Grady's restaurant. The Fish Bowl will undergo a complete clean-up operation, and additional equipment will be installed in the kitchen.

Mr. Hope was engaged at the Barclay Hotel in Toronto for several years and, along with Mrs. Hope, has been operating a large summer business at Lakeview, Beaverton, which business included looking after cottages and providing a gasoline service to customers. They anticipate a steady year-round business instead of the strictly summer business at Beaverton.

Although a complete restaurant service will be the announced aim of the new proprietors, they say with pride that they specialize in fish and chips. Lindsay citizens will join with The Lindsay Post in wishing the Fish Bowl every success.

John A. Cowie

John Alexander Cowie passed away suddenly in Kinmount, on February 1, 1962. He was the eldest son of the late Thomas D. Cowie and Jane Macdonald and was in his 70th year.

Born in Mara Township and attended school there. He enlisted in World War I, serving overseas in England and France where he was awarded the Military medal. Being wounded was returned to England. After the armistice he volunteered for service in Russia where he served for several months before returning to England.

Returning to England he married the late Winnifred Smith and brought his bride to his home community. He was later employed by the Department of Transport.

They established their home at Lock 37 on the Trent Canal near Gamebridge.

To his union there remains six children, Muriel (Mrs. Webdale, of Peterboro; (Ollie) Mrs. Hoad, Earnest and Maurice Cowie, of Toronto; (Bernice) Mrs. Keith Ball, Britt, France); and (Joan) Mrs. Geo. McCuaig, Brechin.

His wife predeceased him in April 1939.

Later he was appointed Superintendent of the Waterways from Coboconk North in the Haliburton area. In April 1949 he married the former Beth Graham. They had two daughters, Jane and Jacqy.

Since his retirement from the employment of the Dept. of Transport in 1955, they had resided in Coboconk and later in Kinmount.

Funeral services were held from Kinmount Legion Hall, where Jack, as he was known by all, rested. Friends from near and far came to pay their final respects to an old Soldier and friend of many. Besides the family mentioned one brother and three sisters remain, Erwin Cowie, of Brechin; Mrs. Fred Silverthorne, of Bal-Cinnamon. Three married sisters survive, namely: Mabel, Alice and Beatrice.

Mr. Ernie Harrison of Lindsay attended the funeral of Mrs. Clara Gibson (nee Clara Edwards) at Sunderland this week. The late Mrs. Gibson was living in Pennsylvania at the time of her death. The body was brought to Sunderland for service and interment was made at Manilla, the place of her birth.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Roblin left for Sarasota, Florida, on Saturday. They plan to return around the month-end.

Many friends in Lindsay were shocked to learn of the sudden passing of Mrs. Edith Manay, of Toronto, which took place while she was holidaying with her husband in Florida. The late Mrs. Manay will be remembered as the former Edith Cinnamon, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cinnamon, of Manvers. She is survived by her husband, Mr. Cecil Harris, of Thamesville, and Mrs. W. Gray, Toronto and 18 grandchildren.

Rev. Mr. Fisher spoke comforting words to the large crowd gathered for the service on February 3rd.

Comrades of the Canadian Legion attended and acted as pallbearers.

Beautiful floral tributes from relatives, friends and neighbours, which banked the casket were evidence of the esteem in which this respected citizen was held.

The funeral proceeded to Bolsover Cemetery where Mr. Murdock spoke briefly at the graveside and Legion members carried out their service.

Sunset and evening Star,
and one clear call for me.
and may there be no moaning of the bar,

THAT

Valentine's Day came in full of sound and fury signifying something.

At approximately 12.27 a.m. this Valentine's Day, lightning flashed across the sky, thunder rolled ominously and snow driven by high winds blanketed the entire area, filling roads, slowing transportation and giving a lot of people work . . . some of it work they would just as soon not had - like shovelling off the front walk for the umpteenth time this winter. Amazing how strong those shovels are and how weak a man's back can get, isn't it!

A Lindsay man says he was driving home when the storm broke. Said he: "There was a brilliant flash of lightning, a heavy roll of thunder and then the snow came down so thick you could hardly see to drive . . . It was like the drenching rain of a thunderstorm only it was snow being driven by a high wind."

Valentine's Day brought with it its share of good things too . . . A lot of people got nice cards or other remembrances and the Lindsay Kinsmen Boys and Girls Band shared in the good things. Immediate Past President Harry Johnston of the Kiwanis Club informs "The Post" that the band will receive every co-operation from the club for its forthcoming Band Competition, normally held in conjunction with the Victoria County Music Festival. Arrangements have been made for the use of Cambridge St. United Church Hall on May 16th., date of the competition. "We feel the band deserves the support of everyone", Mr. Johnson said.

KIWANIS LUNCHEON TALK

Story of mining in Rhodesia told by Rio Tinto fieldman

Lindsay Kiwanis Club members and guests had the opportunity on Tuesday of hearing an informative talk by Mr. Paul Carloff, representative of the Rio Tinto Mining Corporation, the interesting subject having to do with the problems experienced by large copper mining industries with the white and colored people employed in various capacities. The speaker dealt particularly with the situation in Rhodesia, Central Africa where thousands of Europeans (whites) and blacks are engaged in the largest industry in Central Africa.

The meeting was in charge of Kiwanian Alex. McKenzie, the speaker was introduced by Kiwanian Reg. Hollows and appreciation was expressed by Kiwanian Art. Patterson.

During the question and answer period, the speaker stated that whites and blacks work alongside each other on various jobs, but that in the majority of cases the whites received higher wages. However, in the past ten years there has been a vast improvement in working relationships and blacks are receiving a fine type of education to fit them for better positions. In many schools whites and blacks work shoulder to shoulder and also the same hospitals and bursaries are obtainable for the colored as well as the European.

Men in Central Africa sometimes take considerable time to adapt themselves to working conditions because in the old days they did not do much work - - women did most of the work, the speaker explained.

In some respects, Mr. Carloff said, mining conditions in Central Africa are on a par with those in Ontario although wages are not high. While colored political leaders continually urge the blacks to exercise their rights, especially when voting, year by year, conditions for the black people are improving, the guest speaker concluded. He further added that the process is not fast but those who want to advance, realize the need for better education and the mining companies have been interested in creating better conditions for the black people.

Below zero temperatures hampered every move of the Minden firefighters Sunday morning in their efforts to save the home of Holly Little and his family. It was 12 below when the fire struck. The fire in the one-and-a-half storey frame and log dwelling was well underway by the time the firemen arrived, but the below freezing temperatures stopped all efforts to put water on the blaze . . . The water froze as it left the hose.

Minden Fire Chief Eldon Deacon said the building was a blazing inferno by the time his department arrived which was about 15 minutes after the call was placed. The chief said the call was turned in about 8:30 a.m. and the truck had to travel a good 12 miles to the Little home.

In the house at the outbreak of the fire were Holly Little, his wife Beatrice and two children, Patricia and Alex Mr. Little turned in the call. The home is located 12 miles northeast of Minden about five miles east of Highway 121. It was completely destroyed. There was very little saved from the farm home.

It was estimated that total damage will run somewhere above $4,000. Fortunately, only a light breeze was blowing and the flames did not touch the bush located nearby. The house itself was out-of-the-way, being about 100 yards off the road.

Fire Chief Deacon said his men couldn't have done too much to save the house. "Our hoses were freezing as fast as the water was being pumped. We just hoped the fire wouldn't spread."

The Kiwanis Kavaliers did not fare so well, however, on this day. A "Sweethearts Ball" scheduled to be held tonight at Club 36 on the Bobcaygeon Road was called off owing to the snow . . . It made several roads impassable to people planning to attend. Club 36 proprietor Stewart Martin says refunds will be made at the source of ticket purchase.

Charles Lamb, Ontario Racing Commission supervisor of harness racing, says he had an interesting day in the Collins Bay area recently. He attended a racing meet there which was held on ice - the ice of the bay. Mr. Lamb says about 4,000 turned out to see the trotters whisk their sulkies across the frozen surface. "We had a wonderful time," said he.

be split into study groups, with each group spending at least one week in each country. This means that each study group will visit three countries during the tour.

Mr. McQuarrie said the trip has not been officially planned, and that the cities to be visited are not listed as yet. Apparently, Stewart Fyfe, professor of Local Government and head of the Institute of Local Government at Queen's University is travelling to Europe in May to arrange the program.

It was learned that many University professors, writers, some government heads and many other interested persons are taking this tour. However, it was stated that each member has to pay his own way.

Mr. McQuarrie said it would be an experience and an educational trip and plans to learn as much as possible while in these countries, and bring some ideas for better planning. He is chairman of the Lindsay Area Planning Board.

"Receiving fire protection cheap," Hutton tells fellow councillors

"Not an economy measure"

Club 36 proprietor disobeys musicians' union directive, will hire non-union band

Say thunderstorm in wintertime not uncommon

A freakish thunderstorm with snow instead of rain, which hit the Lindsay area shortly after midnight, has been described as rare but not uncommon. Basil Benson, supervisor of Forest Protection with the Department of Lands and Forests, said this morning that a storm of this nature was not the usual thing for February, but it has happened before. He explained that the lightning and thunder is caused by a buildup of static electricity and "very turbulent conditions upstairs."

Many reports say the lightning flashed so brightly, it lit up homes and streets and woke many people from sleep. If the lightning didn't the rumble of the thunder did. It is reported that the clap rattled windows and television aerials. Immediately after the thunder, snow plummetted to the ground, blowing and drifting. Although reports are unofficial as to how much snow really fell, it has been estimated to be in the neighbourhood of two to ten inches.

Travelling around the district by telephone, "The Post" found that Lindsay was not the only place to be covered with the white blanket. In most areas, the fall averaged between six and ten inches with heavy drifts and blowing winds.

Club 36, located on Highway 36 just out of Lindsay, is going to oppose a musicians' union ruling.

Proprietor Stewart Martin told "The Post" he is going to hire a non-union band to play at his old time and country dance Friday night. The union has told him he cannot do this as long as he is also employing union bands.

The union - Peterborough Federation of Musicians Local affiliated with the American Federation of Musicians of the United States and Canada - made its stand clear when Mr. Martin said he wished to employ a local band for supplying western and old time dance music.

Said Mr. Martin: "I have been employing union bands 100 per cent since I opened, but nothing the union has offered in western type bands has taken with the public . . . As a result I proposed hiring a local band of this kind and was told I couldn't do so."

Continuing, Mr. Martin said: "This is definitely not an economy measure and it is not a dispute over wages - the non-union band I have hired for next Friday night's dance - The Hillbilly Ramblers - is making union wages or better. I just feel I should have the right to hire the band which will draw me the crowds. As far as the other dances are concerned, union bands have been doing a good job."

Mr. Martin said he was forced into the position where he had either to disobey the union directive or go out of old time and country style dances. "I have no choice but to go ahead and see what happens, but I wish it made clear this is not a matter of opposing union bands - it is a question of me getting the band that is popular with area people who patronize the type of dance I have mentioned . . . They just weren't satisfied with the bands I have had to date."

"The Township of Ops is receiving fire protection for a very cheap price." This statement was made by Councillor Joseph Hutton in reference to the amount of money paid by the Township of Ops for annual fire protection.

The contract between Lindsay and the township is up for renewal and it was decided by council to give them the same deal as last year. That is, a $1,000 retainer fee and $150 for every fire the Lindsay department answers.

There is also a contract between Lindsay and part of Fenelon Township. Here the retainer fee is the same, but the amount paid for each fire varies according to distance. For instance, at Pleasant Point the charge is $200 per fire.

It was pointed out that this agreement was very satisfactory for both townships and that it should be left the same as it was in 1961.

BE PUT OFF

The U. S. and Britain have proposed to the Soviet Union that a summit meeting be put off until progress has been made with disarmament talks. The proposal was carried in notes from President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan delivered this morning to Soviet Premier Khrushchev. The notes were in reply to Khrushchev's suggestion that the 18-nation disarmament talks—scheduled for Geneva, March 14th—should be held at the summit level.

CLEARED UP

Macmillan's message said disarmament problems should be cleared up before a heads-of-state meeting takes place. Macmillan said that a summit meeting would be more practical and fruitful when some progress has been shown in disarmament talks. Both Western leaders told Khrushchev their three foreign ministers should meet in advance of the March 14th talks to pave the way for the multi-nation disarmament discussions.

EVADE BAN

West Berlin police say the Russian Berlin Commandant evaded an American ban and drove into West Berlin today through a British Sector crossing point. The U-S has forbidden Colonel Andrei Solovyev from using the American check-point on the Berlin border.

STREET FIGHTING

Heavy street fighting was reported in the Algerian City of Oran this morning after at least 44 plastic bombs went off earlier in the day. Reports reaching Algiers say Moslem demonstrations were firing on French troops. The reports say at least two persons have been killed and six wounded in the clashes. The bomb blasts were centered mostly in the Moslem quarter. There has been no immediate indication of how many casualties resulted from the explosions.

AT LEAST FRIDAY

U.S. attempts to orbit Marine Colonel John Glenn appear likely to be postponed until at least Friday. A new storm in the recovery area in the Atlantic is blamed for the latest postponement. Glenn was to have been rocketed out of Cape Canaveral this morning but, once again, unsatisfactory weather conditions in the Atlantic prevented the shot.

12TH ANNIVERSARY

Red China and Russia celebrated the 12th anniversary of their Treaty of Alliance today—but some cracks appeared in the wall of their proclaimed solidarity. Only two important Chinese officials attended a rally to honor the treaty last night. However, there also was plenty of talk about the treaty and Russian-Chinese friendship. Broadcasts by Peiping radio and the New China News Agency quoted an official of the National People's Congress as saying that western efforts to exploit the split were "all in vain."

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Four Brantford, Ontario, men have been committed to trial for selling meat unfit for human consumption. The group includes the recently suspended director of Brant County Health Unit's Food Control and Sanitation Department, a butcher, a farmer and an operator of a dead animal receiving plant. The men, arrested following a five-month R-C-M-P investigation, elected trial by judge and jury.

APPROVES CONSTRUCTION

The City of Montreal has approved construction of a building which, when completed, will be the tallest in the commonwealth. The city's Permits Department gave the go-ahead signal to the place Victoria-St. Jacques Company, Incorporated, to build the 51-storey skyscraper. The project, which with two similar towers planned to follow will be the largest office complex in the world.

UNIVERSITY POPULATION INCREASES

The University population throught Canada increased last year with the Atlantic Provinces leading the way. Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures show that all provinces shared in the 13-point-one national increase over the previous year. Gains ranged from 14-point-six per cent in the Atlantic area to 11-point-seven in Ontario. The figures show that by December 1st Canadian Universities had a total enrollment of close to 129-thousand students.

VICTORY WITHIN EASY REACH, MISS BOAT BY ONE GOAL

Lindsay Legion Midgets snap back from three-goal deficit, but lose battling in 3rd overtime period

Lindsay Legion Midgets twice had victory in their grasp at the Kiwanis Arena last night, only to lose the round to Ajax Midgets after twenty-nine minutes and thirty-four seconds of overtime.

Lindsay Legion Midgets won the first game of the home and home total goal series at Port Perry last Friday night by a close 4-3 margin. After two periods last night, Ajax had a four to nothing lead in the game and led 7-4 on the round. The local lads wouldn't give in however, and tied the game to lead on the round 8-7 with two minutes left in the period. Ajax bounced back to tie the round again before the period ended.

According to O.M.H.A. rules overtime periods of ten minutes duration shall be played in case of a tie on the round, a maximum of three periods being permitted if the tie is not broken at the end of any ten minute session. If the score is still tied after three overtime periods, another game shall be arranged. Teams shall change ends at the end of each overtime period only and not return to the dressing room.

No scoring resulted in the first overtime period last night. Lindsay scored in the second session, but Ajax recovered that goal within the minute. The third session was all but over when Ajax, who had been desperately holding on, hoping for a tie and another game, broke from a Lindsay ganging attack and scored with a high hard shot to claim the win.

A Lindsay penalty paved the way to open the scoring in the first period of the game when Peterson batted in Flynn's rebound with Pat McCabe serving time for elbowing. Marshall for Ajax got the gate for elbowing at 6:50 but no scoring resulted. Flynn put Ajax two up on the game at 10:21 of the period. Lindsay served two minor penalties and Ajax one in the last half of the period.

Ajax added two more goals in the second period as they consistently disorganized the Lindsay attack, and petty penalties did the rest. Babcock and McCabe of Lindsay, Crumb and Allen of Ajax each served time in the first half of the period. Marshall scored from the point at 13:15 to give Ajax a two goal lead on the round, and Flynn added the third clinche at 17:56 with Hinton serving a slashing penalty. Up to this point, at least to the end of the second period, Ajax appeared to be the best coached team in these parts, and the local lads just couldn't get going.

The third period completely reversed the situation, as the Legion lads took over with a driving attack that had the visitors looking bad, and making all the wrong moves that Lindsay had been making in the first two periods. Legion Midgets barged their way to four unanswered goals with fifty-eight seconds of the ninth minute still on the clock, but their joy was short lived when the visitors loaded and fired their cannon to tie the round at eight all forty-one seconds later.

McCabe from Graham started the Legion Midgets in business at 5:21 of the third period. Frocking from Purdy at 14:42, and Bowery from Hinton at 15:27, both with a player from each side in the penalty box, tied the round at seven all. Babcock fired what could have been the winner at 18:02, but the visitors wouldn't give in. Marshall put them back in the series with his unassisted goal at 18:43.

With the start of the overtime, tension mounted with each minute. Hinton was chastened at the five minute mark for tripping Ajax and supporters felt they had it won, but never was a more stubborn defence put up, especially by goalie Jackett. Ajax were tagged with three minor penalties in the second period of overtime with the last one, a hooking penalty to Turner, ending when Bowery fired a bullet shot from the point to put Lindsay ahead for the second time. George Meek tied the round again just fifty-five seconds later with an unassisted goal at 17:50. Before the middle session ended, both teams had one-man breakaways, but the respective goalies rose to the occasion.

The third overtime session saw both teams settle down to play for keeps. The Legion Midgets appeared to have a decided edge on the play and did not appear as tired as the visitors. Allen's goal from Marshall for Ajax, however, came within half a minute from the end of the period and gave the locals little chance to recover. Someone had to lose and to lose after such a close battle was still an honour.

Some ideas for high corn yields

Last year Ontario farmers raised corn yields to the all time high average of 73.4 bushels per year. This is an increase of nearly 15 bushels per acre over the previous best year average.

In spite of the high yield in 1961 some field crops specialists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture feel it is possible that some farmers can raise their corn yield. They say these may help:

- Corn requires good, well-darined soil. Shallow, poorly-drained soil should be kept in sod.
- Plow under a good sod for corn. A heavy alfalfa sod will supply up to 100 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre for corn. A grass sod with little or no legumes present will supply very little nitrogen. Plowing under corn stalks will rob the soil of nitrogen. This means adding extra nitrogen if you grow corn on corn.
- Prepare a good seedbed, but don't work the field any more than necessary. A powdery seedbed may cement over with heavy rains. This forms a crust over the roots, and prevents penetration of air and soil and reduces yields.
- Select adapted hybrid varieties. Don't stretch the season, but choose a variety that will mature every year. Pick Hybrids suited to your area from "1961 Ontario Hybrid Corn Performance Trials" available at your Agricultural Representative's Office.
- Fertilizer requirements are best determined by soil testing, a band application of 200 pounds of 8-16-16 or the equivalent is always needed. Take precautions to place the fertilizer two inches below and two inches to the side of the seed. Additional fertilizer, to bring the total applied us to about 500 pounds of 8-16-16 per acre, should be bulk spread in the spring or plowed down in the fall. Extra nitrogen may be required for top yields on some farms, but you get the best recommendation from a soil test.
- Plant the corn thick. To produce high yields and use up all the fertilizer you apply, a corn plant population of 14,000 to 18,000 plants per acre is necessary. For 40-inch rows, adjust the planter to drop kernels every 9½inches (14,000 plants) to 7½ inches (18,000 plants).
- Plant corn slowly. The optimum tractor speed is three mph. and the maximum is four mph. It takes time for the kernel to go through the planting mechanism. At high planting speeds the kernels may hit the soil below the shoe and bounce back. This causes uneven stands and poorer yields.
- Control weeds. Chemical sprays like atrazine can replace cultivation, if you use the overall application. Band spraying with atrazine or 2-4-D will probably require at least one cultivation.

Timely Tips

If you have not already done so, now's a good time to check the fuse panels in your farm buildings. According to Hal Wright, Farm Safety Specialist with the Ontario Department of Agriculture, short winter days usually mean heavier electrical loads on the farm. To prevent extra loads adding to the fire hazard, make sure you are not using oversized fuses. The answer to a circuit that keeps blowing isn't a larger fuse, but an extra circuit. Take advantage of Ontario Hydro's free advice service on any farm wiring problems.

Do you plan on seeding some Birdfoot Trefoil this spring? If you do, you will get the best establishment and production results if you seed it without a nurse crop says Jack Winch, Trefoil researcher with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. If weeds are a problem, spray with 18 ounces of 24-DB in 300 gallons of water when the Trefoil is in the true leaf stage.

Don't forget to run your tractor for a few minutes after adding water to the battery, advise engineers with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Cold winter weather might freeze the water if it isn't mixed. The generator current mixes the acid and water. This solution has a much lower freezing point than water.

The only way to get top yields from an oat-barley mixture is to seed them in the right proportion, and mix the seed by weight, says Bill Taylor of the Ontario Department of Agriculture Field Crops Branch. He suggests you check with your Agricultural Representative for the right proportion for your country. Each country will differ and he has the figures on the best seeding rate and mixture for your area.

Some people shovel driveways. Others dig Volkswagen.

If you live in Snowsville, think deep about your next car.

People who own conventional models often put something heavy in the trunk for extra traction. A Volkswagen owner never bothers. He's got 200 pounds of engine back there sitting right over the drive wheels. His car plows through snow without chains or special tires. On ice, the VW keeps its footing like a penguin.

Look at the underside of a Volkswagen. It's built like a toboggan. The bottom is completely covered with a smooth sheet of metal that skims over deep snow. The wires and rods you'd expect to find are inside, completely protected against sand, salt and slush.

The engine is cooled with air instead of water. (You can spend your anti-freeze money on jazz records.)

WEDDING
McIntyre - Curtis Nuptials

December 31, 1961, was the date chosen by Jean Elizabeth Curtis, and Clifford Henderson McIntyre for their marriage in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Fenelon Falls. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Curtis, of Fenelon Falls, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. McIntyre, also of Fenelon Falls.

Rev. E. Grant MacDonald performed the double ring ceremony which took place before an altar decorated with red carnations, white baby 'mums, gladioli, blue iris and standards of ferns. Miss Isobel Isaac was at the organ.

The bride, entering the church on the arm of her father to the strains of "Praise My Soul the King of Heaven" was lovely in a floor-length gown of white peau de soie. The gown was fashioned on princess lines, with a V neck line, long pointed sleeves and three white peau de soie roses fastened to the waist at the back of the dress. She wore a matching rose headdress which held an elbow-length veil and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Edith June Curtis, was maid-of-honor, for her sister and the bridesmaids were Betty Crossen, of Cobourg, and Mrs. Ross McIntyre and Dorothy White, of Fenelon Falls.

The maid-of-honor was in a gown of powder blue peau-de-soie and the bridesmaids wore similar gowns of the same material in sapphire blue with bell-shaped skirts. All wore matching headdresses and carried white cuffs with red carnations pinned on them.

Ross McIntyre, attended his brother as best man and the ushers were David Jewell, of Toronto, Howard Chisholm, of Cobourg and John McLean, of Fenelon Falls. All wore dark suits with white carnation boutonnieres.

Following the wedding a reception for 90 guests was held in the Parish Hall of St. James' Anglican Church. The bride's mother received wearing a navy dress, white hat and gloves and navy shoes and purse. Her corsage was red and white carnations. She was assisted by the groom's mother, who wore a navy two-piece dress with navy accessories and a corsage of American Beauty carnations.

Friends of the bride acted as servers at a light luncheon and the Rev. E. G. MacDonald proposed the toast to the bride.

The young couple left on a honeymoon, the bride wearing a cherry suite with black and white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Attending the wedding were the pupils of the bride who is the junior grades teacher at the Powles Corner public school. Friends from Toronto, Simcoe, Peterboro, Beaverton, Bobcaygeon, Cobourg, Oshawa, Georgetown, Lindsay and Lakefield were guests at the wedding.

MY, WHAT A DEEP VOICE YOU HAVE GRANMA!

Once in a while your finger may slip when you're dialing a call. What a surprise when you find yourself talking to a gravel-voiced stranger . . . especially if you expected to hear the gentle voice of someone like your own old grandmother! Embarrassing, isn't it? Of course, careful dialing can prevent this sort of thing. Let's see what the experts say about good dialing habits. "To save your time and other people's tempers, be sure to look the number up first . . . not from memory. Listen for the dial tone before dial carefully. They also say that if we follow these simple rules we won't be caught by surprise thinking that poor Grammy has a frog in her throat."

Interdenominational service here To commemorate Lord Baden-Powell

A combined inter-denominational service for the local Girl Guides and Boy Scouts will be held at the Lindsay Collegiate Sunday afternoon.

The service, a thanksgiving for the life of Lord Robert Baden - Powell, will mark jointly Boy Scout Week and the Girl Guide Thinking Day.

At the monthly meeting of the Victoria County District Council of the Boy Scout Association, Monday, Lindsay district girl Guide commissioner, Mrs. Art Lloyd, and Guide Captain Mrs. Kay Wells, met with the council to discuss plans for the service.

The service will be run completely by the Guides and Scouts themselves with individual members leading in prayers. Members will also read the lessons.

COLOR PARTIES

It is hoped that color parties and all members of Guide troops and groups throughout the area will be in attendance.

Although the main floor of the auditorium will be taken up by the Scouts and Guides, Brownies and Cubs, there will be accommodation for parents and friends.

Guest speaker at the service is to be L. R. Griffith, regional commissioner for the Bay of Quinte area.

Camp committee chairman, Paul Davidson, told the meeting that steps have been taken to request use of a Burnt River site for a county Boy Scout camp and that nothing more can be done until the request comes before Victoria County Council.

IDEAL SITE

At a previous meeting Mr. Davidson told the council that the proposed site would be ideal for the scouts. He said that the area has been partly reforested and is part natural growth, and that swimming facilities are close by.

He noted that there will be no difficulty in obtaining a fresh water supply.

The meeting was told of a day long course to be held in Belleville, March 17 for members of district councils.

District commissioner, Art Patterson, said that the Association holds this course each year to teach non-uniformed members more about the association. He noted that at least the officers of the local council should be in attendance.

THREATENS TO DISCONTINUE AMBULANCE SERVICE

Service deadline set for midnight, Feb. 28 if no arrangements

Council refers issue to Health Bd., suggests it make agreement

Lindsay is faced with the prospect of being without the services of McArthur's Ambulance.

The discussion of ambulance service in Lindsay, which has been a topic of conversation in council and social circles for some time, was brought to a head at a meeting of council Monday night.

A letter was received by council from owner and operator of the ambulance service, Bruce A. McArthur. In the letter, he stated that he would withdraw his service at midnight on February 28th unless approached by council and a satisfactory agreement made (Full contents of this letter are published elsewhere in today's "Daily Post").

The letter was read to members by Councillor Russell Taylor. A long discussion followed, with the end result being that Mr. McArthur should meet with the Board of Health and discuss his request with them. It was stated by a council member that this decision should be reached with that body first and then recommended to council for further action.

Councillor Joseph Hutton stated that the council has no authority to subsidize a service of this type. According to the Municipal Act, our council cannot handle this issue."

Mayor Joseph Holtom clarified this statement. He said a recommendation for an ambulance subsidy must come through the Public Health Board. "This group has the power to act on behalf of the town in matters such as these. They must approve the issue first, then recommend it to council so it can be studied and placed in the budget."

The mayor said he understood the Board of Health had asked Mr. McArthur for an audited statement of ambulance expenses and revenues. "I believe that no such statement has been submitted to the board. Therefore, it has taken no action," the mayor concluded.

The mayor explained to all council members that Lindsay was not alone in this problem. "There are a number of towns in Ontario which are currently studying this very same problem. Some feel that an ambulance service should be maintained by the hospital and paid for by the Ontario Hospital Services Commission," the mayor stated.

A question was raised by one member of council as to the reason for Mr. McArthur's statement that he had not been invited to attend a meeting of the Health Board.

Town Clerk Bud Bates, as secretary of the board, explained that at its December meeting, it was decided to invite Mr. McArthur to the next regular meeting of the board. However, the meeting of the board in January was listed as a special one to study the tainted meat situation. After the meeting went into session, the members decided to call it a regular one and discuss other business as well, one item being the ambulance service."

It was recommended by Councillor Joseph Hutton that the Board of Health take immediate action on the problem and that adequate ambulance service be maintained for Lindsay. He also suggested that some thought might be given to establishing an ambulance service in conjunction with the county. No action was taken on that issue.

Council did recommend that the Board of Health meet with Mr. McArthur and try to make suitable arrangements for the continuation of the service.

McArthur charges promise broken when he wasn't advised request for ambulance subsidy coming up

Charges that he was not advised of a Board of Health meeting at which his request for an ambulance subsidy was to be dealt with are contained in a letter from Bruce A. McArthur. The letter read to members of Lindsay's Council Monday night and is reproduced in full below. The letter states, quote:

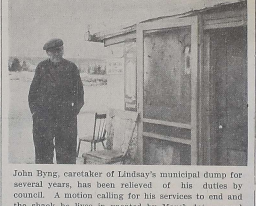

"In the Fall of 1961 I attended Council and requested financial help to assist me in paying one man's salary for ambulance work, as due to my health I had been advised to refrain from constant heavy lifting.

"This issue was referred to various departments and committees who requested a financial statement re ambulance costs. A statement prepared by my auditor was presented. Please note that this statement did not include any compensation for myself involving ambulance work, and my request was for assistance in paying one man's salary, not to cover total loss in ambulance operations. To date I have received no official word regarding this request, except that I would be invited to a Board of Health meeting and would be advised of this date in February. According to the Press it appears that this matter was prematurely dealt with at Board of Health meeting, called in January 1962. I have in my possession a letter from your clerk, Mr. Bud Bates, that he did not advise me of this January meeting as it was called to deal with other issues. According to the Press, this request of mine was dealth with, refused, and suggested it be closed. Also, according to the Press, Mr. Laverne Gamble stated, and I quote "Fire Chief Arnold Watson would be ready to take the operation of an ambulance under his wing in the Fire Department". To the best of my knowledge, in order to provide a duplicate of the service we have always endeavoured to render, this will require six or seven extra employees for the Fire Department, trained in First Aid and respect, along with two vehicles fully equipped, and housing for same — an approximate cost to the ratepayers of $28,000.00 to $30,000.00

"I had intended to give the Town of Lindsay a longer period of notice, but in view of the above facts I feel it is not necessary, however I would like to take this opportunity to remind you that I am convinced I have presented my case fairly and to the best of my ability, with the result that I shall not feel responsible for the lack of efficient ambulance service for possible future requirements.

"I hereby give notice to the Town of Lindsay that at midnight, Wednesday, February the 28th, 1962, I discontinue my ambulance service, unless I am approached officially by Town Council, and satisfactory arrangements made before the above stated hour."

Told he must go. . .

John Byng, caretaker of Lindsay's municipal dump for several years, has been relieved of his duties by council. A motion calling for his services to end and the shack he lives in vacated by March 1st., passed without a dissenting vote in council's committee meeting Monday night. Mr. Byng is shown outside the place in which he lives at the municipal dump on Lindsay's northeastern outskirts. Town Property Chairman charged that the caretaker had swarms at some people using the dump. The councillor also said he had received an offer from another man to look after the dump "for free"—just the salvage returns. Mr. Byng was paid $12 a week by the town, plus anything he might make from sale of salvage.

Kinsmen Band president hopes Kiwanians will help stage planned band competition

It's too late now . . . Too late to halt plans for holding the band section of the Victoria County Music Festival.

President Charles Jefferies of the Lindsay Kinsmen Boys' and Girls' Band says plans for the band festival — a one-day competition — have ar nced so far now that it would be almost impossible to call it off without seriously upsetting arrangements now made.

However, Mr. Jefferies expressed confidence that the Lindsay Kiwanis Club would co-operate with them in carrying out the band festival as planned. The club announced this week it was going to call off the music festival for 1962 in the hope that a temporary suspension would revive interest in it. The Kiwanis Club has managed the festival since its start.

One of the problems with which the Kinsmen Band is faced in view of the festival cancellation, is that the executive has arranged for adjudicators.

Concert in Academy

While on the subject of band plans, Mr. Jefferies noted that arrangements are complete for the annual band concert which will be held for the second consecutive year in the Academy Theatre. Special guest artists for this event will be the Junior and Senior Choirs of Central Public School. The concert is to be held February 28th and Mr. Jefferies says everything points to a successful event.

Councillor Hutton versus The Town Dump Caretaker

Lindsay, Feb. 13, 1962.

The Editor,
The People Write,
The Lindsay Post.
Mr. Editor:

In view of the publicity given to the running feud between the chairman of the town property committee and the caretaker of the local dump, may I note a few things that might look interesting.

The caretaker has been on the job for some six years under as many different chairmen, and this is the first chairman who, in a very short time, (and just after the man asked for a raise in his salary), undertakes to dispose of him and succeeds.

Now, of course, there is some unChristian language at the town dump. Eating that smoke all day long and, according to the hours, part of the night, could make a clergyman swear at times. And remember all the bad language does not come from this man. I have been there when some off-the-cuff cuss words were directed to him from citizens too. Maybe we should engage an Eaton or Rhodes scholar, so words may be used that are not in bad taste.

Again, nothing was said about his work, so it must have been satisfactory. No, just fire him because he swore at a few voters who would not put the material where he directed. After all, there is a sign which says to check with the attendant before dumping. Then Mr. Hutton tells the caretaker to report the offenders to him. That's a joke. What good would that do, when he was fired before being able to present his side of the matter. Maybe the chairman has someone in mind at a higher figure which, if given to the present man, might have sweetened his temper?

Mr. Taylor's suggestion of making this job a part of the garbage collector's work at a negotiated fee, is now the logical thing to do. To make this job a "dumping hunt" solely for salvage purposes, as Mr. Hutton reports he was offered, will not work. Winter pickings are not too good. I know what the caretaker makes out of salvage and it would not average $15.00 per week.

The hours of work at the dump from April 15th to October 15th are 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., six days a week - 72 hours, a little high for Dept. of Labour regulations. After all, the caretaker would have to be here if the proposed gate is open or maybe the chairman will spell him off.

I am sure I could find as many or more people who think that Mr. Byng has been doing a good job as otherwise. Remember councillors are elected with half the electorate not voting for them.

Thanking You I Remain,
Cyril Gerster,
Gerster Iron and Metal.

Traffic signals recommended for Kent-Albert crossing

Lindsay may have another set of traffic signal lights installed on Kent Street. The location for the new set is proposed to be at the corner of Kent Street and Albert Street.

A recommendation was brought before council on Monday night by police committee chairman Robert Payne. He stated that the erection of these lights would be under $2,000 in cost.

Mayor Holtom said that this was a good move. "With the addition to both Central Park and the High School, the intersection will become very busy."

Councillor Les Neil stated that this was a long felt need. The council concurred in the recommendation that the lights be installed.

Mayor Holtom asked Mr. Payne about the removal of the boulevard on Albert Street.

Mr. Payne said his committee would recommend that the boulevard should be removed from one side of the street for a distance of one block north and one block south of Kent Street.

It was also recommended that the boulevard on the south side of Kent Street between Angeline and Sussex Street be removed to make driving easier. The Public School Board will be asked to supply off-street parking for the teachers and staff at Central School so that traffic will not be so conjested.

The removal of boulevards has been referred to the Board of Works Department and the town engineer for their study and recommendation concerning from which side of Albert Street the boulevard should be removed.

DOES A SURVEY OF THIS TYPE REALLY REVEAL THE NEED?

Conflicting reports have been heard lately concerning the prospects of obtaining low rental housing for Lindsay . . . Some say the chances are slim, based on the fact that there have been few applicants for housing for the type proposed, following a survey carried out here several months ago. But do surveys of this type really reveal the needs of a lot of people in the town? Somehow, in the light of what can been seen around Lindsay by those who wish to look, we are inclined to doubt it.

Lindsay has within its boundaries quite a lot of people who are really not adequately housed. They are living under conditions which would break the heart of many and certainly do nothing to bolster morale or encourage self-improvement. In many instances, they can't help themselves—they already have "low rental housing" . . . inadequate, in poor state of repair, cold in winter and otherwise deficient . . . but low rental.

Whenever something happens in these places—a fire, for example—people flock to the scene, deplore the fact that people have to live under those conditions and that's it. Many of us in Lindsay can recall instances wherein children have lost their lives because they were living under conditions which were not safe.

The point we are trying to make is this . . . Lindsay has laws which require that certain standards be maintained in the construction of a house and it has a building inspector who passes on such things, but there is apparently nothing to prevent a house from being rented which is in a state of advanced disrepair. If more adequate low rental housing cannot be built, shouldn't it be at least possible to maintain a reasonable standard of existing housing for rental purposes?

"NO FOUNDATION WHATSOEVER . . ."

An unconfirmed rumour to the effect that Zeller's Ltd. is planning to embark upon a major expansion program in Lindsay at a new location has been published under the guise of fact. Aware of the rumours which have persisted over several weeks, "The Post" has been in contact with the company's real estate department in Montreal but nothing approaching a confirmation of the speculative reports was received. As a matter of fact, Mr. Richard Marvell, who is in charge of real estate for the company, said two weeks ago that the firm was naturally interested in Lindsay but any suggestion that land had been purchased for a new store was just not true. He suggested at the time that it would be as well not to print anything concerning the rumour because it was just that—a rumour.

However, since a story has been published to the effect that the "deal is on" . . . that a local manufacturing company (Sylvester Steel Products Co. Ltd.) has sold its property to Zeller's . . . and that construction of the new store will follow demolition of the Sylvester plant . . . a further check has been made on the rumour.

James G. Kendrick, president of Zeller's Ltd., told "The Post" today that any reports to the effect that the firm has purchased the property of Sylvester Steel Products Co. Ltd. "have no foundation whatsoever." As for the new store the Zeller's company is planning to open this year in a "medium size Ontario town," Mr. Kendrick said. "It is definitely not Lindsay."

Mr. Kendrick can be relied upon to know what since Zeller's already has an outlet in Lindsay it is naturally interested in the town. Periodic surveys are carried out in Lindsay, along with several other communities, the company president disclosed.

K. G. MacDuffee of Sylvester Steel Products Co. Ltd., has also flatly denied that the company's property has been sold. He said that at least three different firms has been talks with them about the property but absolutely nothing has been finalized. "We would be pleased to make news of this nature available if it were so and that's about all I can say," he told us this morning. Mr. MacDuffee did indicate, however, that if such a thing were to develop, there would be no thought of Sylvester's leaving Lindsay.

MAJOR SCOTT'S APPOINTMENT . . .

The Hon. Leslie M. Frost was right when he said Friday the Major Scott will do credit to the many thousands of well-wishers as he assumes the position of Victoria County Sheriff.

Major Scott is highly regarded by the people of Lindsay, his home town. He is also widely and favourably known throughout the county and this is due in no small measure to his distinguished record in World War Two, during which he was decorated for service in the field and earned repeated promotions on active duty.

We feel confident that Major Scott possess the ability to handle the position of sheriff efficiently and that we share the sentiments of his many fellow citizens when we say he is deserving of the appointment.

A POINT OF INTEREST . . .

A point of interest arose during this week's meeting of the Lindsay Water Commission relative to the hiring of personnel. It came up during the reading of a couple of applications from people seeking the position on the Water Commission's office staff which occurred as a result of the enforced retirement of Mrs. Alma Sandercock for health reasons.

It developed that there was some feeling on the subject of how replacements should be made when a vacancy occurred on the commission's staff. And, while it was noted that staff turnover in the commission's office was relatively light, the point was made that any such vacancy should be advertised and all applicants be interviewed by a commission committee.

Viewed in the broader perspective as applied to all personnel in the employ of the town or town utilities, the idea has merit. Many people are aware of occasions in the past when a new face has suddenly appeared on the municipal payroll to the accompaniment of raised eyebrows and murmurings. While nothing was perhaps said openly about it, there was a certain amount of feeling nevertheless.

Reports and Remarks...

THE DRUNKEN DRIVER IN WEST GERMANY

While safety authorities in Canada are trying to have governments recognize a blood alcohol content of .15% as evidence of an impaired condition, the Ministry of Justice of the West German government is drafting a law whereby a pint of beer consumed by a driver before an accident may be sufficient cause for the loss of his licence.

The West German government is trying to combat the high rate of traffic accidents caused by drunken drivers. This new law would reduce the 80,000 alcoholic quantity of alcohol in a person's blood from .15% to .08%. The rule employed by the West German traffic specialists is that one quart of beer consumed by a "normal" person causes an alcohol content in his blood of .15%.

The 1960 traffic death toll on West German roads was 14,000, while the injuries suffered climbed to 500,000. Of some 60,000 persons whose driving permits were revoked, roughly 50,000 were listed as impaired.

Next will be a revision of the Bonn traffic code that will allow authorities to confiscate a car if a driver is found to be operating it without a licence.

According to safety officials, other problems which will require revision of existing laws are the motorist's lack of road discipline and law enforcement.

BY APPOINTMENT

The Olde English delicacy, the muffin, unfortunately a rarity in modern Britain, turns out to be a favorite tea-time victual of the Royal Family. So much so, that a baker in Reading, some 50 miles west of London, has been appointed muffin supplier to Queen Elizabeth II.

He is 75-year-old Edward Tong, who some months ago sent a sample batch of muffins — individually cooked on a hotplate from a secret recipe he's known since childhood—to Buckingham Palace. As a result Mr. Tong's appointment, along with suppliers of other goods, was recently announced in the official London Gazette. This means he is entitled to put the insignia of the royal coat of arms on his shop, his delivery vans and his business letter heads, a mark of prestige valued among royal suppliers and coveted by all.

The muffin man is one of 25 tradesmen added this year to the list of Royal Warrant holders. The legend below the coat of arms he can now display with the name of his firm will probably read, "By Appointment, muffin baker to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II." Operative words for the others will describe a host of goods and services required by royalty: baby wear, packaging materials, game, lager, bagpipe makers, newsagents (selling papers and magazines), chimney sweeps, yacht-builders and undertakers.

Some 1,000 shops, businesses and manufacturers hold warrants, awarded during the past four reigns. They may use the coat of arms in a fittingly dignified way but are not permitted to fly a royal standard or use the word "royal" in the name of their firm.

BAYSICK INGLISH

A weekly local travelling salesman wrote his first sales report to the home office. It stunned the brass in the sales department, because it was obvious the new "hope" was a blithering illiterate, for here is what he wrote:

"I have seen this outfit which they ain't never bought a dimes worth of nothing from us and I sole them a couple hundre" tousand dollars of guds. I am not going to Chicawgo."

Before the illiterate could be given the heave-ho by the sales manager, along came this letter from Chicago:

"I cum hear and sole them a half millyon."

Feared that if he did, any fearful if he didn't fire the illiterate, the sales manager dumped the problem in the lap of the president.

The following morning the ivory tower members were amazed to see the two letters pasted on the bulletin board—and this memo from the president tacked above:

"We ben spending too much time trying to spel insted of trying to sel. Let's wach thoes sails. I want everybody should read these letters from Booch, who is on the rode doing a grate job for us, and you should go out and do like he done."

A Father's Duty

Look ahead and never backward,
Enter the past in mem'ry's wake;
Make stepping stones for climbing upward
Of all your failures and mistakes.
Be the first sheet, not the carbon,
Be forever in advance,
Do not follow, be a leader:
Take the lead at every chance.
Blaze a trail your son can follow,
Without fear he'll go astray,
Make him proud to call you Father,
Leave no boulders in his way.
Make the records that you leave him
Straight and clean for him to face.
Leave no stains for him to cover,
Leave him nothing to erase.
Be in shape to push him upward,
Give him knowledge you have gained.
Lavish on him education
Which he'll master if well trained.
Train him so that he'll be fitted
For the most exalted chair;
Fit yourself so when he's ready
You'll be in shape to put him there.

Several from district attend Guelph Farm Safety conference

Farm Safety Leadership in 1962 was the theme of the Farm Safety Conference held in Guelph at the Ontario Agricultural College, where about 350 delegates from all counties in Ontario attended the annual meeting in the Macdonald Institution Building. Laurence Doble Uxbridge, chairman of the Farm Safety Council of Ontario spoke to the gathering.

The fourth Safety Farm Conference marked another milestone in Safety Education among the rural people of Ontario.

Judging from the reports received at Zone Conferences' it was felt that considerable progress is being made by the county and district Safety Councils across the province.

The objective of the Farm Safety Conference is (a) Focusing attention on the extreme urgency of the farm safety problem; (b) Mobilizing effective public support for farm accident prevention activities; (c) Encouraging organized rural groups to develop farm safety programs.

Speakers at the first session of the conference were Laurence Doble, chairman, giving the address welcome.

Greetings from the O.A.C. by J. D. MacLachlan, President of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, and T.R. Hilliard, Assistant Deputy Minister of Agricultural Parliament Bldgs., Toronto.

The speaker for the Tuesday morning session was Dr. W. R. Mitchell, Director of Extension Ontario Veterinary College, Guelph. He chose for his subject, "What Does Safety Mean To You?" Many definitions were given as different people rose to their feet to respond.

"Safety is to live diligently, this means living wisely and with patience. Safety is man's desire to live his allotted time", etc.

The afternoon session speaker was Mrs. Gerald Holder, secretary-treasurer, Federated Women's Institute of Ontario.

"Bring safety in the home" was her theme. "It's hard to change a lifetime habit of carelessness", she said, "but this must be done if safety will come to the farm family. Repair the broken steps, keep the junk off of the stairways, etc.

"We have no way of knowing how many people have benefitted from our safety campaign but we must live hopefully in home and country."

Brock Whale, of Foster Advertising Ltd., Toronto, received effective aids to Programming for the Safety Council.

A farm safety skit was presented by Waterloo County, entitled, "Grandpa David sees the Light". This was a skit showing the hazards of poor electrical wiring in the home.

Some very successful farm Safety Projects were presented by 14 counties.

At Wednesday morning's conference session, Dr. Richard G. Pfister, Agricultural Safety Engineer, East Lansing, Michigan, presented "Problems; Projects and Challenges of Farm Safety in Michigan".

"Safety and success", stated Dr. Pfister, go hand and hand, without one the other is no good".

M. A. McMartin, director of Water Safety Service for the Red Cross gave a demonstration on Artificial Respiration, which if practised by several members of the family may save a life.

One of the greatest hazards on the farm and in the home—improper use of electricity, over fusing, etc.—was dealt with by Mr. Grant Webber.

Carelessness and faulty equipment are two of the greatest causes of farm fires which costs $3 million per year. So stated Fred C. Anderson of the Ontario Fire Marshal's office "Lack of water to fight fires, he went on to say, is the greatest hindrance, which could be corrected by the farm pond or an Emergency Resevoir which would hold approximately 3000 gallons of water for extinguishers hung in convenient places can prevent the starting of a very serious fire.

W. P. Watson, was in charge of the presentation of the Farm Safety Council of Ontario Crest competition awards which went to: Ontario County $50, Victoria County—$30 and Wellington County—$15. Other counties entered each received $10.

The Victoria County crest was presented under auspices Powles Corners Women's Institute, and designed by Hugh Mooney of Powles Corners.

Guest speaker at the conference banquet was Dr. Rodney Bolender, Executive Secretary, Canadian Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. Entertainment by the Haldimand County Junior Farmer Quartet.

Those attending from this district were Agricultural Representative LeRoy Brown, Lindsay; Joe E. Nesbitt, Glenarm, Secretary of Woodville Mrs. Gratton Curtis, Fenelon Falls and Mrs. Royce Naylor, Cameron.

Joe E. Nesbitt was elected to the executive committee for 1962.

Victoria County's new sheriff—Major Everett Scott—got a rather cool reception when he reported for duty this morning. It wasn't that retiring sheriff Capt. Jasper Forman or his staff weren't pleased to see him or anything like that—they were delighted. But the new heating unit in the county building chose this particular day to cool out. It began to warm up to the situation just before noon and by that time the building's office workers a chilling experience.

Anyone crossing the border between Victoria and Haliburton, northern Highway controller 35, would be well advised to lighten the foot on the accelerator just as they cross the line . . . Extremely treacherous icing conditions prevail from there on.

Lindsay Little Theatre is about to make its debut with three plays—a mystery comedy and drama—in Lindsay's oldest theatrical setting. The Academy Theatre is yielding up scenery used in stage production there many years ago but it will look like new when it appears in use on March 3rd when the group presents its three-play bill in the crew, armed with paint and brushes, is going to work on the scenery next Saturday afternoon.

A widely known parliamentarian will be the Lindsay Canadian Club's next guest speaker . . . M. J. Coldwell is the man. More about this later.

Still on the subject of people to visit Lindsay shortly, Richard D. Jones, national executive director, Canadian Council of Christians and Jews will address the Brotherhood Week luncheon of the Lindsay Kiwanis Club . . . Pictures of both Mr. Coldwell and Mr. Jones to follow.

The Liberal Party is also reported to be preparing to put one of its more prominent members on Lindsay's visiting list. It could be leader Lester B. Pearson, Paul Martin or J. W. Pickersklll.

Things are no longer going to be free and easy at the town dump . . . No sir, the palmy days when a fellow could work the clock around and no one bothered him again, are a thing of the past . . .

Lindsay's Council, meeting in committee this week, decreed that the dump must . . . It must have stated hours for closing up shop. After some deliberation, it was decided to allow people wishing to use the dump two hours longer to get there during the warm weather months than in the winter. An 8.00 p.m. closing time was set for April 1st, the period extending roughly to Daylight Saving Time and a 6.00 deadline during the Eastern Standard Time period.

In the rush to get the closing hours established, the hours of opening almost got overlooked until one member of council remarked on the fact. But even didn't have much success in getting any hours of opening schedule set up . . . In fact he didn't have any - It was decided that this presented no problem.

The absence of an official "hours of opening" schedule for the dump is reported to be causing considerable speculation among a number of people who use it occasionally. They say they are wondering if the dump automatically reopens as soon as it is closed under the arrangement which stipulates only closing hours. One thoughtful soul even went so far as to speculate on the legality of re-opening the dump at all once it had been closed down on any given night. Said he with a knowing look in his eye "This looks as though it could develop into a closed shop to me."

From this it can be seen that the life of the keeper of a dump is not always an easy one . . . It, too, can become complicated.

POPULAR VALENTINE GIFT PLANTS

One of the most popular gift plants for Valentine's is the Azalea. It is a shrubby evergreen that produces white pink, lavender or red blooms.

Here are some tips from horticulturists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture on their care.

If you are given an azalea, place it in an east window at a temperature of 55° to 60°F. if possible. This will keep the plant flowering for a maximum length of time. Azaleas like plenty of water, so water your plant well, once a day. It is a good idea to stand the pot in water for 20 to 30 minutes once a week.

If you want to carry your plant over to next year, here's what to do. After blooming, repot in an acid medium using mostly peat and a little soil. Do not use any alkali sand. This is important to the azalea is an acid-loving plant, and will die if the soil becomes alkaline.

After the danger of frost is past, the plant may be placed in acid soil or peat outdoors and kept in partial shade. If you wish to grow your plant as or pinch back scraggly growth this should be done prior to June 15th.

During the summer, feed every two weeks with one ounce of ammonia sulphate and one ounce of iron sulphate to 3 gallons of water. When fall approaches the plant is to be forced and store it in a light place at 45°F. In January move to a temperature of 60°F. with good light.

Sink Stains

For general or unidentified stains in your sink, put the stopper in the drain and fill the sink at bedtime with a mixture of vinegar and laundry bleach. In the morning, pull out the plug, and the chances are the stains will gurgle down the drain with the liquid.

Avoid Blisters

If new shoes feel as though they're going to rub blisters on your heels, heat them to the punch by putting strips of adhesive tap on your heels before the blisters arise, instead of after. That should keep them from arising at all.

Keep 'Em Fresh!

Place an apple, which has been cut in two, in the breadbox, and your bread and cake will stay fresh for a much longer time.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

Q. What can I do if my ballpoint pen begins skipping and seems to have run out of ink sooner than it should?

A. Try heating it by holding the point for a minute against a lighted electric light bulb. This has the effect of softening the ink which may have hardened inside. Be careful about this process, however, since too much heat might soften the plastic case of your pen.

Q. How can I prevent eggs from bursting when hard-boiling them?

A. The eggs will not burst if one end of each egg is pricked with a needle before placing in the water. This makes an outlet for air and prevents the shell from cracking.

Q. How can I rewhiten the yellow bone handles of some of my cutlery?

A. You can whiten these considerably if you rub them with a cloth wet with peroxide of hydrogen. Rinse in clear water, and dry with a soft cloth.

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

Almost all cuts of lamb are tender and adapted to dry heat methods of cooking, according to the Ontario Department of Agriculture. For minimum shrinkage and maximum flavor, cook lamb at a low temperature — say 325 degrees F.

Not all flours are the same, according to the Ontario Department of Agriculture. They are milled from different varieties of wheat for different types of baking. Cake and pastry flours are much better than other kinds for cake making.

For more nutritious menus combine one meal-day's three meals as a unit, suggests the Food Department of Macdonald Institute, Guelph. This will mix results in soggy layers at the bottom. Overmixing toughens the cake.

For more nutritious menus combine one meal-day's three meals as a unit, suggests the Food Department of Macdonald Institute, Guelph. This will mix you are less likely to overlook many of the food groups mentioned in Canada's Food Guide. Be especially careful to include a whole germ cereal and an adequate supply of milk.

HOUSEHOLD SCRAPBOOK
Plant Holder

Two items you ordinarily throw away can be used together to make attractive plant containers. Take a clean tin can and coat the exterior with white shellac. Before the shellac can dry - - and you'll have to be fast - - sprinkle the can with colored eggshells. The result will be an unusually decorated plant holder. For a colored effect, use a permanent ink or dye on the shell fragments. Eggshells are porous and will hold the color.

Clean Bathtub

Do you have those ring-around-the-bathtub blues? Add a few drops of kerosene to the suds, then watch those telltale markers disappear down the drain like magic.

Skid-Proof Shoes

You won't risk slipping and sliding around in those new shoes if you'll sandpaper the soles. Or try this: Rub a little linseed oil on the soles.

Q. How can I remove some perfume stains from my clothes?

A. Try wetting the spot with water, then working on it with glycerin and a piece of cheesecloth, and rinsing with water. If traces of the stain remain, soak the fabric for a minute in a 20 per cent solution of acetic acid (or vinegar), and flush it out again with water.

To clean a velvet dress, brush off as much dust as you can with a soft brush, then turn the dress inside out and hang it in the bathroom while you take a hot shower. After the dress has been steamed in this fashion, let it dry completely before you handle it again. Ashmore, County Engineer, H.

Lindsay's public rest rooms wouldn't entirely disappear, Mayor assures the citizens

Lindsay's public rest rooms wouldn't disappear entirely if the town decides to move police headquarters into the building.

That was the word from Mayor Joseph Holtom at last night's council committee meeting.

The assurance came after Town Property Chairman Joseph Hutton remarked that there might be some difficulty encountered in locating the police station there as a result of some comments which had appeared in the local press.

Mr. Hutton found allayed some of Mr. Hutton's fears when he noted that while he understood the county had made a grant toward the rest rooms' construction, he didn't think this gave it any control over them.

Mayor Holtom observed: "We're not taking the washroom facilities away - - there will still be washroom accommodation."

Mr. Hutton: "I wish some sections of the press would get their facts straight before printing something."

A recommendation for moving the police station into the rest rooms had been brought forward by Town Property Chairman Joseph Hutton. He said his committee had spent considerable time discussing the renovation of the town hall and had decided that the first move would be to shift the police station from its present offices on the west of the main town hall into the washrooms on the east side of the town hall.

Police Chairman Robert Payne said this new area had more space and that plans had been drawn up for the renovation of the building.

Councillor Mel DeGroat concurred in the report and moved that the police station be moved to the washroom.

Further discussion followed on the renovation and reallotment of offices on the main floor of the town hall.

Councillor Joseph Hutton said the town hall was an old building and that something had to be done to improve it. "The outside needs a face lifting and the offices inside need more space, especially the assessment office.'

Mr. Finney was asked to check the basement and suggest possible renovations there. Mr. Hutton said the fire report on that area was very bad. "The major area was that the boiler room. It has been suggested that this area be enclosed. Mr. Finney is looking into the situation."

Further discussion came when Mayor Holtom said he thought that this was a move in the right direction. "I understand that there are many necessary repairs that must be made," he stated. "It would appear that moving the police quarters to the washrooms would be utilizing space. It appears that well over half of the building is used for loitering at the present time." Mr. Hutton added: "75%".

Some objections have been raised about taking the washrooms out. It was stated, however, that new washrooms would be built in a different location, but that loitering space would be reduced to a minimum.

Caretaker of dump fired, set "hours of closing"

The caretaker of Lindsay's municipal dump has been relieved of his duties. A letter to this effect will be sent to Jack Byng informing him that his services with the town will terminate on March 1st, 1962.

Considerable discussion has centered around the caretaker during the last few days. Councillor Joseph Hutton told town council last week that he had received complaints of Mr. Byng swearing at people coming in to dump waste materials and that it was about time something was done about stopping it . . . "He has to go", the councillor declared at that time.

In the interval, the town property committee has met and Mr. Hutton, as its chairman, brought in a recommendation last night that Mr. Byng be relieved of his duties. Mr. Shack he has been living in on dump property and notified that his services are no longer required. Date set for vacating the shack was March 1st. The recommendation was adopted withoutu opposition.

Councillor Hutton specified that Mr. Byng be notified of the committee's decision by a letter.

"I'm not going up there to tell him", he declared.

The councillor also said he had talked to Mr. Byng about one complaint and two weeks later the thing came up again. He said he had told Mr. Byng to get in touch with him if there was any trouble.

A suitable replacement for Mr. Byng was discussed after the councillor's recommendation was adopted. Mr. Hutton said that a person had offered to be caretaker of the dump "for free", just asking that he could salvage some of the scrap iron thrown there. Mr. Hutton said this gentleman told him he would do a good job and that if in six months his work did not please the council, he could be released.

Council Russell Taylor wondered why it wouldn't be practical to increase the general contract of the garbage collector (now $18,500 and make him responsible . . . "he could engage his own caretaker".

Mayor Joseph Holtom, after learning that it cost $400 per year to bulldoze the dump, asked "Why do we need a caretaker?"

Reeve Found, observing that there had been a lot of talk about the $12 a week Mr. Byng had earned said: "Let's talk about how much he makes on salvage . . . I suspect he enjoys his existence very much and makes far more than we can imagine."

It was also brought out during the discussion that the building presently occupied by Mr. Byng is not town property.

ZELLER'S PRESIDENT SCOTCHES RUMOUR

"NO FOUNDATION WHATSOEVER" CHIEF EXECUTIVE DECLARES

Lindsay not THE "medium-size town" in which first new store to open

"No foundation whatsoever."

Those are the words the president of Zeller's Ltd. used to bluntly scotch a published rumour that the firm has purchased the Sylvester Steel Products Co. Ltd. property in Lindsay.

President James G. Kendrick told "The Post" that any reports to the effect that his company has purchased the Sylvester property "have no foundation whatsoever." He enlarged on this by saying that nothing approximating finalization of the purchase of a site for a new Zeller's outlet in Lindsay has transpired.

Mr. Kendrick said that since the company operated a store in Lindsay it was naturally interested in the town. "Lindsay, along with several other communities, is included in frequent surveys by the company," he disclosed.

Asked if the "medium size Ontario town" referred to in the published rumour referred to Lindsay, Mr. Kendrick said: "Lindsay isn't that town." He declined to name the town because there were a few details which hadn't been finalized yet.

Those are the words Mr. Kendrick's remarks parallel those made a couple of weeks ago by Zeller's real estate department manager Richard Marvell. At that time, Mr. Marvell said the company would like to think in terms of expanded facilities at Lindsay, but that there were no immediate plans for either enlarging the present store or moving to a new location. He indicated that the firm would be pleased to receive coverage of any decision to expand at Lindsay if it should come about, but there was nothing to report at this time.

Three Looking

G. K. MacDuffee, head of Sylvester Steel Products Co. Ltd., Lindsay, said at least three firms - including Zeller's Ltd. - had held talks concerning purchase of the property but that absolutely nothing had come of them yet. "We shouldn't be surprised to make an announcement if there were anything to announce," he declared. Mr. MacDuffee also said that should the company dispose of its property, it would simply locate elsewhere in Lindsay - "There's no thought of leaving town", he declared.

Town within its rights, HEPC assessment appeal dismissed by judge

Victoria County Judge John C.N. Currelly has ruled that Lindsay was within its rights in assessing property occupied by the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission on the corner of Eglington and Lindsay Street north. He dismissed the appeal in County Court Wednesday.

The case arose when the Hydro Commission objected to the town valuing a building it had erected in the assessment of the property it leased. Their assessment appeal was brought under the Power Commission Act which states that property of the hydro is exempt from tax under the Assessment Act. The Assessment Act states that buildings are considered land.

Town Solicitor Joseph Staples presented Lindsay's case and said that the Town assessor Don Tofflemire was not assessing Hydro but the owner of the land.

The property used by the Hydro Commission is owned by Mrs. Cecelia Jackson, who leases the property to them. However, under the lease it states that the tenant must assume the payment of the taxes.

Mr. Tofflemire assessed he building and the land at $4,400 because the erection of the building has improved the land. The argument was that the town was only assessing the owner of the land and that this building wasn't the type of building contemplated in the Power Commission Act.

The building on the property is used for offices, warehouse and storage.

Judge Currelly dismissed the appeal.

CMHC rejects Lindsay's low rental housing

The official word from Toronto is that the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has rejected a proposed low rental housing project for Lindsay. This was confirmed by A. D. Wilson, the regional supervisor for the company in Toronto.

In a telephone interview with "The Post", Mr. Wilson said that the entire plan had been under careful study by the company and the recommendation had been sent to the Department of Commerce and Development some time ago.

We advised Mr. Lockhart's organization that CMHC had officially rejected the plan because there was no indication that such a project was needed in Lindsay," Mr. Wilson stated.

Mr. Wilson said his department had given considerable attention and study to the matter. He stated that Central Mortgage had a housing unit already in Lindsay and said that the need for housing of this type was not apparent. "When we made the study, there was no waiting list for the low rental housing already there. I don't see how a new 10 unit housing project would operate under those conditions."

However, Mr. Wilson did agree that conditions could change, but that in the period of time between the survey and now wouldn't make too much difference.

Government Project

The project is under the direction of H. W. Suters of the Housing Branch of the Ontario Department of Commerce and Development. Mr. Suters told "The Post" in a telephone conversation that the project was still under consideration by the provincial government.

"However, the federal government advised that in view of the small response the project should not be continued."

The option on the property in Lindsay is still being maintained and will be kept until the expiration date of February 15th.

H. S. Luckhart, also of the Commerce and Development Department, said that he had obtained the option on the property from Kawartha Construction Company Ltd., and that as far as he knew, the project was still on. "I have heard no word that it has been officially cancelled," he commented.

Local Company

Russell Taylor, owner of the Kawartha Construction Co. Ltd., said the property is on option to the Department of Commerce and Development, but that he had no official word from them. He did say that he had extended their option until February 15th.

"I feel however, that in view of the fact that a small response was shown in questionnaires which were sent around, there is a definite need for a low rental housing unit in Lindsay. I have people coming in every day asking where there is a house to rent. The trouble is, they don't want to wait two or three months for one."

Mr. Taylor said he was hopeful that the project would go through, not because his company owned the property but because there is a need for low rental housing in this town.

"HOT" ICE

An unusual situation and happening developed at the local curling rink Wednesday when two large salamanders were placed in action, one at each end of the ice sheet in an effort to reduce the temperature from sub-zero to 32 degrees. The oil burning salamanders were used to produce heat which was blown across the ice by fans so the ice-maker could remove quantities of the shell ice and holes around the hacks. The games in the British Consul competition were called off on Wednesday to be resumed at a later date. It is understood that the shell ice was caused by zero weather. Following a flooding the ice froze faster from the surface down than the pipes upwards.

Lindsay Bible Society branch holding its annual rally

The annual rally of the Lindsay Bible Society Branch will be held on Sunday evening in Queen Street United Church, at 7 o'clock, when the various congregations of Lindsay will join to hear the special guest speaker, the Reverend R. J. Heuer, B.A., B.D., Visual Aids Production Secretary of the Canadian Bible Society. Mr. Heuer, who has just completed a tour of the Far East visiting countries in preparation for the production of more Bible Society films, has an "eyewitness" story to tell of present day conditions in those countries, particularly as they affect the work of Christian Missions. The meeting will be under the chairmanship of Mr. Ernest Eakins, who is the President of the Local Branch, with other clergy taking part, including the Bay of Quinte district Secretary, the Reverend C. R. Rudd.

"The Bible Society" a Lindsay representative says, "is faced with a tremendous challenge today, since the demand for the Christian Scriptures far exceeds all that it is able to supply. The past year was a record year for production and distribution, and therefore one of great expenditure, but at the same time there is a continuing sense of frustration as requests come in, particularly from missionaries, which cannot be met. To meet many situations the Society has undertaken special projects in various parts of the world, and these the Canadian Society helps part."

Cannington mail carrier covers 160,000 miles in 20 years, honoured on retirement

Cannington (PNS)— With 20 years of service behind him, Wm. R. Wakelin has retired as mail carrier on mail route two out of Cannington Post Office.

During that time Mr. Wakelin has given the patrons on his route, faithful and efficient service and covered his route on days only the mailman would ever go through.

The box holders on rural route two from "the swamp to the town line" honoured Mr. Wakelin with a get-together and euchre in the I.O.O.F. hall. Attending were some 40 families on this section of his route. Mr. James Patton read an address and presented Mr. Wakelin with a mantel radio and a gold wrist watch on behalf of the group mentioned. Mr. Wakelin took over the mail route from the late Uriah Rogers in the fall of 1941, retiring at the end of 1961. During that time he only missed four days taking the mail outside of statutory holidays and that was a few years ago during a heavy snowstorm, the train being marooned in a snowbank near Woodville.

In addition to his mail route Mr. Wakelin had the contract for taking the mail to the station for 15 years, meeting the four mail trains daily. Now there are no mail trains, for no passenger service. How times have changed!

Once during the 15 years, Mr. Wakelin had to take the registered mail to Toronto on shank's mare as the town roads were so heavy a car couldn't get through. During the 20 years, Mr. Wakelin has travelled nearly 160,000 miles carrying mail.

Mr. Wakelin says there has been a lot of changes on his route in the 20 years, the box holders have increased, farms have changed hands, at least 15 families have moved into Cannington to retire. The roads are in much better condition and better plowed in winter.

In the early days Mr. Wakelin would use a horse and cutter to deliver the mail on the side roads and then use the car on his highway route.

During the heavy schedule of mail delivery in 20 years, Mr. Wakelin still found time to coach baseball and hockey games of which he is an ardent supporter and Sunday found him a regular attendant at the United Church where he is an elder.

Managed C of C at Lindsay, gets Yukon appointment

Jack ("Curly") Gibson, who up until 18 months ago was manager of Lindsay Chamber of Commerce, has been appointed first director of travel and publicity for the government of the Yukon Territories. He will take up his appointment there March 15.

Mr. Gibson moved to Lindsay from Peterborough where he had been a representative for a distillery for a number of years.

He held the office of secretary-manager of Lindsay Chamber of Commerce for a year before moving to Chatham to take up a similar position.

It is understood his move from Chatham has been motivated by health reasons.

Mr. Gibson announced his resignation from Chatham Chamber of Commerce this week.

Mr. Gibson and his wife, Rita, have two children, a boy, Billy, and a girl, Diane. Mrs. Gibson comes from the Apsley area.

Ed May, who held the Lindsay chamber secretaryship prior to Mr. Gibson, later became industrial commissioner of Cornwall and late last year moved to Trenton, N.J., to head that city's industrial promotion activities.

Adds To Trend

Royal dressmaker Hardy Amies has added to the trend of Spring fashions with his shapely and flattering London showing. His new collection of well-tailored clothes has the waist and bust clearly defined and the knees were well hidden. Amies summed up the look in these words — "short, sharp, shaped and yel low."

The Hemline

The news in fashion is from Paris where spring shows have unveiled the works of designers such as Chanel, Capucci, Dior. The big question is whether the hemline will rise or fall. "Coco" Chanel put her stamp of approval on short dresses just covering the knees. Dior took a middle of the road approach by dropping the hemline just below the knee. However the models who showed Dior's line showed a bit more leg than the designer bargained for.

Beach Shelters

In beach wear fashions — Beach shelters. From simple little dresses to be worn over swim suits. There are two basic styles. One is the narrow, knee-length shift. Then there's the tent silhouette. Many have a brief, jumpsuit effect. They have a front zipper for a quick wrapping-up after a swim. Colors are bright—the brighter the better.

Head Hunt

Your husband may be the object of a head hunt. And if he is . . . the best policy is to keep a cool one on your shoulders. Head hunting is a term applied to the work of management consultants. They're the go-betweens who lure executives from successful positions to more successful positions somewhere else. They contact a man at home. And that's where the wife comes in. The expert says the wife often becomes the communications center for months of negotiation. Samuel Beach . . . partner in Beach and Hunt . . . a specialist in executive placement . . . says the wife's reactions are important to a company seeking a new executive. He advises the wife to keep calm . . . and keep an open mind about change. And . . . he says . . . wait until the deal is sure before telling the neighbors or packing your bags.

Canada's top fashion editors gather in Montreal tomorrow to preview the national collection of spring and summer styles for 1962.

The show marks the first all-Canada fashion preview in the history of the 500-million dollar industry. The list of invitations was kept down to less than 100 persons, most of them fashion editors from Victoria, British Columbia to Saint John, New Brunswick.

The fashion houses whose styles will be on display have commonly agreed to stay away from the show to prevent possible plagiarism. The industry is one where style cribbing by competitors can spell seasonal doom to a manufacturer.

The show is being presented by a neutral party, the Union Label Department of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union. The Union's 20-thousand members are employees of the industry across Canada.

Styles from Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Edmonton and Vancouver will be shown in tomorrow's preview, representing a fraction of the hundreds of manufacturers whose apparel carries the I-L-G-W-U Label.

Ready-to-wear fashions ranging from cotton dresses to the most exotic evening gowns the . . . from coats and suits to the latest in swim-suits . . . will be previewed in the show. The national collection will give fashion editors a chance to see the kind of clothes that the average Canadian woman will be wearing in the year ahead.

Plans call for the show to become a bi-annual event.

Two appointments made by council

Two appointments were made by the Lindsay Council at their meeting Monday night. The first was that of a full time zoning administrator and the second was the new tax collector.

Members said they felt that because of the close relationship between the office of building inspector and that of the zoning administrator, they would appoint C.D. Newbigging to both positions.

With this new appointment the acting-Zoning Administrator J. Ellam, will step down from the office.

1962 tax collector is Town Clerk Bud Bates. This move was made because of the change in offices by the Welfare Department. Mr. Fran Williamson has been the tax collector for some years. but his office as welfare administrator have been moved from the Town Hall to the upstairs of the Post Office.

Mrs. Ross Davidson addresses WI

Bethany (PNS) — Mrs. Earl McQuaid was hostess for the meeting of the Bethany Women's Institute, chaired by Mrs. Addison Scott.

Mrs. Ross Davidson gave an interesting talk on "The Pioneer Life Duplicated in Upper Canada Village", which is situated in Chysler Farm Battlefield Park, on the St. Lawrence River, east of Morrisburg. "The Park itself commemorates the men who fought in the Battle of Crysler's Farm in 1813. It included a Pioneer Memorial Ground, a walled, landscaped enclosure built of brick and stone taken from the pioneer homes, churches and schools that were demolished when the St. Lawrence Seaway project was undertaken. In the walls are mounted three hundred fragile tombstones taken from more than a hundred cemeteries and representing pioneer families identified with early settlements. When you pass through the 1850 toll-gate into Upper Canada Village, you step back about 100 years and more into Ontario's past and find the life of typical Canadian village as they existed during the first years of the last century. All of the forty or more buildings — homes, Indian habitations, churches, Mills, Forges and Shops have been relocated in the Village from their original sites in the St. Lawrence Valley, and all have been restored or refurnished with painstaking accuracy and attention to details."

Mrs. T. J. Jackson gave comments on the evening's motto "A wise Nation must preserve its records" Mrs. R. Carr gave a poem "The Legend of St. Valentine".

In conjunction with all other Women's Institutes across Canada, the group listened to a Farm Forum Radio Broadcast over CBL with the topic "Technical and Vocational Training". Questions discussed were "Are We Falling Short of Training Needed for the Space Years Ahead?" "Should Remain on the Farm?" "How Can It Be Provided?" "What Kind of Retraining Programs Would Be Useful for Farmers Who Are Leaving the Land?"

Some suggestions made by the group which will be forwarded to the Farm Forum were that technical training should begin in lower grades in the schools, possibly grade nine; that there would be a standardization of schooling among the provinces; more schools in outlaying centres reaching a standard of educational trades; credits for each completed subject; more

Advent of new men's wear store recalls clothing store history

There are now eight men's wear stores in Lindsay and a new one is about to be opened next month by Selkirk Men's Shop of Peterborough. Of the eight stores now here only two handle boys' clothing, all of which brings to light some interesting historical facts concerning stores, proprietors and employees.

One of the oldest clothing stores is at the corner of Kent and Yorks Streets, now owned by Harold Wood. One of the earliest owners was M. J. Carter who employed salesmen by the name of Tim Yorke, Chic O'Leary and Harvey Martin. The late Wm. Miller was also for a time engaged in the same store. Harvey Martin is now living retired in Montreal.

A. J. McBride followed M. J. Carter and for some years the late Fred Quibell was head salesman. Later on the present owner, Harold Wood, purchased the business. He was for several years a clerk in the store.

The business now operated by W. E. Ferguson is one of the oldest in Lindsay and was at one time operated by the late Ed C. Armstrong, who was followed by the late Leo Rogers and some years later by W. E. Kelcher. Mr. Ferguson was for many years associated in the business in the Sutcliffe store along with A. B. Parrish and F. M. Sutcliffe.

Many citizens look backward to the day when B. J. Gough was called "the King of Cloth ners". His store being at the corner of Kent and William Street where the Victoria and Grey Company is now located. The Gough staff included Ernie Edwards, W. E. Kelcher, Eric McKay, Joe Cain and others. This business was later taken over by M. J. Dedman, now living in Toronto and his chief clerk was Leo Maxsom.

Men's clothing history in Lindsay was also made by the old firm of Dundas and Melville, now the T. Eaton Company Ltd's Lindsay branch and some of the able clerks at the time included Harry Brimmell, Ed Armstrong, H. E. Mellen, Dominic Curtin, Hilton Brown, Frank Brimmell and others. Jack Fullerton of minstrel show fame in Lindsay, was also a member of the staff of D and F.

Houzer's two stores were founded by the late J. Houzer who at one time operated a men's store which was located where the Century Theatre now stands. Messrs. Harold Gilson and Keith Morden have been successfully identified with the store at the corner of Kent and Lindsay street for many years while Henry Houzer manages the store next door to the Lindsay Coal Co. offices.

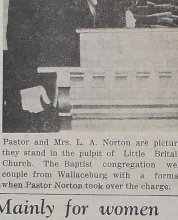

Messrs. Harry and Frank Brimmell were in partnership in the men's wear business for several years with a store located in the premises now occupied by the Reward Shoe Store. Frank Brimmell conducted a business in Peterborough for a time and father and son also owned a clothing store in Brockville.

Claxton's men's and boys' clothing department was for some years managed by W. E. Kelcher and later by Leo Rogers until his death. For several years past the clothing department has been managed by the capable and popular George Hildenbrand. Previous to returning to Lindsay, Mr. Hildenbrand owned and operated the Fashion Craft store in Peterborough, a store which was one of the finest in the electric city. He started his clothing career in Lindsay and was for some time identified with the Ed Armstrong store, having also had experience in Guelph, Detroit and Toronto.

Brownies Men's Wear store operated by H. H. Brown & Son was established by J. M. Fee, who for many years was a boy scout leader. For a number of years he was attached to the Eaton store in Lindsay. Mr. Fee opened up his first store in Lindsay in a part of what is now the Tangney store block and H. H. Brown was associated with Mr. Fee at the time.

Nastiness instilled in children before they're two days old

A Toronto social scientist says modern society installs nastiness in children before they're two days old. W. B. Trimble, Director of the Social Science Department at Toronto's Ryerson Institute of Technology . . . says the first thing we do with a new-born child is wash it and put it in a glass box all by itself. And in school-in his words--"We encourage a competition for marks with goals that only one can achieve and the expense of others . . . and we attach shame to those who lose."

Proclamation

President Kennedy has issued a proclamation designating the week of March 18th as National Poison Prevention Week. This week is designed to remind parents and other adults to protect children against accidental poisoning. Mr. Kennedy says such accidents-in his words-take a "substantial toll of lives each year . . . especially among very young children". And he says with proper protection--again in the President's words--"virtually all deaths attributable to this cause could be prevented."

The Russian Language

The chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission has advised young science students to study the Russian language. Chairman Glenn Seaborg addressed the sixth annual science Youth Day Rally dinner of the Thomas Edison Foundation in Cincinnati. He said students aiming at science careers should take all the mathematics offered by the high school . . . and become proficient in English. He said German and French now are standard language choices for

New Sheriff Takes Office Here Monday

Former Premier pays tribute to appointee

Major Everett Scott has been officially named Sheriff of Victoria County.

The Hon. L. M. Frost announced Thursday night that he had just received confirmation of Major Scott's appointment as successor to Mr. Jasper Forman.

Recalling that Major Scott had been present on the Normandy beaches on D-Day, Mr. Frost said he had a fine war record and has done an excellent job as a mail carrier. "I am sure he will have thousands of well-wishers as he takes over his new position," the former premier declared.

The new sheriff is a native of Lindsay, being born here on March 29th., 1905. He took all his schooling here, and has worked here most of his life, except for his war service.

Mr. Scott took his elementary education at Alexandra Public School in the North Ward and continued his high school training at Lindsay Collegiate Institute. Upon his graduation from Grade 13, he joined the Lindsay Post Office in the capacity of mail carrier for the Royal Mail contract. This work consisted of delivering mail to the stations, and picking up letters from the mail boxes.

In 1936, he became a letter carrier with the post office. He married in 1937, taking the former Lilian Parks of Belleville for his wife.

In 1939, Mr. Scott joined the 45th Wellington Battery in Lindsay and left for training on September 11th., 1939. He was in the army for six years, serving with many units, but always with the Royal Canadian Artillery.

On D-Day, Mr. Scott was among the many who stormed the beaches of Normandy with the 3rd. Anti-Tank Regiment. The attack took the regiment through to Germany. He was discharged from the army on August 11th., 1945 with the rank of major. He enlisted as a gunner.

Upon his return to Lindsay after the war, Mr. Scott took up his duties at the post office, only as supervisor of the letter carriers. He remained a member of the local militia, and became officer - commanding of the armouries in 1948 in which position he served until 1957, when he resigned from duty.

Mr. Scott is an active member of many lodges in Lindsay. He is a member of the Sir Sam Hughes Branch No. 67 of the Royal Canadian Legion, and was secretary in 1946 and 1947. He is a Past Master of the Faithful Brethren Lodge No. 77, Masonic Brethren and a second principal of the Midland Chapter of the Royal Arch Masons. He is also a past officer of the Lindsay Lodge 100, Independent Order of Oddfellows.

Mr. Scott, in his spare time, is an enthusiastic gardener, and has won many prizes and plaques for the best seed holding under the Veteran's Land Act. He said his hobby is gardening, especially in bush fruits, such as raspberries. He said he also likes growing flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott have two children, both married. They are Everett George Scott of Toronto and Vivian, (Mrs. Ross Smith), of R. R. 2 Lindsay. They have five grandchildren, Lorrie and Debbie Scott and Kenny, Ronnie and Marlene Smith.

Mr. Scott said he was deeply honoured to be asked to accept the position of County Sheriff and will take over the office on Monday next.

Hiring procedure changed when commissioner protests; permanent committee formed

A change has been made in the procedure involved in hiring new staff by the Lindsay Water Commission.

A committee will now review all applications and recommend the appointments.

The change came last week when Water Commissioner Duncan Sinclair told the commission he didn't know what was going on in connection with the hiring of a caretaker for Mrs. Sandercock. It followed the reading of two applications for the clerical job.

After applications had been read from Glen Thomas and William W. Bundscho, Mr. Sinclair recalled how the Bundscho application happened to be there. He said he had been approached by a Kent St. businessman who told him he understood a replacement was going to be needed for Mrs. Sandercock and recommended that Mr. Bundscho be given consideration.

He said a call came from Mr. Bundscho, a former Canadian Arsenals employee, asking for an interview. Mr. Sinclair said he felt it was a commercial matter and recommended that an application be filed with it.

It was noted also that there was a discrepancy in the age of the two applicants - Thomas was 19 and Bundscho, 35. "I feel we should advertise the position," Mr. Sinclair said, adding, "I also think we should get someone of mature years . . . Someone who will assume responsibility." He paid tribute to Mrs. Braunton and said he felt that while she was doing a splendid job, the commission should have someone on the staff who could relieve her of responsibility or even take over on occasion if it became necessary. Mr. Sinclair said the business had grown immensely and he felt the choice of a replacement for Mrs. Sandercock should go to a mature person.

Mayor Holtom, who had previously asked what the commission's personnel policy was, clarified this at this point by saying he meant the whole system, not just the office.

Chairman Maurice Collins said: "These two people - Mrs. Braunton and Mr. Reynolds assume the responsibility."

Mayor Holtom: "Usually in public bodies there is teamwork between management and the elected representatives."

Mrs. Braunton observed that in the case of a replacement for Mrs. Sandercock, she felt someone should be coming along, learning her work because "I won't want to work forever."

Mayor Holtom: "Wouldn't it be a wise act to advertise the position?"

Mr. Sinclair: "The town is bound to grow, we should hire someone who can assume responsibility."

Chairman Maurice Collins said that when the matter of securing a clerical replacement for the office came up, he was under the impression suggested that Mr. Reynolds and Mrs. Braunton go ahead and hire someone on a temporary basis.

After considerable further discussion as to salary (the figures $35 or $36 a week were mentioned), two suggestions were advanced which met with commission approval.

Mayor Holtom suggested setting up a committee to deal with personnel matters and, in the issue at hand, Mr. Reynolds suggested advertising that a junior clerical position was open.

It was decided to advertise and a permanent personnel committee made up of Commissioners Sinclair and Grant, Supt. Robt. Reynolds and Mrs. Laura Braunton was formed.

Recreation Commission elects Herb Simpson 1962 chairman

Lindsay's Recreation Commission has elected a new chairman in Herb Simpson who was just recently appointed to the commission by the Lindsay Council.

Also at the 1962 commission meeting, another new member to the commission, Richard Brien, was elected to the vice-chairmanship.

Sub-Committees

The other major item of business was the formation of several committees. The first of these to be discussed was the finance committee.

It was urged by Mayor Joseph Holtom at Monday night's council meeting, that the commission get better control over if they anticipated having their budget ready by February 15th.

A finance committee was set-up to handle the finances and the setting of the 1962 budget. Members appointed were Fred Emerson and Austin Street.

Recreation Arena

A lengthy discussion followed the suggestion that something should be done about remodelling the arena. It was decided to set-up a sub-committee to look into the possibilities of doing work of this sort. Herb Simpson, Richard Brien and John Traver were appointed to the committee to investigate remodelling of the arena.

A liason committee with the Sports Field Committee was appointed and their duties were set out. This committee, of them were suggested in the report.

At this same meeting, Chairman Maurice Collins explained to new commissioner member Murray Grant that the Water Commission was the only Lindsay body of elected representatives which hasn't increased its meeting fees . . . They still stood at $8 per meeting he pointed out. Council and Hydro Commission upped their fees to $12 per meeting some time ago.

NOTICED . . . along the way

THAT

A report that Lindsay's public rest rooms are being considered as a possible new location for the police department has brought some reaction . . . Mostly in opposition to the idea.

A former town official says he doesn't think the town can sail ahead with the idea . . . "I think", said he, "you will find out the town didn't entirely finance that project . . . If you check up you'll probably discover the county contributed something and so did the Lindsay (maybe others too) Women's Institute."

Another interested citizen said he thought it would be a mistake for Lindsay ever to do away with its rest rooms . . . a lot of people, particularly people from out-of-town would be very annoyed if the town didn't provide this service", he declared.

In the light of these and other observations made when it was hinted that the idea was under consideration, it begins to look as though the path of conversion of the rest rooms may be strewn with pitfalls and other obstacles.

It only requires the suggestion of a change to discover how many people prefer things the way they are.

Archie Wakelin has been taken out of active service in the printing trade for a while.

Team Manager Johnny Tozer says the intermediate "A" (indeed — Bagshaw Lumbermen — would be interested in putting on a little show for Lindsay during the team's visit to Syracuse, N.Y., for games on February 17 and 18. It was suggested that among others things, the town might wish to send one of its flag along with the team for display at the event. The manager also noted that expenses on the trip were going to be fairly high and said any professional services . . . Commissioner D. Sinclair remarked: "This charges are more moderate in Syracuse . . ." "I'll say so" Commissioner Murray Grant agreed.

There's at least one decided advantage in drinking water which has passed through a filtration plant . . . You don't get any Columbola in it . . .

While Lindsay's Water Commission turned out its purest product was grading "A"), it was noted that a private well water report showed it to be grade "C" with Columbola present. It turned out that these were whitish wigglers which thrive in wells under certain conditions. Ways of getting rid

Set wheels in motion to secure new director

The wheels were set into motion by the Recreation Commission Thursday night to secure a recreation director. It was decided that a wide-coverage advertising campaign should be run to get the best man for the job.

The reason for the action was the retirement of Don Church on January 4th., after two years of service.

Five applications have been received for the position thus far, and more are expected, it was disclosed. No action will be taken on hiring until more applications have been received.

Served commission 16 years, resigns for health reasons

It was recalled that Mrs. Sandercock had really served the commission longer than the 16 years continuous employment record which terminated with her resignation.

She had been in its employ before her marriage when the commission offices were located upstairs in the town hall.

Tribute was paid to her excellent record and it was decided to send her a tangible token of the commission's appreciation along with a letter expressing regret at the turn of events.

Following the splendid report of the Water Safety Committee it was decided by the board to try to expand the program considerably, providing enough lifeguards.

Plans for an extra bathroom at the hospital are going forward and the water supply situation has been materially cleared by the installation of a chlorinator.

Regarding the possibility of a blood donor clinic it was decided to try to get groups to go down to Lindsay by car at the time of the clinic there rather than try to have a separate one here.

Due to the very small profit from the annual Valentine Dance the members present debated at some length whether to continue this annual event which entails such a great deal of work for the dance committee. After some discussion it was decided to have this dance again this year and hope for a larger crowd. Many of the board felt it was such a nice social event in Haliburton that it would be sorely missed and the committee hopes for the same co-operation they have always received from everyone in the matter of food and donations for the buffet supper during the dance.

WORKS EMPLOYEES AGAIN SEEK UNIONIZATION

"If men want a union, by all means have it" Works Chairman says

Employees of Lindsay's Board of Works Dept. are reported to have taken the first step towards unionization.

Usually well informed sources told "The Post" late Friday that application has been made to have the National Union of Public Service Employees certified as the Works Dept employees bargaining agent.

Next step in the procedure is reported to be the holding of a vote among employees to determine their recorded wishes. If a sufficient number vote in favor of unionization, certification by the Ontario Labour Relations Board establishes the union as the bargaining agent between employer and employee.

On a previous occasion employees were unionized but after a trial period, a new vote was held and they withdrew in favor of negotiating directly with the town.

One employee said, on being asked about the latest move, that he wasn't aware of any particular grievance — "The boys just seem to think they will have a little more security."

Reeve Lloyd Found, speaking as Works Committee chairman, said he was aware of the move and that there would be no opposition as far as he was concerned. "If the boys want a union, why by all means have it. I am sure no one on the Board of Works will oppose them," Mr. Found declared.

Final inspection second course of national survival unit at Lindsay coming up

Lindsay's second highly successful special militia training course in national survival will be on parade in the Lindsay armoury on Thursday.

The occasion is the final inspection of the second of four courses planned by the Canadian Army to provide 100,000 trained men across Canada in the event of nuclear attack.

Inspecting the 50th Field Regiment, RCA, trainees at 2:30 p.m. will be Brigadier M.E. Clarke, commander, 13 Militia Group Headquarters, Peterborough.

Brigadier Clarke reports interest in the special militia training programme remains high. He said that more than 600 volunteers are already being enrolled for the third course which gets underway February 26 and concludes April 8. Objective for the third course in Eastern Ontario Area is again 1,000.

He said the Army will again urge course graduates to enlist in the militia. Of the 1822 persons who graduated in the first course, 31 per cent enlisted in the militia, including 36 in Lindsay.

Avoids one collision, swerves into another

While trying to avoid a rear-end collision, the driver of a Chevrolet Malibu pulled out, found himself involved in another. Donald Hart, 23, swerved into the opposite lane when the rear-end collision threatened, and collided with a Finney Lumber Co. truck.

Constable Bowes said the Hart vehicle ended up facing in a south-easterly direction. Contact between the two trucks was the right front fender of the Hart vehicle and the left front fender of the lumber truck. Damage has been estimated as $150 to the Hart vehicle and $250 to the lumber truck. No injuries were sustained in the accident.

THAT

Now that the end of another week is nearing and people are wearying of reading the heavier side of the news, here are a few items which may help them who survived last week-end's "end of the world" unwind a bit.

The first has a local setting . . . It comes from "The Post" correspondent in Omemee who usually manages to look on the brighter side of life. He writes as follows:

"We have often heard of "the cow that jumped over the moon", "the bull in a china shop" but it wasn't until this week that we heard of "the goat that got the restaurant keeper's goat". It happened in Omemee and the time was last Friday night. . . The proprietor was all alone when two slightly inebriated strangers entered and ordered a meal. Consternation swung around to the cold weather and one man mentioned that it was "pretty cold on Nanny who was out in the car." Thinking that the cent referred to another human member of the party, the proprietor suggested that "she" be asked to come in and get warm.

Leaving it at that, the restaurant keeper retired to the kitchen to prepare the order. Hearing no absence of the jokers brought in "Nanny". Returning with their order, the proprietor was somewhat surprised to find a goat having a field day in the restaurant. Naturally he ordered his playful customers to get her out but it was later than he now cares to think about.

Other lighter diet in the news is contained in these morsels from the wires of United Press International:

A judge in Folkestone, England, apparently believes that a woman's place is in the kitchen.

Magistrate Percy Gurr ruled that Barbara Cairns cannot become the wife of Eric Goldjack until she learns how to cook. Judge Gurr said – "you don't expect young husbands to live on tins of sardines."

Comedian Max Wall knows when he is licked.

Wall admitted he walked off the stage in a London night spot because, as he explains it "Nobody was prepared to listen."

A name isn't everything.

That was evident this week when a San Antonio court granted an annulment to Shirley and Salvador Love.

Fair Board issues statement on Chamber of Commerce Merchants' Building contract

Lindsay Central Exhibition has issued a statement concerning its contract with the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce.

Circumstances leading up to the contract, the conditions of the contract, and subsequent developments are contained in the following statement issued by the fair board:

In 1957 when the building in question became available for commercial exhibition it was known as the "Automotive Building".

"The manager of the Chamber of Commerce at that time approached the exhibition board to consider renting the building to the Chamber of Commerce. The chamber had two thoughts in mind; one, that it rent the building in the existing condition; and the other, that the exhibition board rewire the building, install divisers and the outside walls be backed with composition board.

"The Chamber of Commerce manager and his committee came back with a proposal to be brought before the Board, which was endorsed, that they would rent the building on a five-year term in its existing condition at $1,000 for the first year and an increase of $100 per year thus giving a gross profit over five years of at least $4500.00 and each year a portion of this profit was to be spent in bringing up the interior to the plane which they had adopted themselves such as rewiring, installing dividers and lining the outside walls to a medium height plus a ceiling if possible. The only money that actually was spent on this programme was in 1957.

"There was also a verbal agreement that the board would rent the building for the other 31 weeks for $300.00 should this Chamber want to promote year around activities. In the spring of 1958 they held a Sportsman's Show with a reasonable degree of success. The board being most interested in seeing more use of the facilities, it was agreed the Chamber would not be charged for the use of the building that year. They paid only for the hydro used. In regard to the area charges, an agreement was made between the Chamber of Commerce and merchants exhibiting with the thought in mind that this would give a greater gross profit to help in their building plan.

"Vacancies never appeared in the main building, and the reduced prices as $5.00 a front foot is a standard price throughout the province at exhibitions in the category of Lindsay Exhibition. Due to popular demand in our main building the 4-H displays, Homemaking Club displays and the children's poultry show were moved upstairs to accommodate the overflow for commercial exhibit space requests.

"The Lindsay Central Exhibition is not criticizing the present Chamber of Commerce manager for his statement as he was within his rights. There is a lot which can be said in regard to the co-operation that has been extended to our local Chamber of Commerce over the past four years. The Lindsay Central Exhibition has always extended co-operation in any promotion to every organization that has made a request for the use of the facilities, as we repeat, we are most interested in more use of these facilities. Charges were always based on the costs.

"It is true the building in question is not up to standards yet but had the programme, which was originally drafted, been carried out the building would have been in first rate shape today.

"It could hardly be expected that the society could absorb the potential depreciential and at the same time make further contributions in capital expenditure"

Vocational school given final Ontario approval, estimated cost $1,404,786

A $1,404,786 vocational school for Lindsay has now received the final approval required from the Ontario Department of Education.

Announcing the fact that the minister of education has given the projected school the go-ahead, Rev. Leslie Frost said Friday: "It is one of the best school deals this or any other municipality has received. The school will be erected without one cent of capital cost to the taxpayers."

Mr. Frost went on to point out that the school will be financed partly by a 75 per cent federal grant and a 25 per cent grant from the province.

The estimated cost of $1,404,-786 will include the construction of the building and the installation of all necessary equipment that will be needed for the vocational studies to be conducted.

Stanley Dix, secretary of the school board, said Friday that he had received official confirmation of the acceptance of the tender and expressed the hope that work would begin within a time next week. The firm handling the construction is Fidelity Construction from Oshawa. They tendered a bid of $1,056,-057. According to Mr. Dix, this figure will be increased somewhat because of a difference in tenders by sub-contractors. "We're hoping to be below the architect's estimate of $1,500,000," Mr. Dix stated.

CANNINGTON TAKES TOURNEY SECOND YEAR RUNNING

Little Britain (PNS) -- The Cannington Pee Wee Hockey team won the second annual Little Britain Tournament for the second year in a row. The team defeated Sanford eight to nothing in the final game for the championship.

The final game was by far the best played of the day, but Cannington jumped into the lead and never lost it. Rick McLeish led the boys in the game scoring the double hat-trick. Grant Johnston added the other two to complete the scoring.

In total goals for the day, Rick McLeish led the way scoring 17 of Cannington's 22 goals.

In the first game of the tournament, Little Britain led off against Sunderland and won, seven to four. The boys got off on the right foot. Bob McMullen scored first at the three minute mark followed by Jim Herr who scored four goals in a row to give the hometowners a five to nothing lead in the first period.

Bob McMillan opened the scoring in the second period with a goal at the 1:40 mark of the frame. Sunderland regained some of the goals in the game, scoring two. The first came from the stick of John Brandon assisted by McFadden and the second by McFadden unassisted.

Larry Junkin scored the last goal for Little Britain and John Brandon and Danny McFadden scored for Sunderland to round out the game.

In the second game of the day, Cannington jumped off to a fine start, defeating Port Perry nine to two. Rick McLeish scored eight goals for Cannington and Grant Johnston added the extra one.

Howard Chapman and Bill Wanamaker got the two counters for the Port Perry team.

The third game saw Sandford down Cambray by a slim margin of two to nothing. This was the first shut-out of the day. It was a hard fought game all the way, with Grant Mustard scoring the two Sandford goals. Kenny Taggart played an outstanding game for Cambray in a losing cause.

The Lindsay Black Knights went down to a lopsided defeat in the day's fourth contest.

The boys from Kingston came through on top with a six to one victory. Martin Nichols scored the hat-trick for the Bobcaygeon team. Brian Lambert scored two and Steve Stenson got one.

The winners of the first game, Little Britain and the top team of the third game, Sandford, met head-on in the fifth game of the day.

This was the first game of the semi-finals with the winner advancing to the final for the championship. The game was well played. Sandford was able to capitalize on Little Britain handicaps which gave them a slim two to nothing margin. Both Sandford goals were scored when Little Britain had men in the penalty box.

Grant Mustard and Mike Morrison were the goal getters. Little Britain's Jim Herr got two chances at the net, when he went in all alone, but Trevor Clark beat Bobby McMullen scored first at the three minute mark followed by Jim Herr who scored four goals in a row to give the hometowners a five to nothing lead in the first period.

In the second semi-final of the day, Cannington downed Bobcaygeon five to zero. Rick McLeish again was the big scorer for the boys as he hit for three goals. Randy Snooks got the other two goals and Brian Lambert scored the lone Bobcaygeon effort.

The final game matched Cannington and Sandford with Cannington turning the shut-out tables on Sandford to the tune of eight to nothing.

Exhibition Games

Exhibition hockey games were played during the course of the day in order to give the tournament players time to rest. The first game was a regular league bantam game with Little Britain meeting Coboconk and defeating them five to nothing.

The second game was between Millbrook and Little Britain with Millbrook on top six to five.

Say Thanks

The managers and coaches of the Little Britain hockey league expressed appreciation to the girl's hockey team and the Ladies Auxiliary for helping to feed the Pee Wee hockey teams. Thanks were also extended to the Lindsay Soda Water Works for their donation of soft drinks and to others who helped to make the day a great success.

The winner of the 50 - 50 draw was Bill Carpenter of Ajax who is a former resident of Little Britain. The proceeds from the draw were put to-ward sweaters for the hockey teams.

PETERBORO RINK WINS CONSUL PRELIMINARIES

Skip Bert Harrison and his Peterborough rink won three games in the British Consul preliminaries at the Peel Street rink Thursday and qualified for the second round. The winner for Ontario will represent the Province in the Dominion Macdonald Brier event.

Six clubs were represented and curling was of a very good calibre. In the final game Harrison defeated Skip Lloyd Murphy of Bancroft by a score of 9 to 8 in a game where the Peterboro quartet led for three ends and after which the two rinks settled down to some good curling. Harrison, who has been victorious in different Consul events played a take-out game while the Bancroft rink stuck fairly close to the draw game with a few take-outs.

In the first round, Bancroft defeated Lindsay by two points. The Bancroft four ran in a five-end about the half-way mark and Lindsay finished the 12th end with a five but remained two down.

In the second game Harrison's foursome had an exciting battle against Skip Hill of Peterboro. Hill was lying two shots in the last end, sufficient to tie the match, but Harrison managed to run one of the Hill counters out of the rings and won the game by one shot.

Lindsay's entry comprised: Jim Brown, Jerry Ford, Paul Ashmore and John McCrae, Skip.

In a pretty candlelight ceremony on New Year's Eve, December 31st, 1961, at 9 o'clock in the Sanctuary of Cambridge Street United Church, Colleen Isobel Davis became the bride of Garth Roy Lee. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Davis, Elgin St., Lindsay, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Roy Lee and the late Mr. Lee of Lindsay.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a light beige brocade suit, with matching hat and accessories, and a beautiful orchid corsage. She was attended by Miss Marion Short, charmingly gowned in a dark beige suit with feathered pillbox hat and corsage of lovely yellow roses.

After a delightful reception in the Lockview Banquet room, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon vacation in Florida.

Showers and Presentations

Miss Marion Short and Mrs. Ross Naylor were co-hostesses to a delightful shower on the evening of February 3, 1962, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Naylor, and the bride's was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts, after which a delicious luncheon was enjoyed.

Previously the bride was presented with a lovely portrait mirror and a purse of money from neighbors and friends.

Tile Drainage Assistance

Many Ontario farmers during the past 50-70 years have been assisted in the draining of their farm lands by the Tile Drainage Act.

This assistance has been in the form of loans from the Provincial Government for the purpose of installing tile drains in individual farms. However, before a farmer can take advantage of a loan through this Act, his Township Council must pass a money by-law bringing the Act in force in the Township. Although the original Tile, Stone, and Timber Drainage Act was passed in the year 1878, there are still quite a number of townships which have not passed the necessary by-law to enable their farmers to take advantage of this source of credit.

A farmer living in a township that has passed the by-law may, upon application to Council and upon their approval and the approval of the Treasurer of Ontario, obtain a loan of ¾ of the total cost of his drainage enterprise at that time — he may not borrow more than $3000 for the drainage of any 100 acre parcel of land or any piece of land smaller than 100 acres. The rate of interest on this loan is 4%. The loan is paid back over a 10 year period in equal annual installments of $12.33 per $100 borrowed. This payment is collected by the township in the same manner as taxes and a default in payment is treated the same as a default in tax payments.

A mortgage on the farm does not necessarily influence the ability of the owner to obtain assistance since it is the township council who makes the decision as to whether an applicant qualifies or not.

The Tile Drainage Act supplies anyone interested in installing tile with some very helpful financial assistance at a reasonable rate of interest. This enables many farmers to proceed with their drainage project who otherwise might have had to postpone it. The installed tile, by increasing the productivity of the cultivated soil, pays for itself in the 10 years that the loan is being repaid.

Blackleg poses threat to 1962 Potatoe crop

Blackleg could be the number-one disease problem for Ontario potato growers in 1962 says Professor C.B. Kelly, Ontario Department of Agriculture botanist. The reason: excessive moisture during the growing season last summer increased the amount of Blackleg in the fields.

"The disease was carried over into storage," says Professor Kelly, "and now a good portion of next year's seed is infected". Growers bringing seed potatoes in from outside the province still run the risk of buying infected stock.

A bacterial disease, Blackleg occurs at the stem-end of the potato and is always accompanied by soft rot. Once a tuber is infected, it is of no value for processing or table use, and especially for seed.

If you buying seed potatoes this year, Professor Kelly suggests you keep these points in mind.

- Buying only foundation or certified seed stock and tubers.
- Avoid rough handling that will cause bruises or wounds where decay can enter.
- Check your seed when it arrives for any sign of Blackleg or rot. Discard infected tubers. Treat the seed with Semesan Bel or the older mercuric chloride solution.
- Use whole seed or disinfect any knives used for cutting seed. Disinfect bags or containers used to hold seed until planting with one of the Quaternary ammonium compounds.
- Don't forget to store seed you don't plant immediately in a well ventilated place, and avoid deep piles, warns Prof. Kelly. Disinfect the planting equipment with Semesan Bel or mercuric chloride one part per 1000 parts of water.
- A reminder: clean up cull around the storage daily gets you keep these points in mind.

Council meetings

Verulam Township

A meeting of the Municipal Council of the Township of Verulam was held in the Municipal Office with all members in attendance and the Reeve, Mr. Kennedy presiding.

The minutes of the inaugural meeting were read and adopted on motion of Mr. Ward and Mr. Flett.

Correspondence was read from the following: The County of Victoria advising that at the January 1962 session of the County Council, the by-laws passed by the County to provide for the licensing regulating and governing of auctioneers in the County were repealed; Mr. Harry Strickland regarding the C. P. R. right-of-way at his property; Mr. R. J. Sim of the Department of Highways advising that he would be pleased to meet the C. P. R. right-of-ways and discuss proposals with the Council; The Canadian Pacific Railway Company enclosing agreements and permits existing between the said company and outside parties with regard to the right-of-ways; Ontario Good Roads Association enclosing Membership Fee Invoice and advising dates of the Convention; The Ontario Municipal Board enclosing duplicate original order pursuant to Section 329 of the Municipal Act; Mr. Melville Junkin, tendering his resignation as the Township Assessor.

The fact that the County of Victoria has repealed the by-laws in existence governing the licensing and regulating of auctioneers, means that at the present time, unless the local municipality passes a bylaw covering same, auctioneers will be able to carry on their business without any license at all. After considerable discussion, it was moved by Mr. Flett and seconded by Mr. Ward that the Clerk instruct our Solicitor, Mr. McQuarrie, to prepare a bylaw with charges as follows: $15.00 per annum for sales of livestock, furniture and machinery, and $8.00 per annum for furniture sales only. This motion carried.

The letter from the Canadian Pacific Railway is to be held in abeyance until the next meeting of Council or possibly until such time as a joint meeting can be held with the Corporation of the Village of Bobcaygeon.

On motion of Mr. Ward and Mr. Fulton, the Township joined the Civic Holiday Association for the fee of $15.00, and any members of Council who wish to attend the Convention will receive $25.00 to cover expenses.

On motion of Mr. Flett and Mr. Ward, the Council accepted with regret the resignation of Mr. Melville Junkin as the Assessor of the Township, and advertisement for the position to be published in the local papers for three consecutive weeks.

Mr. Harold Beatty was in attendance at the meeting and represented the Fair Board of the Verulam Agricultural Society requesting that a grant of $100.00 be given. On motion of Mr. Fulton and Mr. Flett, a grant of $100.00 was made to the Fair Board.

The Council reviewed the Fidelity Bond on the Treasurer, and on motion to renew at $10 for renewal on April 1, 1962.

On motion of Mr. Flett and Mr. Knox, the date set for the Treasurers of School Boards to return the requisitions, is March 15, 1962.

It was moved by Mr. Knox and seconded by Mr. Fulton that the 1962 Council approve the action of the 1961 Council in the purchase of a truck. Carried. A copy of this resolution is to be forwarded to Mr. Ludgate, Municipal Engineer, Department of Highways.

The following Bylaws received the necessary three readings, were passed and signed by the Reeve and Clerk and the Corporate Seal affixed: Bylaw No. 1344 - A bylaw appointing a Board of Health; Bylaw No. 1345 - A bylaw appointing Sanitary Inspectors; Bylaw No. 1346 - A bylaw appointing Sheep Valuers as follows: Grant Thurston, Arthur Ball Jr., Henry Walker, Wallace Thurston, and W. C. Kimble. Bylaw No. 1347 - A bylaw appointing Fence Viewers and Pound Keepers as follows: Fence Viewers: Thomas Smith, Alvin Thurston, Arthur Ball Jr., Edwin Brandon, Ross Robinson, W. C. Kimble. Pound Keepers: Frank Thurston, Robert Johnson, Ernest McGregor, Clare Falls, Julius Richmond, Norman Pogue, James Anderson, John Jenkinson; Bylaw No. 1348 - A bylaw appointing School Attendance Officers; Bylaw No. 1349 - A bylaw appointing a Zoning Administrator; Bylaw No. 1350 - A bylaw appointing a Signing Officer.

General accounts from January 8 to February 2 were passed for payment on motion of Mr. Ward and Mr. Flett.

Roads Accounts from January 8 to January 31, were passed for payment on motion of Mr. Flett and Mr. Ward.

The Council then adjourned.

CRINOLINE CUT-OUT NOVELTY

IN THE days of Abraham Lincoln, whose birth we commemorate this week, young ladies dressed differently. This was a time of crinoline skirts and petticoats, and flaring bell-shaped dresses. If you'd like to see how little girls dressed then, paste the diagram at right to thicker paper or thin cardboard and cut out the doll and apparel. Color dress, hat and parasol naively with whatever colors you wish. When you are ready to dress the doll, place costume over figure and bend tabs back around her. Using scissors or a sharp knife, carefully cut along dotted lines of hat and parasol. Slip hat down over doll's head and slide parasol over her arm.

While it doesn't seem likely that the style of early American days were by this doll will ever be into fashion soon again, crinoline-type petticoats have made a comeback in recent years.

Swing Along With Hitch

MYSTICS have often employed variations of this stunt at seances. Moving objects are attributed to spirits, but actually the action is simply a matter of sympathetic vibrations.

String three wood pencils to a clothes hanger on cords of varying lengths. The hole in each is a pendulums; each with its own rhythm of swing. What is to say, if you tap the hanger with the index finger at a rate to "tune" with a particular ball, that ball will swing from side to side while the other balls remain motionless.

Tap the hanger anywhere on the bar to which the balls are affixed. Step up or slow down tapping to reach right speed.

If a hanger isn't readily available, suspend balls from a ruler or length of dowelstick.

How Many in the Company?

CAPTAIN CARLEY had gone on field maneuvers with his troops. Besides Carley, three lieutenants and twenty non-commissioned officers are in commanding positions. The company has ten times as many subordinates as it has superiors. How many are in the company?

Think this over before answering.

Answer: 44 men in company (one man, not one of officers, is captain; 3 lieutenants plus 20 noncommissioned officers equals 23 officers; 44 men minus 23 officers equals 21 men; 10 times 21 equals 210 men in company; 210 men plus 44 men equals 254 men in company.)

"I remember one sombre adventure after one came to the hamlet of Carpenter's Fall and induced me to go in their boats to the Dappled region. I only knew by hearsay. Too eager and impatient to get at the big game, they were always on the very edge of danger. I wanted to be another place!

"Once there, we had to follow heather outcroppings over rough shale, a grueling trip, and there was much grumbling. I quelled some dissension by a nice appeal in which I told them that anger is every once brought trouble. This quieted them for a while. VALENTINE PATCHWORK POSER

USING crayons or colored pencils of three hues, see if you can shade in segments of the diagram above so that the same color does not appear in adjacent spaces. Use areas of the diagram are to be shaded with the exception of the girl's face, which is to remain white.

This task is not as easy as it may seem. To save grief later on, pencil in numbers or letters to help colors before actually applying them.

Remember, all areas of the diagram are to bear colors with the exception of the girl's face.

Apply three hues of your choice elsewhere.

Keep Your Eye on the Ball!

KEEP your eye on the ball! Not in ice hockey. The trick here is to keep your eye on the puck, a black rubber disc about three inches in diameter, which stick-wielding players pass to and fro at incredible speeds. Object, of course, is to dispatch this object into the opponent's goal.

Just for fun, let's pretend that you are a spectator at the hockey game at right. A goal has been scored after a series of bounds, rebounds and passes. See if you can follow the path of the puck from starting point X into goal cage, using all dotted lines. (Solution is in page.)

What's Fair for a Fare Price?

A MAN rented an automobile to drive from A to C, and back. They were ninety miles apart. Hence the total distance was 180 miles. He paid $24 for the use of the car, including gasoline.

Passing through the town of B exactly half way between A and C, he stopped by prearrangement and picked up two acquaintances, both residents of B, who were going to C.

On the return trip the man who had hired the automobile stopped at B to let out his two acquaintances. They had already agreed to pay their share of the cost of the automobile hire and when informed that the total cost was $24, each of them handed four dollars to the man who had hired the car. They said the four dollars apiece covered their share of the cost of the trip.

The man who had hired the car thought it was not enough. His contention was that he had paid $24 for ender more than a 180-mile trip; that is, 90 miles from A to C and another 90 miles back to A. And furthermore, the other two men had ridden half that entire distance; 90 miles from B to C to B. Consequently they ought to pay half the entire bill, and that would be $12, or six dollars each instead of four.

And there the matter stood, neither side being able to convince the other that six dollars was right, and four dollars was wrong, or vice versa. So they sought the advice of a mutual acquaintance, a mathematical expert, who said the two residents of B should pay four dollars each.

Can you figure out why the verdict was four dollars and not six?

Answer: Because the man who hired the car paid $24 for the entire trip, or $8 per person. Each of the two residents of B paid four dollars each, or $8 per person. Therefore, the man who hired the car paid $8 per person for the 90 miles he rode, and $16 for the 180 miles the other two men rode.

Victoria County Orangemen installs 1962 officers

The 1962 officers of the Victoria County Loyal Orange Lodge were installed at the annual meeting on Saturday. Performing the installation was Past County Master, Worshipful Brother Clifford Faulkner of Omemee.

The 1962 officers are as follows: Worshipful County Master. Wor. Brother Clifford Moffatt of Fenelon Falls; Deputy County Master, Wor. Brother Arthur Renout of Omemee; Chaplain. Wor. Bro. David Schell of North Verulam; Recording Secretary, Wor. Bro. Merle Lindsay of Lindsay; Financial Secretary. Wor. Bro. Henry Copeland of Oakwood; Treasurer, Wor. Bro. Morley Cameron; 1st Lecturer. Wor. Bro Nelson Davis, of Omemee; 2nd Lecturer Wor. Bro. Austin Cavanagh of Burnt River and Marshal, Wor. Bro. Ganton Carr of Cambray.

A special guest speaker addressed the meeting. He was the Most Worshipful Leslie Saunders of Toronto, Junior Grand Master of the British Americas and Grand Deputy of the Imperial Orange Council of the World. He was accompanied by his son, Worshipful Brother Howard Saunders, Deputy County Master of Toronto.

Mr. Saunders Sr. gave a very interesting talk on the perils of losing religious and civil rights. He said the rights of all Canadian people depend upon the eternal vigilance of every true Canadian, irrespective of creed, colour or faith.

Wor. Bro. Howard Saunders extended greetings from the York County Lodge.

Victoria County Loyal Orange Lodge comprises 19 primary lodges in the county and the meeting was held at the I.O.O.F. Hall with 62 delegates present.

Wor. County Master Reuben Gorrill presided in the chair and all county officers were seated in their respective chairs.

The reports of the committees were given and a very successful year for the Orange Order was accomplished in Victoria County.

Wor. C. M. Gorrill addressed the gathering in his annual report and stated that it was most gratifying and inspiring to note that this was indeed a year of progress for the Orangemen.

P.C.M. Wor. Bro. Norman Jewell of Lindsay occupied the Past Master's chair and conducted the election of officers for 1962

During the business part of the meeting, plans were instituted for the coming Battle of the Boyne celebration to be held in Lindsay on July 7th, 1962.

The general chairman of the celebration committee is County Master Clifford Moffat of Fenelon Falls and the recording secretary is Wor. Bro. Merle Lindsay of Lindsay

Over 200 invitations have have gone out to the surrounding lodges and by the response to the invitations, the July 7th walk will be one of the largest in Orange history.

P.C.M. Wor. Bro. Ronald Smith of Lindsay presented Immediate P.C.M. Wor. Bro. Reuben Gorrill with the Past County Master's jewell.

There were visitors from Ontario North County Lodge and Simcoe County Lodge.

Changes planned for town hall "Long overdue" -- Mayor states

Changes are being planned for the town hall in Lindsay. According to Mayor Joseph Holtom they are -- "Long overdue".

He said that nothing definite could be disclosed at the present time, but that the matter would come up for considerable discussion tonight at a meeting of the committees of Council.

He did say, however, that at the present time there was too much staff for the facilities available. "Larger office space is necessary and that is due", the mayor concluded.

Drop county music festival, may revive another year

The Victoria County Music Festival has folded after 25 years of successful sponsorship by the Kiwanis Club. An announcement will be made at a meeting of the Club Tuesday by President E. Sanderson.

It is reported the directors came to the decision because of lack of support by the general public as well as a degree of apathy on the part of some public school and music teachers.

It is also reported that the Kiwanis Club may revive the festival next year as it is felt there will be a popular demand for revival of the organization which has in a quarter of a century been of great benefit to thousands of boys and girls as well as having contributed to the cultural development of the area.

"I feel there is a place for the festival and that one year without the festival will be a good thing for the organization", said Kiwanis Club President Sanderson.

Business offices changing with new products and ideas

Soft Music

A new telephone attachment treats callers to soft music if a pause in the conversation becomes necessary. The cradle-shaped attachment fits inconspicuously on any phone. When the receiver is placed on it . . . It touches off a musical interlude for the party on the other end. Music is either popular, spiritual, classical or commercial. The attachment is available in standard telephone colors.

Messy Fluide

Secretary's Friend

A new cleaner for typewriter keys is the secretary's friend. The plastic handle holds a replaceable roller coated with special plastic compound to pick up lint, dust and ink from the keys of all electric and most manual typewriters.

Perfect Points

An electric pencil sharpener produces perfect points and a 66 per cent saving in pencil costs. A stop built into the sharpener is said to assure perfect points every time without waste of lead.

Stainless Steel

A new ballpoint pen refill has a stainless steel reel. It's said to last much longer than the usual bronze or brass and gives smooth writing action to the very end.

If you're tired of traditional belt styles . . . hang a rope of pearls around your waist on a pastel or white cocktail dress.

Central School wing completed, rooms in use

The new wing to Central Senior School has been completed and occupied. This was announced by Public School Board Secretary Ernest Crossley on Monday.

He said the major work had been completed on Saturday, but that a few minor details needed to be cleared up. The stairs still require painting, but that should be finished by tomorrow at the latest", he stated.

Classes are being conducted in the new wing. Students moved into the new addition about the middle of last week and have taken over completely.

Mr. Crossley said he didn't know when the official opening would be but that the Home and School Association had expressed a desire to conduct the ceremonies.

Legion Midgets win 4-3 on Ajax ice

Lindsay Legion Midgets defeated the Ajax Midgets in a fast and rugged hockey game on Ajax ice in the first game of a home and home series with goals to count. The game was played in the Port Perry Arena on Friday night. Play started out with both teams pressing hard for the first goal. Horton for Lindsay received a penalty but the four minute power play for Ajax the team they were looking for. Before the penalty was 30 seconds old, Norm Allen for Ajax went in to score. The game continued at a terrific pace with both teams missing great chances.

The Lindsay boys were just unable to dent the twine and the first period ended one to nothing for Ajax. Penalties in the first period went to Horton, McLeish and Proctor of Lindsay, Rod Williams and Norm Allen for Ajax.

In the second period, Lindsay started off to force the play and after six minutes of play Horsten went right in to score tying the score at one all. However, this was shortlived at Peterson took a well earned pass and sailed in to give Jackett in goal for Lindsay no chance at the seven minute mark. This seemed to upset the Lindsay boys a little bit and before they could get settled away Barnett let a slapping shot go which entered the top right hand corner to give the home boys a three to one lead. This goal came at the 8.50 mark. The Lindsay team being the determined bunch of boys that they are was not to be denied. Keeping the play in the Ajax end Horsten grabbed a loose puck and shot it past the Ajax goalie at the 10:15 mark to make the score three to two. and that is the way the period ended. After a short rest the Lindsay boys came out a different looking team.

The boys were bent on winning this game and they completely tied up Ajax with some stiff checking. The home team just couldn't get going under the pressure and at the 9.06 in the third Frocking tied the score for Lindsay in a scramble around the net. This was all the boys needed to inspire them along they confirmed at a terrific pace with both teams showing signs of strain. At the 9:30 mark Sowry scored for Lindsay when he drilled a hard shot from the blue line that completely fooled the Ajax goalie giving Lindsay the lead for the first time in the game.

The game was very cleanly played throughout and Ajax tried its best to tie the score but failed.

Penalties in this period, Lindsay penalty to Jackett the goalie for holding the puck too long. Swinson served the time. Crumb and Marshall for Ajax.

Referees for the game were Ivan Socke of Oshawa and Jim Cornish of Whitby. Final score Lindsay 4, Ajax 3. The return game will be played in the Lindsay arena Tuesday night at eight o'clock.

Tickets are on sale at the Legion, admission 50 cents. Branch publicity chairman Bill Dermedy says these teams deserve support because their kind of hockey is worth watching.

STEERING FAILS, TRUCK DITCHED

A series of reactions resulted in a pickup truck rolling into ditch on the Concarm road Saturday afternoon. The reaction started when the truck rounded a bend and had just started to straighten out. At that point the steering mechanism broke, the truck headed for a snowbank, hit it and plowed through, rolling over in the ditch.

Investigating officer was Fenelon Falls OPP Constable Jim Plumtree. He said the accident occurred about 4:30 p.m. Saturday. The driver of the truck was Russell Johnston of Fenelon Falls.

Firm's artists go back to turn of century for Valentine designs

Circular

Alongside parasol and bustle messages . . . sophisticated designs as a globe. It says- "Love makes the world go 'round . . . care to go for a spin?"

Special Valentines

Several Valentines in the firm's collection have been created by British magazine cartoonist Rowland Emett. He designed "Nellie", the nervous locomotive, displayed in New York City at the British Exhibition two years ago.

Popular

Adult humor remains popular, on one card . . . A knight in armor is shown seated on a shaggy dog. Inside is the plea, "surely you wouldn't turn away a knight on a dog like this?"

Larger Packages

The child's penny Valentine is available in larger packages this year. A new 50-card package ought to solve one aspect of the classroom overdesigned problem. Children's Valentines include uncolored do-it-yourself cards with crayons attached . . . and Valentines with dolls, buttons, whistles, tops, and a new flying saucer game. Also new in penny packages this year are Valentines for boys to girls and from girls to boys. A Valentine for the teacher comes in the same package.

Music Box

One card comes complete with music box. When the Valentine cover is lifted . . . the box plays the opening refrain, "Sweetheart, Sweetheart", from Sigmund Romberg's Maytime. "Will You Remember?" Other Valentines in the series are decorated with white swans, rose-covered trellises and fold-out attachments of honeycomb paper.

Little Britain pupils perform on television

Little Britain (PNS) — The pupils of Little Britain School have been prominent lately on the Keith Brown Talent Time, Television Show. Two weeks ago, Carol Ann Marks and Jamela Armitage sang solos, which received very high commendation from Del Crary, the organizer of the show.

Last Wednesday evening, 30 pupils were transported to Peterborough by the ever-obliging parents, and appeared near the end of the show in a fine rendition of that old favourite: "Bless This House." Again comments from Mr. Crary and from home viewers were full of praise for the young singers, who will be appearing again in the near future. Mrs. Varcoe and Mrs. Novakowska and a number of interested parents went with the children.

Federal building delay may result as monthly tenant refuses to leave

A slight delay may be encountered in getting the new federal building at Lindsay underway.

According to sources close to the situation, a tenant who accepted one of the houses to be torn down to make way for the building refuses to leave.

It is reported that the tenant accepted the house on a monthly basis, but now declines to vacate. Those close to the situation say "the government will not evict during the winter months, but will proceed with the necessary legal action to obtain an eviction order so that it can be served at the appropriate time."

Tenders have been called for the federal building's construction and the only cause for delay will be the clearing of the building which the tenant reportedly refuses to leave.

The house is the key one in the project - located at the southeast corner of Russell and Cambridge Sts. It was formerly owned by the late Arthur Gamble. The tenant is Patrick McNaney.

NOTICED along the way

Lots of people have 'lazy Susans' around their home, but it would be interesting to know how many have 'lazy jewels' in their watches. No, that's not a joke . . . the Canadian Jewelers Association says it knows these lazy jewels exist and it has condemned the sale of watches containing these indolent jewels as being fraudulent. Meeting in Toronto this week, the association said Tuesday: "These lazy jewels may bring the jewel content of the watch up to the advertised number, but may be taped or pasted to the inside of the watch."

All segments of the association — retail, wholesale, and manufacturing — approved resolutions deploring the practice. A committee is to be set up to study the matter, and forward recommendations to government bodies to attempt to control it.

Hear, Hear!

Buenos Aires, Feb. 21-(UPI)-A bald-headed Argentine appearing unimpressed last night by Lieutenant-Colonel John Glenn's trail-blazing orbiting of the earth.

"What does humanity gain by that?" He said when asked for comment on the Glenn flight. "They should do something about making hair grow".

Sparks Of Wisdom

Happiness

The foolish man seeks happiness in the distance;
The wise grows it under his feet. —James Oppenheim.

Philanthropy

It is an old saying that charity begins at home; but this is no reason it should not go abroad; a man should live with the world as a citizen of the world; he may have a preference for the particular quarter of square, or even alley in which he lives, but he should have a generous feeling for the welfare of the whole.

EDITORIAL . . . .

WON'T THIS ONE HAVE TO BE ADVERTISED?

Now that Town Council has held its postmortem into the firing of the caretaker of the town dump, and more or less confirmed is orginal decision, consideration is apparently being given to a replacement.

A few days ago at a Water Commission meeting, the matter of a replacement came up and Mayor Holtom suggested that the commission set up some kind of a personnel policy for handling these things. This was done and, as a result, it was decided to advertise the position.

In the light of this, it was a little surprising to learn that the chairman of Lindsay's town property committee had more or less selected a man to take over the caretaker's duties at the municipal dump . . . Won't this job have to be advertised too?

Reports and Remarks...

WOULDN'T THIS BE SIMPLE?

Driving along the road to Toronto the other day and feeling a slight fatigue in the right leg because of a sticky accelerator pedal, we were struck with a bright idea.

Every effort is being made to curb the high rate of highway accidents at present. It is acknowledged generally that excessive vehicle speeds are all too frequently the cause of death and destruction. So far the only curb on speeding is the common sense of the individual driver and the fact that the transgressor may be caught in the act by the police.

How would it be if all cars were fitted with an extra spring on the accelerator, so that only normal pressure would be required to attain a speed of 60 miles an hour, but at that point it would become somewhat of an effort to hold the car at an illegal pace?

Some years ago a proposal to fit all cars with speed-controlling governors was dismissed, because there are times when extra speed is needed for safety, such as emergencies were passing other vehicles. Our new invention, however, would permit additional acceleration when really needed, but would make it rough for the driver who wanted to hold it down too long.

No, we don't really expect any legislation to enforce the use of our invention. Laws, you see, are passed only when governments are pretty sure they are following the wishes of the majority — and there is no indication at present that a majority of people want to slow down and live. —The Wingham Advance-Times.

Remember way back when

FEBRUARY 21, 1912

Omemee—This week while coming past the long swamp at Mount Pleasant, Rev. D.H. Currie had quite an experience. Miss Thirza was with her father and they both were astonished to see a large black bear drinking from the ditch which drains the road. Bruin looked at them and then scampered for the woods. The tracks were plainly visible for several days. Doubtless the presence of the animal in the near neighborhood of Mount Pleasant will afford some sport for many ardent hunters.

FEBRUARY 21, 1937

Nestleton-While cutting wood in the woods recently Mr. Fred Philp had the misfortune to have his leg broken very badly in three places, one complete break forcing the bone through the flesh and clothing. The three brothers Fred, Harry and Perce Philp were cutting their winter's supply of fuel in the woods on Perce's place at the foot of the hill west of the building. Fred and Perce had just finished felling a spruce some 10 or 12 inches in diameter. It lodged in the neighboring branches and the men fearing a fall raced for safety. In making the dash Fred caught his foot on the snag and received the full force of the butt of the log, which resulted in the very painful accident. Harry had his team in the woods with which he had been pulling the logs out by a chain. The men were able to get in touch with Mr. Andrew Holmes who was working in the nearby woods, and together they placed the injured man on the sleigh and hauled him to the road, while Harry brought his car and rushed him to Port Perry Hospital where Doctors Renne and Peterson spent some time in setting the injured member. Fred is resting as well as can be expected.

Halibut Steaks with Broiled Fruit

Double Broiler

Some fruits are so plentiful in winter they should be used often to perk up main courses. Easy-to-buy oranges and bananas, for example, are delicious when broiled or baked with fish, and make a very attractive dish. This combination is an especially good one, because both foods require a short cooking time, and the colors of the fruit contrast beautifully with the golden brown of the broiled fish. Halibut is an especially nice choice for this novel fish and fruit combination.

Halibut Steaks with Broiled Fruit

Wipe halibut steaks, one small steak per serving, with a clean damp cloth or paper towel. Place on greased pre-heated broiler. Brush with melted butter and squeeze lemon juice over steaks. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Broil about 2 inches from heat, 3 to 6 minutes or until slightly brown. Turn carefully. Arrange small whole bananas, or large bananas split lengthwise, around steaks and one or more slices of orange on each steak. Brush steaks and fruit with more melted butter, squeeze lemon juice over all. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Broil 5 to 8 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork, allowing about ten minutes per inch thickness. Allow about ½ banana per serving. —Consumer Tested recipe released through Fisheries Council of Canada.

May need new town hall within 10 or 15 years

Lindsay may be in the market for a new town hall within the next 10 to 15 years. Mayor Joseph Holton intimated this during a discussion on the renovation of the town hall at Monday's Council meeting.

He said that a minimum of money should be spent on the present project of renovating the ground floor of the town hall. "I think the feeling is that Lindsay will need a new one within the next 10, 12 or 15 years."

Discussion resulted from a query by Reeve Lloyd Found to the effect - - "I moved at the last meeting that the Police quarters be moved to the washrooms subject to renovation. What I want to know, does this kind of expense of $2,000?"

"The answer was that the whole proposal was still under consideration and that it was proposed that if renovation was to take place, the police quarters would be moved to the washrooms," one councillor remarked.

The issue was left in the hands of town property chairman Joseph Hutton for his committees' further study and recommendation.

RHUBARB PIE IN WINTER

With Ontario forced rhubarb in the stores during the winter months we can enjoy rhubarb pies right now instead of waiting for spring.

Let's take advantage of the opportunity.

You might enjoy the filling made this way:

Mix together 1¼ cups sugar, 3 to 4 tablespoons instant tapioca, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind and a dash of salt. Sprinkle ½ of the mixture on an uncooked pie shell. Add 4 cups sliced rhubarb. Dot with 1 tablespoon butter. Sprinkle with the remaining sugar-tapioca mixture.

For The Flakiest Pastry:

2¼ cups sifted pastry flour; ¼ cup — 2½ tablespoons shortening; about ½ cup cold water; 1 teaspoon salt.

Have the water and the shortening very cold, suggests the Food Department of MacDonald Institute, Guelph. Using 2 knives or a pastry blender cut 2/3 of the shortening into the flour until like coarse meal for tenderness. Cut in the remainder of the shortening until like large peas for flakiness. Add the salt to the water for even flavor. Sprinkle in the water-salt mixture, 1 tablespoon at a time, and toss with a fork until the particles are moist enough to stick together when pressed gently. With cupped hands gently form the mixture into 2 balls, one for the top crust and one for the bottom. Roll each ball lightly into the desired shape using a floured board or canvas and a floured rolling pin.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I make a candle fit firmly into a too-large holder?

A. Burn down an old candle stub - - or a half-inch from the bottom of the new one - - in the holder. Next, press the neat-softened bottom of the new candle firmly down on the still burning stub. The candle will then adhere to its new holder-fitting base.

Q. My cedar chest seems to have lost most of its former pleasant aroma. Is there any way I can remedy this?

A. You can accomplish this very easily, simply by going over the inside surface lightly with some very fine sandpaper. This allows the wood to "breathe" again, and restores its fragrance.

Q. How can I prevent my homemade syrup from candying after it has stood for a while?

A. By adding a teaspoonful of vinegar to it.

H & S Aims presented in form of skit

The Home and School Association of Alexandra School held its February meeting in the form of a Founder's Day Celebration. This event is held annually to commemorate the founding of the Home and School movement by Mrs. A. C. Courtice in Toronto in 1916.

The President, Mrs. W. Dermedy was in the chair and after the monthly reports and discussion of business, turned the meeting over to the Program Chairman, Mrs. L. Dunning.

A skit followed in which some of the aims of Home and School were interpreted. The cast included Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Finney and Mrs. Boyd with Mr. Wood capably and comically filling in for Mr. Hanthorn. At the end, the members joined the cast in reciting the Home and School Pledge.

Mrs. Dermedy then gave a brief resume of the history of the Home and School Association and a tribute to the founder, as Miss Peel cut the Founder's Day Cake. At the close of the meeting the members enjoyed sandwiches and the cake and coffee served by Mrs. Thomas and her committee.

Their two sons and families, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ray and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ray, of Guelph, arranged to be there. Unfortunately their daughter Ruth (Mrs. Tony Shrive) of Attikokan, Ontario, was unable to be present. Predict Victoria-Haliburton to share population growth of Lake Ontario Region

A special economic survey of the Lake Ontario Region forecasting "a sound and progressive rate of development in the future was released today by the Ontario Department of Economics and Development. This study, which identifies and analyzes the major areas of economic activity, indicates that the Region's economic base is broadening at an encouraging pace and that its secondary industry is becoming more diversified.

The Region comprises the counties of Peterborough, Northumberland, Durham, Hastings, Victoria, Lennox and Addington, Prince Edward and Haliburton, situated to Metropolitan Toronto's huge and growing central market area, provided with an extensive and modern network of transportation facilities and an energetic and versatile work force, the area is certain to attract more new industry and see the further expansion of resident enterprises during the sixties," the report says.

The Region's population — now an estimated 338,000 persons - is expected to exceed 450,000 by the mid-seventies. A substantial rise in population has provided the labour force necessary to implement the advances made in manufacturing, agriculture and other facets of the economy. The labour force is estimated at 130,000, or about 38 per cent of the total Region's personal income, estimated at $445,000,000 in 1960, was about 86 per cent higher than in 1951, an increase which is reflected in improved housing and higher living standards.

Since 1955, more than 100 manufacturing firms have established new plants, opened new branches or made additions to existing plant capacity in the area. Dairying and livestock raising is both important to the Region's agricultural industry - are expected to be stimulated by the growing domestic market and the increase of improved bulk storage and transportation facilities.

Recent trends indicate that the Region's tourist industry can expect to grow and flourish in the coming years, and assume an even more important role within the area's economic framework. In 1959, the Region was responsible for 14 per cent of all tourist accommodation in Ontario.

May find car missing if parked during or after heavy snowstorm, reeve warns guished a representative in the personage of Mr. Frost.

George F. W. Inrig
Acting Secretary
Victoria - Haliburton.
17 Sussex St., N. Lindsay.
February 20th., 1962.

George F. W. Inrig, Esq.,
Acting - Secretary,
Prog.-Conservative Assoc.
Victoria and Haliburton,
169 Kent Street, West,
Lindsay, Ontario.

Dear Mr. Inrig:-

"Last fall I discussed with the executive my retirement from the premiership and Government of Ontario. At that time I advised the executive that I would deal with my plans concerning the representation of the seat at a later date. Next month the annual meeting of the association will be held and I feel that the association should be in a position to deal with the matter and to take whatever action is necessary in the best interests of the party in this riding.

"After the fullest consideration, I have come to the decision that I should not again seek the Progressive Conservative nomination for this constituency and should so advise the association. I have arrived at this decision naturally with some regret.

"In eight general elections I have carried the party standard during times of great change which have witnessed fundamental alterations in the economics of our counties. Since 1943 I have been able to serve our province and our country in a wider sphere because of my being the member for Victoria. I shall not refer to the accomplishments of that time, other than to say that they would not have been possible except for the confidence, the understanding and the never - failing kindness of the people of Victoria and Haliburton. Being the member for this wonderful constituency has been my greatest and most valued honour, which I have prized above every other distinction. It is natural that, after having represented this Anyone leaving their cars parked on the street during or after a heavy snowstorm might not find them there when they get up the next morning. This was disclosed Monday night by Reeve Lloyd Pound, chairman of the Board of Works Committee. He told Council the Lindsay Police Department had been given the authority to tow any cars away if they were hampering snowplowing.

Mr. Pound said it was getting so that the plows had three choices - - bury them, ski them or get them towed away. "We have taken the last one." He said the streets were getting fairly narrow with the pileup of snow and that plows were having extreme difficulty trying to manoeuvre around parked cars.

"The time has been set at 2:00 a.m. for all persons to move their cars off the streets. After that, if the plow cannot get the street plowed, then the police have a tow-truck come and remove the car," the reeve stated.

"The boys have a job to do and it is up to the citizens of Lindsay to help them get it done," Mr. Pound concluded.

Farewell service honors Reaboro missionary

Reaboro (PNS) — A farewell service was held in the Reaboro Baptist Church in honour of Miss Enid Skuce who is leaving shortly to take up her duties as a Missionary in Haiti.

The Rev. Mr. Duncan, acted as chairman for the service which opened with a Sing-song led by Mox Aldous.

Mr. Gordon Burke, of Peterborough, sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Gordon Morden after which Mr. Hubert Burke offered prayer for Enid's home and early life which included school picture. Sunday school gatherings and family pictures. Other pictures shown by Mr. Burke included beautiful floral pictures with scriptural passages also local scenes. Following the showing of his pictures, Mr. Burke showed some pictures belonging to Miss Skuce who gave a commentary for these. Included among these were pictures of the Central Baptist Seminary which Miss Skuce had attended as well as summer camps in which she had helped. There were scenes of Haiti where she would be working and she gave a description of the people among whom she would be working.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Skuce of Peterborough sang a duet which was most appropriate.

In her testimony, Miss Skuce referred to her Christian parents and home, her associations with Youth Groups, her decision to become a missionary after finishing high school and having worked for some time in a factory. She described the circumstances which made after her decision. She attended Gordon College, Boston to study theology, after which she attended Candidate School in Pennsylvania. In order to learn French, she attended Bethel Institute, Sherbrooke, Que. Miss Skuce explained that she will still have to learn the Creole language after arriving in Haiti.

Mrs. Douglas Burke read an appropriate farewell address to Miss Skuce and presented her with a purse of money collected by the good wishes and prayers of all her friends from Reaboro Church and district.

Miss Skuce thanked those present for their kind gesture and appealed for their prayers in her work in Haiti. Messrs. Will Veals and Max Aldous led in prayer after which Mrs. Douglas Burke and Miss Skuce sang a beautiful duet.

Following the service, refreshments were served and those present had the opportunity of extending their wishes to Miss Skuce.

Enid Skuce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Skuce, R. R. 3, Omemee and has three brothers. Eric of Peterborough Russel of Peterboro and George who lives with his parents.

Enid attended No. 9 Ops public school and Lindsay Collegiate Institute and was a member of the Bethany Baptist Church where she has given much of her time and talents in music, both piano and voice, where she will be greatly missed.

While working in Peterborough, Enid devoted much of her time to Young Peoples' Work in the Park St. Baptist Church. Many of her friends from here attended the farewell service for her, as well as relatives and friends from Lindsay.

Owing to a delay in her visa, Miss Skuce was unable to sail at the appointed time, but was leaving to visit friends in Philadelphia where she will remain until she is able to go on from Haiti in the near future.

All the best wishes of the community goes with Miss Skuce in her chosen work among the people of Haiti.

Mayor says:

Not required to supply ambulance

Lindsay is not required to supply an ambulance service. So stated Lindsay's Mayor Joseph Holtom Monday night. He made this statement in answer to a question posed by Councillor Mel DeGroat.

Mr. DeGroat's query was - - "Does Lindsay have to supply an ambulance service for its citizens?".

The discussion evolved from a topic which has been a conversation piece of considerable interest to the town in the past few weeks. Mayor Holtom said that the Board of Health and the town council both feel that there should be an ambulance service, but that it should be handled by the public hospital.

Reeve Pound enquired if anything had been done with regard to asking the hospital to assume control of the ambulance.

Mayor Holtom replied that nothing had been done directly. He added - - "I don't think we have the authority to do that type of work."

Mr. DeGroat asked why, in the report which Mr. McArthur operator of the present service in Lindsay, had presented to the Board of Health, the sudden jump from $1,800 to $4,000.

Mayor Holtom answered that by saying there had been a change in auditors. Mr. McArthur and - - "I guess he didn't realize how much he was really losing".

Uniform tender procedure queried

The procedure followed by the police and fire committees in calling for prices on uniforms for the two departments was been branded as a "touchy affair" by Councillor Mel DeGroat. Mr. DeGroat made this observation at the height of a lively discussion between Councillor Joseph Hutton and Robert Payne.

Mr. Payne asked Mr. Hutton why he had objected to the way in which the tenders had been called for. "Mr. Hutton has gone on record as saying he didn't like the way the issue was handled."

Mr. Hutton said he didn't recall saying that, but if he had he certainly wasn't going to retract it. "My objection was not to the way it was handled wrong but because the tenders should come to the town office and not to the committee chairman."

Mr. Payne retorted that the one tender that was received had come to the Town Office and he had been given the envelope prior to the meeting a week ago and had just handed it back to the clerk.

It was asked why there was only one tender. Mr. Payne stated that possibly only one store was interested. "However, I checked on Tuesday and found out that one store had been omitted. I checked with Bud Bates and he said he would give the store a chance to tender."

It was learned that the deadline which was set for Monday, February 12th was extended to Monday February 19th. At that time, four stores had submitted tenders on the uniforms.

Councillor Mel DeGroat asked if council had approved the calling of tenders for the uniforms. It was stated by Mayor Holtom that Mr. Bud Bates that the town office had followed the usual procedure and that the six

Chancel Guild holds first afternoon tea, bake sale

Sunderland (PNS) - St. Mary's Anglican Church Chancel Guild held their first afternoon tea and bake sale since their inauguration three years ago. In spite of inclement weather it proved to be a big success.

The Banquet Hall was beautifully decorated in keeping with St. Valentine's Day and the tea table was attractively arranged with the door prize, a Valentine cake, in the centre. There was a big display of home baking on the bake table.

Mrs. Lloyd Morrow, president of the society, welcomed the guests and said she thought they were very brave to come out in such bad weather to attend the tea. The baking sold very quickly. Mrs. Harold Martin and Mrs. Duncan Martin were in charge of the bake and were assisted by Mrs. John Allin. Mrs. Flager and Mrs. John Miller poured tea. Serving were Mrs. John Hutchinson, Mrs. Ken Bagshaw and Mrs. Ron. Bagshaw and Mrs. Waterbury.

Highlight of the afternoon was the showing of oil paintings by the well known local artist, Mrs. Hilda Fish. Over twenty pictures were hung in the Council Chambers. There were scenes, birds, flowers and horses. Mrs. Fish has been interested in art all her life and as a young girl she used to sketch the scenes of beautiful English countryside. She studied art at the Dartmoor girls High School in England and after leaving school she would paint along with the modern talented artists who knew Devon for its lovely scenery. She emigrated to Canada and continued painting. Now in her 80th. year, she still loves to paint and when working on a canvas she gets so entrused she forgets all else and even misses out on meals. Though there are many of her works scattered over the country, this is the first public showing of her pictures.

Mrs. Kirk was treasurer for the afternoon and made the draw for the door prize which was won by Mrs. W. Durant.

men's wear stores or departments in Lindsay had been notified. "We invite Com. Hutton to be present at the opening and read.

The four stores submitting tenders were Brownies; Class ton's; Wood's and Ferguson's.

The mayor set up a committee of Town Clerk Bud Bates, Fire Chairman Ernie Macalder and Police Chairman Robert Payne to pick the best tender and bring the report to council on their choice.

president, said following the meeting the sale of watches with non-working jewels is going on every day in Canada.

"A watch could have a 21-jewel movement," he said, "and have 18 jewels pasted on the back of the watch. This could be advertised as a 39-jewel watch."

Mr. Scott said the maximum number of jewels any watch could effectively use is 29 jewels. Many good watches have fewer, he said.

What is probably the last New Year's card to come this way in 1962 has arrived from Bellingham, Washington. It is the regimental card of Capt. C. H. S. Hunter, M. C., who is well known in the Scotch Line (Dunsford) district and who visited here last summer. Capt. Hunter served with the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders in World War One. As a matter of fact, the captain sent along two of his cards, one signed and the other bearing only the numeral "7" . . . A good luck number?

This toffee brown Donegal tweed suit is from Irene Gilbert of Dublin. It has a jacket with gentle fullness achieved through the use of a curved band inset at the waist to control the gathers above and below. The skirt has easy fullness that follows the line of the jacket. The gondolier hat is of burnt straw.

Basic herd plan worth considering

Some Ontario farmers might be advised to take advantage of the "insurance" of a Basic Herd Plan say authorities with the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

The plan offers some farmers a chance of avoiding heavy taxes on proceeds from a dispersal sale, or compensation from catastrophes such as fire or disease. All animals except feeders are eligible for Basic Herd in sheep, hogs, beef and dairy cattle.

Ontario Agricultural College economist W. M. Braithwaite, states that mature breeding animals (2 years of age for cattle, 1 year of age for sheep and swine) are eligible for 1 full unit each in Basic Herd. Animals younger than this are worth ½-unit each.

Starting farmers can usually build up a Basic Herd at little or no cost but even established farmers with a low income can often build up a Basic Herd cheaply.

Some points worth mentioning:

- Write or call your district taxation office and ask for form T2019, the Basic Herd Application Form if you are interested in starting a Basic Herd.
- If you are planning a dispersal sale and you don't have a Basic Herd, you must make application for a Basic Herd at least 30 days prior to date of sale.
- If a herd is destroyed by fire, insurance proceeds are treated as income. The same is true of compensation paid to a farmer in the case of disease.
- You must have a separate Basic Herd for registered and grade stock.
- You can apply for a Basic Herd for one class of animals and not for another.
- Your Basic Herd can never be more than the number of mature animals (units) you have in your inventory at the end of the year. If sales during the year have reduced the number of units on hand at the end of the year - below the number of units in your Basic Herd - - you must reduce your Basic Herd to equal the number of units on hand. This reduction is repayment of capital and proceeds from the sale of these units are not taxable.
- Farmers who file on an accrual basis do not need a Basic Herd since all increases in inventory of livestock and crops are reported each year and therefore are taxable.
- If a person has been farming less than 3 years, he must have filed for every year since he started to farm.
- If a farmer does not have a record of his livestock inventory at January 1, 1947, he may obtain this information from the Health of Animals Branch of the Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.
- Animals received through gift or inheritance (after Jan. 1, 1949) may be added tax-free to the Basic Herd if (1) the animals were part of the Basic Herd of the person giving the gift or the deceased; or (2) the fair market value of the animals were added to the income of the giver or the deceased in the year of the gift or death.
- No two situations are the same. Visit your taxation office before you fill out your application form.

Timely tips for farmers

If you plan on adding a drilled well on your farm, make sure you instruct the driller to install a casing large enough to handle the pump, suggests Professor R. W. Irwin, Ontario Department of Agriculture engineer. Since most deep-well pumps used on farms nowadays require at least a 4" or 5" casing, don't get caught trying to cut expenses and end up with a casing too small for the pump you intend to buy.

Spend a few days now preparing your farm machinery for the spring rush, advise the engineers with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. It might save you up to a week in lost time in breakdowns during seeding. Check for worn bearings and chains, clean rusted mechanisms, and replace broken parts.

Two reasons why lambs die are that they are cold and wet, says E. M. Needham, in charge of OAC's sheep flock. Keep your lambing shed at 50 to 55 degrees F. and use plenty of straw. Place the new straw on top of the old, since removing old straw could spread infection.

Keep your green house seeded moist at all times when the seed is germinating, recommends Milt Watson, tobacco fieldman with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. On bright sunny days you will probably need to water 4 or 5 times each day. On dull cloudy days, the seedbed may not need watering at all.

Lady Hughes I.O.D.E. installs new officers, hears annual reports

The highlight of the annual meeting of the Lady Hughes Chapter IODE was the installation of the new executive. The incoming Regent, Mrs. Lorne Wright will be assisted by the following executive: first vice-regent, Mrs. G. Weeks; 2nd vice-regent Mrs. Vodov -"e- second vice-regent, Mrs. A. Street; Secretary, Mrs. Don Scott; Assistant Secretary, Mrs. A.B. Patterson; Treasurer, Mrs. J. Kubiak; Education Secretary, Mrs. L. Dunning; Echoes Secretary, Mrs. B. Jones; Standard bearer, Mrs. W. F. Sanders; Service at Home and Abroad, Mrs. T. Fisher; Assistant Services, Mrs. K. Johnson. The installation was conducted by Past Regent, Mrs. M. Sleep.

Following the opening of the meeting, the Regent Mrs. A.G. Corneil asked the members to stand and observe a minute's silence, in tribute, to the late Mrs. F.S. Vrooman, Honorary Regent of the Chapter. Mrs. Corneil also welcomed Mrs. Ewart Malcolm, a guest at the meeting.

Members listened with interest to the reports of the outgoing executive. In her excellent resume of the year's work, the Secretary, Mrs. Don Scott paid tribute to Mrs. Corneil for her inspiring leadership, and to Treasurer Mrs. G. Mayes for her efficiency. Her month by month reports reads as follows:

March: a pot luck supper, supplied by the members, opened the meeting. The first and second vice-regents, Mrs. L. Wright and Mrs. G. Weeks were chosen as delegates to the convention in Hamilton in April. The Retarded Children's school was supplied with voluntary help for two months. The Harmony Hour Luncheon and spring rummage sale were planned.

April: Money was donated to the Kiwanis Music Festival. Cigarettes were sent to ex-service men. Mrs. J. McQuarrie gave an interesting account of her visit to IODE headquarters in Nassau.

May: Money was donated toward sending Lindsay Collegiate Institute students to United Nations Seminar. Mr. Partridge, of Century House spoke on the importance of a museum in the community. Two new members, Mrs. B. Jones and Mrs. L. Porter, were installed by the Regent. Stimulating and informative reports were heard from the convention.

June: A dinner meeting was held a the Cameo Tearoom Fenelon Falls. A large sum of money was voted for Educational Work, under the direction of Mrs. A.B. Patterson. Mrs. W. Sanders reported on the success of the spring dance. Arrangements were once again made to handle the sale of Fair tickets, in September; for members to attend Citizenship Day at the County Court House, to take residents of the Victoria County home for a drive, and supply refreshments. Money was donated to help the Historical Society and members offered to help with hospital sewing.

September: Plans were made for the fall rummage sale and Gentlemen's Night. Thank you notes from students receiving prize books from the chapter were read. The meeting concluded with a scavenger hunt and barbecue, served at the home of the Regent, Mrs. Corneil.

October: It was decided, on the suggestion of Welfare Convener Mrs. G. McElroy, to send a hamper of food to a needy family at Thanksgiving. Financial aid was sent to the adopted child in Germany. Mrs. Corneil installed two new members, Mrs. L. Dunning and Mrs. J. Kubiak. It was decided to fill six nursery bags for children in Europe. The meeting ended with an enjoyable film, The Invisible Keystone.

November: Money was donated for the annual Bursary to the L.C.I. and also toward the purchase of a torso for the Ross Memorial Hospital to be used in the study of anatomy. Plans were made to enter a float in the Santa Claus parade.

December: Following a turkey dinner, prizes were given to members who had contributed the most work during the year. Winners of the Harmony Hour Luncheon, the Lands and Forests quartette sang original lyrics to the tune of Jingle Bells, and presented the chapter with a trophy, to be presented to future winners. Arrangements were made to take Victoria County Home residents to see the festive decorations throughout the town.

January: Nominations for coming year were conducted. A letter from Provincial Headquarters was read, telling the results of a national IODE questionnaire.

Educational Secretary Mrs. A.B. Patterson stated that nearly $500 had been spent on education by the Chapter during the past year. This amount financed bursaries, aid to 15 LCI students, prizes for Central and St. Mary's students and assistance to the adopted school at Kearney.

In the report of the Services Convener, Mrs. D. C. Ferguson, it was noted that members had made 341 knitted and sewn articles, 101 hospital pads and 50 pounds of homemade candy for the CNIB. Thanksgiving and Christmas food hampers, 40 pounds of used clothing and several pairs of children's shoes were distributed to needy cases. The adopted child in Germany received personal gifts as well as financial assistance. A total of $789.00 was spent in the Services department.

Following the installation of the new Executive, Past Regent Mrs. Corneil thanked the members for their cooperation during her term of office, and accepted the gift of the chapter, the Regent's tray from Past Regent, Mrs. G. Cook.

To quote the closing paragraph of the secretary's report: "As the year closes, one cannot help but reflect that nowhere is to be found a group who works so well and so successfully, both from a financial standpoint and the opportunity to do service for community and country. It is indeed a fact that " We Work well Who Work Willingly" in Lady Hughes Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

Helpful cooking ideas and household hints

Sunday Brunch

A Sunday brunch suggestion . . . glazed ham steak with thinned eggs. They're baked together in the oven for easy preparation. Brush a one-inch thick ham slice with a mixture of three tablespoons of brown sugar . . . one tablespoon of catsup . . . and one-fourth teaspoon of tabasco. Bake 50 minutes in a 325-degree oven. About 15 minutes before the ham is done . . . add the eggs. For each person . . . carefully break one or two eggs into a greased individual baking dish. Add two tablespoons of light cream and a little tabasco and salt to each dish and bake with the ham until the eggs are set.

Boiled Or French-Fried

This curry dip is good with boiled or French-fried shrimp. To make about two cups . . . you'll need one-eighth pound butter or margarine . . . one cup of unpeeled apple, finely chopped . . . one fourth cup of minced celery . . . two teaspoons of curry powder . . . three tablespoons of onion soup mix . . . one-half cup boiling water . . . and one cup sour cream.

Saute the apple and celery in melted fat until it's soft - - - about 10 minutes. Stir in the curry powder . . . onion soup mix and water. Cover and let stand about 15 minutes. Stir in the sour cream and heat until it's boiling.

Oil Favorite

Sweet and sour mushrooms are an old favorite. Clean and wash the mushroom and cook them for 40 to 50 minutes. Drain the mushrooms and rinse them in cold water. Then mix together two cups of vinegar . . . one cup of sugar . . . one cup of water . . . and one tablespoon of pickling spices tied up in a white cloth. Bring the mixture to a boil. Add the mushrooms and allow to boil for 10 minutes. Pack into hot sterilized jars and seal immediately.

Refreshing

This orange, date and nut dessert is refreshing after a hearty winter dinner. For six servings . . . peel and slice five oranges. Cut the slices in halves and mix with one cup of coarsely diced dates and three-fourths cup of orange juice. Chill for several hours. Sprinkle with one-half cup toasted slivered red almonds just before serving.

New Flavor Interest

Spicy sauerkraut gives new flavor interest to franks and kraut on a bun. To make enough topping for four franks . . . drain two cups of sauerkraut. Add one-third cup of French dressing . . . one-fourth teaspoon each of Basil and dehydrated minced garlic . . . and one-eighth teaspoon of pepper. Cook over low heat for eight minutes.

Cream Or Oil Beauty Tip

Don't try to scrub off non-waterproof mascara with water. It could cause eyelash damage. You need a cream or oil to remove the non-soluble mascara. Soak the remover in non-sting pads that now are available.

Couple honoured

A large crowd was present in Cameron Victoria Hall, when Mr. and Mrs. Don Worsley newlyweds, were the recipients of a money shower.

The evening was spent in dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Worsley are residing in Toronto.

REMAINS UNSIGNED

Home run king Roger Maris remains unsigned by the New York Yankees today. Maris met yesterday with Yankee General Manager Roy Hamey to discuss contract terms, but Hamey commented that "we made no appreciable progress". After that date, the Yankees slugger will be considered a holdout.

Check on possibility of Fire Dept. handling town ambulance service

Lindsay's Council will be checking into the possibility of the town assuming control of the ambulance service, and placing it under the direction of the Fire Dept. This was contained in a motion by Councillor Les Neil Monday night.

Mr. Neil told council that the City of Oshawa's Fire Dept. handled the ambulance service there. He explained that he had been talking with a man from Oshawa over the past weekend and had learned that Oshawa had gone through the same experience which Lindsay is in the process of going through.

Mr. Neil said - - "This man told me that Oshawa had had an ambulance service maintained by an undertaker and he requested that council give him a subsidy to operate his service. They said no. Another man offered his service, but later decided that he too wanted a subsidy. Now the ambulance service is under the Fire Dept."

Mr. Neil moved that the clerk be authorized to communicate with the Oshawa clerk and request information concerning the setup and costs of operating the ambulance service from the fire hall."

The motion was carried.

Mayor Holtom said that a number of towns out west followed this policy and had found it very successful.

Nestleton WI plan to hold Grandmothers' meeting

Nestleton (PNS) — Nestleton W.I. met for their regular February meeting at the home of Mrs. G. Bowers with Mrs. Wilfrid Vine a co-hostess. Mrs. H. Vine, President, was in the chair and Mrs. M. Emery as assistant secretary officiated in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. A. M. Beacock.

Following the opening exercises several business items were discussed. The Unitarian Services parcel was delivered by courtesy of Mrs. R. Middleton. A card was signed by all members for Mrs. J. Forber who has not been well and a thank-you was received from Mrs. E. LeMiere. Messages were read from Mrs. J. Watson and Mrs. E. Brown and a letter from Mrs. Wm. Steel now visiting in Australia, also one from Mrs. Beacock who is in Toronto caring for her sick sister.

The leaders for the Meat Course at Orono were unable to attend due to illness. The Blackstock Fair list, "Home Crafts" prepared by Nestleton W.I. was read and used postage stamps and labels were handed in.

An invitation was received from Honeydale W.I. to visit their branch in the Anglican Hall, Port Perry. The members accepted the kind invitation and arrangements were made for transportation. Several members and visitors met at the home of Mrs. Elliott to listen and discuss the Farm Forum broadcast. The findings and comments of those attending and those listening at home were filled in on a prepared sheet and forwarded to headquarters.

After long discussion re Mrs. Lynn-turner's proposition for an International Scholarship fund for this 65th Anniversary year, $25.00 was voted to the project. Remaining funds will be available for local and community work for which all Institutes put forth special efforts. Mrs. Emerson made mention of the new W.I. cup and saucer with Institute crest which is now available as gifts or souveniers. Mrs. Vine announced that the March meeting will also be the Grandmother's meeting at Mrs. A. Hyland's, when Mrs. K. Samells, convener of Historical Research and Current Events will provide the program and Mrs. V. Hudson's group in charge of refreshments.

Mrs. H. McLaughlin Convener of Citizenship and Education had arranged the day's program. The Roll Call was, "If you were Reeve what improvement would you make in your community". And the motto, "A good citizen is not just content to sit" was enlarged upon with an appropriate poem read by Mrs. A. Hyland. Mrs. McLaughlin had prepared a paper on Mrs. Ellen Fairclough of the Immigration Department telling of her wide travels and diversity of courses including hats for all occasions. A short talk on Dr. Leslie Bell and the C.B.L. trip to this great Canadian and humorous bit written by Mrs. Ellen Hyland. The question, "Do Girls an education was much enjoyNeed an Education?" was led. Mrs. E. Mairs favoured with her usual good violin music. Mrs. Allen Beacock's group served a tasty lunch and thanks were extended to the hostess, helpers and all for the good meeting.

YOU BE THE HISTORIAN

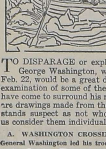

TO DISPARAGE or explain away the true greatness of George Washington, whose birth we commemorate on Feb. 22, would be a great disservice. But there is basis for examination of some of the myths and curious legends that have come to surround his name. Shown above, for instance are drawings made from three fine paintings, each of which stands suspect as not wholly in keeping with facts. Let us consider them individually. You are asked to fill blanks.

A. WASHINGTON CROSSING THE ——— On Dec. 26, 1776, General Washington led his troops across the ——— River to strike against Trenton. Historians point out that in this 19th century painting by a German, Leutze, the wrong type of boat is shown. That it seems unlikely Washington would stand in the boat so recklessly. And that the flag depicted did not exist at the time.

B. SURRENDER OF ——— On the day of the surrender of the British at Yorktown, the beaten enemy general was to have appeared on the scene at 2 o'clock, ——— did not show up, but sent his sword by General O'Hara, with an apology for his indisposition. Washington allowed General Lincoln to receive his adversary's sword in his place.

C. BETSY ———'S U. S. FLAG. This famous painting depicts seamstress Betsy ———'s delivery of the "first U. S. flag" to George Washington in 1777. Legend has it that a call upon Betsy in 1776 by Washington, Robert Morris and George Ross (her late husband's uncle) resulted in the piecing together of this flag, but this information is disputed.

● Probably the most famous Washington legend of all is that of cutting down the cherry tree. Fact or fiction, there's something wrong with the way it's depicted above. What?

● Shown above is a calendar of the month of February, 1732. George Washington's birthday is believed to have fallen on this month. Seems logical, doesn't it? But there's something wrong here. Do you detect what it is?

● Versions vary as to the object young George is said to have tossed across a certain stream. Some say a stone; some say a dollar. In any case, what's wrong with this picture?

Puzzles & Pastimes

Bees in His Bonnet

A MAN owns four hives of bees. Hive A has ten more bees than B. B has 20 more than C. C has 30 more than D. If hive D houses 215 bees, how many bees are there in all four hives?

Warning: figure wisely or you might get stung.

No fair peeking at answer below.

Answer: Hive A has 105 bees, Hive B has 95 bees, Hive C has 75 bees, Hive D has 215 bees.

Prolonged Division

CAN you divide 45 into four whole numbers so that if you add 2 to the first number, subtract 2 from the second number, multiply the third number by 2 and divide the fourth number by 2, the result in each case will be the same?

Hint: None of the numbers exceeds 20.

Time limit: 2 minutes.

Answer: Number is 8, 12, 5, 20.

DRAW A TIMELY SUBJECT

EMMA C. McKEAN

BETTY is dressed in a costume that was worn by a little girl during Colonial times. This lady with the pail had reminded Betsy of a famous person of that era. Can you guess who it is? To find out, simply draw a continuous line from dot to dot, beginning at 1 and finishing by 2, 3, 4, and so on. Afterwards, you may wish to add colors to the scene.

Answer: George Washington.

What's in the Pot?

IN SPAIN you would say paella. If in France, pomme de terre. In Germany, kartoffeln, in England, chips.

Any way you spell or say it, you're still talking about what well known edible?

Answer in 1 minute.

Answer: Potato.

TRY THIS WITH TWIST

THERE are no weight limits in this unusual competitive pastime because it is primarily a test of balance. You either have it or you don't. Adventurous souls may wish to try it as a twist to the twist.

Contestants each place a book of matches (or a small matchbox, etc.) on the back of a closed hand. They stand on a distance sufficiently great to enable them to touch the object held by the opponent. Object of the game is to unseat the opponent's matchbook. This must be done without unseating your own, of course.

If a gladiator succeeds in dislodging his opponent's matchbook but drops his own in the process, the opponent wins.

IN CHECKERS as in boxing, when you crowd a fellow against the ropes, you have to watch that he doesn't bounce back. Black appears to have White cornered into a corner here, and sure enough, White bounds back to win in three moves.

It's White's turn, moving up the board. Can you meet the challenge?

Answer: White moves 11-15, 15-18, 18-22 and wins.

Decide to buy water tanker for Fire Dept.

Fire Committee chairman Ernie MacCalder announced Monday night at a meeting of the Lindsay Council, that his committee had decided to buy a tanker truck for the Fire Department.

Mr. MacCalder explained that this truck would be used for fires in Ops Township and the newly - annexed area. He said that during the winter months, the Board of Works truck was housed in the fire hall, but that when summer came, they couldn't get hold of it if it was necessary.

"This tanker would be able to carry 1,200 gallons of water and would be of considerable aid in fighting fires in areas where water is not easily accessible," Mr. MacCalder stated.

The amount for the new truck will be placed in the 1962 Fire Department budget which will be presented to council within the next few weeks.

New Doors

After considerable discussion last week at council, it was decided that the issue of installing wider doors and a new ramp on the old portion of the fire hall would remain in the hands of the fire committee and would be discussed at greater length before budget time. It was learned that it might be included in the 1962 budget if the fire committee feels it is a necessity this year.

Bagshaw Lumber Kings have bang-up time in Syracuse

Leaving Lindsay by special bus bearing the "Bagshaw Lumber Kings" banner, the team played in Syracuse in a crowd of between 27 and 28 thousand people. The team manager and coach said they heard many compliments on the boys' performance in the game which ended 5-3 for Syracuse. Said one fan: "It was one of the finest games I have seen this year - wide open and very clean."

There were two Bagshaw casualties in the game - Jack Williams, captain, and Paul Strasburger. It was feared for a time Williams might have lost the sight of his left eye - the gash over it took 14 stitches to close, but the eye escaped damage.

Bagshaw scorers were R. Jewell, assisted by Don Kelly. Ronnie Pillsworth unassisted and Paul Strasburger, on an assist from Ray McCabe. Bagshaws had 39 shots on Syracuse and Syracuse took a bead on the Lindsay net 41 times.

Syracuse has offered to come to Lindsay for a return match on an expense - guaranteed basis.

Lumber Kings open at Belleville in three-team round robin

Bagshaw Lumber Kings are in the playoffs and the opening game in the three-team round robin series is at Belleville on Friday night. The play moves back to Lindsay on March 2nd. (Friday) for a 9 p.m. game. On March 6th. (Tuesday) the Lindsay outfit goes to Kingston and on the following Friday it plays the Kingston unit on home ice.

Team manager Johnny Tozer says the programs are all ready and the purchase of a 15-cent copy gives the holder a chance of getting in on the jackpot shot at the specially fronted net during intermission.

The first home game is to be something of a benefit affair, part of the proceeds going to defray medical costs of the team in Syracuse.

Publicity was arranged for by the use of posters, newspapers, TV, through church calendars, and group meetings.

A film was shown on the work the offering received are contributing to around the world, it to be used in groups throughout the churches prior to the meeting.

A teenage service possibility was to be explored by each representative contacting the leader of girls' work in her church and reporting to the secretary. Orders of children's service for children's groups were given out to be passed on to the leaders of these groups and, if necessary, further orders taken.

BIG BLOW BRINGS UNEXPECTED HALF-HOLIDAY

Rural LCI pupils brave blizzard, go home at noon

Out-of-town high school students, who made it to school Monday in a blizzard which struck late Sunday night received an unexpected holiday. Lindsay Collegiate Institute Principal William S. W. Breese announced to the students shortly before 11:30 a.m. that all out-of-town students would be dismissed from regular classes at 12:45 p.m. following the second lunch period.

He said reports he had received showed the side roads were beginning to drift badly and it was feared that the buses might get bogged down if they did not leave as early as possible. "However", he asserted, "the school is not closed, and town students are required to attend the rest of classes Monday and Tuesday."

Mr. Breese said that if it was at all possible, the buses would bring the out-of-town students in Tuesday. "That, of course depends on the road conditions". It was announced that four buses didn't make it through the morning. They were carrying students from Fenelon Falls, Little Britain, Valentia and Pontypool.

Around the District

High school students weren't the only ones to get snowed under by the sudden blizzard. Many municipalities were completely isolated for several hours this morning as snowplows had difficulty keeping roads clear. Pontypool and the Bethany area, were still fighting to clear roads by 10:00 a.m. this morning. Fenelon finally succeeded in clearing some of the main highways, but high winds are drifting the snow back over the roads as fast as they are plowed. Departments of Highways officials in Pontypool said that the plows were working continuously in an effort to keep the majority of the snow off the roads.

North of Lindsay in the Fenelon Falls area, plows are working trying to clear travelling space. Reports from there say that visibility was really below zero and snow is drifting heavily. One traveller from Powles Corners said that many cars had been left abandoned along the road towards Lindsay.

Farther north around Coboconk, the snow was just beginning at 8:30 a.m. Reports say that winds were almost nil during the night and there was very little drifting. However, this morning the winds had increased and snow was beginning to swirl over the roadways.

Minden reported snow-covered highways and bad drifting in places. Plows were at work, but were slowed down by the re-drifting of the snow.

Up in Haliburton, the sky was clear of snow but overcast. Occasional flurries of snow were appearing in the east, according to reports from there this morning. Winds were fairly vigorous and snow was beginning to drift.

Over on Lake Simcoe, around the Brechin area, roads were reported to be clear this morning, but drifting was starting to occur in places.

In Town

It was estimated that over five inches fell on the town during the night, with winds piling the snow in places a foot or more in height. Snowplows, graders, scoops and tractors were busy long before breakfast this morning in an effort to clear the main arteries for business traffic. The Board of Works Department called out all the heavy equipment. Their job is to clear the main artery, Kent Street for all services.

It is reported that main highways through Lindsay are the first item, with the ambulance routes, bus routes and the main street following in close succession. Work is expected to continue for sometime yet, as more snow later in the morning added to the work.

Pioneer Haliburton man has 102nd birthday

A man who was born in Lindsay 102 years ago February 17th., was the recipient of many good wishes on his birthday. Mr. William Gregory is the man and he is currently staying at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mae Cook in West Guilford. He has been largely confined to his bed for some time following a fall after which he contracted pneumonia.

Born in Lindsay on February 17, 1860, Mr. Gregory is the son of the late George Gregory and his wife Charlotte Sawyer. At the age of nine his parents moved to the farm now owned by Mr. Ed. Elstone on Sawyer's Lake.

The Gregory family later re-located on a Harburn farm and it was here in 1881 Mr. Gregory brought his bride, Miss Margaret Bateson of Peterboro.

Before moving to the town of Haliburton in 1915, 11 children, three of whom died in infancy, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Gregory: Ethel, Mrs. John Todd of Burkes Falls; Richard a sniper in the 109th. Battalion who was killed in action November 29, 1916. Mabel, Mrs. Donald Roberts of Trail, B.C.; Elizabeth, Mrs. Otto Miller, of Toronto; Mary Catherine, Mrs. Morris Hallowell of Haliburton; John of Rochester, N.Y.; Ira of Toronto and Blanche.

Mr. Gregory has 45 grandchildren, 72 great grandchildren and 10 great-great -grandchildren.

Mr. Gregory, whose years span the transition era between oxcart and atomic power, has a treasure trove of colorful memories to brighten his quiet years; his early days clearing the homestead at times permanent and abiding contri-

THAT

There are some jobs that call for a strong back and unloading the steel beams which are being used in the St. Andrew's Church Sunday School Hall renovation program is one of them. Here a couple of workmen prepared to "bend to" and lug another of the weighty beams into the building. A $37,000 alteration plan was approved recently by the board of managers.

Ladies attending the Business and Professional Women's Club's 1st Joint International Candlelight Ceremonial at Lindsay on Sunday afternoon got a preview of things to come in the fashion world from one of their number just back from a trip to the continent. Mrs. Margery Pewtress, vice - president of the Cobourg Club, recalled that around the corner from the hotel she stayed in while visiting Paris, a fashion show was in progress. The trend, she said, is "for skirts to be a bit longer, covering the knee; waist lines at normal with wide crushed belt; no sleeves in any dresses; pleated skirts are featured in suits and afternoon and evening frocks; navy blue is the dominant colour."

A few more repeat performances of the kind the weather has been staging this past few days and there may be a slight delay in showing off those new spring fashions.

The Lindsay Little Theatre Group reports it is getting a good response to its ticket sale for the first public presentation to be staged by them . . . Court's, Percy Honzer's men's wear and Golden's Stationers are handling the tickets in the downtown area for the group.

Following Gen. Graham's talk, the graduation exercises took place with the Vice-Pres. of C.G.A. of Ontario J. S. Dow, C.G.A. presenting the certificates.

Paris not the gay place it used to be, Business and Professional women told

Cobourg vice-president pays tribute to Kawarthas

Paris is not the gay place it used to be - at least not in some respects. A first-hand glimpse of the tension which grips the city was given Business and Professional Women's Club members nuding their 1st joint international candlelight ceremony at Lindsay by Mrs. Margary Pewtress.

Just back from attending an international executive meeting in Paris, Mrs. Pewtress told her audience the meeting was held to accompaniment of exploding bombs and wailing police sirens.

Said Mrs. Pewtress:

"While we were meeting in Paris, bombs were exploding outside - police sirens were sounding at least every half hour. On the surface, in the tourist districts, all seemed as usual. But, just underneath that surface, there was a tenseness - a fear of what the future held. One was continuously reminded of the importance of women's place in the world today. In the 25 countries where we have National Federations - and in isolated spots where we have affiliate clubs, we are all working together for a better and a happier world. Our observance of International Week reminds us anew of our responsibilities towards each other and towards all women everywhere - to work together - to learn of together and so to make a more butive to the development and maintenance of International understanding and through this - to World Peace."

Responding to the toast to "International Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Mrs. Pewtress said.

"It is an unusual privilege for me to respond to the toast to international in Lindsay this afternoon. It is just a little over 13 years ago that I stood in front of your Lindsay Club (to be exact, it was 13 years ago last Nov. 22nd). At that time I said - and I know I said this for I found my notes the other day when going over some B and P papers.

"I have seen quite a few countries and lovely places since then, but I still think the Kawarthas and the surrounding country are "tops". And your club and our whole district have an enviable record of achievement during those 13 years. You are a worthy part of our "widespread family" and your members have done their full share to further the aims and objects of our International.

"International is a very personal thing to me and to all of us. It is not a theory - an ideal - way up beyond the reach of all of us- it is an integral part of our Club life - of our thinking - of our living.

"I am just home from an International Executive Meeting in Paris. To me International is epitomized by that group of women, sitting around a baize covered table in an old world hotel sitting room, with ceilings at least 20 feet high - with beautiful wainscotting and scroll work - a bit cold perhaps!) There were Our President, Elizabeth Feller from Switzerland; Doris Smart and Ruth Tomlinson from England; Paula Van Gorp from Belgium; Jean Randall from Australia; Madame de Saint Blaquart from France; Vera Campbell from headquarters in New York and of course, myself from Canada.

"We started the day's work at 9.30 going through until 12 o'clock at night, the first day and 2 o'clock on Monday morning after the Sunday session. For what other organization - or boss - would we work those hours! The problems we discussed were many - problems of membership, expansion, consolidation, the bringing together of ideologies - of races and creeds. Of course, the Oslo Congress was planned in detail. It is going to be a wonderful meeting and I do hope there will be a good representation from this District. There is no better way to "promote mutual respect amongst people" our International theme this year than get together such as our congresses".

Over 400 Guides, Scouts, join in honour of their founder

Over 400 members of the Land Rangers, Girl Guides, Brownies, Rover Scouts, Boy Scouts and Cubs gathered Sunday afternoon to pay tribute and offer thanksgiving for the life of Robert Baden-Powell, the founder of the Scout movement.

The special Sunday service was held at the Lindsay Collegiate Institute on the eve of Brotherhood Week and Boy Scout Week. The ceremonies were very colourful and eye catching. Representatives of troups and packs from around Victoria County gathered for the special service.

The ceremony was started with the procession of the colour party, containing flags of the Scouts, Guides, Cubs and Brownies. This procession was led by three girls, one from each branch of the Girl Guides, carrying Union Jacks. These were followed closely by Brownies with their flags, Cubs, Guides and Scouts, with flag guards marching beside and behind.

The entire audience rose as the flags made their way down the centre isle to the platform. The honour guards marched in front of the platform while the flag bearers proceeded to the stage and placed their flags in the flag holders.

The ensemble formed a colourful background for the service to follow. The three Union Jacks were placed in front with the Girl Guides, Brownies and Cub flags immediately behind. The outside flags on each side were Scouts.

The flags of each group were distinctive each flag having the troop name printed on the face of the flag.

During the placement of the flags, the audience remained standing for the singing of "The Queen". This was followed by the reading of "The Bidding" by a member of the Rover Scouts.

The audience then rose and joined in as the Scouts sang their "Boy Scout Hymn". A member of each branch of the brotherhood movement offered a prayer for his or her particular section.

Chairman for the day was Scouter Art Patterson who led the meeting in the "Lord's Prayer". The Guides then sang their hymn, with the congregation adding their voices.

The guest speaker was L. R. Griffith, Regional Commissioner for the Bay of Quinte Area. He spoke to the gathering on the life of Lord Robert Baden-Powell telling of the various incidents in his life which led to the organization of the Boy Scout movement. Mr. Griffith said that many of these incidents resulted in some of the ideas which were incorporated into the charter of the Scout movement.

He explained that many of the tests which Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies must pass before attaining a badge, were actual experiences which Baden-Powell had during his lifetime.

Following his short talk, every member of the movement repeated his or her promise which they made when they first joined the movement.

The special meeting was closed with the singing of "O Canada" and the audience remained standing while the flags were taken from their stands and the colour party proceeded to lead the parade out of the auditorium.

Mrs. L. Culbert hostess to Ladies Aid

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — The February meeting of the Ladies Aid of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Fenelon Falls, was held at the home of Mrs. Leigh Culbert with a good attendance.

The president, Mrs. Murchison, opened the meeting with a poem entitled "Make Me Kind". This was followed by a hymn with Mrs. Don Whyte at the piano.

Mrs. Murchison led in the devotions, reading the Scripture. A short meditation was based on Colossians 3-17 — "And whatsoever ye do in word or deed do all in the name of the Lord Jesus giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

Reports from the various committees were read and approved. Activities for the coming months were discussed. The March meeting is to be held at the home of Miss Haskell.

Refreshments were served.

THE PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT . . .

The prospects on Lindsay's construction front in the foreseeable future are bright and this will come as heartening news for those who earn their living in building and allied trades.

For a time, as the Ontario Girls' Training School was entering its final phase of construction, the prospects in this field didn't appear too good as far as Lindsay was concerned. In the meantime, there are at least two major building programs to be started here soon and several lesser projects are in the making throughout the district. The two buildings to be erected in town are the composite school addition to the Lindsay Collegiate Institute and the federal building to house the new post office and other federal government agencies, held promise of considerable employment in the next few months. This should, along with normal activity in the industry, auger well for the town's economy.

TAKING THE INITIATIVE . . .

In the wake of the recent and continuing case of the alleged marketing of meat considered unfit for human consumption, meat processors have taken the initiative in the matter of getting their products certified. Evidence of this is contained in a recent dispatch from the Canada Department of Agriculture.

The departmental news release reads in part:

"In the first six weeks of 1962 the federal Health of Animals division has received more than 70 applications from fir msfor inspection of killing and meat processing plants, Dr. K. F. Wells, Veterinary Director General of Canada, announced today.

"The influx could be traced directly to the recent outcry against uninspected meat allegedly being retailed to the public, he said. Previously applications came in at the rate of one or two a month.

"Dr. Wells explained that while law requires the Meat Inspection Service of the division to inspect plants from which the product is shipped out of the province or out of the country. Such products carry the Canada Approved stamp.

"Meat establishments in Canada under federal inspection total 230 and comprise 65 large animal slaughter plants, 68 poultry slaughter and processing plants, and 97 meat processing plants.

"Dr. Wells said the growing list of applications for federal meat inspection is made up of firms volunteering for inspection to satisfy retailers who want the Canada Approved stamp on the product, and consumers who have begun expressing the same wish. He added federal inspection has already been extended to some applicants; other applicants were in the process of qualifying.

"Killing plants require veterinary inspection of every animal and bird before slaughter and in the course of slaughter. Some phases of inspection are carried out by trained assistants. There is a shortage of veterinarians in Canada and the Health of Animals division's strength of approximately 530 veterinarians, is not sufficient for all the Department's program."

THE YEAR OF THE BIG CHANGE

The year 1962 may well go down in local history as the year of the big change because change there certainly has been.

Reflect for a moment, if you will, on the changes which have occurred in the personnel of various offices.

The Hon. Leslie M. Frost, began the new year in an entirely different role to that he held in 1961; Victoria County got a new judge—His Honor J. C. N. Currelly—replacing Judge J. A. McGibbon who died suddenly last fall; the county also has learned of the appointment of two new officials—Sheriff Everett Scott and Registrar M. W. (Monty) Robson. Lindsay appointed two new officers—Town Clerk Bud Bates who, until recently, had been acting clerk; and Town Solicitor Joseph Staples, who had been acting town solicitor for some time; This week Art Bates, Town Hall caretaker for several years, announced he wished to retire; the Water Commission lost the services of a valued employee—Mrs. Alma Sandercock—who was forced to resign her position for health reasons.

There were probably other changes in personnel which do not immediately come to mind. However, sufficient have been mentioned to illustrate the fact that this has indeed been a year of change.

HAS THE TIME COME?

Lindsay's municipal dump has been in the news quite a lot lately in one way and another. But then the town dump has been in the news off and on for years. However, it has now come to the point where the town has to make further provision for taking care of it.

Judging by some of the reports, this place (the dump) seems to be something of a treasure chest . . . It provides a fair amount of salvage which can apparently be sold at a profit. This, coupled with the fact that the town is now going to be called upon to hire another person to look after it, (or rescind its earlier decision and give the present caretaker another chance) raises the question of what form this care will take . . . How much it will cost and so forth.

A few years ago, the town was advised to consider an incinerator. At that time it was, as now, in the process of providing sewage disposal facilities and set aside the idea of an incinerator. Has the time now come to reconsider this idea?

There are many reasons for wishing to get rid of the present system of destroying burnable garbage and waste material which consists merely of keeping a number of fires burning and sending a pall of smoke drifting over the surrounding countryside. If the salvage obtainable is worthwhile, would it be possible to get someone set up in the incinerator-salvage business on behalf of the town? To say the least it would seem practical to explore the idea. Perhaps enough could be shaded from the cost of the projected sewage disposal system to make it practical to build an incinerator and let someone interested in the salvage business operate it in return for earnings from the salvage.

Reports and Remarks...

NEW TYPE PENS FOR POST OFFICE LOBBIES

The old fashioned nib pens which have adorned post office lobbies for the last half-century have seen their last days. According to an announcement released recently by the Postmaster General, the Hon. William Hamilton, the nib pens being used on lobby counters in post offices are to be replaced by modern ball-point pens.

Starting immediately, all the old pens in larger post office lobbies will be replaced with an improved type of ball-point pen adopted after a long period of experimenting with various kinds of writing equipment. Mr. Hamilton acknowledged that for some time it had been realized the old style pens were outdated and in many cases became useless after a very short time in service.

The new pen is blue in colour and is designed with a 24 inch chain for attaching to a desk or counter to discourage "borrowing" by absent-minded patrons.

In a nostalgic mood, the Postmaster General recalled various uses served by the old pens. He recalled lobby "dart games" in which patrons could cover their hands with ink and make addresses and names quite indecipherable. He expressed hope that the modern pens would not only eliminate many of the problems faced by post office patrons but that they would also preserve the postal service from the indignation of many patrons who emerged second-best from an encounter with the old-time nibs.

HOW CAN SLUMLORDISM BE ATTACKED

From a pot pourri of solutions and counter-solutions, all aimed at removing the abscess of slumlordism, Chicago has finally introduced effective countermeasures which should go considerable distance in piercing the enigma. That city, disturbed by mounting costs of subsidizing substandard housing inhabited by welfare families—and the attendant sociological problems coupled to low tax yield, has enlisted the aid of the fire, health and building inspection departments. These, together with the social welfare department, will form cohesive units to harrass owners of such properties.

The plan works like this: when a social worker visits a family drawing relief, he pays particular attention to the physical qualities of the accommodations, ie., fire escapes, plumbing facilities, heating and general obsolescence. If any violations are noted he reports these to his office. The Welfare authorities will then deduct rent allowances from the monthly relief cheque. The welfare recipient is also warned not to make any attempt to pay rent.

This action now places onus on the slumlord. In order to evict he must present his case personally to court.

At the same hearing, a representative of the welfare agency asks for a stay of action until such repairs to the property are made and property brought up to minimum standards.

This forces slumlord to either demolish or renovate. He is also warned by the court to refrain from any attempt to secure back rents pending disposition of case.

Standing on threshhold of new era, U. C. women told

Miss Anne I Ward, executive secretary of the Board of Women of the United Church, in her address during the Bay of Quinte inaugural service, said "Remember that we are standing on the threshold of a new era. It is hard for us to assess the significance of it all. We are going forward in faith. The future holds much that we can not know nor anticipate."

She reminded her listeners of the rich heritage of the pioneer women who organized themselves on the frontiers, and who went as missionaries into fields where no women had ventured previously. "God", she said, "moved in the hearts and minds and wills of these dedicated women who accomplished great things. Now in the twentieth century, these conditions no longer exist. Today there is no aspect of the Church's work in which we cannot share.

Miss Ward emphasized that this new movement is not so much women's work, as women working. Nothing is really new, it is an outgrowth of the old. Everything new is the inevitable result of what we have been and what we have done. Some people are reluctant to give up the old ways, and can see no virtue in the new. Others are so eager to grasp hold of the new, that they overlook the value of the old. She remarked that two things are needed: 1. We need a renewal of our conception of what it means to be the Church, (God's people). 2. We need to stretch and enlarge our understanding of the mission of the Church. She stressed the fact that this new organization is no longer a part from the main stream of the Church, nor is it any longer exclusively concerned with women's work, but it exists for the purpose of preparing women to live and work as members of the Church, not as members of a woman's organization.

One definition of a congregation is "an instrument of mission". "The real lack of the people of God is our witness outside the walls of the Church, in the community, the nation and the world. There is evidence of expectancy and readiness on the part of men to enter into this new phase. But we must remember this new thing cannot be our own creation. There must be a renewal of our spirit and our dedication that we may be God's witness in our own generation. We are only instruments in the hands of God for the building of His Church, for it is God alone who makes things new. Let us truly dedicate ourselves that we may fulfil His purpose in the world."

Save A Step

When making cookies that must be flattened, save one step by dipping the flattener in sugar instead of flour.

Special Section

Fasten scrapbooks or special sponge sections made specially to do the job on the backs of pictures. This helps hold the picture level and will prevent dark lines on the wall.

Saves Time

Safety pin children's socks together as you take them off. The two then go through the laundry together. You've saved sorting time later.

Starch

Linens and cottons dipped in a light starch solution are less apt to soil. And stains wash out readily.

Sponge

If a faucet develops a leak that can't be fixed at once, put a sponge under the faucet. This quiets the drip and prevents rust spots in the sink.

Chapping

Dip a cotton swab in petroleum jelly and apply to baby's chin and nose before taking him out in blustery weather. The lubricant helps prevent chapping.

Don't Eat

If you live in an area where wisteria grows, tell your children never to eat any part of the plant. Wisteria is often the cause of poisoning. The common symptoms of wisteria poisoning are vomiting, nausea, abdominal pain, diarrhea and abdominal swelling.

Coffee

If you have a bird-watcher in your family, prepare him for a cold session of logging rare winter birds with a special lunch. Be sure to include a thermos of good hot coffee.

Brush Rollers

One of the causes of baldness in women is brush rollers used in hair setting. Sometimes, when use of rollers is stopped, hair will regrow in three to four months. If the scalp is scarred, however, regrowth is unlikely.

Take A Look

If you're putting on weight despite low-calorie diets, take a look at the embellishments you may be putting on the food you eat. Such things as rich sauces, gravies, dressings and table fats usually have more calories than the food they are served with.

Hang Tag

When taking garments to your drycleaner, it will help if you tell him what was on the hang tag originally. If he knows the fiber content it will help him in cleaning the garment safely and efficiently.

1st. International Candlelight Ceremony

Mayor-making, well blessing, ceremonies which impressed Lindsay lady in England

Two ceremonies which a former president of the Lindsay Business and Professional Women's Club saw while in England made a lasting impression on her. Mrs. Edith M. Stewart described them in some detail to the 1st Joint International Candelight Ceremony held Sunday afternoon in the Royal Canadian Legion Hall, Lindsay . . . The ceremonies are "mayor making" and "well blessing."

Describing the "mayor making" ceremony, Mrs. Stewart said it was a very impressive public affair in which the incoming mayor was installed and the retiring mayor placed in office as deputy - mayor. In the ceremony she witnessed while visiting the Lindsay Club's adopted club in Macclesfield, a woman, appropriately enough, was being installed — Miss Anne Davenport.

The "well blessing" ceremony is really a religious rite one in which residents in a community gather to give thanksgiving for their new source of water. Mrs. Stewart recalled that this was a colorful event in that pressed floral picture arrangements were made by the residents to depict various biblical scenes.

Recalling that it was her second visit to the Macclesfield Club, Mrs. Stewart said her welcome was no less enthusiastic. Some of the experiences which impressed her on her latest trip, she returned last fall), were, she said, the British railways which have absolutely nothing in common with their Canadian counterparts; the formal way of life of the English; the intriguing names of some of the villages and towns, "Winkle," for example; and the English person's love of walking . . . "I did more walking over there than I did in a lifetime here," she declared.

One of the happy events of her visit to the English town of Macclesfield was the fact that Princess Alexandria chose that particular time to visit the place also. "She is beautiful", Mrs. Stewart told the assembly.

Besides giving an account of her stay at Macclesfield, Mrs. Stewart took her listeners on a word tour of other points included in her trip abroad.

As a result of her visit to the club "adopted" by Lindsay B & PW, Mrs. Stewart was presented with a book — the story of Macclesfield. When she sailed for home, the visiting Canadian found a beautiful bouquet of carnations awaiting her in her stateroom when she boarded ship.

The program for the 1st Joint International Candlelight Ceremony was highlighted by the lighting of candles indicating countries in which Business and Professional Women's clubs flourished and blowing them out in turn as where the club had ceased to function. Among the latter places were Hungary, Rumania, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Argentina and Cuba. The ceremony was conducted by Regional Advisor Miss Jennie Pringle. In her remarks, Miss Pringle noted that the 1st Joint Candlelight Ceremony was not a permanent thing, but that a vote would be taken again to see if members wished to continue the practice. The last candle to be lighted was, she said, the candle of the future - for clubs not yet federated and for clubs throughout the world — "Lights up every place until we have taken our rightful place!"

Mrs. Therma Bell, president of the Lindsay club presided at the head table of the banquet which seated about 150 ladies from Ajax, Bowmanville, Cobourg, Oshawa, Port Hope, Peterborough and Lindsay.

Introduction of head table guests was performed by Miss Ruth Smith, past president of the Lindsay club; the toast to International was proposed by Mrs. Victoria Frank of Bowmanville and responded to by Mrs. Margery Pewtress of Cobourg club vice-president. Appreciation to the speaker Mrs. Stewart — was expressed by Miss Luella Knapp, president, Peterborough . . . Selection was sung by the Lindsay club's quartet and Miss Joyce Yarde was pianist for the day. The banquet was catered by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion.

Over 200 curlers crowded the Peel Street curling rink on the weekend to take part in the 13th annual Lindsay Mixed Bonspiel, the largest event of the curling season. They were in attendance from Cornwall, Belleville, Peterboro, Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls, Huntsville, Gravenhurst, Bradford, Bracebridge, Toronto, Royal Canadians Scarboro; Toronto Canoe and Cricket Club, Weston; Toronto Avon Lea, Toronto Tam O'Shanter, Dundas, Burlington, Whitby and Lindsay.

From this throng of expert curlers a rink from Bobcaygeon skipped by Ted Shea emerged as winners of the primary event and Gruen watches by Walkers Jewellery. The Caygeon rink experienced a tough, gruelling two days of curling. This rink was 7 down in three ends against Cliff Vincent of Lindsay, but by determination and skill the lead was set aside with the Bobcaygeon foursome finishing one point to the good. The nicest game for the Shea rink proved to be the final when Shea tangled with Mabbett of Newmarket in a ding dong battle which was ultimately decided in the last end when skip Shea placed a beautiful guard on a lonely shot. Skip Mabbett was unable to reach the shot rock. The rink from Little Bob won a deserved victory.

The rinks: Bobcaygeon-Elois Pearson, W. Shea, Mrs. D. Shea, Ted Shea, Skip. Newmarket-Shirley Hicks, Dalton Hicks, Dixie Warden, Bill Mabbett, Skip.

The second event known as the Gregory Drug Store Competition, was won by the Royal Canadian rink from Toronto, skipped by Ed Rhodes. It was a well-fought game and was in doubt until Rhodes slipped over a 5-end on his opponent, Skip Slatcher of Whitby.

Skip Andy Widdis of Lindsay was eliminated by the Mabbett rink, but the Lindsay quartet picked up fourth prize in the event.

Shea eliminated Anderson of Whitby to enter the finals, the Whitby rink winning third place.

Lindsay: Mary Keeler, Lawrence McArthur, Marie Widdis, Andy Widdis, Skip.

Geo. Aitkens of Lindsay won third place and Stan Edmonds of Lindsay finished in fourth place, both skips having been eliminated by Rhodes and Slatcher. The Lindsay rinks: Margaret Mitchell, Howard Mitchell, Biff Aitkens, Geo. Aitkens, Skip; Grace Richmond, Ken Richmond, Kay Cook, Stan Edmonds, Ekip.

One of the most thrilling games of the bonspiel was the battle between Lou Walker of Lindsay and Glen McCrae, also of the local club. It was the third event for the Toronto-Dominion Bank prizes. McCrae defeated Al Ingram of Peterboro and Walker trimmed Carl Hussey of Cornwall, formerly of Haliburton. In the final game McCrae had Walker down by 7 shots in three ends but the Walker four fought back and won the match in an extra end after Walked had tied up ends 10 with 11 with beautiful shots. The Lindsay rinks. Jean Willis, Jim Laidlaw, Reta Kay, Lou Walker, Skip. Pearl Ford, Ronald Ford, Louise Ashmore, John McCrae. Skip.

Play in the Waterwheel Motel event was equally thrilling. Don Campbell of the Don Lea Curling Club and Graydon King of Lindsay, clashed in the final game. It looked all over for the King rink when Campbell chalked up a 7 but the Lindsay rink fought back and had a glorious chance near the finish. King was lying four shots when he attempted to come into the house with a fifth rock, but was unfortunate enough to tick a Campbell rock in for shot. The Lindsay rink: Leita King, Ken Stewart, Wilson, Marie Sutton G. King, Skip.

A rink from Fenelon Falls skipped by A. Thompson annexed the prizes donated by Lindsay Motors Ltd., Ford store, while the Bagshaw Lumber Co. prizes were won by Dr. Bob Green's rink from Scarboro.

The Green rink had a stiff battle on No. 6 rink the final game against a Lindsay rink skipped by Bill Whyte. The two rinks battled all the way with the Green rink coming through with a two extra fine curling on the last two ends. The Lindsay rink: Peggy Whyte, T. Tonzos, Helen Gregory and Bill Whyte, Skip.

CONGRATULATIONS:

The many curlers who took part in the three-day event agreed that arrangements and meals in connection with the big event were well handled. Special thanks went to Ralph Rodman who was M.C., during the event and to Miller Shields of Whitby for their work well. Ice conditions were excellent and hospitality was all that could be desired.

A day that will long be remembered in the minds of the 45 members of Branch 67, Royal Canadian Legion, Lindsay, will be Saturday, February 17th, when they journeyed to Whitby by bus and car to enjoy an afternoon of sports and fellowship together with the members of Branch 112. On arrival at the Legion Home in Whitby they were given a royal welcome by the President Vern McCarl and members.

The boys mingled together for a short time and got themselves acquainted, after which John McIver, sports official for Whitby, called the gathering's attention to the different activities that would be taking place throughout the afternoon. After the boys had decided what sport they wanted to participate in, the following members of the sports committee of Branch 112 conducted the different tournaments, Mike Holly directed Shuffleboard with Ross Wilson and the Darts and Bob Adams handled the Cribbage.

Thirty-two players took part in the Shuffleboard Tournament, 16 from Whitby and 16 from Lindsay. The players consisted of teams with a member from each Branch. After some four-and-a-half hours of very keen competition the following were successful in taking home the prizes for the day: First-Harry James of Whitby and Al Pinney of Lindsay; Consolation-Jack Pyke of Whitby and Russ Williamson of Lindsay. In darts some 20 players took part and this proved to be a very keen contest with some very sharp shooting by both branches. This was a straight competition between Whitby and Lindsay. This proved very interesting for those who had time to look on between other tournaments. The prize winners were as follows: First-Harry Vlamink and Frank Demayer of Lindsay; Consolation Max Atkinson and Doug Taylor of Whitby.

Dropping in to the television room one of the visitors found a group of 20 members of both branches participating in Cribbage. These fellows were really taking things serious and after everyone had made their way around to the different tables, the following were winners of lovely prizes: Russ Hartwick of Lindsay and Don Gordon batted a 1,000 to take first prize. Norm Thomas of Lindsay and Reg Martin of Whitby. Ted Campbell of Lindsay and Bill Henderson of Whitby had a rather rough afternoon when they were unsuccessful in winning a game throughout the tournament.

Some of the older members enjoyed a game of euchre throughout the afternoon, being unable to participate in the various sports competition. John McIver, sports officer, presented the different prizes to the winners and congratulated them on their winning effort and the sportsmanship shown throughout the afternoon.

President Vern McCarl expressed him appreciation and thanks to Lindsay for coming to Whitby for this afternoon of Comradeship together. President Jack Dames assured him that it was a pleasure and the boys had certainly enjoyed themselves to the full.

Commit Peconi For Higher Court Trial

Inspectors tell court of purchasing meat

A man charged with selling meat unfit for human consumption has been committed for trial by a higher court. Magistrate R. I. Moore, presiding at a preliminary hearing here on Thursday, found there was sufficient evidence to commit Edward Peconi, of Argyle, for trial. Mr. Peconi was represented by Defense Counsel H. E. Richardson of Lindsay. The defendant pleaded not guilty at the hearing. The crown was represented by S. B. M. Graham.

At the hearing RCMP Cpl. O. J. Lutes told of his visit on Sept 13th. to the Peconi receiving plant at Argyle. He was accompanied by Cpl. E. Drayton. When Peconi was found to be absent from the receiving plant, and evidence heard revealed that the inspectors proceeded to a small cold storage plant near Beaverton. Arriving there they introduced themselves as businessmen from Detroit and Windsor, interested in starting a meat business and wishing to know if Peconi could supply them. The crown witness stated that Peconi showed them a large carton of meat of which there were possibly a 100 all told. There were also, he testified, a large number of wooden crates containing meat. Cpl. Lutes said he examined one carton and offered to pay 26 cents a pound. He said the accused stated he could supply five tons a month or every other month at which point the corporals stated they were not buying but were getting ready to set up in business.

On November 3rd, the court was told, the two men again visited the receiving plant at Argyle. Testimony was heard that the accused offered to sell at 25 cents a pound and that he asked them how they proposed to handle and sell the meat and they replied that they would place the meat they were purchasing in the centre of good meat. Corporal Lutes testified that Peconi sold him a carton of meat and charged $13 for it and he also produced the counter sales slip used in the transaction.

Defense Counsel Richardson question the inspector at some length. Under examination the witness stated that in June he accompanied a man from the Ottawa Valley to Peconi's receiving plant where they asked Peconi if he could supply them with dead animal meat and that they were simply inquiring about being able to secure a supply.

Defense Counsel insisted in having the witness disclose to the court the name of the companion who accompanied Corporal Lutes to Peconi's place on June 27th. Permission was granted by the magistrate and the crown asked that the court take not of his objection. The name was given as C. Bollegraat, of the Ottawa Valley. The defense also brought out that Corporal Lutes gave his name to Peconi as Dusty Lutes and gave Corporal Drayton's name as Ed Jackson.

It was also admitted by the Corporal that the meat he purchased was labelled "dog meat" and that he did not know of any other sales being made by the accused.

Defacers give rest rooms r ough time

Lindsay's public rest rooms are getting in the news in more ways than one these days. On Monday night, council committeemen heard a report on a suggestion that a portion of the existent rest rooms be converted into a police station to relieve congestion within the Town Hall proper. Almost simultaneously with the report, "The Post" received a letter deploring the defacing of walls and fittings within the rest rooms and other shortcomings. Some of the information contained in the letter was almost incredible but a visit confirmed the statements. The two pictures above give only a fractional example of the extent of defacing within the rest rooms. In keeping with the Valentine season but probably not the most appropriate place for art work of this type, is the massive etching of a Valentine on a rest room seat (above, right)—one of several wood carvings to be seen . . . . This was in the ladies section. The handwriting on the wall in the picture above, left, could not be published in its original photographic reproduction but the extent of the wall-writing is apparent. And, according to the relief caretaker, that wasn't 'one-two-three' with some specimens which had been erased a few days before. There were some pretty lewd sketches freshly applied to the walls of the nickle-odeons.

Noticed along the way

THAT

It's perhaps a little late in the season to be talking about calendars (most people have collected their 1962 quota) but the calendar shown above is the kind you don't come across every day. Nor do you have to worry about a calendar shortage cropping up in you're fortunate enough to get hold of one. This one reposes in the office of County Clerk Frank Weldon who says it has been there as long as he can remember (he has been on the job 40 years) and was probably kicking around when he took over. Purely a manually-operated job, the month, date, and day are changed by simply manipulating the nobs on the side. Designed not unlike some of the older clocks its case is nicely polished. Anyone know its history or how it found its way to the county court house.

Jack Cornish of Mimico wasn't having too much luck with his ice fishing over the weekend at Moore's Lake (Haliburton County) but he was having a good time all by himself. Far from the distraction of "the maddening crowd" he was holed up in a snug ice hut with nothing to do but eat, fish, sleep and, if he chose, contemplate the wonders of nature. Dropping in on Mr. Cornish, it was interesting to learn that he was no stranger to these parts. He had, in fact, done considerable fishing with Crown Attorney Lorne Jordan and was well acquainted with his father before him who was a former Victoria-Haliburton magistrate. It turned out, too, that he had had company for part of his weekend stay—Bob Lytle of Lindsay being his fishing companion. Since the fish weren't biting, he had plenty of time to talk and point out the things of interest in the well-kept ice fishing hut. For warmth there was a compact oil stove (you could fish in your shirt-sleeves in comfort) an excellent arrangement of chesterfied cushions for a makeshift slumber chamber, lots of food, a fish sled (popped up against the hut), and the other necessary fishing equipment. Mr. Cornish said he had enjoyed some luck on previous fishing trips but, with Sunday night still to go the fish hadn't risen to the bait so far that weekend.

The price should be clearly marked . . . on postage stamps. At least that's the way Mr. Azellus Denis (MP for St. Denis) feels about it and he pulled no punches when he expressed his views in the House of Commons on a new stamp being issued at the end of this month. Here is how Hansard recorded the incident:

Post Office Department Complaint Respecting Design of New Issue

On the orders of the day:

Mr. Azellus Denis (St. Denis): I should like to direct a question to the Postmaster General. I have received a reproduction of the postage stamp which will be issued on February 28 next. It is so filled up with designs that it looks to me like a Chinese puzzle or a pawnshop, behind which the price is almost completely hidden. In view of that fact will the Postmaster General take steps with regard to future issues if he is still in office — to see that the most important part of the stamp, the price, is clearly shown?

Hon. W. M. Hamilton (Postmaster General): The honmember refers to the stamp being filled up. Of course it is not merely the stamp which is filled up in this instance. I am inclined to agree with the hon. member on the basis of the information and reproduction which he has seen, which is only in black and white, but I can assure him that when the stamp comes forth in its full two colours he will find it is another very attractive stamp.

Mr. Denis: As a supplementary question, will the minister admit that the price, 5 cents, does not appear very clearly beside a pair of pliers, a violin and so forth? He will notice that the price does not show clearly.

Mr. Hamilton (Notre Dame de Grace): Mr. Speaker, there are none so blind as those who will not see. All the rest of

May still start boulevard removal

Work may be done yet on removing the boulevard on Russell Street east between Lindsay and St. Lawrence Streets. Recommendation for this work was presented to council last year, but to this date nothing has been done on it.

Mayor Joseph Holtom asked Reeve Lloyd Pound if anything was being done now. The mayor said he believed that there was to have been an engineer's report made about the cost of the project.

Reeve Pound asked the town engineer, J. N. Timberlake, if anything had been done. Mr. Timberlake informed council that he had given his report to council in 1961, but that it had been deferred because it would not be decided from which side the boulevard was to be removed.

Mayor Holtom stated that the south side was the one which had been decided upon. Reeve Pound said he would check into the proposal and try to get it rolling again.

It is said "there's a time and place for everything" and when the picture at the top was taken, it was a time for concern. AMBULANCE SUBSIDY ISSUE STILL UP IN THE AIR

Court dismisses appeal

Victoria County Judge J. C. N. Currelly has dismissed an appeal by the Ontario Hydro Commission against the assessment of the building shown above. Located on the northeast corner of Eglington and Lindsay St. north, the building stands on private property leased by the HEPC and is owned by the HEPC. The HEPC, in its lease, undertakes to pay the taxes levied against the owner of the property. When hydro erected the building, Lindsay did not control the assessment of the land—it was in Ops. When the area was annexed and Lindsay took over, the assessor upped the private land assessment on the grounds that the building improved the value of the property. Hydro appealed on the grounds that HEPC property (including building) is exempt from taxation under the Power Commission Act. The court ruled that the assessment stand on the grounds that it did in fact improve the land value.

Thinks narrow fire hall door challenge to driving skill

Councillor Mel DeGroat indicated this week that getting a fire truck in and out of the old portion of the firehall should test the skill of drivers He suggested they should become proficient in manoeuvering out of tight places rather than widen the doors and ramp of the fire hall.

Fire Chairman Ernie MacCalder had recommended to council that wider doors and new ramps were needed for the entrances to the old portion of the fire hall. He stated that the pumper housed in that portion of the hall had difficulty in manoeuvring when trying to get out the door in a hurry.

Former Fire Chairman Joseph Hutton told council that he had considered it a waste of money to repair the doors. "I don't think it is necessary to have new doorways. I was chairman for two years, and I fought it both years," he stated.

Mayor Joseph Holton said that anything to do with the maintenance of the fire hall should be handled by the fire committee and not by the town property committee. "This committee should be like the Board of Works and handle all their own expenses," the mayor stated.

Councillor Hutton said he wished it would be referred to the town property committee. "I know what I'd do with it then."

The question was asked why a new door was necessary for the old hall when both trucks could get in and out. Mr. MacCalder said the old pumper was a wider truck than the Fargo and that it had to pull almost out into Cambridge Street before it could make a turn. "We have repair bills and dents in the truck to prove it," he said.

At this point Councillor DeGroat said he was not in favour of having a new door put on the building and that was the reason for the building of the new section to house the newer trucks. It was also pointed out that the equipment in the original fire hall only moved out on "the second call" and therefore there was lots of time to maneuver it.

Number on relief shows decrease on the month

The number of recipients registered for relief for the month of January 1962 shows a decrease over the same month in 1961. Figures released by the Welfare Office in Lindsay show 150 persons on relief for 1962 as compared with 187 for the previous year.

These figures break down into three basic categories. They are heads of families, dependants and single people. Figures for 1962 show 29, 111 and 10 respectively. In January 1961 the figures were 35, 147 and 5.

On the monetary side of the statement, an increase is shown in the total expenditures. The total amount spent for the month of January is $4,442.66 while in 1961 for the same month it was $3,571.96

These figures break down into three basics expenditures. The October agreement paid $2,516.26 in 1961 and $3,384.62 in 1962. The municipalities paid out $5.79 in 1961 and $46.14 in 1962. The town of Lindsay showed the only decrease in payment of relief for 1962. Their total expenditure was $1,011.90 for January 1962 while for January 1961 the expenditure was $1,049.91.

According to the relief statement this is a step in the right direction. It coincided with the unemployment situation which also shows a definite decrease for the month of January 1962 over that of January 1961.

McArthur asks $4,000 yearly subsidy now, Peterboro firm writes offering its assistance

The question of whether to grant McArthur's Ambulance Service a requested $4,000 subsidy is still up in the air. The Lindsay Board of Health has decided to take two steps before making any recommendation to Lindsay Council .... (1) It is going to seek further information from a Peterborough ambulance operator who has written the board offering to be of service. The board will ask for further clarification of his letter. (2) The board will also contact Bruce A. McArthur and ask for a breakdown of actual Lindsay calls, showing the average per call cost.

Bruce McArthur appeared before the board at a meeting last night and requested a $4,000 per year subsidy. Failure to get it, he is reported to have told the board, would result in a discontinuance of ambulance service as of February 28th. next. (Mr. McArthur made his presentation before the board arrived because the meeting time had been advanced 45 minutes and the press didn't have knowledge of the change.)

Central Ambulance Service Peterborough, operated by Fred Mortimer, wrote the health board saying he had two ambulances in operation 24 both completely equipped and carrying oxygen units. He offered to be of assistance to the board and he launched news of its plight in a newspaper report.

Chairman Marshall Stephens said he had talked with the Peterboro Board of Health physician who had told him the board there recommended to council that the city maintain two ambulances, 24 hours a day. Council there subsidizes one (or makes them a grant) of $2,000 yearly each.

Health board member Albert Hall said: "We have had a terrific amount of publicity in the press. 'Factual' statements have been published, but they aren't correct. That statement of his operating costs is his but it is not an audited statement.

Board secretary Bud Bates told the board Town Solicitor Jos. Sweeney had given it his opinion that it appeared as though the board could enter into an agreement to subsidize an ambulance service for a period not exceeding five years, subject to council's approval. Mr. Bates also pointed out that the Dept. of Municipal Affairs had indicated that a vote of the ratepayers on such an issue represented an expression of opinion but didn't necessarily bind council to act.

Mayor Holtom: "What's the board want to do with this matter?"

Mr. O'Neill: "Mr. McArthur's request is for a subsidy of $4,000 or up .... We couldn't possibly grant that amount of money without going to a vote of the people."

Mr. Gamble: "You have letters from other places on this subject ....

Mr. Bates: "Trenton has an agreement to pay up to $300 per month ....

Mayor Holtom: "What about Whitby?"

Mr. Bates: "Orillia isn't paying anything but makes a grant of $500 yearly to the Soldier's Memorial Hospital in Whitby a funeral director operates the service, but has no agreement with the town."

During the course of the discussion it was pointed out that any recommendation to grant an ambulance subsidy must come from the Board of Health to Town Council for approval.

Mayor Holtom: "Council has given you people upstairs an ultimatum."

Mayor Holtom: "He did the same thing to the people downstairs tonight."

Mr. O'Neill: "Do you feel you want to do something?"

Mayor Holtom: "Council felt it wanted the board to make some recommendation."

Mr. O'Neill: "What if we don't?"

Mayor Holtom: "Then council can't do anything."

Dr. Crowe: "If we should make a recommendation to pay Mr. McArthur less than that ($4,000), where do we go from there?"

Mr Stephens: "I'm going to suggest that the board make a recommendation to council to meet with Mr. McArthur and arrange a grant for as little as possible."

Mr. O'Neill: "He won't confine himself to the town of Lindsay."

Mr. Stephens: "What this board wants is to make sure there is an ambulance service for Lindsay. I think if the boards recommends to council to make a deal for as little as possible, then it's up to council."

Mayor Holtom: "I think both the board and council do agree that we're interested from the point of rendering a public service, but we're not interested in providing a profit for the operator."

Dr. Crowe: "Doesn't the municipality pay if there's an accident tonight and Bruce is called." ?

Mayor Holtom: "Yes."

Referring to Mr. McArthur's statement of operational costs, board member Laverne Gamble remarked that it appeared as though it was the ambulance service which was taking the blame and the funeral business was paying .... "It isn't fair to split the costs down the middle - I think it should be perhaps 75% ambulance and 75% funeral business."

Mayor Holtom: "The ambulance service should charge the people what it costs."

Mr. Stephens: "With a little profit ."

Mr. O'Neill: "Yes, with a little profit."

Mr. O'Neill: "Has Mr. McArthur been reimbursed by the town for calls on its behalf - he has had no loss as far as the Town of Lindsay is concerned?"

Mayor Holtom indicated this was true ....

Mr. Stephens said the ambulance service could be regarded as a sort of drawing card for the funeral business .... "If he picks up an ambulance case and the person dies, he stands a chance of getting the funeral too."

Mr. Gamble said he didn't think that should really be considered.

Mayor Holtom: "We would not want the service performed at a loss .... What is the actual cost per call in Lindsay? He also suggested at this time that the Peterborough letter be investigated further and additional enquiries be made of Mr. McArthur as to costs.

When the discussion continued and the fear of being without an ambulance service after February 28th., was expressed, Mr. Gamble said he didn't think the figures presented by Mr McArthur represented a fair breakdown.

Mayor Holtom: "On the basis of this statement (the one presented earlier by Mr. McArthur) I don't see how we can make a decision tonight."

Mr. Gamble noted that information from Asheville indicated that the ambulance service figured it should get $15 per call but charged $10 and the town pays the other $5.

Mayor Holtom: "Something along that line would seem right .... We would know we were helping the people of Lindsay ....

Two motions passed, after further discussion, with the result that the board will follow the course outlined in the opening paragraphs.

100 men take part in final inspection

An even 100 men took part in the final inspection ceremonies of the second National Survival Course at the Lindsay Armouries on Thursday. Everything went off as planned without a hitch. All the men performed well and the remarks given by the inspecting officer, Brigadier M. E. Clarke, E. D., C. D., of the 13th. Militia Group Headquarters in Peterborough verified that point.

In his remarks to the ranks, Brigadier Clarke said he could compliment this group on three major points. "The first was the look of each soldier. I was watching to see how steady each of you men could stand during the inspection part of the ceremony."

Brigadier Clarke told the men that the second very important point is how much a soldier knows. "You showed this morning the demonstration period."

"The last major point is how you act. This was shown throughout the entire afternoon's activities," the officers stated.

Brigadier Clarke stated that the men had come a long way in the short time they had been in training. "This course is desigined to teach the soldier the basic elements of National Survival."

The hope was expressed by the inspecting officer that many of the men on parade would stay in the service. He said he would be pleased if they planned to stay with the regular army or militia, and reported that one had said so. "This lad was joining the Royal Canadian Navy", the officer commented.

The brigadier also complimented the officers and NCO's on a job well done.

Special guests at the ceremonies Thursday were Chief Elsie Knott and her council from the Curve Lake Indian Reserve. Chief Knott said she was very impressed with the ceremonies she had seen. She thanked the 45th. Medium Battery for accepting the 16 members of her tribe into the course.

Mayor Joseph Holtom commented briefly on the process. He said that the fine job the boys were doing. He stated that this country and town needs a good group of men to help out in case of emergency.

Ceremonial Procedure

The ceremonial procedure was followed to the letter at the beginning of the formal inspection. The first part of the parade line was formed up long before the inspection officer arrived. The Corps was lined up in a form called Regiment-in-line.

All officers and NCO's were in the required places when the inspecting party arrived. A salute was given as the party approached the inspection platform.

The corps was proved and the inspecting party were then invited to inspect the ranks. Among the party was the inspecting officer, Brigadier M. E. Clarke, E.D., C.D.; his aide, Major Wildfang, both of 13th Militia Group Headquarters in Peterborough; Captain R. L. Gruer, commander of the Corps; Chief Elsie Knott of the Curve Lake Indian Reserve; Captain L. Davis, D. of Lindsay and Captain S. J. Moore also of Lindsay.

With the inspection of the ranks completed, the Corps marched past the inspection platform in column-of-threes. This was followed by drills and demonstrations by each individual troop. A precision drill team had the first display. This was impressive as the men went through routines without command.

A traffic control demonstration was given, showing how these men are trained to direct traffic in case of emergency. There were also demonstrations in rescue operations, including first aid, artificial respiration, saving people from a building and many other procedures. The final demonstration was a physical training drill.

Upon completion, the troops formed rank and the inspecting officer gave his remarks. The troops were then dismissed.

The Editor,
Lindsay Daily Post

Dear Sir:

I feel that an article in your "Reports and Remarks" column on a Federal Labour Code, by "Good Old Jack" Bigg, should not be allowed to pass without comment. The public is sufficiently misinformed as it is.

Mr. Bigg "doesn't want to dictate to Labour" - - just put it out of business. "Democracy is a farce without the secret ballot", he says. Democracy in rule by majority vote. A representation vote, binding one faction but not the other, makes democracy a farce whether the vote is by secret ballot or not. As to international unions, we must agree that finances and control of Canadian sections should remain in Canada, but "Good Old Jack" wants to go too far. Most large corporations are international and a good big man can lick a good little man any day. As to auditing the books, my books are audited twice a year, a financial statement is submitted to the membership once a month, and the books are always open. Most unions are the same.

Practically all legitimate unions bar criminals from holding office; also Communists, Fascists, etc. A man can run for Parliament no matter who or what he is. As to electing their own officers, that's no problem. All they have to do is come out and vote - - intelligently.

No union, to my knowledge, has "the right to call workers out on strike". A vote must be taken at the local level. This is our understanding of democracy - - the majority rules. However, if "Good Old Jack's" system should be adopted, that only members of the party in power contribute financially, and then only on a voluntary basis, I'm all for it - - for the present. But I wouldn't call it democracy.

Anyone familiar with the Labour picture can readily see that Mr. Bigg is just another advocate of the so-called "right-to-work" laws which have contributed so much to making depressed areas of the United States what they are.

Sincerely,
J. Williams,
Financial Secretary,
Local 5805, USWA.

TYPEWRITE DUST

There are some people who always think that the other fellow's job is the best. Have you ever wondered how you would like to be the old janitor or the milk vendor in frigid weather. He is right on the job come rain, hail or snow. Then there is the lady behind the courteous chap who has to ascend into the attic or descend to the basement to read meters. He, too, is a faithful employee and he is often called on to work under adverse weather conditions. It is of interest to note that there are over 4500 hydro meters in Lindsay and that it takes upwards of seven weeks to make the rounds. Meters in attics are now down to only three and most meters are located in the cellars. The new trend is to place meters on the outside of dwellings.

The built-in time mechanisms of plants and animals, the reconstruction of time in the earth's geophysical history and the applications of precise timing in communications and scientific research are also discussed during the program.

The story within which "About Time" presents this scientific information centres on Planet Q, a mythical kingdom where time has been unknown.

Snow, like work, has a habit of piling up occasionally. Lindsay, after getting through the early part of the winter with only a trace, suddenly found itself in the middle of a snow-belt. The picture above was taken in the wake of this week's storm show, top, a Board of Works bucket loader helping clear Kent Street and below the accumulation of snow as a result of the last fall is illustrated by conditions at the LCI parking lot.

For Bud McKee snow holds no terrors . . . He has just the machine to make short work of it in his driveway and the driveways of scores of farmers. Bud is the agent for the McKee Snowlander and does it "land" the snow! It'll eat into the drifts like a hungry boy into a piece of pumpkin pie. It has a blower on it which will deflect the snow in any direction the operator chooses and hurl it for upwards of 30 feet. Bud says his firm is bringing out a snowplow especially designed for sidewalk clearance and this is something the people responsible for snow removal on Lindsay sidewalks may wish to look into.

The subject of snow was brought up in a brief encounter with Tom Walton of Lindsay the other day. Tom said he thought the kids of today were missing a lot of fun in the winter. He recalled the days of the horse and cutter when riding on the back of the runners over what was then known as 'pitch-holes' was a thrilling sport. There was the element of risk from two quarters — getting pitched head-first into a drift if you lost your grip and the chance of feeling the bite of a horsewhip across your hind quarters if the driver objected to your sport. "Half the time they never knew you were there", Tom recalled. "Before they started out they would let out a roar at you to keep off the cutter but as soon as they got that old coonskin coat pulled up over their cap with earflaps on it; they couldn't hear a thing and the lads would climb on as soon as the horse took off."

Improvements planned for "Do It Now"

With this year's winter not finished yet, members of the Winter Employment Campaign Committee are planning for better things next year.

At a meeting of the five-man committee Thursday night, it was decided that many improvements could be made all along the line with regards to the "Do It Now" campaign. One of the basic plans was for an earlier start. This would involve contacting the tradesmen earlier and getting all the data for publicizing the "Do It Now" slogan some weeks before it was done this year.

One member of the committee expressed the opinion that in this way, if any holdups did occur, it would not affect the initial starting date of the campaign.

A more efficient program was tenatively planned. It was not definitely laid out, but many thoughts were expressed about new ways to approach the matter of employment situation.

This Year

Some discussion centred around the work being done this year with the cam- gn. It was learned that letters have been sent to all householders in Lindsay informing them of the "Do It Now" campaigns and suggesting that if they have any fixing or renovation work to be done, now is the time to do it.

Accompanying the letter is a list of contractors in Lindsay which are available to do work of any kind.

It was also stated, that a second series of letters will be sent out within the next week. This set will feature small cartoons depicting the "Do It Now" theme.

Committee

Although a small committee, this group of five men sit together and make a report every within a short period of time.

Committee members are from various fields of work. The chairman is D.R. Scott, president of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce. Also on the committee are Wilkinson Scott, representative of the Lindsay Council; G. McFarquhar, head of the National Employment Office; B. T. Stanley head and J.G. Fraser, women's employment head.

Will ask OWRC to take look at septic tank proposals for housing development

The Ontario Water Resources Commission is to be asked to take a look at a Lindsay say housing development.

Lindsay's Board of Health instructed its secretary to ask the OWRC to look into the Linwood Heights development project from the standpoint of septic tank installations.

Chairman Marshal Stephens told the board he and inspector Newbigging had looked the housing site over following receipt of a letter from Councillor M. DeGroat. "They figure to put 20-25 houses in there, and that hollow (referring to a land contour) would just be polluted with septic tanks . . . It doesn't look satisfactory . . . It would be too many septic tanks. Weldon put in sewers before ever starting to build. They should do that."

Mayor Holtom: "What subdivision are we talking about now . . . "

Inspector Newbigging explained that the subdivision under discussion was Linwood Heights and that there are 39 lots registered in the plan. He said he had spoken to Mr. Stein who told him he had no intention of connecting to the sewer at the present time. Mr. Newbigging also pointed out that the land area was greater than the prescribed need for septic tank installations.

Mayor Holtom: "Wouldn't it be advisable to allow septic tank installations until the medical officer of health felt the limit had been reached?"

Mr. Newbigging: "We just made a visual survey . . . . I wouldn't want to go on record as saying septic tanks would pollute the whole area. The houses that are there have ample land for septic tank installation requirements."

MOH Dr. W. R. Crowe: "There shouldn't be any seepage . . . . How far is municipal sewage from Mr. Sleep?"

Mr. Newbigging: "It's practically at his back door . . . . relatively close."

Mr. O'Neill: "I feel they should have one or the other but not septic tanks and a natural water supply."

Mayor Holtom: "There are a lot that do— there are places out around Toronto that do and they seem to get along alright."

Mr. Stephens: "There was a place the other day that was condemned . . . It should be in the agreement when they sign for septic tank installations that they would have 90 days to hook up if a sewer line is put in."

Mr. O'Neill: "They have a trunk sewer across there, why not hook up? . . . You (addressing Mr. Newbigging) have 39 lots on the registered plan . . . where's the registered plan? . . . Would it be septic tanks again . . . They should be compelled to do one thing or the other. I think the time has come when they will rue going ahead with septic tanks."

Dr. Crowe: "Could McBates come from the Ontario Water Resources Commission and ask them to look into it?"

Mayor Holtom: "There's no harm in asking."

It was decided to do that.

Faulty Wiring Blamed For Fire

Faulty wiring was blamed for a fire in a front end loader belonging to the Omemee Ready Mix Cement Company. Firemen rushed to the scene and fund the dash board and gas tank burning.

Lindsay Fire Chief Arnold Watson said that gasoline vapours were escaping from the gas tank and were ignited by the flame. He said the boys were lucky it didn't blow.

The loader was parked at the company garage on Highway 35 S. just near the Fire Hall Pumping Station. Total damage to the machine has been estimated at $100. The fire occurred about 3:24 p.m. on Friday.

When Lindsay held a winter fair

The following column will be 50 years old on February 22nd. It was sent to "The Post" by Mrs. E. Hildenbrand of 70 Ridout Street. She said she read a column in this paper a few weeks ago about the Winter Carnival held here. She told "The Post" that she came across the clipping while sorting through some keepsakes and thought it might be of interest to some people.

The column was written on February 22nd, 1912 about the "Lindsay Winter Fair."

LINDSAY WINTER FAIR
With Apologies to Walt Mason

Dear Brother Bill-I thought I would drop you a line to tell you of the lady time we had at Lindsay's Winter Fair. And by gosh I wish you had been there. It was just the other day when Sy Brown to me did say, "In Lindsay they're holding a winter fair and the boys and girls will all be there". So we got out our Sunday togs, gave extra feed to the cattle and hogs, put up the bars and shut the gates, you see the railroads were giving rates, and we thought it cheaper to go that way and so we would save on the oats and hay. Well, we got to Lindsay town we saw they had done things up brown. Kent Street was looking fine that day, with flags and streamers and penants gay. Well, the first thing that caught me and Sy was two ladies dressed all decked out in furs and feathers gay sitting up in a great big sleigh. So Sy and me after them made tracks when we found out that both girls were the same old hen stare-in the hall upon the market square. All kinds of goods and nothing flimsy, and every darned thing, "Made-in-Lindsay."-F.E. Brown's Corners, Feb. 22, 1912.

$17,000 estimated cost for boulevard removal, $2,000 for new sidewalk

Town Engineer, J. N. Timberlake, estimated the removal of boulevards in the Kent - Albert Street area to be in the neighbourhood of $17,000. This was contained in two reports presented to Lindsay Council Monday night.

The first report dealt with the removal of one boulevard on Albert Street for one block north and one block south of Kent Street. The report stated that the east side of Albert would be the logical side. From Peel Street to Russell Street is a distance of 900 feet and the cost would be $6,000. It was learned that this cost would be split evenly by the town and the Department of Highways, at $3,000 each. In the report as well, a new sidewalk was advocated by the engineer from Kent Street to Russell Street at an estimated cost of $2,000. This would be paid for by the town and property owners. The town would assume the major part of the cost; in the figure of $1,352.22 and the property owners would pay $240.28.

The second report was on the removal of the boulevard on Kent Street. However, the engineer only estimated the cost for the 912-foot south side strip between Albert and Adelaide Streets. The recommendation from the police committee was to remove the boulevard from Sussex to Angeline Street.

The estimated cost of the 912-foot strip was $10,672 of which the town would pay $2,668 and the Department of Highways $8,004. It was noted that permission for removal of the boulevard would have to be obtained from the Department before any work can be done. The reason for this, it learned was because Kent Street is part of a main highway system.

The reports were referred back to the Advisory Committee of the Board of Works and the Town Engineer for further study and estimated cost on the Sussex to Angeline Street plan.

Suggest something be done on bridge at Wellington St.

A suggestion was made at the Lindsay Council meeting on Monday night that something should be done with the bridge on Wellington Street. Councillor Joseph Hutton asked if the mayor could enquire about it while he was in Ottawa meeting with the Minister of the Department of Transport. Councillor Hutton said the bridge was becoming very hazardous and that it was more frequently used than the Lindsay Street bridge. "I think more people would use it if it were wider. I know there has been some talk about fixing or replacing it for many years."

Mr. DeGroat said he thought it was a good idea and that at least some of the $9,000,000 appropriation by the Federal Government should be allocated to the bridge in Lindsay.

It was stated that many people are afraid to use the bridge because it is too narrow for the modern car. It was also learned that it is used a great deal by industrial workers who wish to avoid five o'clock rush-hour traffic downtown.

Councillor Joseph Hutton said he felt more persons would drive across the bridge if it were widened.

It was moved and seconded that "the clerk ask our federal representative-Clayton Hodgson-if he could check out and find is something could be done. This letter would be sent as a request from the Lindsay Council.

How it will look when it's finished

The artist's drawing above shows how the new federal building at Lindsay will look when it is completed. Clayton W. Hodgson, M.P. for this riding, announced last week that tenders were being called for the construction of the building which will have total floor space of 10,620 square feet, not including the basement. To be built at the southeast corner of Russell and Cambridge Streets, it will house the Post Office, the departments of National Revenue, Veterans Affairs and Agriculture, and the Unemployment Insurance Commission. The existing Post Office (Kent Street) was built in 1888 and although it is structurally sound, it was not considered suitable for an addition. This building and the site are to be declared surplus when the new building is completed at an estimated cost of $370,000. The views is from the west.

Origin of calico, khaki clothes recalled by Rotary speaker in talk of life in India

Mr. David Eadie, representing the United Church Board of Missions in India, and who occupied the pulpit at the Cambridge Street United Church on Sunday morning, was also guest speaker at the Rotary luncheon. He was introduced at the luncheon by Rotarian R. K. McLean.

Speaking on the "Five Peak Experiences in India Today", the visiting Rotarian referred to the agricultural and industrial expansion in particular and he also told of the great contribution made in India by the medical profession and to the work of missions conducted by different church groups. The basic industry, that of weaving cloth, dates back to the year 1874, the speaker said, when everything was hand loomed . . . when the familiar word "calico" came out of India from the town of Calico, and when khaki cloth was first manufactured in the mills and on the looms in India . . . The industry thrived and became known as the Commonwealth industry of today.

Industrialists in India encourage Indian people to take their place in industrial production, Mr. Eadie said. They are given every opportunity in this type of industry as well as other types and one cause for the industry being prosperous is due to the fact that when industrialists and others from outside of India wish to start up in the manufacturing business they must pass back to the Indian workers 50 per cent of the profits. "There is an opportunity for Canadian industrialists in India" emphasized the speaker.

Second refugee family may soon be enroute to Lindsay

Dr. C. W. M. Service and Mr. George Hodgson, co-chairmen of the World Refugee Committee, Lindsay, have received word that a second refugee family may soon be en route to Lindsay from Greece . . . that of Rasim Takas.

Mr. Rasim Takas is an Albanian shepherd - farmer who has been a stateless person since 1944. In that year he entered Greece as a soldier - refugee from the Communists. Since then he has lived in Greece as a political refugee. In 1949 he married a Greek girl. They have four children. The family is of the Moslem faith.

A World Council of Churches placement officer writes: "He just manages to live on the small wages he earns as a shepherd and the whole family live in a one-room hut under miserable conditions. However, they have not gone under. They retain their self-respect and the man appears to be a straightforward and honest character. The World Council of Churches paid for the family to come to Athens for registration and before returning to the north, the father said he would try and save to repay the amount. He was told this was not necessary, as if he paid anything back, the family would starve. The man is prepared to do anything to ensure a secure future for his children."

Further word is awaited from the immigration authorities and the placement organization, but it is expected that this family will be able to make their way to Canada in the near future.

Ex-reeve not satisfied with sewage system deal

A former member of Lindsay's Council has some misgivings about plans to built a $320,000 sewage disposal system at Lindsay.

Ex-reeve Harry Peirce says "I have given this matter a lot of thought and having been on the committee for several years I am surprised a new group arrived at the conclusions they have so quickly—and with no discussion as far as the public is concerned.

"I feel," the ex-reeve states in a letter to the paper, "the following questions deserve answers:

1. "Why was the most expensive proposal accepted?

2. "Is Lindsay and its taxpayers being used as a guinea pig again? Note total cost to Lindsay for Trinity Treatment Plant, $157,000.00. Suggested Plant cost to Lindsay, $320,000.00; and a combination of Plant and Lagoons, $229,000.00.

"It is known lagoons can be used satisfactorily but it must be noted none of the sites proposed for Lindsay have been built considerable doubt was expressed by the consultant when lagoons were suggested. It is also well known that the O.W.R.C. will not do anything without a price and to turn the whole matter over to them is an easy way to shift responsibility but also more expensive.

These are just some questions and thoughts that should be answered by the council not in a secret meeting, we should be informed as we the taxpayers must pay."

BACKGROUND

New Yukon Bishop's father 48 years Lindsay rector

A veteran churchman, whose career since ordination 38 years ago has kept him in populous city parishes, next month will be consecrated Anglican bishop of the 200,0 square mile diocese of the Yukon.

He is Rev. Henry H. Marsh, first and only rector of the Church of St. Timothy, started 32 years ago in a North Toronto schoolroom by a group of 140 people. Today, he conducts his services in an imposing stone edifice. He ministers to 1,000 families and there are 400 children on the Sunday school roll.

Canon Marsh, a fifth generation Canadian has been a mission-conscious since childhood, spent in a clerical family closely linked with missionary endeavour, not only in Canada but also overseas. He says his election as seventh bishop of the Yukon was an "unexpected honour".

The slim, wiry, 63-year-old clergyman, a native of Lindsay, Ontario, is undaunted by the prospect of serving in a diocese where the pioneer missionary, Bishop Isaac O. Stringer, once made a stew of a pair of moccasins to stave off starvation.

Canon Marsh and his wife, Margaret, are thrilled at the prospect of life in the North and the opportunity of doing further work for God and His Church. Their only regret is that they will be so far from their friends. Mrs. Marsh for five years was president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of the Arctic.

Although he has never been in the Yukon, the bishop-elect has visited other northern dioceses and, as a member of the executive council of the church's missionary society, has studied problems of missionary districts. In earlier years, he learned much about the area from his uncle, Canon Tom Marsh, first principal of the Indian Residential School at Hay River, N.W.T., who accompanied Bishop Stringer to the North in 1892.

Canon Marsh is a son of Canon Charles Marsh, for 48 years rector of St. Paul's Church, Lindsay. He studied at the University of Toronto and Wycliffe College. His consecration is to take place at Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria, on March 25. His predecessor in the Yukon was Rt. Rev. Tom Greenwood, who retired recently after 10 years in the post to become Assistant Bishop of Chester, England.

Canon and Mrs. Marsh have two children. Peter Timothy, 25, graduated from the University of Toronto and is taking his Ph. D., at Emmanuel College, Cambridge, Mary, 23, also a University of Toronto graduate, is working for a master of science degree at Columbia University. This spring she will marry Rev. Philip Rowland, a graduate of Trinity College, Toronto, who is to serve in the diocese of Caledonia at a point on the Alaska Highway.

The Chapter meeting of the Women of the Moose was held with a small attendance due to weather and road conditions.

Following the opening by Sr. Reg. Valdai Lewis the Hospital Committee took charge of the program.

Stella McNicholl, chairman, thanked her committee and introduced Mr. Eric Freeborn of the Ross Memorial Hospital as guest speaker. Mr. Freeborn's subject was "A Comparison of the Old and New Hospital" in which he said that the present hospital was valued at approximately $2,000,000.00 and the old one at $463,000.00 with 245 presently employed as compared to 178 previously. There are now 139 beds, 59 rooms and four operating theatres. The Old Hospital had only one room for each of the Laboratory, X-Ray, Dietary work and Administration whereas now each has a whole floor in the old building. There are 57,565 lbs. of laundry processed per month and 500 meals served per day he said. A recent addition to the Hospital has been Physiotherapy. There are refresher courses held and a course is now being held for Certified Nursing Assistants. Following Mr. Freeborn's talk a number of questions were answered.

A vote of thanks was tendered the speaker for the very interesting talk.

The enrollment of Joyce Taylor ensued and the business of the evening dealt with. A delicious lunch of sandwiches and cake concluded the evening.

Ex-premier takes personal interest

Ex-premier Leslie M. Frost has shown a personal interest in the proposed construction of a new bridge to span the Trent Canal System narrows at Rosedale. According to several Rosedale business people, Mr. Frost made it his business to drop in on them and get their views on the proposed structure. DOCTORS WHO DON'T TALK

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I wish more doctors would do more talking when a person filled with fears and apprehension comes to them. But, unless it's something physically serious, they seem to brush you off as someone taking up their time needlessly. They write you out a prescription, tell you to keep in touch, and that's that. It doesn't do us much good.

Most people these days are suffering from "nerves" and nothing can seem so real and hard to take every day. Yet, I've been to doctors who say, "Forget it. It's only your nerves." Please write something about this in your column. - - Mrs. G.

COMMENT: I have written many times on the subject that some of my colleagues think that I am kicking up too much dust.

One friend said the other day, "And I think this is something new. People begin to think that no doctor takes time to explain. They all blame it on the fact that we are so busy. They say that the old horse - and - buggy - doctors always found time to reassure their patients."

"I disagree. I think that it all boils down to what kind of person the doctor happens to be. If he's compassionate and sympathetic by nature he'll take the time to hear out a frightened and bewildered patient."

I recall what my mother used to say many years ago, "I've just come from my doctor. He's supposed to be a good doctor, and I guess I like him, but all he does is give you a bottle of medicine and pat you on the back. I wish he'd talk more or, at least, listen a little. The trouble is that there are always a few dozen patients in the waiting room anxious to see him. The poor man hasn't any time."

Nevertheless, during the same era I recall another doctor with a large practice who always found time to talk and listen and sympathize. In fact, many's the time he stopped - - while on the way to a call - - to play softball with us kids.

I'll repeat again what I have said so many times (and I hope my medical colleagues won't take this as a slur against my profession): No doctor - - - regardless of how well trained and efficient - - can be a good doctor unless he "makes" the time to listen to, and talk to his patient.

Three out of four patients who come to the doctor are knotted up in some emotional problem or other (whatever their illness) and its the doctor's job to untie the knots. He'll never succeed unless he has patience and understanding and sympathy.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I'm only asking you to guess. I know you won't attempt a definite diagnosis from a letter. Here are my husband's symptoms. He is 41 and has progressively failing hearing in one ear (very bad now); has ringing and hissing in the ear - - even when he feels well. When it stops, he knows he's going to be sick with nausea, vomiting, and vertigo. The attacks last for a week or two and are occurring more frequently. Yet, he's stubborn and won't go to a doctor. - - Mrs. G.

ANSWER: My guess is Meniere's disease. Also an unusually serious case of unreasoned stubbornness. How will he ever get well? The condition - - if that's what it is - - is hard enough to overcome with the best of medical care.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

ACNE PROBLEM

The acne problem is still with us. Each succeeding generation of teen-agers is beset by facial blemishes that disrupt their social life, and often leave deep psychological scars as well as facial disfigurement. Consider these two short notes received this morning:

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am 14 years old. My face has pimples and blemishes. I wash my face 2 or 3 times a day with warm water and plenty of soap. I bought some medicine. It didn't seem to do any good. Could you please give me a cure for my face? Thank you very much. - - Little Miss 14

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am a miserable teen-ager with acne. I try to eat the proper foods. I get enough sleep and wash my face often. All to no avail. The question is, what kind of medicine should I try? Thank you. - - Miss K.

COMMENT: Two important words are missing in each of these letters: "doctor" and "parents". As many youngsters do, these two are trying to fight it all out by themselves. When you consider how stubborn is the ailment with which they have to struggle, this is a mistake. A youngster needs all the help and encouragement he can get.

Parents should take the first step in co-operation. Their job is to let their youngster know how much they understand and sympathize. You can't possibly imagine how much this helps. Especially when the parent insists that the boy or girl go to the family doctor or to a skin specialist for regular treatments. Only the doctor, with continuing promises of overcoming the acne sometime in the future, can buoy up the downhearted patient. He will institute a regime of treatment which includes local medicines, diet and any other special suggestions which have helped other patients in the past. It is true that acne is sometimes stubborn, but the youngster should have someone like parent and doctor to turn to without feeling guilty.

ANEMIA AND TIREDNESS

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: For some time I have experienced much exhaustion for no seeming reason. I consulted a doctor, who was convinced I have anemia. For more than a year I have been taking iron tablets and a high protein diet. I am not worried over this, but the truth is I don't have any more pep than when I began treatment. Recently my feet have been swelling a bit, is there any connection with the anemia? - - Mrs. D.

COMMENT: I would think that if you were suffering from a simple, secondary anemia without complications, that you would be feeling better after a year of iron therapy and sufficient diet. I can't diagnose your condition. Your doctor will probably want to review your case.

There are many causes for anemia and many different types. If secondary anemia is due to bleeding somewhere in the body, it will not improve until the source of the bleeding is found and treated.

If the anemia is associated with a hypothyroid condition, it will not improve unless the patient is treated with thyroid extract.

If the anemia is a primary anemia (like pernicious anemia or due to a fish or beef tapeworm, for example) all the iron in the world will not cure the anemia.

Therefore, as I see it, you require complete study to determine the cause of your trouble. Perhaps a consultation is in order. I'm sure your doctor will agree if yours is a stubborn diagnostic problem.

TYPEWRITER DUST

A eulogy to Jasper Forman

Tribute has been paid to the successor of Mr. Jasper Forman as the new Victoria County Sheriff and it is the purpose of this item to record some of the many attributes of Mr. Forman in relation to his long service to the county, the province and his country.

"Mr. Forman has had the four-fold job of being Sheriff of Victoria County, local Registrar of the Surrogate Court. In spite of the demands of his office, he served for a term as president of the Canadian Legion in Lindsay, past president of the Lindsay branch of the Red Cross, chairman of the Board of Education, a member of the High School Area Board, and campaign manager for the Community Chest. He has been a member of the Rotary Club for several years and has filled various important positions as a member of Queen Street United Church. He has also been a member of the Lindsay Curling Club.

Born in the Township of Eldon of English parentage tracing back to "William the Conqueror", Mr. Forman received his early school training there and learned the meaning of honest hard work. When he reached the late 'teens the Trans - Continental Railway was engaged in building a span of tracks in Northern Ontario and he signed on the work crew. After this spell of labor with the railway he resorted to farming and settled for a short time before the war in Eldon and Fenelon Townships.

He enlisted in the 38th Infantry Battalion in 1916 and after a brief training period, he was sent to France, spending two year's In front line fighting.

Many stories have come from the war and Mr. Forman has a great storehouse of them because he saw a great deal of action serving with the Signal Corps. Familiar battleground names like Hill 70, Vimy, Passchendale, Amiens and numerous others roll off his tongue as he, at infrequent times, engages in conversation regarding World War One. After two years he emerged with no less than 3 medals. His decorations, which he seldom wears, consist of the Distinguished Conduct Medal, which at the time was second only to the Victoria Cross, a bar was added to the D.C.M. and the Military Medal awarded.

Following hard on the excitement of war, Mr. Forman was shipped back to Canada. He took up the task of farming in Fenelon Township. As time went on, he again became active in politics, agriculture and business. He served as reeve of the township for five years and was a director of the Farmer's Mutual Fire Insurance Co. At the same time he was able to solve his farm problems during the years of depression.

Authorities recognized his talents and in 1934 he was appointed by the Hepburn administration to the offices from which he recently resigned.

When the crisis of 1939 arose and war resulted, Mr. Forman was granted a leave of absence from 1940 to 1945 to serve as a lieutenant in the Veteran Guards of Canada. He became an adjutant at an interned camp.

At all times throughout his active career, Mr. Forman constantly expressed his confidence in the youth of the day. He was wont to give this advice to young people: "Worship God, honor the Queen, respect constituted authority and above all keep the Sabbath."

GAS-PRODUCING FOODS

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: People seem to have conflicting ideas about which foods produce gas. I suffer terribly from gas and not a day passes when I don't have to take something for relief. I know there are many who have this trouble. I would appreciate any help or information you may give to me. - - Mrs. F.

COMMENT: There isn't a universal gas - producer. One man eats a dish of baked beans but suffers discomfort; the other eats it with impunity. A woman has sauerkraut, cabbage or radishes with her dinner and sleeps well; another is up all night because of distress from gas. Johnnie eats two pocketsful of green apples and goes his merry way; but little Willie munches on one and comes down with gas and cramps.

For the most part, it's a matter of gas-producing people rather than gas - producing foods. Each one of us, by repeated uncomfortable experience, learns to stay away from the trouble makers.

As for your problem, Mrs. F., I believe that daily discomfort after food deserves investigation. It's easy to blame it on the food and not on yourself.

Have you had a medical checkup? Indigestion (of which gas is only one symptom) may be due to many medical conditions. To consider one, for example: how is your gall bladder? Your doctor will eliminate the possible causes of unnatural discomfort from gas. If he finds none, then you both can concentrate on eliminating foods that might be guilty of being gas-producers.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Two of our neighbors' children are suffering from some kind of staphylococcus infection. Our youngster has been pestering us to go over and play. Is there any danger? - - Mrs. T.

ANSWER: Yes, it can be highly contagious. I know enforced separation from playmates is difficult both for the child and yourself, but better play it safe.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I know you won't use this in your column, but is it legal for a doctor to give a woman an operation to keep her from getting pregnant if there is nothing wrong with her? It seems to be a fad around here for married women to get this operation so they can have affairs with other men. - - Mrs. X.

COMMENT: I have not known any ethical surgeon who would perform an operation for such purposes. The few who do so must sleep fitfully if they have an conscience at all. As for the patients themselves, many come to doctors years later hoping that their tubes can be restored. Remorse or inability to have children causes much psychological and emotional maladjustment.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: My husband has been to three skin specialists who haven't been able to help his psoriasis. A neighbor has told him of a doctor who guarantees to cure psoriasis by giving a series of three shots a week for six months. As this is such a miserably chronic skin condition we are tempted to begin these treatments. Have you had any experience with or knowledge about such injections? - - Mrs. N.

COMMENT: I know of no "guaranteed shots" which will cure psoriasis. I realize this condition tries the patience of the sufferer, but another skilled dermatologist is still a better bet for relief - - if not for guaranteed cure.

Man needs to find true means of unity, Witnesses rally told

Five hundred persons from Witnesses," continued Mr. as far as Stouffville and Lindsay filled the Newcastle Community Hall in anticipation of District Supervisor T. R. Jones' public discourse, "Uniting Men in a Split-Up World."

"Mankind, close to annihilation," said Mr. Jones, "needs humbly to find the true means of unity, love of God and neighbour which is God's Kingdom by Christ. Jesus gave a great sign pointing to our present chaotic generation as proof of the Kingdom's establishment." The beginning of that kingdom and condition, he remarked, began in 1914.

"There is no disunity in New World Society of Jehovah's Jones, "because they have found and applied that means of unity. They have unitedly fulfilled Isaiah's prophecy at chapter two, verse four, by adopting instruments of peace in place of war."

Unity was manifested from the outset of this three-day gathering the theme of which was, "Assisting One Another to do God's Will." Friday evening four took part in a model form of the Ministry School, maintained by each of the 2,537 congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses in the world. The art of teaching and how to apply it brought the conclusion of the night's programme.

DISSOLVE CALCIUM DEPOSITS IN BURSITIS?

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I went to a doctor for my bursitis. He made the cure sound simple. He said that he could remove the calcium deposits in my shoulder joint simply by prescribing a medicine. He said there's no harm in taking it. Is there a medicine that will dissolve calcium deposits? — Mr. P.

Comment: I have heard of various medicines that are supposed to do the job, but I don't think there's proof that any are really effective. For example, some think that ammonium chloride causes dramatic disappearance of calcium deposits during the painful episodes of bursitis. Perhaps it does. But how can we tell, when we know that sometimes calcium deposits will disappear in some patients without any medical treatment?

The best treatment for bursitis is early treatment. Trouble often comes when the patient has allowed too much time to pass, (weeks or months) before getting expert help. By the time he may have an immovable joint and calcium deposits. If you go to your doctor early he has a choice of treatments that are applicable—moderate exercise. X ray treatments, injection of hydrocortisone into the bursa, diathermy or ultrasound, etc.

TOO TIRED TO LIVE

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I just feel hopeless at this moment. I went to the doctor because I felt so very tired and nervous all the time. I felt I couldn't stand it any longer.

The doctor found nothing physically wrong and said the tiredness was caused by nerves He gave me some medicine which hasn't helped any, and told me I would have to work out my nervous condition by myself.

I get so nervous I just can't stand it and now I don't know where to turn. I have a good husband and three sweet children. I can't care for them the way I'd like because of the way I feel.

I am 29 and have been dragging around most of my married life and I just can't take it any longer. I have felt like ending it all, but I know it isn't the thing to do because I am a good Christian. — Mrs. X

Comment: Your letter is one example which shows where the expression "tired to death" comes from. If it'll help you hear your self, you must know that you have hundreds of thousands of company in the United States.

So many people SO feel today. Sometimes they go through life this way without seeking help. Others, like yourself go to the doctor and all they hear is that the cause is "nerves."

Unfortunately, nerves (emotional illness) is a common cause of fatigue. But the condition should never be brushed aside. If it is due to "nerves" then the doctor should use every possible aid to overcome it. The patient can't always work it out by himself.

If it isn't due to emotional upset of some kind, then the doctor should seek carefully to find a physical cause for the "tired-to-death" patient deserves all the sympathy and care the doctor can give.

WCTU February meeting

A fine program arranged by Mrs. C. Suggitt, was presented at the February meeting of the W.C.T.U. held in Cambridge Street United Church parlour.

Mrs. F. Reeds, President, opened the meeting with hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers" and prayer. Mrs. Dix read the minutes and Mrs. Timberlake gave the treasurer's report. The Provincial Convention to be held in Ingersoll was announced. Mrs. Timberlake contributed a delightful piano solo "Butterfly" by Grieg.

The devotions were led by Mrs. Suggitt who read the Scripture lesson and a few comments on the Word of God that liveth and abideth forever. Mrs. E. Tompkins offered prayer.

Mrs. Suggitt read an excellent paper on the life of Miss Frances Willard, the great founder of the organization, whose memory, is honoured in 70 countries of the world in February of each year. Her country honoured her by placing a statue of her in white marble in Statuary Hall in Washington, D.C. and a bronze bust and tablet in the Hall of Fame in New York City. The Government also issued a 5c stamp bearing her picture.

A skit entitled "An after-noon decision" was then presented. This represented four teenaged girls expressing deep concern over the beer ads in certain magazines and finally deciding to write to the publishers. One bit of logic in their letter read thus, "We don't put cheese into a trap because we love the mice and you don't allow such glowing scenes to be pictured around the beer bottle because you love us. You are bartering the future of your country for the price of the advertising."

At the close of the meeting a light lunch was served and a pleasant social half hour enjoyed.

The various communications were dealt with. Mrs. McMullen was also appointed to attend the 65th Anniversary Luncheon held in Toronto.

The motto for Citizenship was "Let us mould our children to be good citizens of tomorrow". Mrs. Sommerville as Citizenship and Educational convenor conducted a fine program, giving tips on legislation and government. Repeating the eight "freedoms" under which the citizens of Ontario and Canada are privileged to live. Following this paper, Mrs. Somerville conducted a questionnaire on what she had told us. Mrs. Johnston apparently had the best memory - winning the prize.

Several topics for discussion were introduced - to quote a few - - - 1. "How to combat racial discrimination". 2. What is your opinion of communism?" 3. The man of the hour and what is he doing for his country?"

The meeting closed with "The Queen" and the Institute Grace.

The program consisted of a heart contest provided by the president.

A tasty lunch was served with Mrs. Somerville and Mrs. Robt. Vivian as hostesses.

STOP! . . . killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, M.D., F.A.C.P.

THE BUST PROBLEM

Dozens of letters keep coming in from readers who are abnormally bust-conscious. Vanity, of vanity! Here are some examples:

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Why must we poor women suffer with small breasts? As far as I'm concerned, if you have health, love, a good home, a good husband and nice sized breasts--you have everything in life.--Mrs. J.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I have had a terrible complex all my life because I am flat-chested. I am considering an operation to make them normal size. What do you think? I am 30 years old and very serious about the operation.--Miss X.

Comment: Be sure you investigate the surgeon carefully to make sure he is a recognized plastic surgeon. As for going ahead with it, that's entirely your choice. If it were on me mine, I'd be in favor of bras instead of operation.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: These women who write to you complaining about small busts need a good shaking up. They don't realize how lucky they are. With the wonderful styles on the market today to make them look nice in their clothes, they should be thankful.

As for me, I look like a big barrel on top. What with the way they do if from the waist down they could wear a size 13, but from the waist up needed a size 17!--Mrs. B.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: It makes me so angry when these women complain about having breasts that are either too large or too small. How would they like it if they had only one breast? I've recently had a two-breast operation, and at last realize how foolish I used to be when I worried about my breasts being too small.

I hope you'll print this so these unnecessarily unhappy women will be thankful for what they have. They should get on their knees and thankfully pray that they have two breasts.--Mrs. M.

Comment: With this last letter, consider the rebuttal at an end.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am 63. Lately my heart has been skipping. When it wakes me at night I think I'm going to die. My husband died a few months ago of a heart attack.

I've cried myself sick many, many times since he went away. I feel so lonely all the time. Dr. Steincrohn, can you please help me by telling me what to do?--Mrs. V.

Comment: When you say your heart skips I must assume you mean irregularity in its beating. Now, there are many causes: some serious and some not. Having nursed your husband and worried about him, and now so lonely in his absence, it would not surprise me that you have the "nervous" skips we often discover in the normal heart. We call these extrasystoles or premature beats. Sometimes they last for days; in other patients for months and years--but are not life-threatening.

However, when skips and irregularity are due to a condition we call auricular fibrillation, then it is the doctor's job to evaluate the heart itself. He must find the cause and treat it. Rather than just work yourself so much about the skips, Mrs. V., I suggest you go in for a complete survey of your heart. That will solve your problem and give you emotional as well as physical comfort.

Weekend of curling at Lindsay Club

Last weekend was the BIG one of the season for the Lindsay Curling Club . . . Over 200 took part in the three-day mixed bonspiel which brought rinks here from as far away as Cornwall. In the upper three photos, left to right, the last stone is swept to a standstill far short of the one near the centre of the circle towards it was directed; the winning rink from Bobcaygeon is shown in front of the final tally in the primary event . . . they are Eloss Pearson, W. Shea, Mrs. Ted Shea and Ted Shea, skip; next the winners are presented with Gruen watches by sponsor Bill Walker of Walker's Jewellery Store, Lindsay. The lower row of pictures show, left to right, the winners of the second event sponsored by Gregory's Drug Store — a rink skipped by Ed Rhodes standing beside Ontario Curling Club president E. Neill Gregory as he made the presentation . . . in the rink were two former Haliburton people — Mr. and Mrs. Lou Consky; next is a picture of the rink skipped by Stan Edmonds (left) with a supporting cast of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Richmond and Bill Whyte who berthed in fourth place after being put out of the big money by the Rhodes rink; last picture in the row shows third event Toronto-Dominion Bank winners Jean Willis, Jim Lanfare, Rita Kay and Lou Walker, skip, as the latter is congratulated on the win by Murray Roberts, manager of the Lindsay branch of the bank. In the photo, lower right, Toronto-Dominion Bank manager Roberts and friend Herb Elliott relax in the lounge of the club as the final moments of the bonspiel approach and the winners are being decided.

Home League auxiliary monthly meeting

The monthly meeting of the Salvation Army Home League Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. J. Carew.

Mrs. D. Leach was in charge and led in the playing of a number of appropriate games. After the games, Mrs. Leach led a very interesting program and all joined in the singing of "My Jesus I Love Thee". Before Mrs. J. Carew led in prayer, each member sang "How Can I Help But Love Him". Mrs. Jean Drury read the famous Love Chapter from the New English Bible, then each member was asked to suggest a chorus which contained the word Love. In keeping with the theme of the meeting, Mrs. Leach then read several of William Booth's love letters to Catherine Booth and one of her replies which showed how their love for God had the first place in their lives. A poem entitled "Hands of Jesus" was read by Miss G. Paulson and the devotions were closed by the singing of "Jesus, Thou Art Everything to Me".

Roll call was answered with the characteristic most appreciated in a husband.

Mrs. J. Carew then served a most delicious and attractive lunch with the Valentine theme expressed even in this.

Snowbound cat

NEED THIRD BRIDGE IN LINDSAY - ROBERTS

The need for a third bridge across the Scugog River was suggested by R.E. Roberts of the Community Planning Branch, Ontario Department of Municipal Affairs on Monday night.

He stated that the amount of traffic using the other two bridges in Lindsay seemed to indicate that a third bridge was necessary. He told the gathering of Lindsay council members and Lindsay Area Planning Board members that the traffic in Lindsay was travelling in a "U-shape" because of the location of the industry. "I would suggest that something be done toward another bridge crossing the river", he stated.

Mr. Roberts suggested that the Lindsay council should contact the Department of Highways and request that a survey be taken by them and a recommendation regarding a third bridge submitted. He said that council would be wise in getting in touch with the Minister of Highways and he could allocate the work to the right department.

It was learned that the engineering consultants, Marshal, Macklin and Monaghan recommended a new bridge to the Lindsay council at the time when they were brought in to lay out a plan for the newly annexed area.

Action on the suggestion will probably be taken at the next meeting of council, Monday, March 5th.

Local Chamber to participate in CofC Week

Members of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce have decided to participate in the Annual Chamber of Commerce Week in Canada this year. A statement to this effect was made at the meeting of the directors on Monday night.

It was a unanimous decision that this Chamber should actively participate in the C of C Week from April 8th. to 14th. It is reported that this week will be observed by hundreds of Chambers across Canada.

The purpose of the week is: 1 - - to create greater public appreciation of the role and value of community Chambers; 2 - - to help to increase membership; 3 - - to urge businessmen to take greater personal and more active interest in community Chamber affairs; and 4 - - to unite the efforts of community, provincial and national Chambers in a concerted drive to accomplish these objectives.

The directors stated and decided to arrange the annual dinner during the week, as well as a membership drive and other activities. The formation of a committee comprised of Ted Oke, Fred Pugh and Bernice Newton to work on arrangements for the dinner was moved by Ted Hill and seconded by Bob Phillips and carried.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE FOR SECURING RUINS

After taking his first look at the cave-in on Kent Street, Construction Safety Association of Ontario Senior Councilor Andrew Donald said it was the worst looking mess he had seen since the explosion in Windsor.

Mr. Donald and his associate, Al Farley, were asked to come and inspect the building yesterday following a cave-in early Monday morning. The power of the fall shook buildings in the close vicinity and awakened people three and four blocks away. It occurred about 12:30 a.m. Monday.

With the collapse of the middle portion of the building, six persons were trapped on the third floor of the establishment. They were rescued by the Fire Department on the aerial ladder.

After conducting his inspection, Mr. Donald gave the following recommendations, to be carried out immediately.

1. The front part of the building, that facing on Kent Street, is structurally sound, but must be shored immediately to prevent any further occurrence of break-offs. His recommendation was to support the front and rear of this section and especially the overhanging roof on the third storey level.

2. The rear one-storey section must be shored and braced to prevent any break-away.

3. All the debris must be removed immediately and the present structure made strong.

It was learned that Kawartha Construction Ltd. began work this morning in an effort to clean up the mess and follow Mr. Donald's orders to the letter.

Lindsay Building Inspector C. W. Newbigging said he was going to check the building Thursday or Friday and make a report to the Safety Association. He stated that once the shoring and cleaning had been completed, Mr. Donald and Mr. Farley would return to conduct another investigation. "One must be informed now that this is purely a safety operation and not a renovation job," Mr. Newbigging stated.

Any further plans as to whether the building would be torn down or rebuilt were not discussed.

Appointed Director

The Hon. Leslie M. Frost, P.C., Q.C., LL.D., D.C.L., M.P.P., premier of Ontario from 1949 to 1961, has been appointed a director of the Bank of Montreal, according to an announcement today by G Arnold Hart, president and chief executive officer. Prominent in many fields, Mr. Frost has served in the Ontario legislature continuously since 1937 and remains as member for Victoria. A partner in the law firm of Frost, Frost and Richardson, Mr. Frost is a director of the Canada Life Assurance Co., Victoria and Grey Trust Co., Radio Station CKLY, and other companies. He resigned as premier of Ontario last November and was sworn in as a member of the Privy Council in December.

Week extension of ambulance service granted

Ambulance operator, Bruce A. McArthur, has granted an extension of his service to the town of Lindsay for another week. His decision came last night after a request had been made by the Lindsay Board of Health.

At a previous time, Mr. McArthur had stated he would terminate his service at midnight on February 28th, if no satisfactory arrangement had been made. However, the Board of Health made the request last night. They stated that they would recommend to council a possible solution and also recommend that council pay Mr. McArthur the sum of $55 for one week's wages.

Mr. McArthur agreed to the request and stated he would leave his ambulance in service for one week. Deadline has been set for midnight, March 7th. Council is expected to discuss the situation on Monday at the first regular session for March.

Sparks Of Wisdom

Covetousness

Reports and Remarks...

PERMANENT EMPLOYEES BENEFIT MORE

There are no figures available to indicate how much of the public's money is spent each year on sending elected representatives to conferences and conventions. A conservative estimate is that in this country it amounts to several hundred thousand dollars annually. There is a natural tendency to wonder just what benefit the public receives in return from these excursions.

There are some elected persons who apply themselves assiduously to learning some of the problems which face municipalities across the country and to studying how these problems are met, in order that they may deal more effectively with similar problems at home. However, there is no guarantee that these people are going to be returned to office indefinitely, even for one more term. To a large extent, then, what is learned by them is lost to the community.

The shame is that more permanent officials are not allowed to attend these conventions and conferences, many of which are of a technical nature and beyond the scope of even the most ardent elected official. There is some assurance that the permanent official will be in a continuing position to give the municipality the benefit of what he learns at such sessions. Certainly he is in a far better position to assimilate what goes on, and to apply this knowledge to the betterment of his municipal responsibility.

Probably no individual in our Canadian working force takes more pride in his work than the public employee. The money spent to improve his knowledge of his job is a wise investment by the community in its future. And since, in the final analysis, the elected representatives depend heavily on the knowledge and experience of the permanent employee in making policy decisions, CANADIAN MUNICIPAL UTILITIES suggests that the time is long past for recognition of the important role the civil servant plays in the operation of efficient municipal government.

Remember way back when

FEBRUARY 28, 1912

The time was when the spring girl always had her eye on the fellow who had a good driving horse, but the fellow who had an automobile holds over the fellow with a horse so far now that there is no comparison. A girl could tell her fellow by the way he drove up to the door by the sound of his buggy but now she simply listens for the "honk" or sniffs for the smell of the gasoline. There is one handicap yet as to running an auto, it requires both hands, but this may be obliviated later on. The tandem bicycle was not a howling success as a means of locomotion to the young people although it was touted to the skies first. And there may be brighter days yet for the old sorrell and top buggy if the girls of today and tomorrow are anything like their mothers of yesterday.

FEBRUARY 28, 1947

Omemee Blackshirts won the Hughes Cup Tournament before 1,200 wildly cheering hockey fans at the arena last night. Playing a fast, smart-passing sort of game so that they were too strong for their rivals in the finals, the famed Huskies of Haliburton. Omemee had to eliminate St. Mary's of Lindsay to qualify for the finals and Haliburton had to do the same to the green-shirted Kinmount team. The night was livened up by a near riot. The players of the Kinmount and Haliburton teams, renewing perhaps old feuds started a little battle that embraced most of the members of either team.

Tips for farmers

If your hens get their feed from hanging feeders, use this idea to save grit. Toss a handful or two of grit in with the feed when you fill the feeders, suggests Professor John Walker of the Ontario Agricultural College Poultry Science Department. Hens tend to waste grit when unlimited amounts are available.

Vegetable seeds should be treated with a seed protectant to help prevent damping-off disease in the seedlings, says C. B. Kelly, Ontario Agricultural College, botanist. Use preparations containing thiram, captan, chlorand, dichlone, or a suitable organic mercury funicide. Seeds sown outside may also need protection against seed maggots. For this purpose use a seed protectant that contains a suitable insecticide as well as a fungicide.

The first evidence of powder post beetle injury may be the appearance of small exit holes (pin size) where the beetles have emerged from the surface of the wood. Also, you may see sawdust - like droppings from the tunnels made by the larvae as they burrow in the wood R H Osburn suggests you firmly rub timber in barns which show such indications; underneath the surface may be a spongy network of rotted wood. If beetle signs show up, write your Agricultural Representative for publication 140, "Powder Post Beetles"; it tells how to control the pests.

The average hen consumes about 4 pounds of limestone per year to get the necessary calcium she needs, say poultry specialists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. If limestone is supplied in the mash, at least 2% of the total ration should be mineral. If not enough calcium is fed, soft egg shells will occur.

Humorous skit presented at H&S

At the February meeting of the King Albert Home and School, a special program was planned to celebrate Founder's Day. Mrs. H. Peirce outlined the seven points on which Home and School was founded. A skit entitled "Junior and His Homework" was put on by Steven Georgas as Junior. Mrs. Irene Norris - his mother, Mr. Harold James - his father, and Jane Norris - his sister. This humorous skit was intended to bring out many faults taking place during a home-work session. Those present then split into small groups and were given a topic to discuss re this skit. The group results were read and discussed.

A cake, decorated in school colors of blue and yellow, and coffee were then enjoyed. Miss Wade - having won the class attendance cup, was given the honor of cutting the cake.

Mrs. L. McCallum presided over this enjoyable and informative meeting.

BEAT MOTHER NATURE TO SPRING BLOOMS

How would you like to have some spring flowers in your house when it is still cold and snowy outside? What you have to do, is "force" those trees and shrubs that flower in the spring and early summer. This will break their "rest" period. Here are some ideas from horticulturists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture on how to go about it.

Wait for one of those warmer winter days, when the temperature is 30°F. or above. Select some branches that are well supplied with flower buds, as these will give you the best results. Generally, the flower buds are larger and of a different shape than vegetative buds which tend to be small and not so plump.

The branches you select can be of any convenient size, but should not be over a half-inch at their base.

Bring the branches indoors, place them in luzewarm water, and store them in a cool room or cellar. When the buds are plump, they may be brought into a warm room to bloom.

Two good plants to try this month are forsythia and pussy willow, as they are early spring bloomers. Forsythia forces easily, and may be placed in a warm room at once.

Later blooming material such as flowering cherry requires more time for forcing, but will force easily in March.

Shoes Too Tight?

When new shoes seem too tight and uncomfortable, use a damp cloth on the leather. Wring the cloth out of hot water and place it quickly over the tight places in the shoes. Repeat this several times, and it will usually give you the relief you are seeking.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By Anne Ashley

Q. What have you to say about the idea of soaking clothes before laundering them?

A. Be sure not to soak the clothes so long that the dirt is distributed through the fabrics. When soaking in hot water, don't allow the water to cool before washing. If soaking overnight be sure the suds in the water is cold or your clothes will take on a poor color.

Q. How can I renew the finish on some of my furniture?

A. Equal parts of boiled linseed oil, turpentine, and white vinegar, applied with a bit of woolen rag and polished with a silk cloth, will renew the finish on furniture and also help to conceal some of the smaller blemishes.

Q. How can I remove blood stains from silk?

A. Moisten a few inches of white sewing silk on the tongue, roll it into a ball, and then rub this on the stain gently.

C of C to operate on $350 deficit

The Lindsay Chamber of Commerce is expected to operate in 1962 on a deficit of $350. This estimate was contained in the budget figures presented at the directors's meeting held in the committee room of the town hall on Monday night.

The budget for 1962 was reviewed and it was pointed out that increases in membership and grants from the town and county were necessary to permit operation of the Chamber without its having to embark on a program of fund-raising projects.

The members felt that the overall membership dues should reach a maximum of $4,500 which would be an increase over 1961 of $1,275. It was also anticipated that the grants would amount to $2,500 which would be an increase of some $950 over 1961.

However, even with these increases in that portion of the budget, the net result would still be $350 in the red. This means that the Chamber will be operating on that amount of deficit for the year of 1962.

May send rep. to provincial, national meet

The Lindsay Chamber of Commerce may be sending a representative to the Provincial and National Annual Meeting this year. The program was discussed by the directors on Monday night.

It was disclosed that Don Scott would be the man to represent the Lindsay Chamber, however, he was out of town for the meeting and could not be contacted to see if he would accept.

It was learned that the Provincial Chamber's 50th Annual Meeting would be held in Niagara Falls on May 9, 10, and 11 and the National Chamber Annual Meeting would be in Vancouver, B. C. in September.

However, nothing definite has been done and the nomination of Don Scott to represent the Chamber will be brought before the next Chamber meeting in March.

Sick animals need care

When it comes to curing sick animals on the farm, good nursing can mean the difference between a fast recovery and a slow problem case, says Dr. Howard Neely, of the Ontario Veterinary College.

Just noticing a sick animal, calling a "Vet", making the diagnosis and administering the treatment doesn't mean the animal is sure to get well.

Dr. Neely looks at it this way: If the animal is worth the time and expense of a vet call, then it's also worth all the care and comfort you can provide for it until it recovers.

He suggests you keep these nursing tips in mind the next time you have a sick animal on your farm.

● Isolate sick animals from the rest of the herd - preferably in a box stall that is well ventilated but draught-free. This allows the cow to make herself more comfortable than when she is tied.

● Provide plenty of clean, dry bedding. A warm, dry bed is important especially if a high temperature is involved. It also prevents pressure sores if the animal is sick for any length of time.

● Lots of fresh clean water is important in the treatment too. It keeps the body-fluid level up and helps the animal's built-in defences fight off the illness.

● Depending on the recommendation of the veterinarian, feed easily digested feeds, such as good quality roughage. It may be better to keep sick animals a little hungry than overfeed them. This will reduce production stress and limit any digestive troubles.

● Make sure you check sick animals several times a day, until they are well on the way to recovery.

● Keep in touch with your veterinarian, reminds Neely. If the animal doesn't respond to treatment, let him know. If it does respond, don't forget to tell him the animal has recovered - he will appreciate it.

Community Chest Campaign aim for 1961 mark set objective at $17,300

It was decided by the members of the Community Chest Campaign that the 1962 objective would be the same as 1961, namely $17,300. The committee met Tuesday evening in the Lindsay town hall for the annual meeting.

It was decided, after all the requests had been received from the participating groups, to leave the objective at the 1961 figure as the campaign was $180 short of the target last year.

The participating members are the Canadian Red Cross, Lindsay Branch; Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Lindsay Branch; Salvation Army; Victorian Order of Nurses; Retarded Children's Society; and the Girl Guides of Canada, Lindsay Branch.

Each requested a stated amount, in order that they might carry on their activities during 1962. The Red Cross requested the same amount as last year, $5,500. CNIB asked for an increase of $700, bringing their total to $4,000. The Salvation Army asked for an increase of $300, totalling $3,500. VON requested $2,500, but felt they might need an increase later. The Retarded Children requested a $500 increase to $1,500 and the Girl Guides asked for the same amount of $300.

It was stated by the 1962 Chest President W. J. Bundscho, that all the amounts would be left the same until the results of the campaign were known at the end of 1962.

No – Belief in God Is NOT Enough!

Many people are risking their eternal salvation on a "religion" of their own . . . which is actually no religion at all.

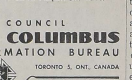

"Oh, I believe in God," they say, "but I don't go in church. I'm just not the religious type."

Almost everybody, of course, believes that there is a God. Common sense tells us that this is so. But if we actually believe there is a God, should not this same common sense tell us we must do something about it? And how can we give expression to our belief in God if not through religion?

Religion is simply the consequence of our realization of Who God is. It is our striving to be honest and consistent with this knowledge – to learn and fulfill our duties to our Creator.

Catholics believe that God created us for a definite purpose . . . that He gave us the intelligence to recognize what that purpose is – and the means to fulfill it. It is through our religion that we give evidence of our desire to honor and serve God. It is through religion that we approach God in faith, repentance, love and gratitude.

If you are living in the belief that you don't need religion . . . that all you have to do is believe in God and live a moral life . . . we urge you to ask yourself these questions – NOW: Why am I living? Why did God create me?" The most elementary common sense answer is that you are living because God created you . . . and that God has a purpose in doing so. Catholics believe it is our duty to find our what God's plan is for our lives – and do our best to live it.

If you have been living without any cherished religious convictions . . . it will pay you to read a specially-prepared pamphlet which we will send you without cost or obligation. It discusses such questions as: Can the truth of Christianity be proved? Is it honest to ignore religion? Is science, ethics or education a substitute for the Church? Also other topics that should concern you deeply. For free copy write today . . . ask for Pamphlet No. KC-58.

Mrs. Greer Boyce choses topic "Women—Worship—Work and Witness"

The members of Cambridge St. U.C.W. held their first general meeting in Cambridge Hall, with Mrs. C. Laidley presiding.

The minutes of the executive meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. G. Weeks. Mrs. C. E. Wright presented the 1962 budget, which was moved and seconded. Mrs. Laidley announced that, "Women's World Day of Prayer", services would be held in Queen St. United Church. The Lindsay Collegiate Choir would be in attendance.

Mr. R. Patterson showed Interesting slides dealing with World's Day of Prayer. Mrs. J. W. Deyell read the ennumentary. A short worship service was conducted by the programme convener, Mrs. R. A. Patterson.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Greer Boyce, was graciously introduced by Mrs. R. K. McLean, and thanked by Mrs. H. Gannon. Mrs. Greer Boyce is the wife of Professor of Preaching at Emmanuel College, Toronto, and is very active in church and community affairs. Mrs. Boyce is a graduate of Queen's University. Her topic for the evening was "Women – Worship – Work and Witness". "They were told on all sides, said Mrs. Boyce, that coming into being of the new organization is a thrilling change, a historic occasion – a chance for great advance. All are moving into a new organizational home and the responsibility is a little overpowering." Mrs. Boyce used these three words, "United – Church – Women" as pegs to hang the suggestions on as they looked at their job in the new home, in United Church Women.

"First, United - United is obviously linked to the name of the denomination, a good name that all are proud of. It also obviously suggests the fact that this group succeeds two other main groups, W.M.S. and W.A. If the new United Church Women does nothing more than make people re-examine their mental image of church women's work, it will have done something valuable".

Church - The speaker referred to George Webber's book, "God's Colony in Man's World" as a vivid picture of the church's present situation. Mr. Webber compared the church to a colony - a colony of heaven. "It is set in a world by God, as His mission to the world. The members support one another and find strength and refreshment within its fellowship. The life of the church is a two beat rythm - out into the world to work out the purpose of the church and back into the church colony for refreshment and strength. Each of the ladies is only a real member of the colony as they make it their business to bring the life of the colony to the world. The life of the colony is based on the love of God for people expressed in the love of one another. God is the one who loves all as though there were but one to love. It doesn't matter within the colony whether you are male or female, rich or poor, beautiful or plain, intelligent or dull, sophisticated or simple, but it matters whether you are loved and loving children of God".

"Women - All are urged to be home-makers, good wives and mothers, expected to be well groomed, well read and take part in all kinds of community affairs. Life becomes very complicated, but", Mrs. Boyce said, "all have to learn to pick and choose, and to decide what is really most important. To say no to many a good thing in order to be able to do the best things. Here is a place where Bible study in the new organization can be of tremendous assistance to all. It gives you a sense of perspection, helps you to weed out what is non-essential in your lives. Steeped in the Bible's view of life you have a standard of judgment upon which to base your decisions. The speaker pointed out that the Women of the Church should put their differing gifts and capacities to the best use, whatever that may be. The traditionally womenly qualities of warmth and tenderness are obviously to be put to work in all loving ministries of the church."

In conclusion Mrs. Boyce said, "Rejoice that your names are written in Heaven - let your confidence be in the fact that you are beloved children of the Father, members of the colony of heaven each of you is a precious person there. In the power of the Spirit, all

Top tier of original wedding cake displayed at anniversary party

Mr. and Mrs. Alban Sisson happily celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary Wednesday, February 21, 1962, at their home on 7A highway, west of Bethany.

They received the many friends who called during the afternoon and evening in the living-room decorated with a profusion of flowers and the same huge white wedding bell and festions of ribbon and crepe paper which had decorated the bride's home on the day of their marriage. In a prominent place was displayed the top tier of their first wedding cake. Mr. and Mrs. Sisson are especially proud to have these two heirlooms, for they were among the very few personal possessions saved when their first home was destroyed by fire 35 years ago.

Fifty years ago Isabel Kerr, popularly known as Isa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kerr, and Alban Sisson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sisson, were married at the farm home of the bride's parents, about three miles west of Bethany. The Rev. W. W. Jones, minister of the Methodist church at Janetville, performed the ceremony.

Miss Lizzie Kerr was her sister's bridesmaid and Victor Sisson was groomsman for his brother. Victor, with his wife and family from Toronto were present for this anniversary.

As it snowed heavily Wednesday night, Mr. and Mrs. Sisson remarked "It still isn't as much snow as we had 50 years ago. No one is suffering any discomfort. The friends can come and leave in heated cars. But 50 years ago many guests were delayed in getting to the wedding and most of them had to stay all night on account of the storm which blocked the roads, even for horses and sleighs".

Mrs. Sisson told that their honeymoon trip was delayed until the following Friday as roads were not fit to travel to the railway station at Pontypool. "And even on Friday when going to the station with a team of horses drawing the sleigh, we were upset twice into snowbanks."

Two sons, Robert, of Bethany and Clare, of Lakefield, with their wives, and daughter Mrs. Donald Hamm (Isabel) and her husband from Orono assisted in receiving the guests. Four of the grandchildren, Marilyn and Douglas Hamm, Judy-Lynn and Heather Sisson were in charge of the guest book. Four other grandchildren, Stephen, Shirley and John Sisson of Lakefield and Laurie-Ann Sisson of Bethany were also present.

The tea table was laid with a hand-crocheted lace cloth and centred with a three tier wedding cake flanked with gold candles and bowls of yellow roses.

Pouring tea were Mrs. Perry Neals, Mrs. Herb Neals, Mrs. George Page, Mrs. Victor Sisson, Mrs. Gladys Davidson, Mrs. Arthur Wright, Mrs. Mary Beer and Mrs. Lila Kerr. Numerous relatives and neighbors assisted in serving.

Mr. Sisson, a successful farmer, has also been road superintendent of Manvers Township, retiring in 1960 after more than 25 years service during which time he never missed a meeting of the Township Council. He has been a faithful member of St. Mary's Church and served as a Warden for many years. He has also been a valued member of the Bethany Community Band.

Mrs. Sisson has ably shared her husband's farm interests and is widely known for her "green thumb" which seems to produce flowers just a bit lovelier than most. She is an expert needlewoman with many pieces of handcraft to show and she has been one of the most active members of St. Mary's Ladies' Guild and a former vice-president.

The immediate family presented the couple with a chime wall clock and a basket of yellow roses and mums. There were many other gifts as well as cards and telegrams of congratulations.

Community honors celebrants

On Friday night, February 23rd the entire community contributed further to the celebrations and entertained Mr. and Mrs. Sisson in the Anglican Church Parish Hall. Clarence Page read an address of congratulations and good wishes on this occasion, with Arthur Wright, Allan Beer, Edgar Beer and George Neals presenting the gift of a console combination radio and Hi-Fi record player from their many friends throughout the district.

Rev. Reginald Rose chaired the program. The Neals-Preston quartette sang "Old Friends" and "My Own Cabin Home" also leading in group singing for a number of old favorite songs. The pianist who accompanied them, Mrs. Herb Neals, had celebrated their own Golden Wedding Anniversary two years ago.

The Misses Candy Malcolm and Adele Page gave two tap dancing numbers in costume. Pat Mantle contributed several old-time numbers on his violin, among them "The Golden Wedding Reel" which he especially dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. Sisson. He also accompanied the pupils of Galloway's school in a demonstration of a square dance.

Mrs. Ruth Jennings sang two numbers of her own composition, with her own guitar accompaniment "Forty - Two Song Titles" and "A Little Bit Of Ice Let Me Down".

The Misses Pamela Stinson and Mitzie Malcolm did two tap dancing numbers in costume. Miss June Kerr gave two accordian selections. Mrs. Jean Argue gave two readings "Ojista" and "Friendship". Terry Malcolm gave a dance routine "The Old Soft Shoe". Allan Beer, wearing his Scottish Kilts told some humorous anecdotes and sang "I think I'll get Wed in the Springtime" and "Keep Right On To The End of The Road". A double trio, Mrs. Muriel Speller, Mrs. Aileen Neals, Mrs. Ruth Jennings, Mrs. Violet Carr, Mrs. Inex Porteous and Mrs. Frances Jackson sang "Sweet and Lovely" and "When You Wore a Tulip".

Dr. Percy Vivian, M.P. and Alex Carruthers, M.P.P. were present with their wives and added their personal congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Sisson on this happy occasion and each commented on the friendly spirit of the Bethany community in arranging the evening's entertainment.

Mr. Sisson expressed the couple's thanks and commented on some of the highlights of the past 50 years which they had spent together.

The singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" closed the program, after which Mr. and Mrs. Sisson cut their wedding cake baked for this occasion and lunch was served.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing to music supplied by Don Hamm, Robert Sisson, Wally Reid and Pat Mantle, with Rod Porter and Creighton Carr directing the square dances.

Leather shoes pace men's fashions

Fashion has a broadening effect on men this Spring - - from their full-shouldered "British" looking jackets to their new leather brogues.

Easily spotted in the footwear fashion line-up at the preseason showings of Shoe Fashion Service of the Leather Industries were a collection of this classic leather dress shoe restyled to coordinate with the new trend in men's apparel. In a full range of masculine colors, smoo and grained leather bluchers, oxfords and even slip-ons were seen with sturdier leather soles, four and five eyelet ties and rounded toes. Occasionally, a square toe adds to the beefier appearance.

The "more shoe" appearance of this season's shoes has been balanced with the use of lightweight, supple leather uppers which require a shoe as easy on the foot as on the eye. Tricky detailing takes a back seat to plain toes and traditional lacings designed to the toe. Smooth leather linings give the shoe a finished appearance.

There is also a wide rangy of smart leather shoes for the man who still prefers the "natural shoulder" look in his suits and business suits. Full of fashion interest without flashy detail, these slim shoes offer a narrower, more tapered shape as well as a variety of stitch details and slimmer, more flexible soles.

The moccasin front shoe-with tie or elastic fitted slip-on-is a leading style. Matte, smooth or grained textures have a special supple, long wearing leather uppers, as do fine inverted seams or rugged hand stitching. The leather sole under foot offers support and protection on hard floors or harder pavements.

For his leisure this spring and summer, the Canadian male will have his choice of hundreds of new "soft shoe" styles. Depending on nappy brushed or smooth glove leathers for their comfort, the casual slip-on, tie or chukka shoe teams quietly with narrow slacks, bold patterned shirts and plaid sports jackets. At home or at the country club, casual leather shoes walk on mid-weight leather soles.

On his "off" time, the Canadian male relaxes his solid citizen" picture and steps into more colorful shoes. The traditional masculine color range of black, true brown, deep brown and bayl'horne is extended in brushed leather to sand, grey and green. In smooth leather, casual shoes take on Spanish moss, loden green and tan as seasonal coloring. —Leather Industries

25 INCHES IN 11 DAYS KEEP COUNTY PLOWS MOVING

Twenty-five inches of snow in 11 days in this area would probably 'down' many snowplow operators, road foremen and workmen but not those of Victoria County.

There are upwards of 355 miles of county roads in Victoria and Monday, despite the terrific fall of snow in the early hours of last Saturday morning, the roads are practically all plowed and traffic is almost back to normal.

It was one of the heaviest snowfalls of the winter and the calls for help from stranded motorists started at 3 a.m., as General Road Foreman Herman Buckley can vouch. From that hour the general foreman and his district sub-foremen worked around the clock. In win White was going strong in the Fenelon area, Bert North in the Little Britain area, Herbert Elliott around the Dunsford district and Dougald MacArthur in the Eldon-Kirkfield area. Snowplow operators, their helpers and all other road employees were on the job.

It is reported that Mr. Buckley was called out of bed to the Downeyville road district, just east of town. There he found four or five cars storm bound and a number of young people stranded. Farmers in the area were awakened by loud knocks on doors as stranded motorists requested the use of telephones.

The general foreman called Hubert Elliott at Dunsford and in a short time a couple of plows were bringing relief to stranded motorists. One-way traffic was all that could be done to relieve the situation but it was enough to get traffic moving again. In the hours that followed, seven plows were pressed into service and the big dig-out went on without an pause for food until the main roads were open - for some it was three in the afternoon before they got a chance to drink their morning coffee. It was a gruelling job with snow still falling and heavy drifting continuing.

Mr. Buckley says some motorists were pleased with the help they got — a few were belligerent, using strong language because they had bogged down in the drifts. He had words of praise for his workmen some of whom returned to the job on Sunday to 'wing Back' the drifts and prepare for another blow.

ONTARIO

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT
ONTARIO HOSPITAL INSURANCE

The need to obtain a bed in hospital is a matter of urgency to a seriously ill person. It is vital, therefore, that every hospital bed in Ontario be used only when it is essential in the treatment of a patient. Proper use of hospital beds is a matter of concern to every resident of the province.

To help make more hospital beds available . . .

the Commission now will provide Ontario Hospital Insurance benefits to an insured person who receives hospital care, as an out-patient, for which he or she, otherwise, would require admission as an in-patient to stay in hospital overnight.

IMPORTANT

These benefits will be provided only if the hospital has the required facilities and after these facilities have been authorized for such out-patient use by the local hospital board on the advice of its medical staff.

Here are the details:

- Benefits will cover only the hospital charges for medical and surgical treatment procedures which, otherwise, would require the patient to be admitted to hospital. Examples of these procedures are certain minor operations, electro-shock treatments, blood transfusions, etc.
- It is up to the patient's doctor to decide whether the treatment will be given on an in-patient or out-patient basis.
- Visits to established regular clinics in hospital out-patient departments are NOT covered.

Extension of EMERGENCY Out-Patient Benefits

Effective March 1, 1962, when an insured person has received emergency hospital treatment for a fracture within 24 hours of an accident, Ontario Hospital Insurance also will cover subsequent out-patient services for check X-rays and the change or removal of cast, until treatment of the fracture is completed.

Hospital treatment for emergency conditions other than fractures will NOT be covered beyond the first visit to hospital within 24 hours of an accident.

POINTS TO REMEMBER

1. Ontario Hospital Insurance in-patient benefits cover the regular and usual hospital services (use of operating room, X-rays, drugs, laboratory services, etc.) in standard ward accommodation for as many days as such services are medically necessary.

2. Dependent children cease to be covered under the parents' certificate when they reach age 19, or marry. They must then register separately at the applicable Single or Family premium. Application forms are available at all hospitals, most banks, and all Commission offices.

3. Married persons must pay the Family premium.

4. There is no change in Ontario Hospital Insurance premiums: they remain at $2.10 a month for a single person and $4.20 a month for a family. More than 6,000,000 Ontario residents (over 95% of the people) are now insured in the plan.

Ontario Hospital Insurance does NOT cover...

- any hospital charges for semi-private or private accommodation.
- any diagnostic services which are not part of insured treatment procedures or which do not, by themselves, normally require admission as an in-patient.
- any medical, surgical, or private-duty nursing fees, take-home drugs, home care, or ambulance and other transportation charges.

IT'S ON THE HOUSE

YOU'VE performed your feats of magic, saving the big stunt for last. The audience goes wild. "Encore! Encore!" they shout. How do you top your tropper? Here's a suggestion: a simple stunt that's literally and figuratively on the house.

Ask someone in the audience for a card (see figure 1, below), and have him replace it atop the pile. Placing the deck behind you (figure 2), attach, of course, holds the suspended card in place.

THERE'S a story about two school chums — one quite bright and the other rather dense.

A path on which the two youths were strolling led them to a stream in the midst of which was a sign: "When this board is under water, the creek is unfordable afoot. Use the boat. The key to the boathouse is available at the souvenir shop."

On reading this, the bright young man burst into laughter. His companion appeared puzzled, but did not comment immediately. Then the slower witted youth remarked: "I understand now why you laughed. What does the souvenir shop wasn't open?"

But the first lad laughed for another reason. What was that?

You may find it necessary to re-read the story in order to get the point.

Answer: Those who can read can write. Those who can't can't.

How Old Are the Pipers?

PETER PIPER is eight years older than his wife, Priscilla, who is eight years older than her sister, Patience. Mr. Piper's age is his wife's age increased by that of their son, Percival. Mr. Piper's age is equal to the combined ages of Percival and Patience. If three times Mr. Piper's age equals five times the age of Patience, how old are Peter, Priscilla, Patience and Percival?

Answer: Peter is forty years old; his wife, thirty-two; Patience, twenty-four; and Percival, eight.

Connect 16 Dots to Complete the Picture

BEANIE BEAR'S curiosity is aroused by something that he has discovered on the beach. What is it? To find out, simply draw a line from dot 1 to dot 16. Some numbers share dots.

Bottoms Up Here

A NEWS PICTURE agency describes the tallest man-made structure in the state of Oregon as 350 feet high. While that is the equivalent of a 35-story building, this particular structure is most often viewed from the top down. Why's that?

Answer: There were no cable ditches put down when the Great Wall of China was built.

Wall St. Manipulation

A BROKERAGE house in Wall Street was supplied with prospectuses of three different concerns for use of its salesmen. There were 1,333 copies of the prospectus of a steel company, 864 those of a pamphlet issued by a chemical concern, and 550 of the prospectuses of a textile company. Equal numbers of the three different pamphlets were ordered sent to all the salesmen, as many of each kind as such distribution permitted.

When the mailing had been completed, the shipping clerk made a tally and found the number of each kind left on hand were the same for all three prospectuses. How many salesmen did the brokerage concern have?

No fair peeking at answer below.

Answer: There were three salesmen and forty-seven men.

It must be assumed that none of the lead is lost in the cutting.

Answer: One piece 1 lb., one piece 3 lbs., one piece 9 lbs., one piece 27 lbs.

PUT DOTS IN SEPARATE PENS

FOR some fun at a party, provide guests with several copies of the diagram at right. (In preparing duplicates, it is not necessary to copy numbers, which are included here for answer purposes only. Be sure to include all large dots in reproducing questions shown.) In addition, give each person a pencil and a ruler.

The idea is to draw five straight lines across the diagram (from border to border) so that each of the large dots is contained in its own enclosure.

Answer: Draw lines as shown.

Take Your Pick

THERE are nine coins, identical in appearance. Eight of them are exactly the same weight. The ninth is slightly lighter. How, in two weighings, can you pick out the light one?

Answer: Balance 3 coins against 3 coins. If they balance, the light one is one of the 3 not weighed. If they don't balance, the light one is one of the 3 on the lighter side. Weigh 2 of these 3 against each other. If they balance, the light one is the 3rd coin. If they don't balance, the light one is the lighter of the 2.

It's Your Move

LONG-TIME checker champion Millard Hopper cites this game as an example of how the dance fad, the twist, can be performed on the checkerboard. It's White's turn, moving upboard. He wins in five moves. Says Hopper: "White supplies his own music as he puts his partner through some corkscrew gyrations." Say we: "Careful there, Podner, you may slip my arm-ature."

SIGNS 1962 CONTRACT

Norm Cash, the American League batting champ last season, signed his 1962 contract with the Detroit Tigers yesterday. Cash received a 100-per cent salary raise and will receive an estimated 29-thousand dollars this year. A total of 17 players, including Rookey Colavito, Orlando Cepeda and Joey Jay, remain unsigned in the major leagues. Cash batted .361, hit 41 homers and drove in 132 runs last season. The Los Angeles Angels have placed Lee Thomas on limited duty because of a broken bone in his right foot. Thomas was a star rookie for the team in 1961.

THIRD BOUT

Welterweight champ Benny "Kid" Paret and Emile Griffith signed for their third title bout yesterday. The two will meet at Madison Square Garden March 24th. It is expected that Griffith will be favored to recapture the 147-pound crown from Paret. Each won one of their two previous matches.

CLAY GOES AGAINST WARNER

Unbeaten young heavyweight Cassius Clay — former Olympic champion—goes against Don Warner tonight in a 10-round match at Miami. Clay, winner of 11 straight, is solid favorite to beat Warner, who has compiled a record of 12 wins five losses and two ties. In expressing confidence that he'll win, Clay said, "this fight won't go more than five rounds . . . . he's just got to fall, and that's all there is to it."

TESTIFIES IN TRIAL

The founder of the American Football League, Lamar Hunt, yesterday testified in the trial of a 10-million dollar suit the A-F-L. has brought against the National Football League. The anti-trust suit charges that N-F-L expansion was part of a conspiracy to monopolize professional football. Hunt testified that George Preston Marshall, President of the Washington Redskins in the National League, once told him the only reason he had voted for National League expansion was to "kill" the newer league. The trial is expected to last about a month.

CHICAGO AT TORONTO

In National Hockey League play tonight Chicago is at Toronto and Boston is at New York. There were no games last night. The American League schedule tonight finds Springfield at Hershey, and Cleveland at Pittsburgh in only games. Last night Quebec and Rochester fought to a 3-3 overtime deadlock.

WI visits County Home

A party of 18 members of the Lindsay W. I. visited the Victoria County Home recently, to give a St. Valentine's party and entertainment to the residents.

The programme opened with the singing of "O. Canada" after which Irish songs were sung by Edgar Smith.

A Highland Fling was danced by Lyn St. Thomas and a Tap Dance given by G. Eason.

Hymns were sung by Mrs. Norman Deyell and Old Time Music was played by the Country Gentlemen.

The pianist for the evening was Mrs. Gertrude McCormack.

There was also a step dance by Mr. Coppins and a friend.

A presentation of flowers was made to Mr. and Mrs. Cross and treats were provided for the residents.

The evening closed with the singing of "The Queen" and it was a happy and enjoyable evening for all concerned.

One way to stop damping-off

Sometimes damping-off in flats of seedlings in a greenhouse can be traced back to putting sterilized soil into used flats that were not treated. The Rhizoctonia fungus can survive in the cracks in the wood. It grows up through the treated soil and attacks the seedlings.

A good plan, say fruit and vegetable specialists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture, is to fill the flats with soil and then treat the filled flats with steam or with methyl bromide. But if the soil is treated separately, don't forget to treat the flats before they are filled.

To do this: wet down the flats with water. Then dip the moistened flats in a solution of commercial formalin (37% formaldehyde) 1 gallon in 25 gallons of water. Set the flats aside for future use.

Formaldehyde irritates the eye and nose. Do the job where there is lots of fresh air. It's hard on the skin. Wear rubber gloves.

Walter T. Fiske

Funeral services for the late Walter Thomas Fiske, of Sylvania, Saskatchewan, were held in Knox Presbyterian Church there on January 22, 1962. The service was conducted by the Rev. S. J. Sharkey of Tisdale, Saskatchewan. Mr. Fiske passed away in the Tisdale hospital on January 17th., after a brief illness.

The late Mr. Fiske was born at Fenelon Falls on April 9th., 1882 where he received his education. Following the death of his first wife, Lena Brandon, he married Agnes Walker on July 18, 1918 at Fenelon Falls. In 1919 he moved to Saskatchewan where he resided at Lorne burn until 1933 when he moved to the Sylvania district where he farmed and operated a pool room. Mr. Fiske was a member of the Orange Lodge and was keenly interested in curling at Sylvania.

Interment was in Sylvania cemetery with the Hill Funeral Home of Tisdale in charge of arrangements.

The pallbearers were six grandsons, Burrell Fiske, Ronald Fiske, Gerald Fiske, Arvin Fiske, Gilbert Fiske and Stewart Fiske.

He is survived by his wife and two sons, Ivan J. of Tisdale and Cecil of Loreburn, also one daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Southam, of Loreburn. Twenty grandchildren and 26 great grandchildren also survive. He was predeceased by his first wife and an infant daughter.

Strawberry plants

Certified plants grown under the Ontario Department of Agriculture's Strawberry Plant Certification Program are now available. This is the second year that growers have been able to buy plants that have none or a minimum of strawberry virus — the disease that's spread by aphids and transmitted to runners through the juices.

The certified plants are also healthy with respect to nematodes, cycramen mites, winter injury, black root, and red stele.

Certified Stock of the following varieties can be bought, Catskill, Cavalier, Earlidawn, Empire, Grenadier, Guardsman, Pocahontas, Redcoat, Redglow, and Sparkle. No Certified plans of Ontario Premier are available.

Since this is only the second year Certified stock under the program has been available, plant suppliers are quite limited. Growers are cautioned to order early. These growers have Certified plants for sale:

Stanley Brown, Pinebrook Farm, R. R. No. 3, Milton West, Ontario.

Albert Cross, R.R. No. 3, Streetsville, Ontario.

R. I. Freeman, 55 Gibson Drive, Simcoe, Ontario.

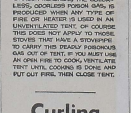

McGuigans' Orchards, Cedar Springs, Ontario.

Each package of Certified Stock will be accompanied by a red certification tag. These tags are the seller's guarantee to growers that the plants have, in fact, been certified.

First model home in Lindsay to open at Northlin Park

A first for Lindsay will be the official opening of the model home, at Northlin Park subdivision on Saturday afternoon. Everett Hanna, representative of Snelgrove Real Estate, said that preparations have been completed for the grand opening.

The model home is located just north of Parkview School on Adelaide Street North. It has been fully furnished by Court's Furniture and Appliance Centre. Drapes and bedspreads have been donated by Claxton's. Hill's Florists have decorated the home with floral arrangements, just for the occasion.

The official opening will be on Saturday, March 3rd from 10:00 to 12:00 and from 1:00 to 6:00 p.m. However, Mr. Hanna announced that the home will be open for inspection on Thursday, March 1st from 2:00 to 4:00 and 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. and the same times on Friday, March 2nd.

The home covers 1,013 square feet and has six rooms. It was explained that there are three bedrooms, living room, dining room and kitchen. It took six weeks to build, from laying on the foundation, to the installation of all fixtures. Mr. Hanna said the home has running water, sewage connection and other modern conveniences. He said that those planning on visiting the home on one of the three days will find ample parking facilities in the immediate area.

On Saturday, special door prizes will be drawn and many of the visitors will win cash door prizes, ranging from $200 down. All those attending will receive gifts, compliments of Mr. Hanna. For the ladies, there are roses and the men get key chains. The door prizes will be drawn by Mayor Joseph C. Holton at 5:45 p.m. Saturday. Coffee and doughnuts are being supplied by the Queen Street United Church.

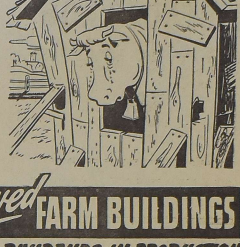

Those involved in the building of the home are as follows: J. R. Jack; Consumers Gas Co.; Jenkins Construction; Lindsay Coal; Victoria Ready Mix; Ontario Block; Peterborough Lumber; Garton Plasters; Jack Dames, Jim Coppins; Rambough and Talbot; Court's; Claxton's; P. 4 Omemee people narrowly miss death

Car rams CNR plow, totally demolished

Passengers say train not seen

Four Omemee persons narrowly escaped death on Sunday morning when their late model car collided with a CNR snowplow in Omemee. Reports say the car is a total wreck. All four were rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough.

The driver of the car was Wayne Tracey, 19, RR4 Omemee and his passengers were his father, Leo and his two sisters, Karen, 8, and Marlene, 11. Wayne was detained at St. Joseph's until Monday with head injuries.

Wayne's father and two sisters were released shortly after admittance yesterday. Hospital officials say Leo suffered facial cuts and bruises. Karen was treated for shock and Marlene with facial bruises. All are at home now.

Omemee Police Chief Jim Whetham said the accident occurred on Sturgeon Street in Omemee about 10.15 a.m. The Tracey vehicle was proceeding south towards the village when it collided with an eastbound CNR snowplow. The plow was clearing the CNR mainline track from Lindsay to Belleville.

Chief Whetham told "The Post" that he had talked with the passengers of the car and the two girls reported they never saw the train. However, Chief Whetham stated the day was clear and the sun was shining at the time of the collision.

Engineer of the train was Joseph Hodgson, fireman W. J. Rowell and conductor D. S. O'Connor, all of Lindsay.

No damage was done to the plow, but the car was totally demolished. The report on the accident says the car caught the plow and was spun around dumping it into a snowbank on the side of the road. The car was not dragged along the track.

Investigations are continuing and Chief Whetham said he would still be questioning the persons involved to find out what really happened.

Kinsmen honour 42nd anniversary of founding

History of town's water system traced by waterworks superintendent

The Kinsmen Club of Lindsay, honored the 42nd anniversary of the formation of the Association of Kinsmen 'Clubs with an extra special agenda at last Thursday's meeting. In attendance was Deputy-Governor Jake Brown of Bowmanville, who presented to the members, a sincere message of the benefits and purpose on Kin, both with respect to the members and the community.

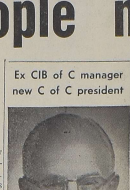

Past Governor Gerry Connolly of the Lindsay club proposed the toast to the association in a most unique manner. After his opening remarks he called upon Lindy Mackey, Al Wetmore, Lloyd Found, Bob Mark, Wes Ellis, Duke Perkins, Jack Bellamy, all past presidents, for a brief word on the highlight of their year of office. These reminiscences were most interesting and gave the members a good portion of past club activities. Past Governor Jack Gleeson recalled highlights of the last occasion on which members of the Lindsay Club formed the district executive.

Guest speaker Bob Reynolds, superintendent of the water commission, presented an excellent story on many phases of the water supply operation for the Town of Lindsay. He sketched the growth of the local system from a humble beginning in 1873 to its present strong status. From a steam-driven pumping station, with mains extending for only a few blocks from a location now occupied by Master Feeds Ltd. In 1892 a, private organization, The Lindsay Waterworks Co. was formed, and a pump-house built at the site of our present treatment and pumping plant. In 1900 the town purchased the company and set up a commission of three commissioners and the Mayor ex-officio. This administrative body, existing in the original numbers to-day. Mr. Reynolds presented several facets of the treatment problems being encountered to-day. He stated that in Lindsay there are now 35 miles of mains, and three-quarter million gallons of water in above-ground storage. Regardless of the frequent maligning of our town water, it receives careful processing before it pours from our taps. A film "Pure Water our Greatest Gift" was presented and was both interesting and enjoyable.

The business session of the meeting covered reports on the up-coming Radio Auction, and progress of the Kinsmen Boys and Girls Band.

Russian Author Dostoyevsky said: "Tyranny is a habit capable of being developed, and at last becomes a disease. . . the man and the citizen disappear forever in the tyrant."

Stranded, holes up at laundromat

Many out of town visitors were stranded in Lindsay Friday night because of the snowstorm. A couple from Fenelon Falls, 16 miles away, found themselves stranded but found shelter in a laundromat. The following morning the visitor took on the job of clearing the sidewalk for two or three Kent Street merchants before .he departed for the Cataract village.

Hits drift, rolls car

A card driven by a Bobcaygeon woman received extensive damage this morning when it rolled into a ditch on Highway 36. Ontario Provincial Police at Lindsay said that Jean Leslie Stewart of Main Street, of Bobcaygeon, was proceeding south on Highway 36 towards Lindsay when her car hit a drift on the road. It is reported the car skidded and hit a snowbank, rolling over.

Fortunately, the driver was not injured. OPP Constable Ian Milner said the accident occurred about 8:20 a.m. Friday last north of the Pleasant Point turn on highway 36.

A starling which has taken up winter quarters in the plant of The Lindsay Post is causing one of the linotype operators some uneasiness these days . . . St. Paul's Parish Workers operated a cafeteria for a day (a luncheon to be exact) when they staged their buffet luncheon. Those who attended say "it was a very well appointed affair with quantities of delicious home-cooked food served quickly from a long buffet by willing ladies. After being served the guests seated themselves at tables serviced for four, eight or ten, according to the party. Mouth-watering deserts wheeled to the tables on desert carts for self-selecting were accompanied by tea or coffee from silver services atop the carts. Everything went off without confusion and guests dined in a relaxed and happy atmosphere - one in which it was a pleasure to entertain friends."

Doug Watson of Gil-Mar Lodge, Sturgeon Lake, started advertising a new service in this paper today . . . It's especially designed for worried cottage owners. He is offering to fly cottage owners into bemused-to-reach summer homes so they can check their roofs for ice and snow formations. Recent heavy snowfalls accompanied by blue Monday's torrential rain, are reported to have placed many cottage roofs in jeopardy.

It's a small world, really, isn't it? . . .This note from the paper's Seagrave correspondent bears this out:

"During the past few days people have heard a great deal about Astronaut John Glenn and his orbital flight, also of his recovery from the ocean near Grand Turk Island. All this has been of very special interest to a couple in this community.

"Mrs. McNeil, wife of Rev. E. McNeil, was born on Grand Turk Island, and lived there until some years after her marriage. Mr. McNeil as a youth minister, was stationed on Turk and Caicos Islands, where he met his wife. Mrs. McNeil has two sisters still living there, who have visited her in Seagrave.

They say Grand Turk Island is only nine miles long and three miles wide. The political situation there has always been unsettled.

When the McNeils were leaving there in 1925 to go to Haiti and Santa Domingo, the people planned a banquet for them, as a farewell gesture, but a revolution broke out and they departed in haste without the banquet.

Pee Wees win tournament 5-3

Despite the very bad snow storm teams from Port Hope, Unionville, Little Britain, Cannington and Uxbridge shovelled and slid their way here. Lindsay's Pee Wee team won its first game over Port Hope 6-3. The next game Canningston was a different story ending up 2-2. The game went into overtime with shots on goal to count if no goals were scored. Lindsay having the most shots on goal then qualified to meet Unionville in the final game. The kids were tired after the torrid affair with Cannington but found enough steam to win the big one 5-3. Jim Crawford was a standout in goal for Lindsay. Congratulations to the winning team and their coach.

The minor hockey Mother's Auxiliary certainly deserve a bouquet for a splendid job well done in feeding all the visiting teams along with the coaches and managers. More than one mention was made of how well the tournament was conducted considering the delays caused by the weather. Bob Bovie and his staff for the day handled the whole show admirably.

Leaving that subject here is a summary of last Thursday's action in the Bantam and Midget leagues. In the first game Alan Burns fired two goals to give Pee Wee stars a 2-1 win over Green Hornets. Garry Scott scoring for Hornets. In the second game Blue Bombers led by Jerry Imrie's four goals made it 6-2 over Red Indians. Jorn Coville and Steve Longworth hit for single les. Bob Brown and Roger Welland scoring for Indians.

In Midget play Bantam Stars edged Hornets 4-3 in a close one, Doug Lemoire scored two for Stars and Steve Lee, Jim Golden singles.

George Sundberg netted two and Murray Quibell a single for Hornets. The second game saw Indians gain two more points on Hornets as they downed Blue Bombers 6-2 paced by the neat four goal effort by George Morasse. Graham Colvin and Don Hutchinson fired singles. Both Bomber goals came off the stick of Bob Matthews.

Four accidents in area, one involving snowplow

A Lindsay man had a bout with a snowplow, only this one wasn't a train. George Smith was driving on highway 35B north at Jenning's Creek when he collided with a Department of Highways snowplow. Damage to his car is reported to be about $25. None was done to the truck.

OPP Constable Thomas Fitzpatrick investigated the accident. There were no injuries. The accident occurred about 11:20 a.m. Saturday. The driver of the department truck was James Nichols of Bobcaygeon.

Earlier on Saturday, a one-car accident occurred in the same location. This one involved a James Moore of RR1 Lindsay. OPP Constable Don Reeds investigated and said the damage to the Moore vehicle would be about $125.

About 4.30 p.m. on Saturday, Constable Reeds was called to Manilla to investigate a two-car collision. Involved were Herbert Black of Manilla and Ross Gruer of RR1 Lindsay. Damage amounted to $300 to each car.

One accident occurred on Friday at the junction of highway 36 and Queen Street. Constable Robert McGregor investigated and found very little damage. He estimated less that $10.00 to a car driven by Ronald Martin of Lindsay and about $40.00 to Fergus Cuddaback's car. There were no injuries.

"Little Music Theatre" brings Lindsay unusual program

The "Little Music Theatre" brought to Lindsay an enjoyable and somewhat unusual program for the second Community Concert of the season.

Not that the music itself was "unusual" — on the contrary it was very well known indeed. The novelty came in the presentation and staging. With a complement of soprano, "Die Fledermaus", by Johann Strauss, "Song of Norway" (music of Edward Grieg) and "Yankee Doodle Boy" (music of George M. Cohan), were given by Shirlee Emmons, soprano, William McGrath, tenor and Ronald Rogers, baritone.

In each of the three presentations, the story outline was narrated briefly and very clearly in semi-dramatic fashion, by the actor-singers, who stepped into character for the singing of the songs. Ingenious changes of costume accessories helped to emphasize the different characters: for example, Miss Emmons was convincingly both Grieg's demure sweetheart and the exotic countess in "Song of Norway".

The familiar, graceful music of "Die Fledermaus" was sung with verve, though it was somewhat marred by over-emphatic accompaniment and loud vocal climaxes. These flaws were fortunately corrected in "Song of Norway", in which some of Grieg's best-known melodies are set to words and used as background of George M. Cohan's life and Broadway shows, the trio gave a dashing performance of some of Cohan's most famous "hit" songs, such as "Over There" and "I'm a Yankee Doodle Dandy".

Enthusiastic applause indicated the audience's warm approval of the versatile performers and their indefatigable accompanist.

One man hospitalized

A Beaverton man was rushed to Ross Memorial Hospital on Saturday following a two-car collision on highway 500 at Gooderham. George Joseph Dumilion, aged 21, of RR1 Beaverton, was brought to the hospital suffering from possible back and leg injuries.

Ontario Provincial Police at Minden investigated the accident but would release no details pending further investigation. They did say that two other passengers were in the Dumilion vehicle at the time of the accident. They were Verna Travis and Ann Dovell, both of Gooderham.

The driver of the second car was Vera MacDuff of Gooderham. The accident occurred about 5.00 p.m. on Saturday, February 24th.

The investigating officer is Constable Jack Eastwood.

WITH ALL THIS ELECTION TALK....

With all the election talk which is going the rounds these days on the federal front and income tax time coming up, there is one thing which has never been explained by the present administration, nor was it tackled by its predecessors. We refer to the fact that discrimination is shown in the matter of income tax

.... Federal members of parliament get $2,000 more income tax exemption than the ordinary man on the street which, to put it mildly, is grossly unfair—especially since it is the man on the street who has to pay for this special privilege. What a mockery this sort of thing makes out of all the high-sounding talk about no discrimination!

The fact that Canadian parliamentarians can legislate special privileges for themselves and retain them with impunity and without effective opposition is a sad commentary on 'government of the people, by the people and for the people.' It shows just how far removed the government has become from the people.

ARE TOWN COMMITTEES REALLY JUST COMMITTEES?

Are all town committees (committees of Lindsay's 1962 council really just committees? That's the question a number of people are asking around Lindsay these days in the light of recent developments. The reason they are concerned about this is because a town committee consisting of a majority of council members is really not just a committee . . . its recommendations can become the voice of council. For example, if the Board of Works Committee, being comprised of a majority of council members, meets on the 'Q.T.' and arrives at a decision, it can submit it to council and by the sheer strength of its own membership, ram the decision down the necks of any opposing members.

A committee to be a true committee, should be comprised of less than half of the members of council. Otherwise, it is actually the council . . . Its decisions cannot be effectively opposed, no matter how wrong they may be, by a minority of council — those outside the committee.

There are indications that Lindsay, this year, is getting too much government by committee and not by council. A short life for such an administration is not too difficult to envisage.

THE WAITING IS OVER . . .

The waiting is over and the United States has blasted into orbit astronaut John Glenn. By the time this paper is printed the outcome of the venture will be known.

One of the things which causes the man on the street more concern than anything else about projects of this kind is the astronomical cost of these space flights . . . The very thought of some of the staggering sums being spent on this sort of thing is cause of concern too. Enough money is blasted away in each of these 'shots' to provide the basic necessities of life for countless people who are now without them . . . Enough money goes up in the air or dissipates itself in fire and smoke to make the difference between a meagre existance for thousands of people (largely by reason of heavy taxation needed to finance them) and having a little to spare.

Can the WEST, or the EAST for that matter, really afford to 'blow' their resources away like this? . . . Wouldn't it be saner to get our house in order here on earth before trying to take over outer space? Is the glory of sending a man in orbit, once, twice, thrice, or even a score of times around the earth, worth the price of being paid?

In the meantime, there seems to be little the people who 'pay the shot' can do but look on and try to get their money's worth in amazement and amusement out of the currently playing "Race for Outer Space" . . . It looks as though it will have a long run.

MORE ABOUT RENTAL HOUSING . . .

"The Property Owner and Building Maintenance", official publication of the Ontario Owners' Association, figures there are two sides to the low rental housing story too . . . In an article appearing in its January issue, the periodical cites what it calls "oversimplified and briefly stated disadvantages" as follows:

1. Low cost housing inevitably means subsidized housing, if publicly owned.

2. In all cities where it has been tried, the hoped-for subsidy of 10% has increased 55 to 70 per cent.

3. It produces unfair competition with private enterprise.

4. It makes an unfair load on other taxpayers — MOST of whom are living under lower standards than those in the subsidized units.

5. It aggravates rather than remedies its own causes.

6. Can force eventually both homeowners and business out of town.

7. In concentrated form, depreciates neighbouring property.

8. It does nothing for the self-esteem of the subsidized occupants.

After citing these factors in opposition to so-called low rental housing, "The Property Owner" declares, quote: "All these faults can be corrected by encouragement of private enterprise to do the job; they can do it for almost the same rents and at no cost to the taxpayers. This cannot be done, however, if zoning and building restrictions, or assessment policy are such as to discourage or prevent logical improvements."

THE BRIDGE . . .

The Wellington Street bridge is back in the news again and suggestions are being advanced that something be done about improving this crossing of the Scugog River. There are those, with no interest in preserving the town's landmarks, who would replace the structure entirely to speed up the flow of traffic in the area. Would this be wise and would it really ease the situation? We doubt very much if it would . . . The bridge itself is the minor part of the traffic snarl which occurs in the area at times. Two intersections — William St. and Lindsay St.—on this stretch of Wellington, demand that traffic move cautiously.

In any plan to replace of alter the structure, which is admittedly narrow and to some extent hazardous under certain conditions, consideration must be given to the overall effect on the area. There are businesses operating there which could be very seriously affected by any change in the traffic route. It should be possible to improve the situation without destroying a scenic heritage — the Bascule bridge, one of the few still in existence.

Progress is a wonderful thing but there is also such a thing as going 'hog wild' along the road of progress and losing more ground than is gained.

Reports and Remarks...

LEUKAEMIA RESEARCH UNIT AT CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

A new medical research unit started work recently at the London Hospital for Sick Children at Great Ormond Street, Britain leading children's hospital. It is working on Leukaemia under the general direction of Professor A. A. Moncrieff, who is both professor Child Medicine and the Director of the Hospital Medical School.

Interviewed in the BBC General Overseas Service programme 'Science and Industry', Professor Moncrieff programme 'Science and Industry'. Professor Moncrieff explained that in this disease the circulation was crowded out with white blood corpuscles of an abnormal kind, and hence it had been given the name leukaemia, which meant 'white blood'. These corpuscles came which meant 'white blood'. These corpuscles came from part of the body which made blood, and in children chiefly from the bone marrow, though possibly to some extent from the lymphatic glands. It was really a form of cancer diffused throughout the body. The primitive cells in the bone marrow seemed to go mad and turn out vast numbers of very immature white cells. "They crowd out a lot of the red blood-cell formnig apparatus, so that these unfortunate patients become anaemic, and because there aren't enough normal white blood cells, they become very susceptible to infections." Leukaemia was a specially serious disease in children, because they always got the acute form, which up to date had been inevitably fatal. It was one of the forms of cancer in childhood which today one of the most important causes of death, because other diseases—particularly those caused by bacteria—were being got under control.

Professor Moncrieff went on to say that with the new research unit they would be able to test chemicals direct on to these cells, to try to prevent them multiplying, stopping their food supply, and then seeing if they would die off without harming the normal cells in the body. He had already been found that a chemical called Mercapto-Purine would destroy leukaemic cells, but unfortunately it also attacked normal cells, and its effect wore off after a time. Research was a long and laborious process. "I remind you," he said, "of the celebrated M. and B.693, the first sulphur drug to be effective against the microbe that caused pneumonia. Now, 693 meant that there were 692 preparations tried before one was successful. It may be that we've got to do the same thing, trying preparation after preparation till we find something which will do to the leukaemic cell what the sulphur drugs do to microbes."

DISTURBING PARALLEL

Testifying in favor of fluoridation before a Royal Commission in Edmonton, Dr. L. K. Brooks, past president of the Alberta Dental Association, used an argument with boomerang qualities. He compared anti-fluoridationists to the early opponents of the X-ray, who warned people that the newly discovered rays would be used by Peeping Toms. Critics of plans for putting fluorides in public water supplied, he suggested were scaring the public just as frivolously.

Another and much less comfortable parallel between the two situations spring to mind. When the X-ray was introduced, it was welcomed enthusiastically by the medical profession and the public and was used lavishly and indiscriminately, not only for diagnosis but for such purposes as fitting shoes. Most of the opposition, as Dr. Brooks notes, was silly and uninformed. It was only much later that the very real danger of exposing the human body to excessive radiation was understood. Nowadays, the experts recommend that the X-rays be used with caution, and only in cases where it is clearly necessary. —The Globe and Mail.

ABOUT AN ENORMOUS INEQUITY

Surely it's time to put some teeth into our anti-jaywalking laws. Oh yes, we do have such laws, though watching the careless way many pedestrians you would hardly think so. Here's what the laws say:

- A pedestrian may not cross an intersection that is controlled by signals when the lights are against him.
- A pedestrian may not enter a crosswalk if a vehicle is so close that it is impossible for the driver to stop.
- When crossing at any point other than at a controlled intersection or crosswalk the pedestrian must yield to all traffic.

These laws are adequate. Without being oppressive they define, quite clearly, the pedestrians's legal responsibility. But totally inadequate are the means available to the police for enforcing the laws.

At the root of this inadequacy is an enormous inequity: A motorist, whether or not he has violated a traffic law, must produce his licence, and thus his identity, to a police officer on demand. There is no such obligation on the part of the pedestrians, even if they have committed some infraction of the traffic laws that apply to them.

If a police officer wishes to ticket a pedestrian he can only request the offender's name and address. If the pedestrian refuses, the officer may either take him to the station for questioning or release him without laying a charge. Generally speaking the police, with manifold duties of greater importance, take the latter course. The result is that police frequently do not even bother to stop jaywalking pedestrians.

What wonderful laws we have, from an offender's point of view, when even the police can enforce them only with extreme difficulty. We say that it's high time the difficulty was removed: high time that the police were given the power to demand identification from pedestrian law breakers.

Such an idea, of course, will send shivers and shudders through those ardent, angry, self-appointed defenders of our civil rights. "Death of British liberty", they will cry. To which we say "Bosh". We are more concerned with the lives of Canadians.

We say that the jaywalking pedestrian risks his life most needlessly, and at the expense of society if he is killed. In this he is selfish. We also say that he is a menace, endangering the lives of other road users. In this he is criminal.

Is it such a sacrifice of liberty to give the police full power to apprehend such a dangerous person? We think not. —Canadian Motorist.

BRITISH CAR SALES GO AHEAD

British car sales are up at home and abroad. Overtime work has been revived. A night shift has started at Luton, about 40 miles north-east of London, to keep up with American demand for the new Vauxhall Victors. British Ford is launching a drive to boost car sales by 40 per cent.

The year ahead will be a big one for the U. K. industry. The British Motor Corporation, shipping 600 sports cars a week to the U.S.A., forecasts 1962 sales there of all their types at a minimum of 40,000 units. U.K. manufacturers generally expect to deliver at least nine per cent. more vehicles here and 22 per cent. more overseas than they did last year. Production should be generally up by 15 per cent.

To see modern cars being made, this column recently visited London's nearest plant, the Ford Motor Company, Ltd., of Dagenham, Essex.

Fords, completing a $210 million expansion program in 1960 plus a current $196 million phase, including a new factory near Liverpool, is the only eastern hemisphere car plant manufacturing its own pig-iron—some 700 tons a day. It's 500-acre works beside the lower River Thames on the once desolate land described by Charles Dickens in "Great Expectations."

At the time of our visit the new cars were producing 1,000 cars a day—"Bit of a slow rate, actually," said the guide. Our capacity is 1,500 a day."

OFF THE RECORD

Higher regard for the principles of civil liberty could be expected from responsible citizens than that shown by the principal of a Brampton Separate School who is reported to have tricked a pupil into a confession of malicious damage. His method was ingenious. He seems out of place in a free, Canadian society founded on the ideals of British justice.

The principal placed a tape recorder in an unsupervised classroom with the purpose of spying on the conversation of his pupils. In this way, he hoped to obtain a clue to the identity of a student who had been damaging school books. He did not obtain this evidence from the tape, but used it to bluff one boy into thinking that he had. The boy broke down and told all, and was given a five-day suspension.

One of the rights of the subject is that he shall not be required to incriminate himself. Even the suspected criminal is warned that anything he says may be taken down and given in evidence. Perhaps the principal concerned should go back to school for a civics lesson. —The Globe & Mail.

Remember way back when

FEBRUARY 26, 1912

This morning the G.T.R. wrecking crew with the auxiliary arrived in town from Haliburton, with the engines and snow plough which figured in the disastrous wreck at Haliburton on Friday. Ralph Clark's engine is in pretty bad shape and will need a lot of repairing—if it is ever made serviceable for the road. The auxiliary crew had a pretty strenuous time of it clearing the track and hoisting the engine from the lake. Had it not struck a boom of logs in its plunge, it would have been buried in twenty feet of water. The statement that Engineer Clarke and Fireman Lyn jumped from the engines when the mishap occurred is not borne out by the facts. Our Haliburton correspondent who pays a high tribute to both men states that they stood by their engine after it left the track and into the lake with it and jumping in time to save their lives. Their engine was next to the snowplough when he accident accurred. The second engine left the track, but remained on the roadbed. Two trains went out the line on Sunday to the scene of the wreck. It is understood that Engineer Clark will resume his run on Tuesday.

FEBRUARY 26, 1937

Haliburton—A circus troup landed in the village with equipment to put on a monster show. A car driven by one of the men attached to the troup with loud speakers drove around the streets announcing their show. This could be heard for blocks and nearly everyone in the village heard the yodelling songs and music and the announcements of the big show. Animals were the most exciting and the younger folk flocked in large numbers to see the monkey and the bear perform. The hall was packed and those who attended report the performance full of pep, and lots of music and many stages sets.

Reel Set

For the home movie fan — a new reel set. The eight-millimeter reel and ring stand is said to simplify film handling and reduce the possibility of damage from cutting, scratching or fading while the film is being shown or stored. The reel loads the film automatically by means of pick-up pins in the core. Reel surfaces are smooth inside and out. A special collar filter built into the transparent side panels of the reel and ring stand reduces the possibility of film fade.

SEEK THEIR FORTUNE

Each year thousands of young persons migrate to the big town . . . seeking their fortune in the multi-billion-dollar garment industry.

Some succeed and become Internationally famous. Some succeed but unsung are exceptt within the industry, because the manufacturer is interested in promoting only what the designer produces. Still others never get beyond the diploma they won from one of today's numerous design schools.

The estimate of 360 fashion job classifications comes from the fashion group. That's the professional organization of nearly four-thousand which includes only women-and-only women executives.

The job categories include designing, merchandising, production, selling, and retailing.

Knows What She Wants

One young woman seeking employment in the garment industry knows what she wants to do. Her next problem is getting a chance to do it.

She's 25-year-old Bea Barno . . . a native of Endicott, New York. And with so many potential jobs . . . she isn't discouraged because some of the young and ambitious fail.

In her words--"You can't be pessimistic about your future. When I get discouraged . . . I remind myself that my ambition is to be a designer, and I must not lose my ambition. And I remind myself that others have made the grade."

Miss Barno says the biggest problem for the beginning designer is getting the experience that the garment industry demands.

In her words--"How can you get experience if some house isn't willing to gamble on you?"

Big Steps

Even so . . . she has made some big steps forward. She has completed two years at the Traphagen School of Fashion. She studies in the evenings at the Mayer School of Fashion Design.

And she has copped her first award. It's the Denim Council's 500-dollar annual award for a young designer for his or her designs in denim.

She plowed the money into further training. And as she studies . . . Miss Barno knocks on more doors of manufacturers. She supports herself--and buys fabrics--with her salary as part-time secretary in an electronics firm. She makes all her own clothes.

In her words--"I think that a woman should select clothes for comfort, as well as style. If you feel comfortable in a fashion . . . it usually is also becoming.

Cold sufferers can take heart in this prediction from an official of the U-S National Institutes of Health. He predicts - - - in his words - - - "something close to the disappearance" of the common cold within the next five to ten years.

Transformed

The conference of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers was told this month that advances already have been made, with the development of wood by-products such as food, clothing and plastics.

Place All Its Own

The homely spud has a place in history all its own - - - and a place in the stomachs of a large part of the world's population. In fact, it has been said it could tell quite a story.

It first became a matter of historical record in Chronicles of Peru written by the Spanish explorer Cieza De Leon. The book was published in Seville, Spain in 1553. Perhaps as early as 200 B.C. Peruvian explorers introduced the potato to Europe. The British explorer, Francis Drake, is said to have carried potatoes from Peru to Ireland in a ship in 1586. The Irish adopted it as their basic food item. And Irish immigrants introduced the potato to the new world in 1719 . . . at London-derry, New Hampshire. A century ago . . . there were more than 500 varieties cultivated. Today . . . with the world's annual potato crop at the eight-billion-bushel mark . . . scientists continue to seek new varieties. The potato's family tree shows it's related to the tomato, the red pepper, eggplant and tobacco. But it isn't even second cousin to the sweet potato.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

Q. What can I serve to someone who doesn't care for eggs, and who I feel should have the benefits of eggs?

A. You might try a "soup-nog." Use a rotary beater to beat together an egg and one cup of cream of chicken, celery, or mushroom soup with one can of milk. Chill. Just before serving, beat in an egg for each portion. Serve ice cold. Good with tomato soup, too.

Q. What can I do about the nap of one of my rugs which has become flattened by heavy furniture?

A. Dampen a chamois, fold it several times, and place it over the flattened area. Allow to remain for several hours, and the mark should disappear.

Q. How can I remove lipstick stains from some of my linen napkins?

A. Soak the stains in liquid detergent full strength for a few minutes, then wash as usual. Then you should no longer "see red."

PLANT YOUR GLOXINIA TUBERS IN FEBRUARY

If you are thinking of growing gloxinia, you should be getting ready to plant them any day now. If you haven't grown this plant with it's large, velvety leaves and broad tubular many - coloured flowers, these suggestions from horticulturists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture might help:

Plant the tubers with their crown just showing, in a mixture of equal parts of peat and sand. When the plants are large enough, place them in 5 to 6 inch pots, setting them to the same depth as above.

The potting mixture this time should be one part soil, and one part leaf mold or peat, and ½ part sand.

They need a temperature of 60 to 65 F. and good light, but should be shaded from direct strong sun. Be careful not to over-water or wet the leaves. If you follow these steps, your plants should start blooming in May and continue throughout the summer until September.

In the fall, gradually dry and rest the tubers in pots of soil, at a temperature of not under 45 F., until the following February, when they may be started again.

If you already have gloxinia and want to increase the number you have, new plants may be grown from leaf cuttings. A cutting, when rooted, will produce a tuber and then a plant which will flower in about 5 months.

Cleaning the inaccessible insides of glass vessels with small sponges - - decanters, glass coffee-makers, vinegar cruets, and such - - probably has as many methods as there is fuzz on a quince. Most of them amount to the same theory: Make small, loose objects do the rubbing that you can't do with your hands. Put a small amount of hot soapy water in the decanter, then toss in a handful of BB shot, crushed eggshells, rice, pebbles, gravel, a metal chain, torn up bits of newspaper, small pieces of raw potato. Then shake around so that the loose matter on the inside can rub the stains and dirt off the glass.

Q. How can I "dirt-proof" my brick fireplace?

Q. What can I do when some jelly I am making refuses to "jell"?

A. A slice of carrot will furnish the necessary pectin and produce a clear, firm jelly with no trace of the carrot flavor.

Potluck supper held prior to meeting

The monthly meeting of the Lindsay W.I. was held at the Town Hall, Lindsay, with a good number of members present to enjoy a "Potluck" supper. The main table was loaded with all kinds of meats, salads, buns, and pies and desserts of many kinds followed.

After enjoying a huge supper the members enjoyed selections played on the piano by Mrs. J. Gore, while the Convener, Mrs. H. Neale and her helpers cleared away the dishes and did the necessary chores, before the meeting which followed.

The President, Mrs. H. Taylor, was in the chair for the meeting, which opened in the usual manner. Mrs. Taylor welcomed some new members and also some older members who were back for the meeting.

The Roll Call was "Repeat a Valentine Verse" and many sentimental and humorous verses were given by members.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. A. Williams, and a satisfactory report given by the Treasurer, Mrs. L. Hutton. The correspondence was then dealt with and plans made for a Valentine party to be given to the residents at the Victoria County Home. Mrs. L. Hutton gave a very interesting and concise report on the District Meeting which she had attended and Mrs. A. Randall gave her "Current Events" report which was enjoyed by the members.

Mrs. H. Neale then gave a talk on her recent visit to her sister at Haslemere, England, where she had visited with the Haslemere W.I. Branch. She also had visited the new Guildford which is being built at Guildford, the capital of Surrey, and especially mentioned the chapel which has been dedicated to the memory of Canadian soldiers who served during the two World Wars and many of whom were stationed all around the district. She had made a scrap book of pictures, menus, and other items collected during her voyage, and which was on view for the members to see.

The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem, after which the members returned to their homes having spent a most enjoyable evening.

High School Board approve increase in salary rates

Teachers at both Lindsay Collegiate Institute and Fenelon Falls High School have received a raise of $200 per year on the maximum salary wage rates. This would mean that teachers qualified and fitted in one of four categories, will have a higher maximum pay to advance to before they must qualify and change to higher category.

The category wage rate is as follows: 1–wage rate $7,600 to $7,900, board paying $8,000; 2–wage rate $8,000 to $8,300, board paying $8,300; 3–wage rate $8,600 to $9,100, board paying $9,100 and 4–wage rate $9,100 to $9,400, board paying $9,500.

Other wage increases for the coming year, include the principal, secretaries and supply teachers.

It was approved by the board that Principal W. S. W. Breese receive a $500 increase this year. With this raise, it was stated by Management Committee Chairman P. McGuire that Mr. Breese would be within $500 of his maximum wage rate.

The office secretaries also received a wage raise, which will be effective on March 1st, 1962. This raise lifts the annual pay rate from $2,300 to $2,400 per year, which is a maximum rate.

Miss Yard, the newest member of the office staff, has been given a $200 per year raise to be effective on March 1st, 1962. Her work, however, is not the same as the office secretaries. She was hired as an attendance officer, to check up on students who miss periods during the day or are absent from school for any length of time.

The final wage rate boost was for supply teachers. At the present time, unqualified and qualified supply teachers are paid the same rate per day, $15. It was approved that qualified supply teachers should receive $25 per day effective February 1st, 1962 and that the unqualified teacher's rate remain the same.

Observe "weeks" here

The pictures above were taken at a special ceremony held at the Lindsay Collegiate Gymnasium last Sunday, by the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides of Victoria County to honour and give thanksgiving for the life of the founder of the movement, Lord Robert Baden-Powell. The ceremony was arranged by the Victoria County Scout Association in conjunction with "National Brotherhood Week" and "Boy Scout Week". The top picture shows the flags placed in the flag stands. In the foreground, Jacks, which led the procession into the hall. Arranged behind these are the flags of the various Guide, Brownie and Cub packs which took part in the ceremonies. The flags on either side of the main stands are those of the Boy Scout Troops in the country. In the lower picture, the colour party and honour guards are proceeding to the stage to place their flags. Broiled Fillets Continental

Subtle Seasoner

Wine cooking doesn't hold the mysteries many otherwise adventurous cooks believe. Nor need it be expensive. There are no complicated techniques involved and the small amount of wine normally used seldom makes any appreciable difference in the cost of a dish. Yet its subtleties of flavor and aroma so often spell the difference between something extra-special and "just another dish". Experts, particularly those on continental cuisine wherein wine plays an important role, maintain best results come from using cheaper wines, since the very delicate flavor and bouquet of really expensive wines often escape during cooking. Canadian vineyards produce quality wines that are excellent cooking adjuncts and at the same time inexpensive.

If you're a novice, there's no better way to begin your excursion into wine cookery than with fish. These two foods have a natural affinity for one another. Broiled Fillets Continental proves the point perfectly. Used as a basting liquid as well as the foundation for the sauce, white wine gives a pleasant piquancy to fish fillets and plays up their natural mild taste. Onion slices and stuffed olives have secondary seasoning roles.

Broiled Fillets Continental

1 pound fish fillets; Salt and pepper; Juice of half a lemon; 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, (divided); 2 small onions, sliced thin; ½ cup dry white wine; 1 tablespoon flour; ½ cup milk; ¼ cup sliced stuffed olives.

If frozen, let fillets thaw on refrigerator shelf. Separate fillets; place on preheated buttered broiling pan. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, lemon juice. Arrange onion slices over fish. Dot with 2 tablespoons of the butter. Place in broiler, about 3 inches from source of heat. Broil (basting frequently with wine) about 10 minutes, or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Arrange fish and onion slices on a hot platter. Melt remaining tablespoon of butter in small saucepan Blend in flour. Drain off liquid remaining in broiler pan; combine with milk and gradually blend into flour mixture. Cook, stirring, until thickened and smooth. Stir in olives. Pour sauce over fish. Serve immediately. Makes 3 to 4 servings. —Consumer tested recipes released through Fisheries Council of Canada.

Pacific Casserole

Rare Layers

Ask men who sometimes complain about being served casseroles why they object, even if they otherwise enjoy the foods that go into them and often they'll say it's because they can't tell to look at the dish just what's in it! Pacific Casserole entirely avoids such reactions. It's the perfect casserole for even the most suspicious and finicky male eater. Rice, tomatoes, onion rings, salmon and olives are arranged in layers that keep their individual savor and identity throughout baking. The final layer, a simple cheese sauce made with cream soup, is crowned with barbecue potato chips—a new idea for a casserole topping — whose hot seasonings get another vote of approval from the men in our cooking audience. Though it's primarily designed as a family supper feature, Pacific Casserole has the appearance and flavor contrasts that make a good menu choice for informal entertaining too.

Pacific Casserole

1, 10-ounce can cream of vegetable or celery soup; ½ cup milk; 2/3 cup shredded cheddar cheese; 1½ cups packaged precooked rice; ¼ teaspoon salt; ½ teaspoon oregano (optional); One 9-oz. pkg., 1, 28-oz. can whole tomatoes, Water, app. 1 to 1¼ cups; 1 onion, thinly sliced; 2 ... canned salmon; ½ cup sliced stuffed olives; Barbecue or plain potato chips.

Preheat oven to 375 deg. F. moderately hot. In saucepan over low heat, blend milk into soup. Add cheese, heat, stirring occasionally, until cheese melts. Meanwhile, in greased shallow 6-cup baking dish combine rice, salt, oregano and pepper. Stir this into rice. Save a few tomatoes for top of casserole, slice rest. Arrange sliced tomatoes and onions, separated into rings, over rice. Drain salmon; break into chunks. Arrange with tomatoes and onion rings. Pour cheese sauce over top. Cover top surface with barbecue chips. Garnish with remaining whole tomatoes and if desired, additional sliced olives. Bake in preheated moderately hot oven 20 to 25 minutes or until sauce is bubbly. Makes 6 servings.—Consumer tested recipe released through Fisheries Association of B.C.

THAT

It's just a shade early to be dreaming of "Cruising down the river", but Charlie Chapman thinks about that sort of thing most of the year. He has good reason to . . . he is the boat business. Charlie dropped off at Lindsay last week to tell the Lions Club all about the "newest boat ever built" — the OMC deluxe 17 — which features a new-concept, three-point hull. The sales manager for Outboard Marine Peterborough, was in Lindsay at the invitation of Lion Pete Rose of the Lindsay Bake Shop. While at the meeting, he gave the club a rundown on the changing hull construction of boats from the time of Noah's Ark to the present time. While he didn't have any examples along with him, Charlie promised to come up this way early in the season and take the press on a cruise to demonstrate the smooth riding qualities of the craft . . . Wonder if they ever got around to putting a marker on that rock north and west of Long Beach which had a nasty habit of wrecking propellors last summer?

Boy, 13, loses arm

A 13-year-old Woodville youth lost his left arm when he became entangled in a manure spreader on his father's farm. Neil Mulock of rR2 Woodville, was working with his twin brother, Carl, and his father, James, when the accident occurred.

One of his older brothers, Ross, told "The Post" that the trio were cleaning out the spreader around noon-hour on Saturday. He said the wind apparently blew Neil caught into the power take-off shaft. "The force of the shaft drew the lad into the machine," Ross stated. He said it could only be that way as the shaft is protected by a half-round covering.

Neil was rushed to the Ross Memorial Hospital where he was attended by Dr. M. E. Gorman. Neil lost his left arm and it is reported that his right arm is badly bruised. He is also suffering from a broken collarbone.

One of biggest in province, says principal

Lindsay Collegiate Institute is one of the biggest secondary schools in the province of Ontario. So stated LCI principal William Breese at a meeting of the school board Wednesday night.

"We have the biggest school between Toronto and Kingston and it is getting bigger all the time. We must setup an organization which will operate a large school of this nature effectively and efficiently", he stated.

He said that it was proposed that by the time the vocational school was completed, over 1,700 students would be attending LCI. "We will probably be the biggest schools in Ontario outside the Metro area", the principal commented.

Mr. Breese went on to say- "last year was a heavy year for new Grade 13 students and I expect an even heavier one this year. We also had over 90 pupils return which we didn't figure on. This could be due perhaps to the industrial groups advocating that educations is very important for better jobs."

Mr. Breese said that a conservative estimate for 1962-63 would be a school population of 1,260 students. "It might run close to 1,300, but that remains to be seen", he concluded.

LCI creates new position of director

The position of director on the staff of Lindsay Collegiate Institute has been accepted and approved by the Victoria County High School Area Board. It was passed Wednesday at the regular meeting of the Board here.

Principal W.S.W. Breese recommended these positions be set up and that they be incorporated into the teaching roster. He said that with the new composite school, the heads of departments would have more work and that a greater burden would be put upon himself and the vice-principal, J. E. Staples.

The new directors have not been named as yet, but the positions have been set up and the pay rate established. Each director, of which there will be three, vocational, commercial and academic, will receive $500 more than the heads of departments. It was explained that these directors would be required to help the principal and vice-principal during the weeks of the summer with arranging the timetables and setting up of school courses.

Mr. Breese explained that many schools in Ontario are establishing the director position for vocational and commercial, but he felt with the increase in pupils and the amount of time required by the guidance department to interview these pupils there should be a special guidance director.

It is expected that the commercial and guidance directors will be named for next year, but the vocational director

Street re-naming found 'illegal'

Lindsay has acted 'illegally' in re-naming Russell St. E., KAWARTHA DRIVE. Mayor Joseph Holton told members of Lindsay's Planning Board Wednesday that the re-naming of Russell St. E. is apparently illegal without amending the official town plan. He also disclosed that a check by officials from the Ontario Dept. of Community Planning had disclosed that there were perhaps half a dozen illegal buildings scattered around the town.

PLANNING BOARD BUDGETS $500 FOR CONVENTIONS

Lindsay's Planning Board is going to spend a little more money on conventions this year.

In a budget drafted last night, members voted to seek $1500 from the town, $500 of which would be earmarked for convention purposes.

When Mayor Holton suggested that the board set aside $200 for Chairman J. McQuarrie to be used on his forthcoming trip to Europe to gathering planning information, the chairman countered with another suggestion. He noted that the national planning conference was being held in Edmonton and suggested it wouldn't do any harm for some member to take their holidays then and go to the convention. An allowance of one or two hundred dollars was recommended. "We actually don't get enough for conferences," Mr. McQuarrie said.

Mayor Holton: "I don't think we do."

The planning board spent about $656 of a $750 budget in 1961.

Prior to passing the new budget, Mayor Holton said, "This boar is an important one. I don't think we have given it enough focus or attention. This is a good investment."

According to those who claim to have some inside information, ex-warden Jim Butler of Eldon's name has been heard mentioned in connection with the appointment.

WOULDN'T BE STOPPED

Chicago police heard a lot of excuses in a crackdown of motorists caught without 1962 license plates since the recent deadline. Some said the new plates were at home, others said the weather's too bad to put them on. But one young lady had a different answer. "This is my boyfriend's car. He said I wouldn't be stopped."

A LOVELIER YOU

By MARY SUE MILLER

HOW DO YOU SOUND?

AS OLD AS YOU SOUND. A voice is a dead giveaway to a personality. When a teen speaks in loud, raucous tones, you know she is still a "tomgirl" and too immature to be taken seriously.

A flat, monotonous voice causes a mature woman to sound weary of people, ideas and life. Older than Mrs. Mathuselah? That itsy-bitsy girl voice that some women effect in an effort to appear sweet sixteen only calls attention to their age.

Actually, a winning voice leaves no age impression whatever. It is soft, low-pitched, warm and colorful. Above all, it shuns affectation of any sort.

To possess an attractive voice, you only have to form the listening habits. Listen for flaws in your own voice and for admirable qualities in other voices. In that way you soon learn how your voice could be improved. The following routines are the means to improvement:

1. Sing! (To yourself if others object.) Singing increases range and flexibility. 2. Practice saying a long sentence — first up the scale, then down. This encourages more coloration in expression.

3. To control harsh tones, read this column aloud. Start in a whisper and end in a shout. All the while, keep your pitch low and even. 4. For greater warmth, think — really think — about what you are saying. When you say "Hello!" really put the exclamation point into it.

Pretty soon you'll sound exactly as young as you feel!

"Municipal muddle"?

Lindsay, Feb. 22, 1962.

The Editor,
The People Write,
The Lindsay Post.
Dear Sir:

Both new and experienced members of the Town Council are deeply involved in a municipal muddle and Mr. Citizen has been asking plenty of questions. The ratepayers took to the Press for first hand information despite the decree of Mayor Holtom to the effect that employees of the Corporation should not give information to the newspapermen until matters are decided on by Council.

The municipal muddle includes the possible major expenditure of $380,000 for a new sewage disposal plant and glorified lagoons. The item looks staggering when it is considered that there is possibly $200,000 still owing on the plant which is soon to be described as obsolete and run down. Then there is the dump ground muddle and the requested resignation of the caretaker of the dump. True, the man may use a few highly expressive words when under strain and when annoyed but as one ratepayer remarked: "He only gets $12 a week instead of $12 a day, similar pay to what the members of the Council get for attending one meeting." It will be hard to get a good man to replace the present caretaker. Perhaps a greater degree of supervision should have been given this man. There is also the municipal muddle connected with what to do with the revamping fo the Town Hall. Many plans have been aired but members of the Council might still be wise to leave matters as they are at least until the sewage disposal plant situation is cleared up. With a contemplated expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars for lagoons the Council might go slow on a contemplated expenditure of many more thousands of dollars to renovate and alter the Town Hall.

The latest plan advanced to renovate the municipal hall apparently includes the transfer of the assessment department to the old committee room, moving the welfare department to the present assessment offices, moving the police to the public rest rooms and placing the Mayor's office in the rooms now used by the waterworks department, which sounds like a hodpodge idea, if it is confirmed. It may be feasible, for example, to take out toilets in the present rest room and convert the rest rooms to police headquarters.

The municipal muddle is reported to include the apparent forced retirement of at least one town official who appears to have been doing an excellent job through the years, namely the Town Engineer. His retirement, just at the time when a new disposal plant is being engineered, as well as revamping of the town hall, might be considered as ill-timed and ill-advised by many who will lead to a still larger expenditure on the part of the Council, if a change is to take place in the engineering staff. It is also logical to infer that the yearly stipend might be increased by a couple of thousand dollars.

In the back of the minds of many people there is a feeling that some interested people are looking forward to the day when there will be a Town Manager as one ratepayer remarked: "He only gets $12 a week instead of $12 a day, similar pay to what the members of the Council get for attending one meeting." It will be hard to get a good man to replace the present caretaker. Perhaps a greater degree of supervision should have been given this man. A gala night for the Odd Fellows at Lindsay degree night

"No member present would have missed it for the world" ... That is the way the reporter of the Odd Fellows gala night put it in his account of the lodge's first degree night.

The reporter goes on: "Forty-nine Odd Fellows sat down to dinner served by the Sisters of the Rebekah degree and that dinner was wonderful, especially the pies and mostly the lemon pies.

"Sixty-three Odd Fellows filled every chair in the lodge room to see the first degree exemplified with Bro. Edgard Gord presiding. The candidate: Walter J. Brazier (Dick) of Lindsay.

"Highlights: dinner meeting on time; lodge opened on time; degree began and finished on time and lodge closed on time; then tea and sandwiches and such in the Kawartha Room.

"Well done degree staff.

"Well done Bro. Appleton as Noble Grand for the business meeting.

"Well done the committee: Bro. Geo. Baldwin and Bro. Jim Purdy, (who can't get a motion through unless it's his) 'No motion Purdy' we call him.

"And very well done Bro. Bill Graham who talked to the gathering as the special speaker.

"A talk to touch the heart with its humor and with the complacent mind to the dangers of the world in which we live . . . Thanks a million Bro. Bill.

"Our appreciation also to the visitors from lodges out of town who braved a dangerous journey to be with Lindsay Lodge No. 100. It is our sincere hope they will return for the dinner and degree on Monday, March 19th.

"Many believe that civilization is going to pot and hopelessness spreads like a plague throughout the land, but I don't subscribe to any such philosophy after last Monday night's meeting."

RMH still in debt $77,000 on renovation

The Ross Memorial Hospital is still in debt to the tune of $77,000. This was learned Thursday night at a Board of Governors' meeting. The amount is the payable account owing to Sullivan and Sons Ltd. for renovation work done on the hospital. The total amount of the bill incurred in this work was $134,000.

In the past few weeks, Finance chairman Col. R. I. Moore has been asking the Victoria County Council to underwrite a debenture of $75,000 which to date the county has refused to grant. Col. Moore said he had hoped that the county would support the issue, but he also stated that maybe they were frightened by the high sum. He said he would place a recommendation for a $25,000 cash loan from the county before the next session of the council.

Figures which were brought forward showed that $57,000 was paid to Sullivan and that the $77,000 owing also included a sum of $30,000 previously borrowed from the bank.

It was stated that part of the debt would be paid by $2,000 a month installment which will be met by the hospital from the preferred revenue gained from private and semi-private room accommodation. Mr. Freeborn, hospital administrator, said this would be put towards paying the bank debt.

"An extra $23,000 would be gained from an anticipated increase in the grants received for renovations. However, this amount is not a definite figure," he stated.

The one catch is that the hospital needs additional equipment which is expected to run in the neighbourhood of $32,700 for 1962. Mr. Freeborn stated that if the county were to grant the hospital the $25,000, this amount would be applied towards the purchasing of additional equipment.

He said that if the county did not grant the money, the hospital would have two choices. First — we could go into debt for a longer period of time, in order to purchase the equipment - - or - - we would have to go without additional equipment," Mr. Freeborn stated. "However, there is some of the equipment which we need regardless."

Member of the county council, Owen Sweetman, sat in on the board meeting and stated that the county has a big debt now, with the $850,000 debenture issue for the High School on the books. He stated that the county might be willing to go for $25,000, but would make no definite statement to that effect.

Chairman of the Board of Governors, Lou Walker, asked if the members of the county finance committee would like to have a meeting with the Ross Memorial Finance Committee at the hospital. "After the meeting we could take you on a tour of the hospital," he stated.

Mr. Sweetman acknowledged the invitation and said he would have to consult with the County Clerk, Frank Weldon. "I'm sure there will be done."

However, $77,000 is still outstanding on the Ross Memorial Hospital books for the year.

English author Samuel Johnson said: "Curiosity is one of the permanent and certain characteristics of a vigorous mind."

RMH nurse's residence next in line for renovation, RMH board is informed

The Nurses' Residence at the Ross Memorial Hospital will be the next building to get its face lifted. This was the general thought of most of the members of the Board of Governors at their meeting on Thursday night.

Tastefully decorated bowling salons made that way by women

Ladies, take a bow! The bright, tastefully decorated bowling salons of today were made that way by women.

According to officials of the "Player's Bowling Festival" the increasing number of women bowlers over the past 25 years has taken bowling out of the atmosphere of smoke filled rooms and given the luxurious settings of modern lanes with draperies, wall to wall carpeting and in many cases, even a nursery.

The contributions made to bowling by women was highlighted during the announcement of the "Player's Bowling Festival' in which league bowlers right across Canada will bowl for 150, 12-day, all expense paid trips to Hawaii or the Caribbean.

The festival is open to all regular league bowlers in duck pins, five pins and candlepins who have a registered season average. Winners are those who exceed their own averages by the greatest average number of pins.

While men bowlers still outnumber the women by a good margin the ladies are rapidly catching up and in many of the larger lanes afternoon schedules are taken up with leagues for women bowlers while the kiddies romp in a supervised nursery.

Men have benefitted in other ways too, from the popularity hubby have to sneak off for an evening of bowling with the wife women. No longer does boys. The lady of the house

Estimated 15% costs hike predicted for RMH

Pay boosts key factor; urge check

The overall estimated increase in costs for 1962 amounts to 15% more than the anticipated final costs for 1961, according to a letter from Dr. Urquhart, chairman of the Ontario Hospital Services Commission, to the Ross Memorial Hospital Board of Governors, re:1962 budget.

The chairman explained that the increase appears to be attributed mainly to an increase in salary and wage levels for all groups of employees. He states however, that this does 'not imply necessarily that all of the other areas of hospital operation should not be examined.

In the letter, Dr. Urquhart went on to say that it was recognized that the level of depressed in relation to the pay for hospital personnel was dustry in general at the inception of the plan, so provision was made at that time for increases which were bound to occur. "Further wage rate increases", he said, "should now more nearly approximate those occurring in other industries."

The Commission stressed the urgency of stringent review of costs on the part of hospital boards, but that they should also endeavour to maintain a reasonable quality of patient care.

The letter was filed for future reference.

See no purpose in having Angeline become town street

"This has nothing to do with us . I don't know why council didn't decide the issue in the first place." That was Planning Board Chairman J. McQuarrie's reaction to a discussion on whether to incorporate a section of Angeline St. into the town road system or leave it a county road.

Board member Jim Goard said he felt it definitely should be a town street.

Councillor Mel DeGroat said he thought council wanted it left a county road.

Mr. McQuarrie: "It doesn't matter to us."

Board member Dr. Peter Gill: "I think we should have some thoughts in the matter."

Mr. McQuarrie: "There's no reason why the town can determine the width the road is to be."

Mr. DeGroat: "The town's thinking is a matter of dollars and cents - it prefers to leave the road with the county."

Finally it was moved by Dr. Peter Gill "that we concur with the thinking that the street should be 86 feet wide, but see no purpose in altering control at the present time."

Town plan too rigid, special talks Monday

Lindsay's official plan is now regarded as being 'too rigid' by the Community Planning Branch, Ontario Dept. of Municipal Affairs.

This was intimated at a meeting of the Lindsay Planning Board this week.

Noting that R. E. Roberts of the department is coming here Monday night to hold an important discussion regarding the official plan of the town, board chairman J. McQuarrie said 'it is perhaps too rigid - maybe we shouldn't have had it in the first place. I rather feel this is new thinking on the part of the department. It is important to us because an official plan for the area around town is pretty well hamstrung until we get straightened out on our thinking." Mr. McQuarrie suggested that all members of council attend the meeting Monday night.

At another point, Mr. McQuarrie recalled that 10 years ago the department didn't want to trust municipalities to make any decisions "maybe its thinking is changing now."

Student Council gives $1,000 to MEDICO

The LCI Student Council donated $1,000 to MEDICO, an organization set up by Dr. Tom Dooley of the United States. The council decided it would prove that this youngger generation is not necessarily concerned with themselves but that other people are just as important.

The council raised this money by selling subscriptions to magazines realizing a profit of $1,300 and sold a total of $4,400 in subscriptions. The extra $300, it was learned, will be put toward purchasing new curtains for the stage which will be built on the west end of the gymnasium.

It is also proposed that mayor Bonnah of the money will go to decorating the stage in the new cafetorium.

Last year, the council purchased a Sport's Timer for the gymnasium and donated it to the school.

LCI students will see "Question 7"

LCI students will be permitted to see the motion picture "Question 7" when it shows in Lindsay next week. This permission was given by the Victoria County High School Area Board at their monthly meeting on Wednesday night.

However, there is one condition before a student may leave school. He must have a letter of permission from his parents to attend the show.

Mr. Breese told the board that he had had many calls and recommendations from persons saying that it was a very worthwhile picture for students to see. "I think this picture has a very high educational value. It is the story of a people who live behind the iron curtain."

Teachers at LCI investigate use of language lab.

Teachers at the Lindsay Collegiate Institute had an opportunity of seeing a Language Laboratory in action and were sold on the idea in principle.

School Principal William Breese told the High School Area Board on Wednesday night that the laboratory was brought to the school in order to give the language teachers a chance to see one of these machines in action. He said. "The teachers are sold on the thing in principle, especially for beginners.

It was learned that Port Hope Collegiate has one of the machines in action at the present time. "I think it a thing worth looking into. It is not needed for the immediate future, but it is worth studying," Mr. Breese commented.

Mr. Breese told the board that the machines are not a new thing and that they have been in operation for some years. "They have been tested and approved by universities," he stated.

Bowlers here vying for West Indies trip

Througout this winter hundreds of thousands of Canadians will roll up their sleeves for an evening's bowling at least once a week; a far cry from the early days of the game when it was a favorite sport of the privileged few.

Some indication of the popularity of bowling as a sport is found in the "Player's Bowling Festvial" in which men and women bowlers across Canada will vie for prizes consisting of 150 all-expense paid trips to Hawaii or The Caribbean. Regular league bowlers, at the end of the current season, will bowl against their own registered averages to decide on the winners. Bowlaway Lanes, Lindsay, is participating in the event.

Today's game with duck pins, five pins and candlepins, all of which are included in the "Player's Bowling Festival", is played in taverns by the Dutch at New Amsterdam.

The Dutch settlers brought the game with them from Europe where it had been a favorite sport with the clergy and wealthy landowners. Because there were no public bowling alleys such as exist in the smalles Canadian village it boasts today, the sport was confined to those who had the means to indulge in the game on their own property.

Today, Bowling is played with modern equipment and in posh surroundings and has become probably the most popular participating sport in the country.

Salmon Roll-Up

Delightful Disclosure

It's true you can't always tell a book by its cover. The expression easily can be applied to foods too. Many tasty concoctions lie hidden beneath ordinary-looking toppings and crusts, to give the dinner an unexpected surprise once he digs beneath the surface. Such a dish is Salmon Roll-Up with a double delight in store. Minced parsley and lemon juice in the dough produce a pleasant flavor change in what to the casual eye may look like an ordinary crust. And it encases a hearty filling of canned salmon with the added savor of chili sauce and ripe olives. Served in thick slices, topped with a suitable sauce, Salmon Roll-Up is a winter dinner winner. It'll win approval, too, as an unusual, hearty snack at a teenagers' or stag party.

Salmon Roll-Up

2 cups canned salmon (1, 1-lb. can); ½ teaspoon salt; ¼ teaspoon pepper; ¼ cup chili sauce; 2 tablespoons minced onion; ½ cup chopped ripe olives. Grated rind and juice of ½ lemon; 3 tablespoons minced parsley; 2 cups biscuit mix; ½ cup water; 1 egg yolk; 2 tablespoons milk

Drain salmon; flake. Blend in salt, pepper, chili sauce, onion, olives and lemon rind. With fork, lightly mix parsley into biscuit mix. Combine lemon juice and water. Prepare biscuit mix according to package directions, but use lemon-water mixture instead of milk. Roll dough out on lightly floured board into rectangle 8 x 13-inches. Spread with salmon mixture. Roll up as for jelly roll. Combine egg yolk and milk, use a little to dampen outside edge of dough. Press in firmly to seal. Lay roll seam side down on greased, floured baking sheet. Brush top and sides with rest of egg-milk mixture. Bake in preheated oven, 400 degrees F., hot, 30 to 40 minutes. Cut into six slices; serve hot with mushroom or tomatoe sauce. Makes 6 servings. —Consumer tested recipe released through Fisheries Association of B.C.

The cost of hospital insurance

Distributed by The Ontario Medical Assoc. Reprinted from The Globe and Mail, January 12, 1962

In his first New Year's message as Premier of Ontario, Mr. John Robarts said this week that the premiums for the Ontario Hospital Care Insurance Plan would be frozen at present levels for the next two years. This was at once interpreted as a sop to the voters in the five Provincial by-elections to be held later this month, but the truth is that the Premier was merely reaffirming the policy laid down by the Government of his predecessor, Mr. Leslie Frost.

In the budget speech last March, Treasurer James N. Allan reviewed the rapidly rising costs of the hospital plan and announced:

We have come to the conclusion that it is in the public interest to maintain the premiums at the present level . . . for the next three years, and to meet from general revenues the additional costs totalling $120 million which will not be met from other revenue sources.

This newspaper was sharply critical of this policy when it was announced and we are equally critical now that Premier Robarts has chosen to emphasize it in his New Year's message. The simple fact is that the people of Ontario are being misled about the cost of hospital insurance.

In the first year of operation, 1960-61, the net cost of the plan was $194 million; in the current financial year, 1961-62, the estimated cost rose to $229 million, and the Province had to provide a direct subsidy of $50 Omillion to keep the premiums steady. In the next two years the cost is expected to climb to over $300 million annually and the Province will have to find about $100 million in subsidies.

Where is the money to come from? Mr. Frost gave the answer in a remarkably frank speech last September on the cost of health services: "Perhaps I may be permitted at this stage of my political life," said the retiring Premier, to remind you as taxpayers that money does not grow on trees." He added that as the premiums had been frozen, the rising cost of the hospital plan would have to be raised by taxation.

More specifically, it can be said that the money for the plan is being raised by the Ontario sales tax introduced last year. The tax is estimated to produce $150 million in a full year, and the lion's share is being divided between health and education services.

Thus the result of freezing the hospital premiums, is not to provide a cheap welfare service, but to impose a sales tax upon the Province, and this fact should not be concealed from the people. Indeed, to drive the cost of welfare services home to the people, it would have been very much better if the Provincial Government had raised premiums to match the rising cost.

As long as people are deluded into believing that they are getting welfare services free, or at less than cost, they will clamor for more, and governments will be driven to levy higher and higher taxes.

Poached fillets with sauce

Coaching on Poaching

A hint of lemon is always an asset for fish fillets or steaks. And poaching—simmering in a small amount of seasoned liquid—assures moist fillets. So, when you poach fillets with lemon slices, the finest flavor is guaranteed. To present a party-pretty platter of poached fillets, top them with a sauce that teams the tomato and cheese, peppily seasoned. Poached Fillets with Tomato Rarebit Sauce are sufficiently satisfying that they're bound to become a family favorite when you can also serve to company with equal pride.

Poached Fillets With Tomato Rarebit Sauce

For six servings, allow a ½ pound per person. Arrange fillets in a single layer in a shallow pan; they're frozen, let them thaw in refrigerator just until they can be separated easily. Pull apart. Add a cup of water in a large frying pan with a lid. Add a teaspoon of salt and bring to boil; turn down heat; carefully slip in fish fillets. Cover pan, simmer over very low heat, about five to eight minutes, just until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Carefully remove fish with slotted lifter, place on warm platter. Serve with Tomato Rarebit Sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Tomato Rarebit Sauce

1, 10-ounce can condensed tomato soup; 1 tablespoon finely minced onion; 2 tablespoons tomato ketchup; ½ teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce; ¼ teaspoon dry mustard; Salt and pepper; Dash of cayenne pepper; ½ pound cheddar cheese, shredded (app. 2 cups); 1 egg, beaten.

Heat soup, stirring, in top of double boiler over direct heat. Then place over boiling water. Blend in onion, ketchup, Worcestershire sauce, mustard, salt and pepper to taste, cayenne. Gradually add cheese, stirring until melted. Slowly blend mixture, a little at a time, into beaten egg. Return to top of double boiler and cook stirring, about five minutes. Serve over poached fish. —Consumer tested recipes released through Fisheries dow heat, about five to eight Council of Canada.

The Poet's Corner

Hunting

The following humorous verses, "A CLASSIC EXAMPLE OF MANY A TRUE WORD IS SPOKEN IN JEST", recently came to our attention, and it is with regret we must admit the name of the author is unkown to us. Since they were first printed over fifty years ago it is safe to say they evidently were never widely read or sufficiently heeded. So if for no better reason than for the sake of lower insurance rates, as all others seemingly have failed, we recommend daily reading while hunting.

A hunter popped a partridge on a hill.
Which made a great to do and then was still!
It seems when, later on, his bag he spied—
It was his guide.
One shot at a squirrel in a nearby wood—
A pretty shot from where he stood.
It wore, they said, a shooting cap of brown,
And lived in town.
And one dispatched a rabbit for his haul.
That later proved to measure six feet tall.
And should you think In handing you a myth,
Its name was Smith.

Another nimrod slew a champion fox;
He glimpsed there lurking in among the rocks,
One rapid shot — It never spoke or moved,
The inquest proved.
A cautious man espied a gleam of brown;
Was it a deer, or Jones, a friend from town?
And while he pondered and the light grew dim,
Jones potted him. —Contributed.

Coffee, The Brown Brew, Comes From White Blossoms And Dark Red Cherries

The coffee you pluck from your grocer's shelf has had an interesting career before it finally achieved its destiny in your kitchen.

It comes from a tall, glossy-leafed tree which grows in some where in the tropics, not too far from the equator. In bloom, the coffee tree is filled with white, fragrant blossoms. After the blossoms fall, coffee cherries form which slowly turn from green to dark red. When the ripe cherries are harvested, the pulp of the fruit is discarded and the two "pits" in the heart of the cherry are kept. These, in fact, are what we know as coffee beans.

The crop of coffee beans is cleaned by one of several processes, then dried for weeks in the warm sun of the tropics. The coffee must be constantly turned and raked as it dries so that results will be even. At long last, the final parchment coating on the beans is removed by machinery and voila!—green coffee is ready to be shipped to the United States for blending, roasting, grinding, packing. Soon after, you purchase a pound of your favorite coffee from your grocer.

How will you brew that coffee? This is the most important subject in the whole story. So make your coffee properly—and let enjoyment begin!

How To Make Good Coffee

Here are a few pointers that will help you to brew excellent coffee every time. First of all, start with a clean coffee-maker, fresh coffee and fresh cold water. Most important — pay close attention to both measuring and timing. For each serving, use:

1 Approved Coffee Measure (or 2 level measuring tablespoons) of coffee
¾ cup measuring cup (6 ounces) of water.

Percolator—percolate over low heat from 4 to 8 minutes, no longer.

Vacuum—hold brewing coffee in upper bowl no longer than 3 minutes.

Drip—pour in boiling water; it should go through coffee in 4 to 6 minutes; stir before serving.

A few additional tips on brewing good coffee will be helpful: (1) Use at least three-quarters of the capacity of your coffee maker. For fewer cups, use a smaller maker; (2) Brewing too long makes coffee bitter; (3) Always use the proper grind of coffee for your coffee-maker; (4) Never allow coffee to boil after brewing. (5) Freshly brewed coffee tastes best, so serve it as soon as possible after brewing.

Art Guild sponsoring trip to see "Heritage of France

The Art Guild is sponsoring a trip by bus next Saturday (March 3rd) to Toronto to view the "Heritage of France" exhibition in the Toronto Art Gallery. Thousands of words have been written in the papers and magazines during the last few months about this outstanding exhibition. It is a collection of paintings of French artists of the 17th century which has been assembled from private and public collections of various countries. Twelve years of organizing went into the production of this great display of the art of France at the time when Canada was New France. France was then the cultural centre of the world.

The trip will start at 8:45 a.m. in order to arrive for the eleven o'clock lecture at the gallery, where lunch can be had, and will leave about 4:30 p.m. in time for the Drama Night of the Little Theatre Group in Lindsay. This trip is not limited to members of the Art guild but is open to all interested persons.

New leather colors make big splash in teen shoes

Teens love to make a big splash. This Spring they've jumped feet first into the fashion puddle - - and come up in brilliantly colored, multi-hued leather shoes.

Off-beat color combinations and harlequin-like effects on the flats, moccasins, strap shoes and pumps were highlighted at the Spring fashion previews in New York. The wildly colored shoe - - in smooth, grained and patent leathers, brushed and crushed leathers - - is retiring the sneaker, finally to fashion's sidelines this year.

Color is the keyword in every type of a shoe - - from the classic leather moccasin that has taken on new importance in gold and in pastel patent leathers to the double strapped pump in two hues and two leather textures. Teenagers have struck it rich in a bonanza of gold leather shoes. There are eye-dazzling moccasins in crushed gold leather, low-cut boots in gold brushed leather, date pumps in smooth and grained gold leather, reports Shoe Fashion Service of the Leather Industries.

The colored patent leather moccasin is seen in combinations of two colors or in one vivid shade. Set on a light leather sole, the moccasin gives a girl sturdy support on any surface, even as the bright colored patent gives the impression she's walking on air.

In patent leathers as well as in brushed and smooth leathers, red, white and blue will lead off any parade. But close on their heels will be such striking tones as orange and yellow, bright blues, hot pinks and greens. More than one two-shoe shoe will be reminiscent of a traffic signal - - red one one side and green on the other. Coppery tones, melon and magenta are other easy-to-spot colors on teen footwear.

The basic silhouette of the teen flat and moccasin is slightly foreshortened this year - - rather than the elongated look of the past few seasons. While moccasins are chiefly rounded or squared toed, most other teen shoes are seen in tapered, crescent and squared toes. In a few flat shoes, the toe is an oblique line.

The strap shoe is back in teen circles - - as a dressy daytime shoe, together with ties and opened up pumps. A spectator flat with wide double straps which carry the burden of the detailing or a two-hue ghillie tie look more "open" than they are. The same effect is obtained by a asymetrical moc, a pump with portholes and a sandal. One very popular style is a variation of the "jester" shoe, with wide stripes of different leathers running vertically around the shoe. In the centre of each strip is a half-inch porthole.

Kilties, spats, ruffled bows and other "kookie" effects, give the teenager fresh opportunity to splash color. A typical example of multiple colors is seen on a high-riding glove leather casual flat in orange, with black leather piping and gold clogs running up a centre vamp strip.

For the junior prom or a Saturday night date in town, smooth or suede leather pumps are frequently seen in pastels and brown-to-bone neutrals that quietly complement Spring gowns. An element of fun in the eye, the mid-heel dance pump is a comfort to dance in - - with its slim leather sole and smooth leather lining. —Leather Industries.

CAVE-IN TRAPS 6 ON 3rd FLOOR

AERIAL LADDER USED TO BRING FRIGHTENED PEOPLE TO SAFETY

Six persons were trapped in the third storey of a downtown Lindsay building early Tuesa.m. when the rear portion collapsed and caved into the basement. All were evacuated to safety when firemen took fast action and brought the aerial ladder to the scene.

The six persons were Jeno, Ann and Judith Paradi; Miss Peggy Gardner; Marjorie Langley and Barry Jewell All were in the apartments on the third storey of the building when the cave-in took place.

Two others persons escaped from the second floor by the front stairs. They were Don and Jean O'Neill. Mr. O'Neill is a member of the Lindsay Fire Department, and turned in the alarm. He was also one of the men who conducted the rescue work of the third storey victims.

The building was under renovation on the ground floor at the time of the cave-in. Phil Albert, owner of the establishment, was having work done to combine two stores into one in preparation for Stedman Brothers Stores moving in.

Now, the front portion and rear portion are the only remains of the building. The entire middle section has dropped into the basement. Stoves, bath fixtures, and furniture from the top storey apartments are laying in the rubble in the basement area.

NO CAUSE YET

As yet, no cause has been given for the unexpected cave-in. Lindsay Building Inspector O. D. Newbigging said he was investigating but had reached no conclusion as to the cause.

"We might have an idea but are waiting for a more qualified person to conduct an investigation". Mr. Newbigging was referring to an inspector who is being called in from the Canadian Safety Association.

DIDN'T KNOW

Spokesman for Stedman Stores in Toronto, R. Cochrane, said later Tuesday he knew nothing of the cave-in until contacted by "The Post". He said that it was a total surprise. "We will certainly investigate the situation immediately".

View from rear of building — note electric stove, bathtub from upper floors (right).

Barry Jewell said sound was like all the snow sliding off roof.

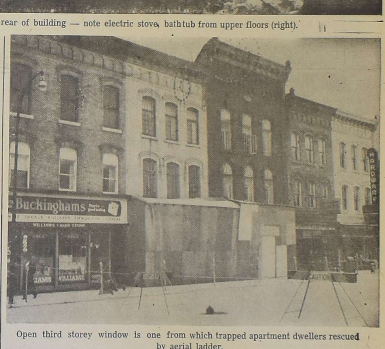

He expressed his pleasure in knowing that no one was injured in the accident.

FIRST WARNING

The first warning of a possible cave-in came about 10:30 p.m. Monday according to Don O'Neill. He told "The Post" he was in his apartment with his wife when he heard what sounded like men digging down in the store area.

"I didn't pay too much attention to it at the time. We were both tired. The next instance was about 10:45 p.m. The same type of sound from then on, the sound grew louder and came at closer intervals. By midnight, I knew something was wrong. I got my wife out of bed and started to open the front window. Then the crash came. I figured the entire building was going. The lights went out and the floor began to shake underneath us. I was ready to go out the front window. Then I tried the stairway. It was still open and I got my wife onto the street below."

Mr. O'Neill said once his wife was out of the building, he rushed back into it to see if everyone was safe. "I rushed up the stairs to the second floor, and then opened the door to proceed to the third floor. All I saw was the parking lot behind the building. I looked up and saw the sink of the bathroom above and look- ed down to the basement and there was the bathtub."

Mr. O'Neill said he called but could get no answer. He explained he rushed down to the street, and ran to the Fire Hall where he turned in the alarm on the emergency radio. The two men on duty rushed to the scene in the pumper, while Don O'Neill followed with the aerial truck.

VICTIMS ACCOUNTS

Judith Paradi said she was in bed when the cave-in occurred. "I do know that it was awfully hot. I remember in the morning there was cold water in the hot water pipes. By 9.00 p.m. Monday the rads were so hot you couldn't touch them."

Judith said her father rushed out into the hall when the crash came and tried to get the other people up. Mrs. Paradi had her leg in a cast and is now under the constant care of a doctor.

Barry Jewell said that to him, the noise accompanying the cave-in was "like all the snow going off the roof at once, but I knew it couldn't be that because it was a flat roof." He said that when he went to the stairwell, it just wasn't there - it had gone down with the rubble.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT

Another account of the cave-in comes from Joe Whitney who lives at 25 Peel Street. He said he was watching television and heard what sounded like snow coming off the roof. "I looked out the back window and saw clouds of smoke or dust rising from the building. The lights went out and there was flashes coming from the hydro poles behind the building."

People for blocks heard the roar of the crash and windows were blown out of the front of the building itself. Blockades have been set up in front of the building to keep people away.

Owner Phil Albert talks with Barry Jewell who was among those trapped on third floor.

Town plan too rigid, Lindsay groups told; new legislation near Legislation is underway in the Ontario Legislature to have the laws governing the plans of cities and towns changed. This was disclosed by R. E. Roberts of the Community Planning Branch, Ontario Dept. of Municipal Affairs, at a meeting of the Lindsay Area Planning Board and Lindsay Council on Monday night.

Mr. Roberts told the gathering that the recommendations for this change have been presented to the "House" by the minister of the Dept. of Municipal Affairs. "Our hope is that the proceedings will go through this sitting."

Mr. Roberts said the official plan of Lindsay was too rigid and that it would have to be changed. He stated that by doing this, better use could be made of available land. "All existing commercial except the major downtown area, would be residential, but each land owner could apply to have his lot changed to commercial if he desired."

The suggestion was advanced that this system might bring a lot of unnecessary work on council. Mr. Roberts said the planning board would still be the filtering agent for council and that all such requests would be given to them. He also stated that the bylaw governing the official plan would be the main item of change.

"The plan is only the master copy, it will be the bylaw which will govern the acceptance or rejection of any request", he stated.

The plan which is now under study by the planning board on the newly-annexed area, will remain the same, but the bylaw drawn up will be very different to the one governing the town.

It was decided at the meeting that a further meeting would be held on March 14th when Marshal, Macklin and Monaghan, consulting engineers, and Mr. Roberts would be present to discuss the further details of the plan and possibly have a map to show the basic layout.

Over 500 students attend "Question 7"

Over 500 students from Lindsay Collegiate Institute and St. Joseph's Academy attended the opening showing of "Question 7" Monday afternoon. The special matinee was shown by the Century Theatre for school students because of the high ratings it has received from the screen test shown here a couple of months ago.

At the pre-screen showing, in which many of the teachers, ministers and youth workers were invited, it was found by reports of these people that it would be worthwhile for the show to run especially for the students.

Stresses need of 'purpose'

Rev. W. R. Auld delivered an interesting and inspiring sermon Sunday morning at Cambridge Street United Church on the subject "What Do I Lack". The congregation was augmented by the Canadian Girls in Training, Tyros, Explorers, Sigma C., Cubs and other organizations. The speaker emphasized the necessity of young people having a definite purpose in life.

Mr. John Glenny a representative of the Cambridge Street Church in the Ontario Boys' Parliament, spoke to the congregation regarding the work of senior boys, their aims and objectives and the need for financial assistance.

"PASSENGER SERVICE NOT DEAD ISSUE"- MAYOR

Transport Minister will study proposal for dayliner service

Passenger train service in Lindsay may not be a dead issue according to Mayor Joseph C. Holtom. This came to light in a report issued by the Mayor on a meeting with the Minister of the Department of Transport in Ottawa on Thursday.

The mayor said the minister L. Balcer, was very agreeable to the suggestion put forward by Victoria County Warden John Alton, Planning Board Chairman James McQuarrie and himself. "He took some notes and promised that he would look into the matter right away", the mayor stated.

The three men travelled to Ottawa to attend the special meeting, which was arranged by Clayton Hodgson, M.P. for this riding, on Thursday. The Mayor said he was very pleased with the sympathetic and understanding hearing given them by the Minister of Transport.

Recounting the meeting, Mayor Holtom said:

"We reviewed, with Mr. Balcer, the fact that some 60 to 75 years ago, people of Lindsay and Victoria County had put out a great deal of money (over 200,000 dollars in municipal debentures) to bring in the railways, and we feel that there is still an obligation on the part of the C.N.R. to continue to provide a suitable service, especially now that Lindsay is without any passenger trains whatsoever. We impressed upon the Minister that the C.N.R. did not try to give a modern, well-managed passenger service to this area and that the statements of loss of revenue which was presented at the hearing in Lindsay were misleading and questionable and were based on antiquated and out-dated type of rail service."

"We suggested very strongly that this matter be reviewed by the Department of Transport and that the C.N.R. be urged to inaugurate a type of dayliner service between Lindsay and Toronto. This service should be operated efficiently and on a type of schedule that would not only service this area but the various municipalities between Lindsay and Toronto. This modern passenger service should be put on a trial basis for at least six months."

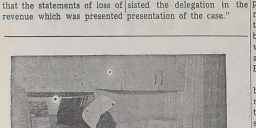

The members of the committee, the Warden, Mayor and Mr. McQuarrie feel that the trip was very worthwhile and they said they would assist the Federal Government to review and assess the problem here and to deal realistically with it in the interests of the citizens of Lindsay and Victoria County.

Mr. Holtom said he would like to thank Mr. Hodgson, M.P. for his help and guidance in this matter.

Interesting Sidelight

In Mayor Holtom's account of the meeting, he gave a very short sidelight of the walk through the parliament buildings on the way to Mr. Balcers office.

The mayor said:-Mr. Clayt Hodgson, M.P., who seems to know everyone — from the elevator boy to the Prime Minister around the parliament buildings had arranged the interview and assisted the delegation in the presentation of the case."

A well prepared and experienced public health nurse is more than a skilled nurse, she's a health teacher and community leader.

Dymond Discusses Health in Ontario

Public Health Nurse (1)

Matthew B. Dymond, MD, CM.

Ontario Minister of Health

The good health of its people is this province's most valuable asset. Without good health the richest man—or the richest province—is poor.

That is why the protection of the public's health is so vital. You and I must do all we can to encourage this protection in all its forms.

One of the least publicized—and most important—groups that guards your good health are this province's hundreds of dedicated Public Health Nurses.

It's a sad truth that many of the people of this huge province don't know who their Public Health Nurse is or don't understand the role she plays in their community.

A well-prepared and experienced public health nurse is more than a skilled nurse, she's a health teacher and community leader in health matters.

Her preparation and experience enable her to recognize situations that may lead to emotional disturbance, physical or mental illness. Her teaching is directed toward the prevention of illness.

And the Public Health Nurses of Ontario are exceptionally well-prepared to be of real service in the communities—and people—of this fast growing province.

They are all graduates of a recognized school of nursing, and they all have at least one year of post-graduate university study in public health.

Any young woman who wants to be a public health nurse in this province must have all her credentials cleared by your Ontario Department of Health.

It's the Department's concern to make sure the people of this province have the benefit of the best trained, best qualified Public Health nurses in Canada.

"Not fired" reeve says of engineer

Town Engineer, J. N. Timberlake, is still the official town engineer although reports from one source claim he has been "fired". Asked about the matter, Reeve Found said conversations have been conducted on this subject of the engineer's retirement between Mr. Timberlake and himself.

Mr. Found stated that since Mayor Holtom made the initial statement of the engineer's retirement in his inaugural address, he has been in close contact with the engineer on the subject.

When asked if the engineer had been fired, Reeve Found said:-"NO,-nobody but council has the authority to fire Mr. Timberlake. News that the Ontario government has decided to do away with the liquor permit and increase the price of liquor to compensate for the loss of revenue, is being greeted with mixed reaction. It brought back memories for one old timer. He recalled as how, when he was young yellow, liquor permits never entered into the picture at all . . . "I remember," he said, "when all a man had to do when he wanted some spirits was gather up a jug and head for the nearest neighbour with a cider press. For 25 or 50 cents he could buy a gallon of stuff that would make a lot of liquor sold today seem like rainwater . . . Of course, keeping cider for sale was a bit risky and once in a while it could be downright embarassing. Once there was a villager who bottled down some and it started to pop its corks while a visiting lady of a religious turn was trying to bring his wife around to her way of thinking . . . After the popping and hissing sounds stopped coming from the cellar, there was a period of great silence, or so I am told."

Naturalists here to see scenes and sounds of the Arctic

Greenland Wheatear

Dr. Donald R. Gunn, a Toronto psychiatrist will be speaking on his hobby of natural history and birdwatching at the meeting of the Victoria County Naturalists Club in the Lindsay Collegiate, next Wednesday.

Past President of the Naturalists Club, Jack McFarquhar says that bird watching is a wonderful hobby for medical and non-medical men, also it is fine for persons over 39 and under 39.

Dr. Gunn will speak on "Wildlife, Flowers and People of Baffinland" using tape and slides obtained during his visit to Frobisher Bay last summer, to study a Greenland bird the Wheatear.

Dr. Gunn, is a psychiatrist on the staff of the Ontario Hospital, New Toronto, where he is Director of Clinical Research.

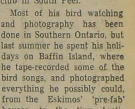

He was a student at University of Toronto Schools, and was graduated in medicine in 1931 from the University of Toronto. During World War II he served in the R.C.A.F. for five years as Deputy Director of Signals. For his war service he was made a Member of the Order of the British Empire.

Two of his very early hobbies were photography and amateur radio. But it was in 1934 that Dr. Gunn began to take an active interest in natural history and acquired his first binoculars and "Field Guide to the Birds". Since then a telescope, camera, telescopic lenses, a tape recorder, and many books on birds and plants have been added to the equipment he uses in his quests as a naturalist.

He is a member of: The Canadian Audubon Society, The Federation of Ontario Naturalists. The American Ornithological Union. The Cornell Laboratory of Ornithology, as well as several Naturalists Clubs, including his 'home' club in South Peel.

Most of his bird watching and photography has been done in Southern Ontario, but last summer he spent his holidays on Baffin Island, where he tape-recorded some of the bird songs, and photographed everything he possibly could, from the Eskimos' 'pre-fab' houses, to the tiny Arctic flowers.

To place hymnaries in church instead of sending flowers

Little Britain (PNS)—A good attendance was a feature of the annual meeting of the Little Britain United Church. The meeting began with a Congregational Supper commencing with grace being sung.

Following the supper a short Devotional service was conducted by the minister, Rev. W. Armitage, who then opened the meeting with a report of the Session giving details of the number of persons added to or leaving the Congregation. The Session presented a list of names of men who had expressed willingness to accept the office of Elder, and after a ballot was held the four men chosen were Morley Griggs, Elvin Taylor, Gordon Thomson, and Fulton Childley (second term). They were welcomed into the Session by the Minister, who stated that arrangements would be made to have a Service of Administration to the Session at an early date.

Reports were received from the various organizations of the church showing that the Church continued in a healthy condition. The Sunday School showed an 8% increase in attendance; Mission Band, Explorers and C.G.I.T. reports were very encouraging.

The report of the W.A. was given by Mrs. Morley Griggs and it showed that the Women of the Church were very active, and that a great deal of work was being done to keep the local church in good condition. In the realm of missions, the W.M.S. was proud to report that all objectives had been reached.

Mr. Stewart Childley reported for the Building Committee, and stated that a look around the Church and Sunday School would soon prove the efficiency of the committee, that for the money spent, full value had been received, and we could be very proud of the wonderful job of renovation that had been done. Financially, more than half of the expenditure had been already donated and the rest all but $2,000 had been subscribed. The Minister warmly commended the Building Committee for the excellent co-operation and the efficient way in which the work had been carried out.

In the discussion following the reports it was felt that the practice of sending flowers to the bereaved families of the Church should now cease, as so often the families and the undertakers are embarrassed by the numbers of floral tributes. Instead it was decided that two hymnaries, duly engraved should be placed in the Church, and a card sent to the family indicating that the hymnaries were in memory of their loved one.

Appointments were made to the Christian Education Committee and the Committee of Stewards. The minister thanked the leaders of all the organizations and praised them for the excellent work done during the year.

The Minister was thanked for his leadership in the various Church projects, and was commended on the growth of the Church; it was hoped that he would remain and continue the good work.

PAIN AFTER SHINGLES

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: You wrote about a 72-year-old man suffering from shingles for three months. This letter about my mother will give him hope. - - -

My mother, at the age of 79, came down with shingles around the left side of her head and face and dangerously near the eye. While the blisters were on her head the doctor gave her penicillin and treated the scabs until they healed. He told her to expect pain, burning and itching. How right he was! He prescribed nothing but aspirin, saying that would help, but the real cure was time.

Many times I would hear her say: "If I just had one minute free from pain."

She still continued to have pain for ten full months! Then it stopped.

She used to say: "The Lord doesn't put anything on you that you can't stand!" - - Mrs. E.

Comment: Not all herpes zoster (shingles) patients suffer so much; but when they do - - especially the elderly - - it can try the soul.

Perhaps we have a treatment breakthrough in the offing. I have just been reading in the Journal of the American Medical Association, a report by Edward Shanbrom, M.D., of California. He treated 16 cases of postherpetic neuralgia with intravenous procaine hydrochloride. Seven had complete relief, six had good, but incomplete relief.

In a recent series by Dr. D. Tavener of Great Britain, many patients found relief by spraying on ethyl chloride.

PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE

Life is a battle. The heroic survive. Mind you, not necessarily those who will charge the round mouth of a gun, but those who, without any of the headline gestures of heroism, accept calmly the challenges they face. They take life in stride. They expect to be around a long while, whatever the dangers.

With this in mind, I think you will be interested in this anecdote in the A.M.A. Journal recently as told by Judge Jacob Broede of Chicago:

"A reporter interviewing a man who had reached his 99th birthday, said, 'I certainly hope I can come back next year and see you reach 100.'"

"Can't see why not, young feller," the old-timer replied. "You look healthy enough to me."

For Mr. J.: You'll notice that sometimes I go off into a tantrum, I tell you readers to count to 10 before you "blow up" in anger, but there are times I can't get to 10 even before I begin spouting against the stupidities of mankind.

Yet, another headline: "ENTIRE FAMILY OF SEVEN WIPED OUT IN HEAD ON COLLISION." Yes, you guessed it again: the other driver was drunk, and all he got out of it was a broken leg.

Count! I've forgotten how.

For Mrs. Y.: Just try it. Blame it on me. Tell your husband that his snoring has kept you awake for 16 years and that you can't stand it another night. Tell him you love him just as much; but that you'd like to try sleeping in another room to catch up on your rest.

I think he will see it your way. Probably it will get him to the doctor sooner to find a remedy (if any) for the snoring.

"Brotherhood" luncheon theme for Lindsay Kiwanians

Brotherhood Week is being observed throughout the world this week and the event was specially capitalized on at Tuesday's luncheon of the Kiwanis Club. The attendance of members of the club was augmented by the presence of a number of guests, several of whom were new Canadians and the guest speaker was Rev. Richard Jones B.A., M.A., B.S.T., representing the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews. Among the guests was Hon. Leslie M. Frost, an honorary member of Kiwanis and an executive member of the Canadian Council who will be in Toronto Friday as the guest speaker at a dinner there.

Rev. Richard Jones proved to be a dynamic speaker and his eloquence was punctuated by wholesale humor. This along with a close-up interpretation of the world brotherhood movement all added up to a message of interest and inspiration.

Having travelled around the world two or three times, setting foot in practically every country in Europe and having attended world conferences of brotherhood in Paris and in Brussels, Mr. Jones captivated his audience. He dealt in particular with four peak aspects of brotherhood: the organization, communication, obligation and sacrifice. He unfolded the great benefits already forthcoming from the brotherhood movement and gave his audience an idea of what can be accomplished in the future.

The meeting was in charge of the committee on the support of churches and was presided over by Past President Gerald Phelps. The speaker was introduced by Past Lieut. - Governor Ford Moynes and the appreciation of the audience was expressed by Past President H. S. Johnston.

Fish Sticks with Spanish rice

Speedy Supper

An important reason for the popularity of fish sticks is that they combine well with other foods. It's easy to plan a menu around them, especially when you're in a hurry. Open a can of tomatoes, add a little sliced onion and heat, while the fish sticks are heating. Or prepare frozen peas and carrots according to package directions. Or fry thinly sliced potatoes. These are just a few of the many foods which combine well with golden brown fish sticks and make attractive luncheon or dinner plates. Still another good idea is to let fish sticks accompany leftovers. If you've two or three cups of leftover cooked rice in the refrigerator, this suggestion combines economy with a flavorful meal. No leftover rice? Then use packaged precooked Spanish rice. It's fast and easy too.

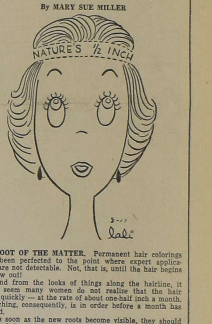

Fish Sticks With Spanish Rice

1 onion, finely chopped; 1 green pepper, finely chopped; ¼ cup diced celery; 4 tablespoons butter or margarine; 2 cups canned tomatoes; 2 teaspoons salt; 1/8 teaspoon pepper; 2 or 3 cups cooked rice.

Cook onion, pepper and celery in butter until vegetables are soft. Add tomatoes, seasonings and cook slowly about 15 minutes. Stir in rice. Heat through. In the meantime arrange 1 package frozen fish sticks on a baking sheet and follow directions on package. Heat platter or serving dish and serve rice and fish in same dish. —Consumer tested recipe released through Fisheries Council of Canada.

A LOVELIER YOU

By MARY SUE MILLER

ROOT OF THE MATTER. Permanent hair colorings have been perfected to the point where expert applications are not detectable. Not, that is, until the hair begins to grow out!

And from the looks of things along the hairline, it would seem many women do not realize that the hair grows quickly — at the rate of about one-half inch a month. Retouching, consequently, is in order before a month has elapsed.

As soon as the new roots become visible, they should be blended. Color sticks and color sprays are usable for the purpose, particularly if the difference between the natural and the man-made shade is not too drastic. By the same token, a temporary, after-shampoo color rinse makes an effective blender.

The time comes, however, when a touch-up with permanent coloring cannot be put off. And there's where the do-it-yourself girl can easily make a botch. For her, here are the tips that lead to a smooth job:

1. Enlist the aid of a helper. She's a "must" for the back. 2. Apply color to a clean part, from roots to first line. Try not to overlap. Creamy formulas, with nozzle applicators, promise to cut down on overlapping. Other types calls for the use of cotton swabs or a special brush. 3. Continue to apply color at half-inch intervals. 4. Retouch hairline, every strand.

Above all, follow the special instructions included with your product — from beginning to end. Otherwise, nature's half-inch may end up looking a seedy strip.

District Forestry News

Concerning land for charitable or non-profit organizations

K. G. Fullbrook, Lands Clerk, District Forester, writes in the current bulletin on "Land Office Business".

"In previous bulletins considerable space has been devoted to the availability of Crown land for private, individual use.

"However, Crown land can be made available to charitable or non-profit groups also.

"Youth organizations, such as Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, Kiwanis, Rotary and other service clubs as well as Church groups of all denominations would be so classified.

"If the land is to be used for camping or picnic grounds or some other purpose for which it is not necessary to erect buildings, a licence of occupation may be obtained for a parcel not exceeding 10 acres at an annual rental of $25.00 plus cost of survey.

"On the other hand, if a more permanent development is planned involving the erection of buildings, land for this purpose can also be arranged.

"The recreation committee of the organization applying would be required to furnish a plan of the proposed development with their application, showing the size, type and location of the buildings.

"If approved, a licence of occupation will be issued and the same basic rental charged for a period of 5 years, after which time application may be made to purchase the property, subject to fulfillment of the building requirements and providing the buildings have a value of at least $3,000.00.

"Upon receipt of a plan of survey completed by an Ontario Land Surveyor at the expense of the club or organization sale of the parcel would be completed in their name at the rate applicable to summer resort lands.

"Parcels leased or purchased under this plan may only be disposed of by assignment to a like non-profit organization or may be returned to the Crown."

Final arrangements made for World Day of Prayer

Plans are now fully formulated for the annual interchurch worship for the World's World Day of Prayer. This was announced by secretary of the group, Mrs. E. Wright.

Last week, a committee of the leaders for teenage girls met and discussed the plans for the service. The meeting opened with the showing of a film of pictures. The order of service was reviewed and responsibility arranged for each church group.

Present at the meeting were the following: Mrs. L. Dunning of St. Andrew's; Miss Margaret Bate and Barbara Silver of St. Paul's; Mrs. H. R. Stovell of Cambridge St. Baptist; Mrs. M. Woods of Cambridge United and Mrs. Robert Mark of Queen Street United.

It was revealed at the meeting that the Senior service was to have the LCT choir sing and that they would also sing for the girl's service. Mrs. George Murphy of Queen Street was arranging for the guest speaker, who is presently attending the Toronto Bible College. However, final conformation has not been received from the College.

Time of the senior is set for 2:30 p.m. on Friday, March 9th at the Queen Street United Church. The girl's service will be held at 4:30 p.m. in the church. It has been asked by the leaders that all girl's coming in during the senior service, wait quietly in the church hall until the conclusion.

It was stated by the committee, that those girls taking part in the service would come to the Queen Street Church for a rehearsal on Sunday, March 4th at 4:30 p.m. The object here is to have everyone acquainted with the seating plan and the order of service.

Publicity to be so for the women's service plus announcements in teenage group meetings and the necessary supplies are to be ordered by the secretary, Mrs. E. Wright.

ICE-WATER BURN TREATMENT

There have been almost as many recommendations for the treatment of burns as there are for colds. But a good standby has always been application of some oily substance to take the sting out of it. Who hasn't had some butter smeared on a slight burn to make him more comfortable.

But lately I have been hearing of the advantages of a simple new therapy. Its ingredients are usually at hand for instant use: water and ice. For first-aid emergency treatment it is excellent according to a recent paper in the Journal of the American Medical Association, by Dr. Alex G. Shulman of Los Angeles.

No matter how severe the burns, if they affect less than 20 per cent of the body surface, you can find relief and rapid, excellent healing if you cool immediately with ice water of ice-cold compresses. Pain disappears as if by magic, and you will get less redness and blistering; and it is likely it will take less time for the skin to heal.

If the burns are around the head, chest and neck you keep applying cold wet towels which are kept in a bucket of ice water. Be sure you keep replacing the ice cubes so the water will be ice-cold.

You may have to keep cooling the parts anywhere from one-half hour to five or six hours. By that time, pain is much less a problem. By that time, you have been able to contact your doctor who will take over with whatever additional treatment is necessary.

MIXUP IN DIABETES

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: A friend has been told he has diabetes. He is not taking insulin, his doctor has him put some powder into his nostrils about three or four times a day. I'm puzzled because I've never heard of that kind of treatment for diabetes.–Mrs. T.

Comment: You may not know that there are two kinds of diabetes. One is "diabetes mellitus" is common. In this there is some trouble in the insulin secreting glands in the pancreas, the body can't burn its sugar normally, and we prescribe insulin for the patient to help overcome this deficiency.

Now, there is another kind called "diabetes insipidus" in which there is some sort of trouble in the secretions of the pituitary gland or in a large network of nerves which supply it. As a result, the patient drinks enormous quantities of water every day and passes quarts of urine.

To overcome this the doctor prescribes a hormone from the posterior pituitary gland. In powder form, this can be applied to the mucous membrane of the nostrils from which it is absorbed. Its action lasts anywhere from three to eight hours; then it is repeated.

But miraculously, it cuts down the thirst and excessive urination. Perhaps this is the kind of diabetes your friend has. Some patients require injections; others get treatment directed to the pituitary gland itself.

A doctor's wife writes that she is urging her husband to give up general practice and go into some specialty. "He is actually killing himself with overwork. As it happens he isn't a very strong person anyway."

I answered saying that many men overwork in their specialties, too. Yet I did tell her that recent studies have shown that general practioners get coronary heart disease three times more often than their colleagues who specialize in dermatology (skin diseases) or in pathology.

Now, I'm sure she'll be after him to specialize.

Dymond Discusses Health in Ontario

FILMS

Matthew B. Dymond, MD, CM.,
Ontario Minister of Health

By and large the people of Ontario are as healthy, perhaps healthier, than the people of any other province in Canada or State in the United States.

This is as it should be and your Ontario Department of Health intends to keep it that way. It employes hundreds of health and science experts to prevent the health standards of the province.

Yet having experts to provide the answers to health problems is not enough. Those answers must be relayed to the millions of people in the province.

The task of telling the story of good health falls to the Department's Division of Information and Publicity.

The experts in this Division believe that a good picture is worth a thousand words. Thus they use a film library with 42 different movie films on such topics as nutrition, mental retardation, alcoholism and nursing.

Hundreds of Home and School Associations, service clubs and other groups across the province used these films last year.

Requests for some of the films came to the Division from other parts of Canada. Dozens of training groups and schools use the films to help in their instructions.

In the past few years hundreds of thousands of people have seen and learned from these films. One of the departments films "One On Every Street" has been shown by almost every Canadian T.V. station. In order to keep up with the demand for these films, (which are supplied, on loan, free of charge) your Department of Health has had to have as many as 26 copies of the same film.

Through the distribution of the films we hope that the health level of the people of Ontario will rise even higher. We also hope to create a better understanding of the crucial problems of mental illness and alcoholism.

Firm stand taken on leather soles

Fashion stands on a smart new base this Spring - - and a leather sole's at the bottom of it all.

Women's shoes on display at the recent Spring preview staged by Shoe Fashion Service of the Leather Industries divided out into two trends: the dainty, "feminine" shoe, and the tailored "brogue-y" shoe. In both currents, the leather sole sounded the fashion note.

The 'feminine look' at ground level is seen in a hundred different styles, shapes and colors, but it is always set on a light-weight leather sole from the used close to the contour of the shoe. Frequently, the sole is colored at the edge to merge with the shade of the upper leather - - and underscores the foot-flattering slimness of the shoe.

In tailored shoes, the leather sole sets the basic pattern. Extended an eighth inch beyond the basic shoe silhouette, the leather sole adds a sturdiness to its appearance. Teamed with a mid-heel and a smooth or suede leather upper, it walks easily along city streets. On country paths or suburban pavements you're more apt to meet it in company with low, stacked heels and a grained or textured leather upper.

Regardless of style, newly-developed leather soles hold their shape - - and the shape of the shoe - - for as long as you wear them. Flexible and rugged, the newest leather soles do not ravel, fray or bulge at the edge. This keeps all-leather shoes handsome and comfortable long after they are purchased.

Leather soles add fashion interest in another way this season, too. Many of the pointed, crescent or square toe shoes feature soles extended in front of the shoes to "frame" its graceful lines. The "frame" also protects the toe from scuffing when you walk.

Combining foot health and comfort with fashion interest, leather soles cushion the foot against pavement walking and sidewalk shocks. Also the tiny pores in the leather let air enter the shoe at each step - - keeping a constant flow of dry air surrounding the foot. As the weather warms up, we'll all be grateful for an added bit of comfort.

ANGINA PECTORIS

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Two doctors tell me I do not have angina pectoris. They base their diagnosis on the fact that all my electro-cardiograms have been normal. Yet I keep getting pain in the chest and down one arm if I walk fast up hill. I have to stop until the pain goes away. Is it possible to have angina with a normal electrocardiogram? Mr. W.

Comment: It's possible. Often "resting" ECG's will be normal in persons who actually have angina nectoris.

In taking the electro-cardiograms, did the doctors have you walk up and down two especially built stairs in the office? And did they take an electrocardiogram immediately afterward? This test to determine the presence of angina pectoris in questionable cases was devised many years ago by Dr. A. M. Master of New York. It is called the Master "two-step test."

The examining doctor compares the heart tracing taken at rest with the one taken immediately after such measured exercise. In many patients with angina, the exercise produces changes in the second ECG which (with a definite history) leaves no doubt about the diagnosis.

No examination is really complete in questionable angina unless the patient has had a "two-step" test.

Mrs. K.: It is true that some patients may get positions after taking the oral treatment for diabetes, but usually these are mild symptoms like nausea, headache, heartburn, fullness in stomach and headache. For most patients whose diabetes begins after the age of 40, and who require not more than 20 units of insulin to control their illness, such medicines as Orinase and Diabenese are welcome substitutes in the treatment. In most cases patients are helped without suffering any reactions at all.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am 41 and have suffered on and off from canker sores in my mouth for the past half-dozen years. Nothing seems to held. Will you please tell me what causes them? And is there any cure? Mrs. Q.

Answer: I wish I knew the cause. For, without knowledge of the cause of a disease, there can be no specific cure. I realize that many people think they have found some remedy that is effective, but investigation reveals there is no scientific proof.

For example, in some people, canker sores come only occasionally. Whatever they may use at the time the sore is disappearing by itself, will be claimed as the wonder remedy.

The medical term for these sores is "aphae." They are not a problem when they occur only once or twice a year. What really sets us back in our treatment attack is when we come up against patients who have suffered for 10 to 20 years with these ulcers on tongue, gums, inner lips.

These can be so painful that the patient has to live on milk shakes for days to get his nourishment. The stinging and burning within the mouth can be intense. Hundreds of treatments have been suggested.

Lately, I have been reading a report in which a dermatologist says that he has had some good results in stubborn cases by treating with corticosteroids. If you are a chronic sufferer from canker sores, you might check with your doctor about this treatment.

Footwear fashion is a woman's business

Fashion is a woman's business - - and it's good business to know your footwear fashions.

Several hundred leading fashion editors in New York to preview the Spring 1962 fashions learned at first hand how a shoe is made, what goes into a shoe, and what makes a shoe a good value. The editors were guided through a special exhibition at the Fashion Service of Leather Industries which showed the progress of a shoe from the drawing board where a new style is conceived to the fitting stool where shoe and foot are matched for fashion and comfort.

Deceptively simple to the eye, a pump goes through more than 75 different operations involving a variety of machinery, hand tools, forms, leathers and nails (over a gross of sharp tacks are hammered in and then removed during the making of a shoe). You come away from the exhibition with a respect for the craftsmanship of Canadian shoemen and for the high quality of Canadian leathers. Also, you pick up many ideas of what to look for the next time you buy a pair of shoes.

Here are a few things all women should know when shopping shoes for themselves or their youngsters.

The shoe is formed of upper leather, thin and supple to allow easy, free flexing of the shoe and foot as you walk. You take between 14,000 and 18,000 steps a day. The finish and colour of the upper leather should be uniform throughout - - whether it's smoth, grained, suede or patent leather.

Then turn the shoe upside down and inspect the sole and heel. The lightweight leather sole should also flex easily in your hand - - as it does on your foot. Made of a natural, fibrous material, the leather sole gives support yet absorbs punishment. It lets air in through tiny pores but keeps out moisture.

The heel should be inspected to make certain that it is mounted securely. Very occasionally, a stiletto heel may break when you make a misstep, but nowadays most thin heels have a steel rod in the centre to prevent such accidents. On the rare occasions when a heel does break, you can get it repaired by your local shoe repairman.

Turn the shoe right side up again and run your hand inside the shoe. Make sure that rough seams or forgotten tacks are covered by a leather lining. This thin layer of leather protects your foot against chafing on seams. At the same time, through slow absorption of natural moisture, it keeps your foot dry and comfortable.

The same inspection should be given to the leather insole on which your foot actually rests. Its smooth surface reduces the friction inside your shoe. Another little bit of leather has very important work to the life of the shoe is the welt. It unites the leather sole to the leather upper. You can' see it, ask the shoe retailer whether the shoe you're considering has a leather welt. A leather-welted shoe keeps the shoe in shape and the weather out. —Leather Industries

THAT

Frank Power of Gallent's Service Station, Fenelon Road, was a little puzzled as to what was expected of him when a team of horses, drawing a cutter pulled up to the gas pumps Sunday about noon. Always willing to oblige, Frank got down the hose and was ready to fuel up the outfit when driver Gayle Walker of RR1 Lindsay driveway when a "little cream-puff" sped by, hurling wrong place. That's a pair of water and slush all over her out-burners out front. Accompanying Gayle is brother Roy.

A Queen Street resident says she thinks "common courtesy" is becoming a scarce commodity among some of the drivers who ply the streets of Lindsay. She was up cleaning out her ing days when pools of water form in every depression of a road.

The engineering problem is back in the news today and Lindsay's handling of the situation is attracting interest in centres considerable distance away. According to a reliable report, Lindsay's Board of Works Advisory Committee, while not actually asking council to fire Engineer J. N. Timberlake, is going to ask council to hire a new man. There is a further report that the sewer serving the Home of the Aged at Lindsay may enter into the picture. . . . It seems the town engineer's advice on this matter was overruled and people are asking if there is a connection between the allegedly new effort to unseat the engineer and the trouble which arose there as a result of not taking his professional advice. A call from a Toronto agency interested in engineering problems was making enquiries here today. Lindsay has a reputation for not being able to hold an engineer for any length of time.

A CNR snowplow ran into trouble while attempting to clear the railway's Haliburton line. It went off the track on Victoria Ave. N. early this morning as it started out on its northern run. A delay of a couple of hours was experienced as workmen got it back on the rails.

Lindsay vs Peterboro

When Lindsay met Peterborough in a bowling competition on Saturday it was an inter-company affair . . . Brinton-Peterboro Carpet Co. Ltd. employees from both centres. Playing on a total pinfall basis, the two teams will play the second half of the competition in Peterboro. High triples for women in the games here was A. Anderson with 790 and high single, P. Hawthorne 251; for the men: Don Fuller 638 and A. Hawthorne 245. Standings at the end of play: Peterboro 3029, Lindsay 2960, Peterboro 2937, Peterboro 2119, Lindsay 2893, Peterboro 2868, Lindsay 2733, and Lindsay 2724.
